CANADA'S LIVE STOCK

Are Now to be Shipped Under a New Set of Regulations.

WHAT THE GOVERNMENT DECREES

In This Important Matter is Told Below—How L. S. Stock is Affected by the New Rules—A Sensational Suicide—The Growth of the Capital—Other News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—New regulations regarding the shipping of live stock from Canada have been issued. The master, owner or agent of every ship intending to take on board live stock for transportation from Canada shall, if such ship requires to be inspected, apply for inspection in writing to the inspector of the port at which the live stock is to be shipped, whereupon the inspector will take the necessary steps to inspect the vessel and determine whether she is a safe, seaworthy and suitable ship. If the inspector approves of the vessel he should notify the owner, master or agent that he may proceed to fit up the ship as required by these regulations, but if the vessel has been previously fitted for the transportation of live stock in a manner not consistent with these regulations, the inspector shall require compliance with these requirements in all respects before issuing his certificate. Fat cattle carried on the upper or spar deck, or any other deck, must be given a space of two feet eight inches clear in width by eight feet clear in length each, and not less than six feet three inches in height, and in no case shall more than four head of cattle be allowed in each pen, except at the end of the row, where five may be allowed together, provided, however that five cattle, each 1000 pounds weight or under, commonly known as stockers, may be carried in a pen instead of four fat cattle. Cows in calf are to be given the same space as fat oxen.

United States cattle shipped from any port in Canada carried on the upper or spar deck must be allowed a space of two feet six inches in width by eight feet in depth per head, but such United States cattle when so shipped between decks must be allowed a space of two feet eight inches in width by eight feet in depth, except in the case of regular cattle ships with satisfactory ventilation, which may fit with an allowance of two feet six inches in width. No more than four head of cattle will be allowed in each pen, except at the end of the row, where five may be allowed together. Provided, however, that cattle under 1000 pounds in weight may be allowed a width of two feet three inches.

Pens for sheep shall not be less than seven feet in height, divided into two equal compartments, and not more than eight or ten sheep will be counted equal to one fat ox, according to the discretion of the inspector. Stalls for horses shall not be less than two feet six inches wide in the clear for horses weighing 1200 pounds or less. For horses over 1200 pounds in weight the stall shall not be less than two feet eight inches in the clear. In every case the stall must be eight feet deep.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Weary of earth after years of knocking about, Louis Bellerives to-day walked down to the steamer Marquis of Lorne, climbed on the upper deck, took off his coat and deliberately jumped into the river. The rash deed was witnessed by two persons—Ahermenil Lafamme, a boy, and Mrs. Cecile, wife of Captain Cecile of the Hull ferry. Young Lafamme noticed Bellerives come down the side of the cliff. Having stood for a few moments gazing wildly around, the next moment he made for the steamer, climbed nimbly to the upper deck, stood there a second or two and then took off his coat. Walking a few steps back of the deck, with a run and a spring he was overboard in an instant. The unfortunate man came up twice, but made no effort whatever to save himself. The body was found at a few minutes past 1 o'clock. The deceased came from Montreal about two months ago, and has since resided with his nephew, R. D. Armour, blacksmith, of Clarence-street.

The official report of Assessment Commissioner Pratt, as a result of the assessment of Ottawa just completed, shows an increase in population over last year of 2187, making the capital's figure 51,727 and an increase in valuation of $984,915, making the valuation $22,022,450, or just short of twenty-three millions. In addition there are ten or twelve millions of untaxed property in the city. It will be seen that every ward in the city has grown in population and wealth save Wellington.

Operator McNish of Stittsville is being kept in custody at the C. P. R. station. The Crown authorities have not yet decided to place him under arrest, but he is being held for the present. He is only 19 years of age, and feels very keenly over the accident. Any expression of opinion that he is responsible for the accident should be withheld until the verdict of the coroner's jury is given.

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Young Lochinvar who, according to the story, ran away with his bride, did not love her one particle more devotedly than a thousand honest husbands of the present day love their wives.

No novelist could invent a story of truer manly devotion than the "humble romance" revealed by the following letter from Mr. Harry Chant, of 211 Haskell Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

"About fourteen or fifteen months ago I was working with a gang of men and happened to say to one of them: 'I hope it will not rain as I have a big washing to do for the children.' The man said, 'What is the matter with your wife?'"

"For years my wife had been suffering from what the doctors called prolapsus of uterus. She was nervous, had cold hands and feet, palpitation, headache, backache, constipation, a disagreeable drain, with bearing down pains; no appetite. She got so weak she could not get around. I am only a laborer so was always in debt with the doctors, and all for no good, as none did her any good. We began to think that she was never going to get well."

"I told this man what the doctors said was the matter with her," and he said "did you ever hear of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription?" "I told him no, but I had tried so many patent medicines that I was tired of them all and besides I did not have enough money to pay the doctor and the drug store. He said if I would get two or three bottles and try them, and if it did not do my wife any good that he would pay for the medicine. I went to the drug store (Mr. Clawber's on Elm Street), and bought a bottle. The first and second did not seem to have much effect but the third seemed to work like a charm. She has taken in all about thirteen bottles and she is today as stout and healthy as any woman in the United States. This is not the only case. Whenever I hear tell of any woman who is sick in the neighborhood I just send the book and paper that is wrapped around every bottle and that does the business. I am no longer bothered about doing my own washing and cooking, for my wife can do it all in one day and never seems tired or out of spirits now."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, promptly and permanently.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Paragraphed Wisdom For Those Who Own Either or Both.

Young orchards often need additional fertility.

There is little danger of injuring an orchard by manuring.

In pruning cut out all weak and crowded branches.

All pruning cuts made at this time should be covered with oil or wax.

Starvation and neglect are the great causes of unfruitfulness with fruits.

Too large and too thick heads on the fruit trees should always be avoided.

Tobacco water will destroy worms and bugs on rose bushes. Spray it on.

If the fruit tree is heavily laden with fruit, thin it out before it breaks the tree down.

Keep a good lookout for tent caterpillars during the summer.

To secure the best grapes more or less thinning is necessary.

Pulling off vine leaves to let in sun and air is an injury to the vine.

The more healthy leaves a plant has the better the fruit will color.

Weeds and suckers should be kept down between the rows of raspberries and blackberries.

Fruit trees that have been grafted need to be looked after to see that the stock does not make shoots.

You can crowd fruit trees and plants only at the risk of getting reduced crops of inferior fruit.

Protection from too much sun is always an advantage with currants, gooseberries and raspberries.

When the peach tree is making a spindling growth of twigs and limbs, it is a good indication that the soil lacks potash.

With a young orchard at this time it will be a good plan to stop cultivation and mulch carefully, leaving the soil in good tilth.

Three or four strong canes to one hill of raspberries are better than a dozen weak, spindling ones. Thin out and stop unnecessary growth.

Surround the home with fruit and flowers. It will help in shaping and refining the minds of the children.

On the farm fruit should be a necessity rather than a luxury, as it is often considered in towns. More fruit and less bacon will give better health.

Thriftier and stockier raspberry and blackberry plants will be secured if the growing plants are kept pinched back during the summer.

If strawberry plants are to be set out in August, the better plan is to plow the ground now, at the first opportunity, before it gets too hard.

When the largest profit is made from fruit growing for market, special varieties are grown for special markets. Study your market before deciding on varieties.

The proper way to build health is to make the blood rich and pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the one true blood purifier.

Potato Soup With Rice.

Cook one tablespoonful fine chopped onion in half tablespoonful butter five minutes without browning. Add half tablespoonful flour, stir and cook two minutes, then add half can tomatoes, half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful pepper. Cook 10 minutes, then rub the tomatoes through a sieve into another saucepan.

In the meantime, place a small saucepan with three tablespoonfuls rice over the fire, cover with boiling water and cook 10 minutes. Then pour the rice in a sieve and rinse off with cold water. Return the rice to the saucepan, add one and a half cups of milk, half teaspoonful butter and a pinch of salt; set the saucepan over fire and cook till the rice is tender. The second cooking is best done in a double boiler. Add the rice to the tomatoes and serve.

Heads That Ache.

Heads that ache can be made bright, clear and free from pain by using Burdock Blood Bitters, the true natural cure for headache from whatever cause arising. "Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to the use of one bottle and a half of B.B.B." Miss J. McAllister, Almonte, Ont.

ANCIENT MEDICINE.

A Few of the Idiotic Nostrums in Which People Once Believed.

If modern science can boast of anything, it can of the way in which it has rescued medicine from the realms of imagination, says The London Standard. The wonderful prescriptions of the Magi, as narrated by the Roman historian Pliny, are examples of what the earliest doctors were, while even the "salves" of our own Elizabethians seem, at first sight, not much of an improvement upon those of the Chaldean Pi. Ds. Let us take a few examples of Magian healing from a Latin author of which, perhaps, the most useful is the following—one that in modern parlance would run thus: A receipt to make women disclose their secrets. Take one hen, and having carefully extracted its heart, place the same on the mouth of a patient during sleep. You will ascertain her exact age the next morning." To do the old Roman justice, he stigmatizes this statement as a "portentous lie." (No doubt he had tried it.)

Others are quite as grotesque. Fevertew, when used medicinally, had to be plucked by the left hand, after the patient's name had been spoken over it, the herbalist taking good care not to look behind him. A love charm could be easily obtained from a hyena caught when the moon was in Gemini. Sporting prophets who wish to excel in divination should change their customary chop for a few moles' hearts. It is stipulated that these be fresh. The Romans themselves, although no mean surgeons—they made use of the probe, and slippers, and "instruments for trepanning—were not less given to prodigies than the people whose veracity they doubted. They believed that eating hare was a cure for insomnia; and even the sceptic Pliny imagined that there must be something in the superstition that people who had done so were good looking for nine days afterward. A veritable nine-days' wonder! He recommended also, as a cure for quartan fever that the dust in which a hawk had rolled should be put into a bag, and the latter tied round the neck with a piece of red thread. Other cures for this same were the longest tooth of a black dog, in the same position, and a wrap caught in the left hand, and then pressed against the forehead.

Ferris Wheel Rival.

The department of concessions of the Omaha Exposition has received an application for space for the erection of a mechanical device which will equal, says The Bee, if not surpass, the great Ferris wheel in novelty and engineering ingenuity. It resembles the framework of a gigantic umbrella more than anything else which might be mentioned. The part corresponding to the stick of the umbrella is an immense cylinder, thirty feet in diameter, constructed of steel plates, firmly riveted, making a "standpipe" which rears its head 250 feet above the level of the ground. At the extreme top of this cylinder are fastened twelve long arms, resembling the ribs of an umbrella. These are steel trusses, reaching almost to the ground. At the lower end of each of these ribs is suspended a car for carrying passengers, each car having a capacity for twenty persons.

These monster ribs are raised by hydraulic power, acting by means of steel cables operating through the cylinder, aided by a mechanism greatly resembling that portion of an umbrella which comes into action when the umbrella is opened. By means of this mechanism the gigantic arms are raised until they are horizontal, the cars in the meantime being carried outward and upward until they reach a point 50 feet above the ground, the diameter of the huge circle formed by the suspending cars being also 250 feet. When the highest point has been reached another mechanism comes into play, and the suspended cars are swung slowly around in a circle, after which they are lowered to the ground. The sides of the cars are formed of windows, from which a view of the surrounding country for miles may be obtained.

Anti Rabic Inoculation.

The current number of The Annales de l'Institut Pasteur contains M. Pottevin's annual report for 1896 on the anti-rabic inoculations conducted during the past year at the Paris Pasteur Institute. The number of persons treated was 1308, less than in any previous year since the institution was opened. This diminution is attributable to the fact that patients, instead of going to Paris from all parts of the country, undergo the inoculations at the institutes now established at Lille and Marseilles; also similar institutes have been founded in Algiers and Turin, districts which formerly sent considerable numbers of cases to Paris. During the ten years which have elapsed since the opening of the Paris Institute, 18,645 persons have been treated there, and an interesting table is appended, showing the nationality of the patients, from which it appears that England contributed no less than 870 individuals, and more than any other country; Belgium coming next, with 420.

In some of the departments of France cases of rabies have steadily diminished, thanks to the energetic measures taken by the local authorities, while in others, where less vigorous steps have been taken to guard against its dissemination, the number of cases has increased. It is the southern districts of France that M. Pottevin tells us, "possesses the sad distinction of containing the largest number of bitten persons, and of paying the most dearly for disobedience to the laws of the sanitary police."—Nature.

Baby Beauty.

You always think of a pretty baby as plump and chubby. Scott's Emulsion gives just this plumpness; not too fat, just enough for dimples to come. Babies like it, too.

It Registers Fatigue.

A peculiar instrument is described in Science as being in use at Columbia University, namely, a dynamometer made to write on a kymograph. The maximum pressure of the thumb and forefinger or the movement of a single finger can thus be registered, and a series of movements showing fatigue be recorded; the curves give the actual amount of work done, the height of the curves being proportional to the pressure in kilograms. A comparison of this instrument has been made with the ergograph, curves being shown in which the movements made in lifting a weight and in extending a spring were simultaneously recorded—the fact appearing that the ergograph curves do not give a correct measure of fatigue, and, of course, no record when the weight is not lifted, whereas the dynamometer curves measure more nearly to precision in this respect.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Coal Strikers Arrested for Marching.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—The deputy sheriffs at the DeArmitt coal mines made a raid on the strikers at Sandy Creek this morning and arrested fifteen men, including the members of the brass band. The strikers were marching on the public road and were halted by the deputies about a quarter of a mile from the tipple. The band refused to stop playing, and the entire party was placed under arrest without resistance. The prisoners were brought to this city, where a hearing will be given them. Superintendent DeArmitt says that the three mines of the company are now running their fullest capacity.

Two Out of Three Burglars Caught.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—Three men made a bold attempt to burglarize the liquor store of Mr. T. H. George, of 680 Yonge street, just after midnight. Just at this hour Mr. J. J. Dever, who carried on the butcher store next door, heard a noise in the back premises. He looked out of the window and saw three burglars trying to make an entry into Mr. George's store. Without losing any time he hustled after Constable Churchill, on the beat, who hurried to the spot. Mr. Dever also got another constable, Matthias. They caught two of the men, but a third man, whose identity is as yet unknown, escaped. The struggle between the constables and the burglars was a desperate one, the men fighting all the way to No. 5 Police Station, where they were safely lodged. In fact, it took the services of another constable and several cabs to keep the men in hand. One of the men was Joseph Jacobs, a well-known colored criminal, who has spent much of his time in prison during the past 12 years, while the other gave his name as Frank Rees. This name is fictitious. In his pocket was an opened letter addressed "Mark Lee, Montreal."

THE SURGEON FOILED.

Wanted to Perform an Operation.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS RENDERED IT UNNECESSARY.

Too many doctors are too ready to use the knife. Many a one is sacrificed on the altar of a surgeon's ambition to operate who could be saved by the use of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The case of MRS. W. B. AIKEN, of Zephyr, Ont., is one in point. Her husband says that she had been doctoring with several doctors for Inflammation of the Bladder for over a year.

"The last bottle I got from the doctor he said if that did her no good she would be compelled to have an operation performed. I luckily picked up a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills in Mr. Dafoe's store, and my wife took one pill that night and one in the morning, and she has never felt the least sign of pain since. I will always keep Dr. Chase's Pills in my house for all our family complaints."

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

SIGMAS WEEKLY LETTER.

Voices is one of the many subjects that should command the attention of those interested in education.

Much may be done at home by the intelligent parent towards the cultivation of a soft voice. The drawling voice is one that can be overcome in a child by any earnest mother; the sensitive ear is the protection against the disagreeable voice. The voice expresses the character. There are voices that misrepresent the speakers, but this is rarely so. The voice and manners are the man's passport to society, yes, even to business. They often form a large factor in winning place and power. The voice is the teacher's best weapon, the mother's key to her child's heart. Words are of the brain, tones are of the soul, if the whole man has been trained.

This brings me naturally to the subject of "Good English."

English grammar, as taught in schools, public and private, is a conspicuous failure. I speak advisedly and with deliberation—twenty years, more or less, of residence in different parts of Ontario, having brought me in contact with school teachers both numerous and various. It has been my lot to meet teachers, many of them, who speak English incorrectly. Teaching children to gabble off a given number of grammar rules has always, among the best English educators, been a matter of doubt. Train the observing faculty by the perusal of the best literature only and encourage the pupils in original composition. Although much of such training will be lost in the hurly-burly of a changeful existence, some of it will stick to the last.

A kindred subject to the above is the "dialect" or "slang" that is beginning to permeate our literature. It seems to have already taken possession of the people to the south of us. Their newsgatherers and editors are unwittingly giving us so much bad English that no invented pest needs to be let loose upon us.

Dialects from New England, Pike County, Sambo and Bloody Gulch may all be well enough where they must be, but why should Canadian youth be inoculated with such bacilli? The hungry tramps of language have become a devouring army. It is time to halt at the door every invading brogue, that we may save to our family a fair eating of good English bread.

It is hard to tell which we should pity most—poor old John Sherman in his dotage, or the jingo Yankee press, which has had the English Government on the hip during the last three months in re the seal question! After all their efforts in trying to force Great Britain to allow Japan and Russia to have a voice in the settlement of the seal question, they find that Lord Salisbury will not agree to it; and their Secretary of State has succumbed to the inevitable with ill-concealed disgust.

Prof. John Watson, of Queen's, has just published a new edition, with considerable additions, of his "Christianity and Idealism," a book well described by its sub-title, "A Christian Ideal of Life in its Relations to the Greek and Jewish Ideals of Modern Philosophy." His lectures on "Moral Philosophy" during the past two years are reproduced in book form.

Hall Caine received fifty thousand dollars from his publishers for his latest work, "The Christian." It represents nearly two years' work. The book itself is very pessimistic, and although it may point a moral it certainly holds out some very bad examples for young people whose minds are not yet thoroughly developed.

SIGMA.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

HARVEY.

Council Meeting.

The Harvey Council met at Mr. Flynn's residence on the 11th inst., pursuant to adjournment. Members all present. Minutes read and confirmed. Communications and accounts were received from W. C. Moore for road scraper and bolts for Crow's bridge; Mat Nicholls, re reduction of taxes on village lot 22; E. Pearse, for proper description of lots up for sale; T. Gordon for work done on roads and pay others; Adam Brock, work on roads and to pay others; Thos. Kingsborough, work on roads and to pay others. A petition was signed urgently requesting Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, to have a swing bridge, instead of a high level bridge across the canal at Lakefield. Mr. Wm. J. Oliver was appointed to see to and let the job of fencing south side of the new road between lots 29 and 30, con. 17, Harvey. WEYLER RELEASED.

He Can Leave Cuba by Any Steamer He Pleases and at Any Time.

Havana, Oct. 16.—General Weyler last night received telegrams from the Government at Madrid, informing him that he will be permitted to embark for Spain at any time and upon any steamer he may prefer.

The despatches also contained instructions to the Secretary-General of the Government. Senor Gamundi, who recently tendered his resignation, and to the Provincial Governors whose resignations have been placed in the hands of the Government, to remain at their posts until they shall receive further orders.

Head Crushed by a Cask of Wine.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—The body of Wolf Weinstein, 282 King-street east, is lying at his house, his skull crushed in, as the result of an accident, which happened yesterday morning. He and some neighbors were moving a 30-gallon cask of unfermented wine from his kitchen to the cellar, and what happened none of the men can very clearly relate, as the cellar was in total darkness, and Weinstein could not be clearly seen. In some manner he missed his footing and fell to the bottom, the barrel falling on top of him and striking him on the head. His wife, Mrs. Weinstein, heard a shout, and running out of the back door, opened another door which leads into the cellar and lit the light. Weinstein was lying face up in a pool of blood at the foot of the ladder, his head being against it. He presented a terrible spectacle, the forehead being crushed in. He died shortly after without regaining consciousness.

The inquest will take place to-night at 8 o'clock.

REPLY TO WHITNEY.

The Premier Exposes Opposition Fallacies.

LIBERALS PRESENT A SOLID FRONT.

The West York Campaign Opened With a Flourish, and Victory is Presaged from the Very Start The Policy of the Government on Various Matters.

Toronto Junction, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—A very successful political meeting was held in Kilburn Hall to-night, under the auspices of the Toronto Junction Reform Club. The platform was fitted up in drawing room style, with background of draperies in the national colors, the Union Jack being prominent.

W. J. Hill, the Reform candidate for the Provincial Legislature, was the first speaker, and was received with vociferous cheers. He was also the recipient of a handsome bouquet of roses from the hands of little Oliver Mowat Heydon. He said: "Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen,—I want to congratulate the Young Liberals of the Town of Toronto Junction upon the success which has attended their efforts in the large assembly which I see before me." He spoke hopefully of the future, and said the present meeting augured well for the Reform party in West York. His speech was very brief, and dealt with generalities, winding up with the belief that at the forthcoming elections West York would return to the Liberal fold.

Archibald Campbell, M.P., was the next speaker, and said he was pleased to see so many ladies present, and to find there were so many there who were anxious to hear both sides of politics. He welcomed Mr. Hardy to Toronto Junction, and praised the Administration of the Reform party in Ontario, making reference to their "economy" in the matter of selling timber limits and letting contracts.

THE PREMIER'S SPEECH.

Compliment to Sir Oliver Mowat—Remarks on the Lumber Policy

Mr. H. A. Anderson, secretary of the Toronto Junction Liberal Club, then presented Hon. A. S. Hardy with a complimentary address, and a little 4-year-old girl handed the Premier a handsome bouquet of flowers.

The Premier, on rising to reply, was loudly applauded. He was in excellent form, and spoke with all his accustomed vigor. He commented upon the fact that he now, for the first time as First Minister of Ontario, addressed a meeting from a Toronto Junction platform. He eulogized Sir Oliver Mowat, and asked forbearance, in view of the fact that it was a difficult matter to follow such an illustrious predecessor.

Next, Mr. Hardy spoke of the success of the party campaign meetings. When Mr. Whitney boasted that his (Mr. Whitney's) meetings were larger than the Government's, he was like a bantam who flapped his wings and crowed at a bigger cock over the way. The fact was that there was not the defection in the Liberal party to-day that there was four years ago. The party was more united than four years ago.

The Government, Mr. Hardy went on, could urge its past record as a reason why it should still have the support of the people. Ontario was known all over the world for its good government. An Australian had once told him (the speaker) that at the Antipodes Ontario was celebrated for three things—its good government, its excellent educational system, and Niagara Falls. The educational system would be maintained, and the already capital license system would be maintained, too, and improved if necessary, for the Government were willing to entertain any suggestion for its betterment.

Then there was what the Government had done for mining, and it was not to be forgotten that a few years ago Sir Oliver Mowat had obtained possession for Ontario of that great mineralized belt of the province lying between Lake Superior and the Manitoba boundary.

Mr. Whitney's platform was now taken up by the Premier and characterized as a policy of patches, like unto a patchwork quilt. The opposition leader was going to carry out the intentions of the Fathers of Confederation, but that was a rather vague statement; he was going to husband the resources of the province, but that was also a very broad assertion, hard to pin him down to; he was going to bring into force a vigorous mining policy, but he did not say how he would change the existing laws; and he also made sweeping and general promises regarding the educational system and the changes he would bring about in the license laws. The Premier spoke of such vague promises as stupid and farcical.

On the lumber question also Mr. Hardy said a few sentences. He reviewed the situation and pointed out that the eastern and western lumbermen of Ontario were divided on the question of the advisability of making compulsory the manufacture in Canada of Crown lands timber. They stood face to face against one another. Under the circumstances the Government had thought it better to refer the question to the Legislature. It was a question, action regarding which might lead to international complications, or at least to correspondence between Washington and Ottawa or Washington and the British Government. They had thought it wise to do nothing in secret in such an important matter, but to refer it openly to the House to deal with.

Mr. St. John, the member for West York, came in for condemnation at the Premier's hands for misrepresentations regarding the Englehart deal, and his (the speaker's) "blossom friendship" for Mr. Reid, one of the men who got the concession. Mr. St. John also had fun poked at him for his speeches anent the Humber piggery.

The Premier concluded with an appeal to the Liberals of West York to stand by the Government.

The Provincial Treasurer.

Hon. Richard Harcourt expressed great satisfaction in finding so large an assembly and congratulated the Liberals upon the success of this their opening meeting in the campaign. He thought, from the reception given to Mr. Hill, that Mr. St. John would find the coming campaign uphill work. It had been stated that the Minister of Education acted like a czar and terrorized the department under his care, using it for political ends, but he had yet to find, out of the 8000 teachers in Ontario, a single instance where a certificate had been withheld or a certificate given for political consideration. Mr. Whitney had stated that the liquor licenses had been blackmailed and money wrenched from them for political purposes, but although Mr. Whitney had been in the Legislature for 11 years not a single instance was there where he had proved his contention.

Mr. Harcourt then went on to eulogize Mr. Hardy and said that it was hardly true when the press said they had a new leader, for it was part of the success of Sir Oliver Mowat's administration that he had a triumvirate of leaders in Mr. Hardy, Mr. Fraser and Mr. Ross.

The surplus left by the Sandfield Macdonald administration was then accounted for. He said that for 100 times wherever Mr. Whitney and Mr. St. John traveled it had been stated that the surplus left amounted to $4,000,000, but with a full sense of the responsibility of his words he did no grosser misstatement could be made. At the very most they could only put it at $3,800,000, which was subject to a charge of $1,500,000 voted to railways which had to be paid by the succeeding government. Nor was this all. The accounts had not been well kept, and the Administration of Justice account, which belonged to the Province, had been paid by the Dominion Government, and this, amounting to $500,000, also had to be returned. Then there was $200,000 that had to be paid to the Province of Quebec from the sale of common school lands, and another $100,000 for the Rockwood Asylum, which had been purchased from the Dominion Government and had not been paid. Thus, the surplus left by the Sandfield Macdonald administration amounted to about one and a half millions.

The speaker then told of the $6,450,000 spent in subsidies to railways in developing the Province, the maintenance of asylums, schools and other institutions, and considered their administration had been as economical as is commensurate with good government.

Cheers were given for the Premier and Mr. W. J. Hill and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

MISS WILLARD HERE.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—The world's convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will assemble in this city from Friday, 22nd inst., to Wednesday, 27th.

Saturday morning the convention will be called to order in the Pavilion, and Miss Willard will deliver her address. In the afternoon several reports will be presented at the mass meeting in Massey Hall.

TWO LIVES LOST

In the Conflagration at Windsor, N.S.—Total Insurance Amounts to Over $580,000.

Halifax, Oct. 18.—A well-posted insurance man to-day made the following calculation of the insurance losses by the Windsor fire: Commercial Union, $45,000; Acadia, $55,000; Halifax, $55,000; Western, $65,000; Quebec, $42,000; Queen's, $30,000; Guardian, $21,000; Royal, $28,000; Sun, $25,000; Phoenix of Hartford, $12,000; Aetna, $13,000; Hartford, $6000; Caledonia, $8050; Insurance Company of North America, $6000; Atlas, $14,400; National, $27,500; Lancashire, $15,000; North British, $12,000; Liverpool, London and Globe, $20,000; Phoenix of Brooklyn, $6000; Imperial, $15,000; British America, $20,000; Phoenix of London, $12,000; Alliance, $10,000; Norwich Union, $10,000; Connecticut, $6000; Northern, $12,000; total, $582,050.

This morning the charred bodies of Patrick Kelly and his wife were found in the ruins of their house. They were apparently sleeping when the flames enveloped their abode, and were probably suffocated without waking.

Whisperings are heard everywhere which point to the dive of the colored man, Fletcher, as the place where the fire originated. The fact that the place did not enjoy a very good reputation and that it had been the scene of recent carousals has aroused the indignation of the citizens. Luckily Fletcher disappeared yesterday, or the disaster might have been marked by a tragedy.

Not only were the buildings in the congested part of the town burned like match wood, but isolated buildings went down everywhere, catching from flying cinders, and there is scarcely a building within the town limits and for some distance beyond that does not bear marks of the flames. The only building untouched in the town is the Windsor Cotton Factory, which stands alone among the industries of the place.

The disaster will fall doubly heavy, coming at this season of the year, and great suffering must result to the hundreds of homeless families.

FATE OF LUETGERT

Is Still Hanging in the Balance at Chicago

THE JUDGE'S IMPARTIAL CHARGE.

State Attorney Deneen's Speech Had a Great Effect on the Prisoner. No Decision Reached at 2 O'clock This Morning. Speculations Concerning the Verdict.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The ninth week of the famous Luetgert trial opened this morning with the greatest crush yet seen at the Criminal Court Building. It was a wild mob, and there were numerous unpleasant collisions between the bailiffs and the turbulent people.

States Attorney Deneen promptly began his argument. He opened with a defence of several of the leading witnesses for the prosecution. "After four or five days of oratory on the part of Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen, what have we to answer?" asked States Attorney Deneen in quick, emphatic style.

"Simply ridicule. I shall not waste time answering the assertions of orators who assail the reputations of men of learning, who are recognized authorities upon the subjects upon which they were called to testify.

"There are three matters of vital importance which are deserving of discussion in this great trial. First, the theory of soup; second, the evidence of the Schimpke sisters; third, the mysterious woman at Kenosha."

Toward the close of Deneen's argument Luetgert was noticeably nervous. He turned uneasily in his chair, and a tremor shook his giant frame.

Judge Tuthill instructed the jury as follows:

"Before conviction can be had in this case the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt and to a moral certainty, first, that Louisa Luetgert is dead; second, that she came to her death on the first of May, 1897; third, that Adolph Luetgert, the defendant, wilfully, maliciously, feloniously and of malice aforethought, killed and murdered the said Louisa Luetgert by some of the various means charged in the indictment or by means unknown. The burden of proof rests upon the prosecution to make out and prove to the satisfaction of the jury beyond all reasonable doubt every material allegation in the indictment, and unless that has been done the jury should find the defendant not guilty. It is not incumbent upon the defendant to prove that Louisa Luetgert is alive or her whereabouts or what became of her.

"If it is possible for you to reconcile the facts in this case upon any reasonable theory consistent with the innocence of the defendant, it is your duty to do so and find him not guilty.

"You are instructed, as a matter of law, that if you believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant assaulted and killed Louisa Luetgert, as charged, under circumstances showing no considerable provocation, but showing an abandoned and malignant heart on the part of the defendant and a total disregard of human life, then the law pronounces such killing to be murder, and a jury should so find; it matters not that such evidence is circumstantial or made up from facts and circumstances, provided the jury believe that such facts and circumstances, pointing to the defendant's guilt, have been proved, so that from a consideration of all the evidence in the case there is no reasonable doubt in the mind of the jury as to the guilt of the defendant. Direct and positive testimony is not necessary to prove the intent. It may be inferred from facts and circumstances shown by the evidence."

Luetgert, at the opening of the charge, fixed his eyes on the wall a few feet above the heads of the jurors, and during the reading scarcely diverted his gaze. Luetgert picked up his little yellow-haired boy and kissed him fondly after the jury had retired.

As Judge Tuthill finished his charge he looked at the jury and said:

"Gentlemen, you may retire and consider your verdict."

When the twelve men marched out of the room, a moment later, Judge Tuthill ordered the room cleared and announced that he would adjourn court until 8 o'clock to-night, but that he would be within easy call of the court room in case his presence was desired.

No Decision Reached.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—At 1 o'clock this morning the jury was still out, and Judge Tuthill has retired. There will be no announcement until court opens at 9.30 this morning.

PATHETIC BREVITY.

The Dead Editor, Dana, Has a Nine-Word Obituary in His Own Paper—Funeral Will Be Plain.

Glen Cove, L.I., Oct. 18.—The arrangements for the funeral of the late Charles A. Dana, late editor of The New York Sun, have been completed. In accordance with the request made by Mr. Dana the funeral will be conducted without display. The funeral services will be conducted at the Dana residence on Wednesday next. Editor Dana was averse to any special public notice being taken over his demise, and his request will be strictly complied with.

Nine Words of an Obituary.

New York, Oct. 18.—The Sun's announcement of the death of its editor is almost pathetic in its simplicity. The news columns are dumb. At the top of the first column on the editorial page in ordinary type appears:

"Charles A. Dana, editor of The Sun, died yesterday."

Ponton Aftermath.

Napanee, Oct. 18.—When Mr. E. Gus Porter, Ponton's lawyer, was asked what steps his client would now take to be recompensed for the manner in which he had been treated. Mr. Porter replied that he had already received instructions to proceed against the bank for false arrest and imprisonment and against Detectives Dougherty and Wilkes for alleged conspiracy.

Belleville, Oct. 18.—W. H. Ponton, who was warmly welcomed in this city, went to Napanee this morning and proffered his services at the bank. He was dismissed by Manager Baines.

Bismarck's Brain.

Bismarck's brain, according to the estimate from external measurements made by Herr Ammon, an anthropologist, and the sculptor who made the Iron Chancellor's bust, probably weighs 1807 grammes, in which case it is the heaviest on record. Cuvier's brain weighed 1830 grammes, Byron's 1807, Kant's 1650, and Schiller's 1580. The average weight of the brain of an intelligent European is 1380 grammes.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

As Sir Henry Irving aptly remarks, it is no longer Britain and her colonies, but Britain and her comrades.

IN the death of Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, American journalism loses one of its most conspicuous members. He was hardly to be called popular, for he held strong opinions and vigourously upheld them, and an outspoken man naturally makes enemies. He had an unreasoning hostility to Canada and British institutions generally and that Canada was not annexed by force or otherwise was not his fault.

THE Province of Quebec shows a deficit of nearly a million on the current financial operations of last year, the last year of the Flynn Conservative Government. There does not seem to have been any great effort at economy for the expenditures of 1897 exceeded those of 1896 by the large sum of 722 millions, almost as much as the Ontario Government pays for education, which in Quebec last year amounted to only $370,260 Besides the people of Quebec paid in 1896, $727,287 in direct taxation—direct taxes on commercial corporations and taxes on transfers of property; last year the interest charges on Quebec's public debt, amounted to the astonishing sum of one and a half millions (1,550,874.) But the Flynn deficit is the great point; a difference of nearly a million dollars between ordinary receipts and expenditure shows that Hon Mr. Flynn and his colleagues during the last months of their hold on office gave free rein to the spending capacity of themselves and camp followers.

The New York Nation, a high class policital review, in a recent number, says: "Another clause of the Canadian tariff is significant at the present time, and is well worthy of imitation by us. It provides that whenever the executive branch of the Government shall be satisfied that any article is monopolized by a Trust or combination it shall have power to abolish all duties on the article so monopolized. This is a great step in advance of anything in our legislation. It is a real protection to the people against monopoly, whereas our anti Trust laws are a sham. The virtue of the Canadian law lies in the fact that it is self-executing, whereas ours cannot be executed by all the powers of the Federal and State governments combined. Although Senator Sherman declared more than once that every shred of protection ought to be removed from any article produced by a Trust or combine, neither he nor any other Republican Senator ever offered a bill to carry that plan into effect. The truth is that the Republican party dare not offend the monopolies which its own tariff laws have created. It is pursued and devoured by its own monsters.

A Toronto Lady Deceived.

She Bought a Dye That Was Not True to Name.

A lady living on Church street, Toronto, quite recently visited one of the city stores and bought a package of —— Cardinal Dye to colour a small dress. She relates her experience as follows:—

"I bought a packet of Cardinal Dye at a certain store here for the purpose of dyeing a cream wool dress for my little girl I used it according to the printed directions, and was quite disappointed with my job. I got such a muddy and undecided colour that I was forced to dye it a dark colour in order to save the dress. My failure was due to the fact that I was talked into buying a common make of dye instead of the Diamond that I had always used before. You may rest assured that I shall always use the Diamond Dyes in the future, as I know from experience they are the best. The storekeeper who sold me the common dye has certainly lost my trade, as I feel he knowingly deceived me."

FORTY-TWO RESCUED.

A Gunboat and Tug Went Out and Picked Up That Number from the Wreck of the Steamer Triton.

Havana, Oct. 18.—The gunboat Maria Christina, which left this port Saturday for the scene of the wreck of the coasting steamer Triton, bound from Havana to Bahia Honda, Pinar del Rio, which sank Saturday morning between Dominica and Mariel, has returned, accompanied by the tug boat Susie, which went with her. The two vessels arrived here at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the gunboat having on board nineteen and the tug boat 23 of the members of the ship's company, of whom thirteen are civilians and soldiers. The whereabouts of the others of the company are unknown. The Triton struck the rock during the heavy rain storm. Her cargo shifted and fifteen minutes later she sank in 120 fathoms of water.

It is impossible to give the exact number of those who were lost, but it is estimated that they were no fewer than 150. No passenger list has been found. says that the vessel, which carried a general cargo, was not insured.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Nellie Delaire, the nurse who was injured with Lieut.-Col. Mr Fielding's Movements.

London, Oct. 18.—(Telegram Cable.)—At the Lord Mayor's banquet to the Fruiterers' Company to-morrow evening Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance in the Canadian Cabinet, will be one of the speakers.

The number of "Klondike" and "Yukon" companies is increasing. To the present some thirty have been registered, with capitals ranging from £7000 to £250,000.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Goldfields Mining Company of British Columbia to-day, Mr. Grant Govan said that the Legislature of British Columbia was the most generous in the world to mining companies, for it refuses them nothing. Klondike investments, he said, would be good ten years hence.

Thanksgiving Day.

At a meeting of the Cabinet to-day it was decided to appoint the 25th of November a day of general thanksgiving throughout the Dominion.

A New Senator.

It is understood that Dr. Jean Baptiste Romuald Fiset, M.P., Rimouski, is to be appointed Senator for the Gulf Division of Quebec, in the place of the late Senator Robitaille. Dr. Fiset will be a great acquisition to the Liberal party in the Upper Chamber. He was first elected to the Commons in 1871 for his present constituency.

Kingsmere is in danger of being swept with bush fires.

Hon. J. D. Edgar, Speaker of the House of Commons, is here.

They Have Got to the Klondike.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 18.—The Department of Mounted Police have received word that the body of police in advance of Major Walsh's party have got through and have left Lake Bennett for Dawson, where they probably are by this time. Mr. Lawson on Sept. 6 had heard nothing of the reported fire there.

It is expected that Major Walsh will get through the pass with his party, but there are already said to be over a thousand dead horses in the pass.

LIVES IN DANGER.

The Time For Action and Great Care.

Paine's Celery Compound Should Be Used This Month.

Our changeable autumn weather brings fear to the hearts of thousands of rheumatic sufferers who are unable to go to warmer climes. The present month with its wet, cold weather and chilling northeast winds will, without doubt, increase the agonies of those who are afflicted with acute, chronic, inflammatory and sciatic rheumatism. The uric acid in the system, which the kidneys have not removed, is poisoning the blood, causing stiff and swollen joints, twisted legs, arms, fingers, and contracted cords. When it reaches the heart it generally proves fatal.

Rheumatic sufferers, why remain in agony and peril? There is a sure cure and a new life for all if the proper agency is made use of. The true agency, Paine's Celery Compound, has triumphantly met hundreds of cases far more subtile and dangerous than yours; it will surely meet your troubles. It is for you to determine this day whether you shall be free from suffering and take on a new life, or remain in a condition of helplessness and torture that may drag you to the grave at any time.

Bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound cures all forms of rheumatism, and does the work so well that the disease never returns. Mrs. M. J. Vince, of Barrie, Ont., says:

"I am happy to say that I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great results. I had sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed or wald without help; and for a period of three weeks was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was unbearable.

"I tried many medicines, but all in vain. I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles, and am entirely cured and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me."

SEND FOR THIS.

Tenth Annual Report of the Chemical Division Dom. Exp. Farms, 1896.

A copy of this report has just been received and we presume, therefore, that it is now ready for distribution among the farmers of the Dominion. There is much in it of value and interest to every farmer.

It would appear that the past year has been an exceedingly busy one for the chemist (Mr. Frank T. Shutt), for the forty odd pages of his report are crowded with results of analyses, and deductions therefrom, of soils, fertilizers, cattle foods, well waters and a host of other materials more or less closely related to agriculture.

Among what appear to us as the more important features of this work, we notice the following: an exhaustive account of certain typical soils in British Columbia. Their relative fertility is noted and suggestions made for their profitable treatment.

The economic improvement of muck soils is the subject of a chapter that will be found most useful to all farmers having muck deposits on their farms. Mr. Shutt has been able to demonstrate the value of woodashes (potash) and lime for these soils. The results of pot experiments show a large increase in the yield from such treatment. A well executed cut of the pot experiments illustrates this chapter.

Many analyses of "muds," "mucks," and substances of like character, occurring naturally, have been made. It has been shown that many of these deposits are of highly nitrogenous character, while others are useful as "amendments" rather than as fertilizers. Instructions are given how to make composts with swamp muck, and attention also is called to the value of this material as an absorbent in and about the farm buildings.

Some instructive results obtained by rotting manure are given. They show that even under fairly good conditions there is considerable loss of fertilizing material. Manure must be kept compact, to exclude air, and moist (not wet) if the loss during fermentation is to be minimized.

Some valuable experiments regarding the use of clovers as green manures have been made. The data show the extent to which the various clovers enrich the soil with nitrogen. This chapter contains information of the greatest importance to every farmer who is anxious to maintain or increase the fertility of his land.

A large number of materials of fertilizing value, such as woodashes, fish meal, etc., etc., have been analyzed and their composition is stated in plain language.

On the question of cattle foods, the chemist presents his results on the "Chemistry of the Corn Plant," an important piece of work which clearly indicates the changes in food value that take place during the growth of the crop. Scientific data are given to show that the corn should be allowed to arrive at the "glazing" condition before it is harvested.

The results of the chemist's examination of waters from farm homesteads is anything but encouraging. They show that on many farms polluted water is being used. Mr. Shutt points out the great danger to health of both man and beast from the use of a contaminated water supply.

All thoughtful farmers, we believe, will be interested and benefited by a perusal of this report and we should therefore advise them to apply to the chemist of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa for a copy.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

OUR FRUIT IN BRITAIN

The Canadian Shipment a Little Over-Ripe.

OUR FIRST MISTAKE IN PACKING.

The British Army Increase The Duke of Cambridge Supports the Proposal—Lord Salisbury Will Not Resign—Sir Edwin Arnold's Marriage — Movements of Hon. Mr. Fielding

London, Oct. 18.—The shipments of Canadian fruit sent by refrigerator service while arriving here in fair shape, have not been delivered so far in that state of excellence that is to be desired, although fair sales have been made and there is an eager curiosity on the part of buyers to see just what manner of table fruit Canada can send here.

On the arrival of the great shipment at Bristol, Mr. W. T. Crandall, agent of the Canadian Department of Agriculture, was on hand to receive it, and by the courtesy of the Bristol and the railway officials secured speedy transit to London, where the day after arrival at Bristol the cargo was disposed of by auction at Covent Garden at fair prices.

The condition of this cargo was not such as had been expected, however, the fruit being a little over ripe. Mr. Crandall, who is wonderfully in earnest, set to work to discover what there was lacking in the Canadian methods of packing and shipping which made this undesirable result possible, when California fruit, which had traveled by rail seven days before the ocean voyage had been delivered at Covent Garden in excellent shape.

It was found that in the first place the Canadian packages, while handsome and attractive, lacked sufficient ventilation. In addition they were too heavy, which induced careless handling on account of the weight, thus jolting the fruit, and were also unnecessarily expensive. In packing in the refrigerator compartments they were put in solidly and each compartment filled to its utmost capacity, in some cases even butter, etc., being put into the same compartment as the fruit when there was not enough fruit to fill it. Then again by the records kept it was found that the temperature of the refrigerator compartments had not been kept at an even degree during the voyage, and in some cases not nearly low enough, the original temperature having been raised considerably by the heat in the packages of fruit as they were packed on board ship.

It was found that, in packing the California fruits at New York, between the crates of fruit and the walls cleats were placed to give free air space all around, and that between the crates also on all sides these cleats were placed, thus giving free circulation around each crate. The compartments were not filled to their utmost capacity either, and so upon arrival the California fruit was in the best of condition, although naturally it has not the keeping qualities of the Canadian fruit.

After thorough investigations, Mr. Crandall reported the result of his discoveries to Prof. Robertson in Canada, and no doubt changes will be made at once in the methods of packing, both in the crates themselves and in the system on which the refrigerator compartments are filled. It is naturally hard to arrive at exactly the proper methods of handling this new and much hoped for trade, but with the thoroughness and perseverance the Canadian officials are showing the shippers may be certain that their trade here will very soon be established firmly, with a pleasing tendency to grow.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ARMY

Is Acknowledged Not to Be What It Should Be The Duke of Cambridge Endorses Wolseley.

London, Oct. 18.—The Duke of Cambridge, in the course of a speech at Bath to-day, said he endorsed every word that Lord Wolseley, the Commander-in-Chief, and the Hon. William St. John Broderick, Under Secretary for War, had uttered recently as to the necessity of increasing the defences of the Empire by augmenting the military arm. While in office as Commander-in-Chief his mouth, he said, had been sealed to a great extent, but he had not been neglectful of his duties.

Sir Robert Finlay, the Solicitor-General, speaking at Forres, Scotland, to-day said that a large increase of expenditure was necessary in the army and navy, and that it might become necessary to resort to the ballot to provide that a certain portion of citizens should serve in the militia.

Comments of the Papers.

London, Oct. 19.—The morning papers to-day, commenting on the statement of Sir Robert Finlay, the Solicitor-General, at Forres yesterday with respect to the possible necessity of resorting to the ballot in order to provide that a certain portion of the citizens should serve in the militia, ask whether it means conscription or is merely a mild threat with a view of forcing Parliament to grant the credits asked for by both defensive departments.

THE LIGHT OF ASIA

Comes from Japan to London to Brighten Sir Edwin Arnold's Life.

London, Oct. 18.—Sir Edwin Arnold, the poet and journalist, author of "The Light of Asia," and colleague of Mr. J. M. Lesage in the editorship of The Daily Telegraph, married a Japanese lady in London Saturday.

The particulars obtainable concerning the marriage on Saturday of Sir Edwin Arnold, the poet and editor, author of "The Light of Asia," to a Japanese lady show that the ceremony took place at St. Matthias' Church, Earlscourt, this city, in the presence of Sir Edwin's brother, Sir Arthur Arnold, chairman of the London County Council, the Japanese Ministers and their wives. Sir Edwin and Lady Arnold will reside at Bolton Gardens, this city. The bride was brought from Japan and was educated in England.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL.

Premier Salisbury says There is Absolutely No Truth in The Chronicle's Story.

London, Oct. 18.—The Marquis of Salisbury telegraphs to the Associated Press from Hatfield House, Hertford, saying there is absolutely no truth in the story published by The Daily Chronicle of this city to-day, saying the Premier is anxious to retire on account of ill-health and anxiety respecting the health of the Marchioness of Salisbury and that an early reconstruction of the Cabinet in consequence is probable.

Telegraph Backs It Up.

London, Oct. 19.—The Daily Telegraph this morning gives an unqualified denial on authority to the rumor put in circulation by The Daily Chronicle that Lord Salisbury contemplated retirement from the Premiership and the Foreign Office. It says: "Lord Salisbury is stronger and feeling better than for many years; while Lady Salisbury has almost completely recovered her health."

"Uncommon Insolence."

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The Neueste Nachrichten of Leipsic publishes a report of a conversation which Prince Bismarck is said to have had with a recent visitor, during the course of which the ex-Chancellor is quoted as saying that the Monroe Doctrine is "uncommon insolence to the rest of the world, and does violence to the other American and European states with American interests."

Continuing, Prince Bismarck is reported to have remarked:

"Their great wealth, due to the soil of America, has led the American legislators to overestimate their own rights and underestimate the rights of the other American and European states."

The Bi-Metallic Commission.

London, Oct. 18.—The United States Monetary Commissioners have received no official information regarding the action taken by the British Cabinet on Saturday last. Private advices, however, convince them that the Cabinet has dealt the death blow to their mission. It is expected the commissioners will soon be informed that "Her Majesty's Government regrets being unable to accede to their proposals, but is willing to listen to any other plan they may suggest."

The United States Commissioners believe their failure means that no further effort in behalf of bimetallism will be made for many years to come. They attribute their failure to the opposition of the bankers and of The London Times. Until these forces were aroused all signs pointed to the co-operation of the British Government.

Russian Oil Wells in a Blaze.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—A despatch from Baku, on the peninsula of Apsheron, on the west coast of the Caspian Sea, a centre of the great oil-producing regions in European Russia, says that a petroleum spring at Romany, a suburb of Baku, caught fire last night. The fire spread quickly to other springs in the vicinity, until the whole valley was a sea of flame. The losses are enormous and the fires are still burning. Four springs and twenty-three bore holes have been destroyed, as well as several magazines and houses.

Reduction of Duty Recommended.

Pretoria, Transvaal, Oct. 18.—The report of the sub-committee of the Volksraad on Industrial Commissions has been issued. It recommends a reduction of duty to the amount of 10 shillings per case on dynamite and large reductions in the rail [illegible] on mining requirements. The report [illegible] a heated debate is expected.

YELLOW FEVER RECORD.

The Century Mark Passed in Number of Deaths at New Orleans—Official Statement.

New Orleans, Oct. 18.—This evening the 100-mark of deaths during the present period of yellow fever prevalence had been reached. When the Board of Health closes its books last night there had been 96 fatal cases. The new cases reported to-day exceeded 30, and the number of deaths was seven. The total of 103 deaths has occurred among less than 900 cases that have been reported since early in September, when the first case appeared here. As usual, however, to day's record has been swelled by the criminal neglect of the poorer classes. The quarantine system is still in effect, but it does not seem to restrain the spread of the infection. The first case of yellow fever at Baton Rouge was reported to-day.

The Official Statement.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 18.—Surgeon Wyman's yellow fever advices show new cases and deaths as follows:

Mobile, Ala., 6 cases, 1 death; Scranton, Miss., 12 cases; Bascagoula, Miss., 2 cases; Edwards, 2 cases, 3 deaths; Cayuga, Miss., 8 cases, 1 death.

Yellow Jack's Record at Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 18.—There were five new cases of yellow fever reported yesterday. There were four recoveries and no deaths. Total cases to date, 164; deaths, 21.

The BEST Advertisements we have are he Goods themselves. THEY are the convincing advertisers who appeal to you with a force which is simply overwhelming.

When you look at our Goods—whether in delightful symphonies of trimming, showing the perfection of cultivated taste—or our lovely harmonies of colour which are composed with the skill for which our productions are so widely known—or our beautiful models with their exquisite softness of outline, which display such magnificent and striking, yet subdued effect, constructed with such admirable and artistic ability, that prevents the suggestion of anything tawdry or theatrical.

Or, if you turn and admire our unequalled display of MANTLES and JACKETS and study their perfect fit, with their REGAL gracefulness and beautiful finish, together with the marvellously low prices—you will then see OUR REALLY BEST advertisers, which speak to you in language that is to the point, and which tell you that everything we say in their favour is more than proved by themselves, and that the goods, although silent, can convince you that when we rely on them to advertise our business, we use the BEST and MOST EFFECTIVE medium in the world.

She Made a Fast Trip.

The Kingston News of the 16th inst says: "The schooner Wave Crest, owned by Mr. J. J. Turner, of Peterborough, arrived in port yesterday after making an unusually fast trip between Kingston and Charlotte. The voyage was accomplished in twenty-nine hours, which lowers the record by about an hour." Mr. Turner has a right to feel proud of his schooner, but then, to be Turner's, it must be a "hustler" and "sail in" ahead of all comers.

Bishop Thornloe at All Saints.

A missionary meeting under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of Peterborough and Ashburnham will be held in All Saints' church on Friday evening of this week, when the Right Rev. Dr. Thornloe, Bishop of Algoma, will give an address. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of those interested in missionary work, both men and women. Bishop Thornloe is a splendid speaker, and it will be a special treat to hear the bishop of a missionary diocese on this his first visit to our town. The offertory will be for missionary work in Algoma.

A Wonderful Performance.

Shakespear's masterpiece, "Othello," was produced last evening at the Opera House by Warren Conlan and his efficient company. It was indeed a rare treat, as it was the first Shakespearian production that has appeared here in years. It was an intellectual treat after the clap-trap dramas and the so called variety exhibitions of the present day. Mr. Conlon, as Othello, displayed a physique that is seldom seen on the classic stage. His voice is melodious and at times intense. He has no peer at the present day as Othello. His scene with Desdemonia in the last act will ever be remembered. As late as it was he held his audience rivited to their seats. It was indeed a wonderful creation. Miss Sadye Whiteford as Desdemonia looked sweet and gave the character a modest assumption that all were surprised of the Moor's jealousy. Mr. Duncan made a crafty and subtle "Iago." Mr. Dr. Verain as "Cassio" was pleasant to look upon and played the part in a painstaking manner. Miss Connors was intense as "Emilia," her last act being very realistic. Miss Guilday looked very pretty as the page. Mr. Marks, Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Lewis were also worthy of notice. To-night Mr. Conlan will give his strongest rendition, that of "Shylock" in the Merchant of Venice. There should not be a vacant seat in the house. At the matinee Wednesday "The Fool's Revenge" will be given for the ladies and children.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH CONCERT.

It is Given Under the Auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour.

The Young People of the Charlotte street Methodist church are to be credited with holding the most successful concert of the season. It was successful both in point of attendance and in the excellence of the programme which was presented. The concert was held in the body of the church and even the draw seats had to be utilized to accommodate the audience that assembled.

Rev. D. O. Crossley, the pastor, occupied the chair, and on behalf of the Y.P.S.C.E. cordially welcomed those present.

The entire programme was presented by Miss Ethel Webb, A.T.C.M., elocutionist, and Miss Norman, vocalist and violin soloist, both of Toronto.

The two young ladies speedily established themselves so firmly in the graces of the audience that their every appearance was the signal for a round of applause and almost every number was encored with such enthusiasm that a response was always necessary.

Miss Webb, without doubt, will take precedence of almost every elocutionist who has yet appeared in Peterborough, ranking with the highest artists of the present day. Her versatility is truly wonderful and, as will be seen by the programme, her numbers alternated from tragedy to humour and in all her selections the young artist appeared to singular advantage, probably excelling in those requiring the exercise of her gift of reciting in dialect. She has made herself a prime favourite in Peterborough through last evening's entertainment, and her face will ever be welcome here.

No less popularity did Miss Norman win for herself, both as a violinist and vocal soloist. Her bowing and general execution in Leonard's "Allegro," had to be witnessed by an expert to be appreciated, and Raff's "Cavatina" was equally as well given. Both selections were encored. Miss Norman's voice is a very sweet soprano with a considerable range. It is in her high notes that she excels and the precision with which she took them last evening was fully appreciated by the audience. Her rendition of "The Blue Bells of Scotland" was very pleasing, her enunciation and accent striking straight home to the hearts of the sons and daughters of Auld Scotia who were present.

The programme was as follows:—

Violin solo—"Allegro".....Leonard
Miss Norman.
Recitation—"King John".....Anon
Miss Webb.
Vocal solo—"Once".....Arthur Hewsy
Miss Norman.
Reading—"Waiting on the Other Train"..Dixon
As told by the clock in the waiting room.
Miss Webb.
Vocal solo—"Cavatina".....Raff
Miss Norman.
Reading—"The Rivals".....Smith
Miss Webb.
Violin solo....."The Blue Bells of Scotland"
Miss Norman.
Recitation—"Mr Slocum".....Church
Miss Webb.
Recitation....."Song of the Boat"

God Save the Queen.

The entertainment was concluded by the singing of the national anthem, after the pastor had again thanked the audience for their presence.

ONLY A WOODEN BOX.

But the Contents Showed the Appreciation of the Congregation.

The following is clipped from a Pennsylvania paper and has reference to Rev. B. Canfield Jones, who has many friends in Peterborough:

Just five years ago yesterday Rev. and Mrs. B. Canfield Jones were united in marriage. Last evening two of the congregation went to Mr. and Mrs. Jones, carrying the love and best wishes of the congregation, and presented Rev. Jones with a large wooden box, referring to the anniversary. When the cover of the box was lifted $400 in currency stared the surprised reverend gentleman in the face, and a note with the best wishes for good health from the congregation.

SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

The Contractors to be Allowed to Put in Private Connections.

A meeting of the town Sewerage Committee was held last evening, when it was decided that hereafter the sewer contractors be allowed to put in private connections under the inspection of the town engineer. The connections, of course, will still be put in by the town authorities as before, and as the estimates of the engineer varies at times from the exact cost, a dollar will be held out of each deposit which has been made in order to create a contingent fund to make up any deficiency which might possibly be occasioned by an under estimate. Before the connections are made the entire amount of the estimate must be deposited as heretofore.

DOWN THE OTONABEE

THE "DROWNED LANDS" EXPEDITION.

Valuator Pope, Superintendent Rogers and the Farmers Concerned go Over the Route.

Yesterday was distinguished by a busy scene along the river fronts of North and South Monaghan, where the owners of lands complain that large areas are submerged and rendered useless by high water, especially in the spring. Mr. Pope, the Government valuator, was here yesterday to go over the route with a large number of the parties concerned. Accompanied by the Superintending Engineer, Mr. R. B. Rogers, and all the farmers along the river near town, the party started down the river on the steamer Eclipse, which left the wharf at nine o'clock, Capt. Calcutt having everything in readiness. When Mr. Pope, Government Valuator, arrived from Belleville, he joined on the steamer, Mr. R. B. Rogers, Mayor Yelland, Messrs. Wm. Eyres, Matthew J. Johnson, Samuel Thompson. At the Locks the party was augmented by Messrs. Wm. Whitfield, Adam King, Jno. Matchett, W. McAllister, Dawson Kennedy, Joshua Chambers, James Chambers, John Hanbidge, Henry Stewart and Wm. Bradshaw. As the party glided down the river each of the parties had his say as to the damage done to his property as it was passed, and pointed out to Mr. Pope the extent of the damage done, principally by the high water in the spring, and, as a member of the party says, "The way some of those Otonabee fellows would beat Finch Miller's band thirty strong."

At Whitfield's Landing the party was increased by Messrs. James Lattimore, sr., and Wesley Whitfield. At Wallace's Point, Messrs. Pope, Rogers, W. Hall and Joseph Clark took conveyances and visited and inspected the properties of Mr. Clark, Mr. Bradshaw, Mr. John Rutherford, Alex. Anderson and Robt. Laing. On their return to the steamer the strength of the company was added to by the presence of Messrs. R. A. Deyell, Wm. Stewart, Wm. Dwyer, Joseph Clark, Alex. Anderson, and Thos. N. Willan. When the steamer reached Smithson's wharf she found in waiting Messrs. Wm. Smithson, Wm. Rutherford, Wm. Robinson, Wm. Huggins and Thomas Bradshaw.

At the new bridge another stop was made to permit Messrs. John and Wm. Buckham to board the steamer.

On the way down the river Mr. Pope was kept busy seeing and taking notes of what was pointed out in respect of all the properties affected. In fact, so rapid was the rain of information thus tendered, that Mr. Pope was compelled to ask the captain to stop the boat in order that he might keep up with the procession of information respecting the damage done to the land along the shores.

At length Jubilee Point was reached, and the severe business complexion of the journey relaxed. All brought lunch baskets, in orthodox picnic style, and to see the manner in which they were filled, was a proof that we had a bountiful harvest this year, and to see the way they were emptied, was proof that the appetites of the tourists corresponded with the harvest.

After luncheon had been vigorously despatched, with about fifteen minutes for a smoke and stroll and to permit the steamer to wood, the party then steamed out into the lake, taking the eastern channel, which is very shallow at present. The mouth of the Otonabee—where it enters the lake—with sand, sawdust and weeds. After getting through the channel with care, Capt. Calcutt, Engineer Lajeuresse and Jimmy Tobin were equal to the occasion, taking soundings with a pike pole. Arriving at the river again the party set out for home, leaving the passengers at their respective landing places, Peterborough wharf was reached at 5.30 p. m. Everybody hugely enjoyed the voyage; everything passed off pleasantly, not even Mayor Yelland talking politics. The day could not have been more delightful for the occasion.

What steps the Government will take regarding the claims for compensation remains to be seen, but they certainly intend, it is confidently expected, to give it their serious consideration and remedy the evil in some way by beter regulation of the water at Hastings, so that the bulk of the water can be let away more rapidly in the spring. It seems too bad that so much good land should be a total loss to the farmers along the river.

Mr. Pope left on the 8.50 train for Belleville.—[COM.

Mr. George H. Pope, the commissioner, did not leave town until nine o'clock in the evening, and before his departure he was seen by an EXAMINER reporter and interviewed in regard to the result of his investigation so far with the question of the flooded lands. He has been at Hastings recently and finds that a stone bar across the channel of the river about four hundred feet broad and ninety feet long had been blasted out just above the village. The stone has not, however, been removed, and this in itself forms quite a barrier to the river's progress, raising it to quite a considerable height. When some more blasting is done and the channel cleaned out it will make a big difference in the matter of allowing the water to run freely in the spring. It is calculated that if several more aprons were put into the Fowlds' dam, and several more openings made, that the high water flood will be almost entirely done away with.

Mr. Pope does not care to commit himself at present as to the extent to which the Government will go to assist the farmers in the matter of their complaint. He thinks, however, that the fact of the mouth of the Otonabee being so blocked with weeds and sawdust has a great deal to do with holding the water back in the spring. There used to be five good channels leading out in the lake, and now the three centre ones are so blocked that a row boat could not get through. Of the remaining two channels one only is accessible at all times, the other closing up periodically. It would only seem reasonable, he thinks, to infer that the clearance of the mouth of the river would do a great deal of good, but whether it would remedy the flooding of the land he is not prepared to say.

POST OFFICE INVESTIGATION.

The Inspector of the District is Here To-day on Business.

The Post Office Inspector of the district is in town to-day in connection with the complaint, which was laid at the Kingston office, through the delay in the delivery of a letter at Peterborough.

Mr. C. McCormack, who is connected with the local Canada Life insurance office, expected a letter from Kingston containing some jewelry, and from Sept. 8th until Sept. 14th asked at the wicket for it every day, but did not receive it, nor was it put in the Canada Life box.

On the 14th he states that he received the letter, and at once noticed that the Peterborough post mark was placed on it Sept. 8th. He complained of the matter to the post office authorities, and gave them the envelope. He also wrote of the matter to friends in Kingston, and through them a complaint was made to the inspector.

The investigation is taking place to-day.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

MOODY ARRIVES TO-MORROW.

He is Particularly Anxious to meet the Business Men of Peterborough.

To-morrow D. L. Moody will visit Peterborough for the first time. His coming here has been due to the efforts of the local branch of the Young Men's Christian Association and that of the Association in Montreal.

Mr. Moody's visit to a few Canadian cities is not in its object primarily evangelistic in character. His desire rather is to meet and help believers, and particularly did he wish to meet with business men.

While this is true—the meetings have been arranged so as as to reach all classes, including children, for whom a special service has been arranged to be held in the George street church at 11 a. m. on Thursday.

The meeting arranged for men only, to be held in St. Paul's church on Thursday evening, will give an opportunity for the business men to meet the evangelist.

The programme for to-morrow will be as follows:

In the George street church a meeting will be held at 3.30 p.m. Rev. S. S. Shorey will preside and introduce Mr. Moody on his arrival at 4.10, when the latter will take charge of the meeting.

In the evening, at 7.30, another general meeting will be held in the George street church.

The committee have done their best in arranging accommodation for over-flow meetings.

The doors will open half an hour before the beginning of each service.

The choirs of the church in which the meeting will be held will lead the singing, and the members of other choirs are invited to take seats in the choir galleries, as far as the accommodation will admit.

Mr. Birk will accompany Mr. Moody and the book used will be "Sacred Songs," No. 1, of which a large supply have been received. Citizens will kindly remember the collections at each meeting, and the free-will offering at the closing meeting on Thursday. Liberal offerings are urged.

BACK FROM CAMP.

Fish and Ducks are Very Plentiful at Lake Ketchecum.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson has returned from Lake Ketchecum, where he has been camping with the large party which is up there from town.

He states that the weather has been gloriously warm, in fact too warm, as quite a quantity of fish spoiled on their hands. The party live largely on fish diet back at Ketchecum, and between sixteen and twenty have to be caught for each meal, but there is no trouble in this.

Quite a large number have been sent into town, and for the next day or two the friends of the campers will be feasting royally on mountain trout.

Mr. Ferguson says that partridge are somewhat scarce for that country, where they are generally almost as thick as the leaves, yet of course if they were nearer Peterborough they would be considered plentiful. The ducks are thick and were never known to congregate in such numbers at Lake Ketchecum before. When a flock is raised at night by the campers as they paddle down the lake the rush of wings is almost deafening, making as much noise as a regiment of soldiery.

The Baby Boy Covered with Eczema and Cured by Dr. Chase.

Mrs. Jas. Brown of Molesworth, Ont., tells how her boy (eight months old) was cured of torturing Eczema. Mother whose Children are afflicted can write regarding the great cure, Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her child was afflicted from birth and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured him.

THE BOWMAN ROBBERY.

Further Particulars—Harry Labelle Placed Under Arrest and Given a Hearing This Morning.

Mr. Harry Labelle has been placed under arrest in connection with the Oxford House robbery on Friday last, the circumstances of which were published in yesterday's issue of THE EXAMINER.

In the absence of Police Magistrate Dumble, Councillor McWilliams, J.P., occupied the bench. County Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. Daniel O'Connell appeared for the defence.

The prisoner declined to elect and the preliminary hearing proceeded.

Mr. Bowman, proprietor of the Oxford Hotel, was the first witness. He stated that he and his wife and daughter had left town on Thursday intending to be absent until Friday evening. He had left Mr. Roddy in charge of the house. When Roddy took his meals it was understood that the bar was to be looked after by Addie Row, a domestic. The boarders in the house were Harry and Maurice Labelle and Messrs. Vezy and Morton. The prisoner, although he often assisted in the bar, was given no authority to enter it on this occasion, Roddy being left in absolute charge. For the purpose of saving up sufficient money to pay for his license, the witness had cut a slot in the top of an empty cigar box, and as he could afford it, dropped a dollar or two in at a time. The cover of the box was nailed on. This fact was known only to the witness, his wife and the prisoner. In the latter he had always had the most implicit confidence, and he knew as much about the affairs of the hotel as did the witness. As near as he could calculate there was nearly $100 in the box on Thursday. Fully $25 of this was in silver. He kept it on a high shelf hidden behind a pyramid of cigar boxes behind the bar. It was necessary to get on a chair to get the box. On Sunday when he went to put some money in the box it was gone. He noticed that the cigar boxes in the pyramid were disarranged, one being taken down. It was under the bar unopened. Harry said that he had taken it down for a customer who wanted an "Eight Hour" cigar. He did not explain why he did not open the box after taking it down.

Ned Butler, who mopped out the place, had seen him put money in the box on one occasion.

To Mr. O'Connell, the witness admitted that if anyone got on a chair to get at the cigars the money box would be plainly visible. Labelle had tended bar for him on numerous occasions. He had often been left in charge for days together. Roddy was only employed once before. He thought as much of the prisoner as any of his own family. He never had any suspicion of his honesty before. He did not lay the information against him.

Mrs. Bowman told the same story as the previous witness. To Mr. O'Connell she stated that if Labelle had gone into the bar at meal times to relieve Roddy she would see nothing strange in it as he was in there frequently.

Addie Row, the domestic, testified that she had relieved Roddy at meal times. Labelle had been behind the bar. He was there on Friday at tea time. The had also seen Butler behind the bar. He said he went in there to mop up some water. She met him coming out. He had nothing but the mop in his hand.

Edward Butler swore that he knew nothing of the money box and had not been behind the bar.

R. M. Roddy testified that he had been left in charge of the bar. Labelle had gone in and out. He was in on Friday at tea time. When witness went to tea there was $8.40 in the till. When he came out there was only $7.00. He had not mentioned this fact until Mr. Bowman reported the loss of the other money to him. He at once suspected Labelle and realizing the awkwardness of his own position, laid an information against him. He had not touched the pyramid of cigar boxes, nor knew of the presence of the money box behind them.

Mr. Vezy, a boarder, stated that he had came into the back barroom and called for a glass of porter on Friday at tea time. Labelle was the only one in the bar at the time. When he came in Labelle was standing on a chair in front of the pyramid of cigars. He said he was getting down some "Eight Hour" cigars.

The prosecution then closed its case, and the hearing of the defence will take place on Thursday at 11 a.m.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

THE MURDER OF W. J. ROSS OUT WEST.

HIS SISTER HAS JUST RECEIVED WORD OF HIS DEATH.

He was Formerly a Clerk in the Oriental Hotel and Left Town About Nine Years Ago for Spokane.

Mrs. Robt. McGregor, Water street, has just received word of the murder of of her brother, Mr. W. J. Ross, in Spokane.

All the particulars are not to hand, but it is learned that he was bartending in one of the Spokane hotels and on Wednesday, September 20th, a miner named Karl Johnson, entered the bar and after getting a drink went out. He came back in a minute or two and without a word struck Ross a terrific blow over the temple, felling him to the floor.

Johnson was arrested, and as it was not thought that the injury was serious he was fined $25 and allowed to go. Alarming symptoms, however, developed the next day, and Ross began to sink rapidly, dying on the following Friday, just three days after he had been hit.

Search was made for Johnston, but he had made good his escape.

W. J. Ross was well-known in town, being born here in 1867. He was a son of the late Geo. Ross, and was for some time a clerk in the Oriental Hotel. He left town about nine years ago for the west and settled in Spokane, where he married.

He has many relatives and friends, who will sympathize with his widow in her trouble.

Mr. John Ridgeway, a former member of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association, has accepted a call to be general secretary in Brockville. He spent last evening with Mr. Williamson, the general secretary here, on his way to his new field.

Mr. Dan McMillan, formerly conductor on the Whitby & Manilla Junction run on the Grand Trunk, made his initial trip over the run from Peterborough to Belleville yesterday, having been transferred to this division. "Two for Dan!"—Dan was very popular when he lived in Peterborough several years ago.

Miss Tutty, a leading crayon artist of Hamilton, has for the past few weeks been visiting friends in Peterborough and vicinity. Before returning to her home she purposes making a brief canvas of the town for a limited number of orders, and will call upon the leading citizens during the next few days with this object in view.

Mr. Robert Walton has just returned from a fortnight's visit to Chicago. The drought is intense in the whole Western States. Farmers are sowing wheat in soil as dry as ashes. Mr. Walton did not see a green field of wheat between Detroit and Chicago, nor between Chicago and Toledo. It appears that the drought stops at the Canadian line, for east of Sarnia the fall wheat looks green and well advanced.

THE LYNCHED MAN.

Is Supposed to have been a Beaverton Man—A Sad Ending.

The Orillia Packet gives a detailed account of the lynching of William C. Martin by a party of men on their way to the Klondyke. It is supposed that he was a native of Beaverton, and left there about five years ago. He was last heard of three years ago in St. Louis, and that was the place he gave as his address. He sold all he had to make his way to the gold fields. On arriving at Bennet Lake it was proved that he had stolen a piece of bacon. The report was made to the leader of the party as they were preparing their evening meal and by midnight the body of Martin was hanging from a pole. The last moments are given in the following words: Martin took a soiled letter from his pocket and kissed it tenderly. He then tore it up, saving only the envelope. He pulled off one of his rubber boots, and, placing the envelope on the sole of it, wrote in the moonlight the following:—"Hoping that with the money I might make in the Klondyke, sacrifice would go out of the door and love return through the window, I left you. Kiss Ted, but never tell him. Gid." That was all. It was only a few words, but it was Martin's life history. It contains volumes to those who will know and understand. It was written slowly and carefully and with many pauses. He showed the note to the crowd, saying: "Boys, will some of you please send this back to the newspapers?" Then he stood up manly and announced his readiness. His hands were tied together behind him with a pack strap. There was a hurried command, a hard swing at the rope and it was all over.

Electricity Made at Home.

It has been discovered that if a steel knife and a silver fork are inserted in a large orange an electric current will be generated. If the end of the fork and the end of the knife sticking from the orange are connected with an electric measuring instrument, quite a perceptible current will be seen to pass. The same kind of a battery can be made by substituting a cucumber in place of the orange, in fact, any acid fruit can be used.

In order to make a voltaic pile it is only necessary to procure ten or more pieces of zinc about one inch square, the same number of pieces of copper, and a like number of pieces of paper. The paper should be thoroughly soaked in vinegar.

First, take a piece of zinc; on it place a piece of vinegar-soaked paper, then put on a piece of copper, then a piece of paper, then another zinc and then paper, and so on until all the pieces of zinc, copper and paper are used up. It is important that a piece of zinc should be on one end and a piece of copper on the other. After the pile is completed, again soak the whole slightly in vinegar, then clean it off on the outside.

If the forefinger of one hand is held against one end and the forefinger of the other hand is held on the other end of the pile, quite a perceptible current will be felt. If several persons clasp hands and the persons on each end of the line touch the voltaic pile, the current will flow through the bodies of all those in position.

Artificial Diamonds.

About a century ago the great French chemist, Lavoisier, learned that the wonderful gem known as the diamond is really composed of the same material as charcoal, namely carbon. At once it was suggested that it might be possible to make diamonds out of coal. But most chemists scouted the idea—the diamond was a natural mineral and nature's processes could not be duplicated in the laboratory. Recently, however, M. Moissan has taken up the subject, and has actually succeeded in making true diamonds in his forge. The gems thus manufactured are very small, it is true, but the principle has been found, and who can doubt that its application will be extended until gems of any desired size are made at will? It would be nothing surprising if within the next generation or two diamonds equal to the finest jewels were to be turned out from factories by the ton and sold at so many cents an ounce, instead of so many dollars a carat.

The Arc Light in Rheumatism.

If the results claimed by Khozlovski, a Russian physician, are confirmed, the electric arc light has an astonishing effect on rheumatism and neuralgia. The patient sits about five feet from the powerful light, the rays of which are screened by cardboard from all parts of the body except the affected region. In three months 38 patients were treated, and recovery was reported in eight cases of sciatica, in two cases out of four of neuritis, in fourteen cases out of eighteen of chronic rheumatism, and in three cases of lumbago. The exposure lasts from three-fourth of a minute to two minutes, not more than a dozen applications—at intervals of three or four days—being necessary in any case.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

HER INTERESTING STORY.

A well-known Brighton lady tells what she thinks regarding Heart Trouble, and how to cure it.

Mrs. Stephen P. Clapp tells what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for her.

Mrs. Clapp says, "I have been a sufferer from extreme nervousness for years, and for the last two years my heart has troubled me greatly. I could not sleep soundly, and would often awaken with a start, together with a curious feeling as if my heart had stopped beating, and it would be some time before I could recover myself. At times I became very dizzy, and a mist gathered before my eyes. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, but could get nothing to relieve me. Finally I received a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and am glad to say that they gave me relief in a very short time. I now sleep well, my nerves are steady and strong, and I am better in every way than I have been for years.

I can recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills very highly to those suffering from any trouble affecting the heart and nerves, for I know that they have been a great boon to me."

HE ALWAYS STUCK TO THINGS.

So He Told His Wife, But the Joke Was on Him.

It happened in one of the parks last Sunday, and the maddest man in Toronto failed to receive a bit of sympathy from anyone who happened to be within earshot.

He was walking with a woman, evidently his wife, and a small boy, presumably their own, and he had the air of a man who has brought his family out for a pleasure trip and left his temper at home.

Running along the walk, the small boy tripped and fell, rending the air with shrieks entirely disproportionate to his size. The woman ran to pick him up and soothe him, while the man sank upon an adjacent bench entirely oblivious of a small placard upon it, and proceeded to deliver a lengthy lecture upon the evils of running anywhere and in the park in particular.

The child's clothes were somewhat dusty, and his mother vainly reached for her handkerchief to remove the traces of his mishap. Finally she said, timidly: "James, will you lend me your handkerchief to dust off Willie's clothes. I am afraid that I have lost mine."

"That's right," retorted James, as he fished out the article and threw it at her. "Throw 'em away; I can pay for more. Money's no object. Look at me; do I ever lose anything? Now, do I?"

"No, James," replied his wife, meekly, "but—"

"But—there's no but about it. I stick to things and—"

"Yes, dear," said his wife, meekly, as she completed her task and rose to her feet, "I know you stick to things, and perhaps," her voice grew meeker yet, "perhaps that is why you sat down on that freshly painted bench!"

Sensible.

The Collector Was a Hustler.

"Just to think of being unable to talk or hear?" exclaimed the sentimental maiden lady in an eccentric and sad colored gown, to her nephew, with whom she was staying when in Chicago on a lecture tour.

She pointed tragically as she spoke at the two men at the curb talking with the velocity of an electric fan in the deaf and dumb language.

"When I see such an affliction I am thankful I am not one of the unfortunates," she continued, assuming the tone in which she spoke on the subject of "relief of the indigent Caribbeans," and drawing her initials in the dust with her green parasol. "Ah," she sighed, "how pitiful to see the speed acquired in the years when all other means of conversing has been denied them!"

"I know one of those men," commented the nephew, casually, as he watched a pretty girl catch a car

"I hope you improve every opportunity—"

"Well, I don't know," in a noncommittal tone. "Fact is I know them both. Jones is a collector and the other is a smooth deadbeat, that has been playing the deaf-mute game on all the other collectors. I see that Jones had to learn the finger alphabet, too, in order to collect the $18.50 the man has been owing his house for four years. I see I have lost my bet that he couldn't succeed—Jones is a hustler, I tell you!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

Economy and strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month.

A DOLLAR A WORD.

Rudyard Kipling to Be Paid This Sum for His "White Horses" to Be Written for Literature.

London, Oct. 16.—At the Chapel Royal, St. James' Palace, today, the Rev. Edgar Sheppard, baptized the infant son and heir of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. The Prince of Wales, who was a sponsor at the Duke of Marlborough's christening, acted again today in that capacity in the case of the latter's son. The other sponsors were the Marchioness of Blandford, mother of the Duke of Marlborough, and William K. Vanderbilt, father of the Duchess of Marlborough.

It is understood that for the poem which is to be written for the Victorian Era Literature, which is to be issued under the auspices of The London Times, Rudyard Kipling will be paid $1 a word. It is entitled "White Horses," is in ten stanzas of eight lines, and is appropriate for Trafalgar Day, but without a word of politics in it.

IN TRUST FOR THE WORLD.

England Holds the Countries She Captures, While the French Break Treaties and Trust Natives Wisely.

New York, Oct. 17. The London correspondent of The Times cables today: "Although, as was said last week, people of the highest authority are confident that the Anglo-French dispute in the matter of the West African boundaries will be amicably settled, the discussion of the various phases of the subject occupies so much journalistic attention, both in London and Paris, and is engendering so much heat, that it is impossible not to treat it as a matter of importance.

"The French position is not unfamiliar. They have done precisely the same thing with respect to Tunis, Madagascar and in numerous other less noteworthy instances, and have always found other nations ready to defer to them rather than make a fuss. That is to say, they make formal pledges to do a certain thing, and then when an opportune time arrives calmly tear up these pledges and pursue the opposite course, with no other explanation than that the genius of La Grande Republique cannot brook irksome limitations, and has accordingly adopted a new principle of policy.

"The French hardly take the trouble to deny that they are bound by treaty not to do what they have been doing on the Niger. They rest satisfiedly on the statement that their adoption of a new policy alters everything, and that, having occupied a great deal of territory, in which they had no business whatever, they are now compelled to defend it tooth and nail. There is, of course, the usual cackle as well about England also breaking treaties and grabbing territories she had promised to respect.

"Even if this retort were as true as the most ignorant boulevardier supposes it to be, it still remains a fact that what England takes is held in trust for the whole world, with free trade in open markets; whereas every colonial acquisition of nations like France and Germany means so much waste country, expensively fenced off from contact with humanity in general. President Faure, however, in his speech at Thursday's commercial banquet, put himself at the head of those who indulge in the wildest visions of a vast French colonial empire, a fact which the English agree in regarding as significant."

LEPROSY CONFERENCE.

Doctors Declare That the Disease Is Contagious, but Not Hereditary.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—The sessions of the international leprosy conference closed to-day with the recording of their conclusions unanimously reached, as follows: The leprosy bacillus is the true cause of the disease. Man is the only animal in which this bacillus exists. Leprosy is contagious, but not hereditary. The isolation of patients is desirable, and under circumstances such as exist in Norway should be compulsory.

The Jersey Lily Indeed Free.

London, Oct. 16.—Ed. Langtry, the husband of Lily Langtry, the actress, died last night in the asylum for the insane, at Chester, to which he was recently committed by a magistrate, after having been found wandering in a helpless condition in that vicinity. It is supposed that Mr. Langtry was suffering from concussion of the brain, due to falling down the gangway of the steamer on which he traveled from Dublin to Holyhead.

Lord Salisbury's Retirement Discussed.

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Chronicle announces this morning that, in view of Lord Salisbury's desire to resign the Premiership, an early reconstruction of the Cabinet is probable. According to The Daily Chronicle no serious difference of opinion exists among the Ministers on matters of policy; but Lord Salisbury finds his health unequal to the strain and burden of his two offices of Premier and Foreign Minister.

Insurgents Demand Amnesty.

Madrid, Oct. 16.—The Government has received information from Manilla that the insurgents of the Philippine Islands have replied to the overtures of Captain-General Primo de Rivers, who has been trying to induce them to submit, demanding extensive amnesty to begin with and a full pardon eventually.

The Sagasta Ministry.

Madrid, Oct. 16.—General Azcarraga, the former Premier, in an interview, is quoted as reiterating that the Sagasta Ministry will receive the support of the majorities of the Chambers, owing to the exceptional situation in which it is placed.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

GRANDPA'S FARM.

Oh, you don't know the fun on grampa's farm,
For grandpa says, "Let 'em; it ain't no harm,"
An' Cousin Bob starts us an' cries, "Here goes!"
An' mamma, she only just says, "Such clothes!"

We've a Crusoe's island an' robber's cave,
An' Tower of London, an'—don't you know,
When one of us wants to let on he's brave
He crawls under the sawmill, scared an' slow.

Oh, you don't know half the fun out there,
For grampa he never tells us "Take care!"
An' Cousin Bob laughs and says to "Carouse!"
An' mamma, you see, is off in the house.

We fish in the brooks an' play in the sands,
An' try to catch tadpoles out of the springs;
We hide in the bushes like Ingun bands
An' fight with the hornets, and get their stings.

Oh, there's no end of fun on grampa's place,
For grampa he says, "Now scoot on a race!"
An' Cousin Bob grins an' says, "There she blows!"
An' mamma, she only just says, "Such clothes!"

Increasing Humus in the Soil.

Another point that does not sufficiently impress itself upon the average farmer's mind, it seems to me, is the matter of storing up humus in the soil. Thousands of farms are suffering for just this added decaying organic matter. When straw, grass, leaves, etc., are buried in the ground, and decay there, there is supplied not only plant food from the decay, but such an improved mechanical condition of the soil also as greatly assists growth. Where soil inclines to pack, it needs just this lightening that is furnished by plowing under decaying organic matter. Stiff soils are also greatly improved by the same treatment, looking at the purely mechanical condition of the land. But there are undoubtedly other ways in which available fertility is added to the soil by such decay. Much otherwise unavailable fertility is undoubtedly set free by the chemical changes that thus take place in the decay of organic matter. The great value of humus in the soil is forcibly shown in the fertility of land reclaimed from the forest, which has carpeted the ground for generations with leaves. "Green" manuring will put humus into the soil, but its profitableness will depend upon circumstances—the market value of the crop that may be turned under. For land in many situations the plowing under of green crop is undoubtedly the cheapest method of fertilizing it; but whatever one's circumstances, it is wise to turn under all the straw, refuse hay, cornstalks, etc., that cannot be used to advantage elsewhere. Best of all it is to get a second, or third, crop growth of clover to turn under when plowing. The roots in the soil, and the clover stalks above the surface, will give organic matter that will both mechanically improve the soil and likewise add to it a great store of fertility.—Practical Farmer.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that but disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The irritable with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Sometimes a burglar ohly succeeds in damaging the lock of a safe so that the combination won't work. Next morning the bank officers can't get at their own money. There may be millions in the safe, but if their credit depended on getting at it in a hurry they would be bankrupt, simply because the combination won't work.

A sick man is in very much the same fix about getting at the nourishment he needs to keep him alive. There is plenty of good food at hand, but his digestive organism is out of order; the nutritive "combination" of his system won't work. He can't possibly get at the nourishment contained in the food. He takes it into his stomach, but it does him no good. It isn't made into good blood. He is just as badly off as if the food was locked up where he couldn't touch it. He gets no strength or health out of it.

All these mal-nutritive conditions have a perfect and scientific remedy in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts the nutritive "combination" of the system into perfect working order. It gives the digestive and blood-making organs power to make pure, red, healthy blood, and pour it into the circulation abundantly and rapidly.

It drives out all bilious poisons and scrofulous germs, cures indigestion, liver complaint, nervousness and neuralgia, and builds up solid flesh, active power and nerve force.

Mrs. Rebecca F. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes. "I was so sick with dyspepsia that I could not eat anything for over four months. I had to starve myself, as nothing would stay on my stomach. I was so badly off I could not eat even a cracker. I thought I was going to die. I weighed only 80 pounds. I tried almost everything, and nothing did me any good until I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am now as well as I ever was, and weigh 125 pounds."

IMPROVED HITCHING POST.

An Easy Means of Preventing the Horse From Tramping the Grass.

When one places a hitching post beside a driveway on the lawn, the grass all about the post is quite sure to be utterly destroyed by the feet of the horses, since horses will move all about a post to which they are hitched, even when harnessed to a carriage. This makes an unsightly spot, and one where, very quickly, a pool of water will stand after every rain. The cut shows an "improved" hitching post described by a correspondent of The Country Gentleman, who says he first conceived the idea of locating the post just outside the roadway, in the grass, using the double swinging iron arm, with its snaffle, to hold the horse off the grass. This works well with most horses, but some will throw the arm over the top of the post, and so get on to the grass with all four feet. This is obviated by using the chain, as shown in the cut. This permits the arm to rise just far enough to reach the bridle of the horse, with play enough so that he can move his head freely, but does not permit him to throw it over upon the other side of the post.

IMPROVED HITCHING POST.

This device of using an arm to keep the horse away from the post accomplishes more than the preservation of the grassy sod. It keeps the horse from gnawing and disfiguring the post, and from rubbing his bridle and other parts of the harness against it—often to the serious injury of the harness.

The Boss Rabbit Trap.

six inches wide and four inches long for back end, making box 4x6x23 inches inside. Hang the door in front end, arrange treadle and trigger as shown, using a couple of tacks in bottom of trap for the treadle to rest against when tilted. The treadle can be taken out for repairs when needed. A and B are made of wire; door and treadle of half-inch lumber. Dotted line D shows position of door when down. E shows track of lower edge of door when lifting to position F. A couple of staples will hold wire B in position. When the rabbit steps on treadle T, it pulls the wire B out of C, letting door fall. For door hinges, use wire nails with heads cut off, and driven into edge of door. Holes made in sides with gimlet larger than nails, to work easily, and not bored quite through.

Egg-Eating Hens.

The plan portrayed below can be made by anyone handy with tools, and the cost will be but little. After making the frame as shown at A, take a strong, close piece of burlap, cut somewhat larger than the frame, and set a ring in the center of the piece large enough for an egg to pass through easily. Tack this on the upper edge of the frame A, allowing it to sag five or six inches in the centre, as at B. To complete the nest and make it more attractive and natural for the hens, wisps of hay may be twisted and sewed on the inside. The frame should be made to fit tightly in the nest heretofore used, so that it will not have to be fastened. The egg will drop through the hole and roll to one side of the nest below. The eggs may be gathered by simply lifting up the front side of the frame.

Had Reason to Remember.

"Pard," said Mosely Wraggs, as the two lined up in front of a druggists' show window, "I'll bet a cold buckwheat agin a last year's doughnut you don't know wot that thing is that's hangin' up there."

"I know what it is as well as you do," scornfully answered Tuffold Knut. "It's a hot water bottle. I laid down on a back porch in Milwaukee wunst an' groaned an' let on like I had the pluriesy, an' some durned fool in the house, 'stead o' givin' me a drink o' beer, brought me out one o' them things, full o' hot water, an' told me to put it agin my chist. I done it an' the stopper came out, ur the thing busted, ur somethin' an' it"—

Here Tuffold Knut shuddered visibly.

Uselessness of Hurry.

"Oh, Elizabeth, I'm so glad I met you," exclaimed the first girl, as they came together on the street corner, "for I've been just dying to talk to you for a whole month."

"Don't stop me," implored the second girl, excitedly, eluding her friend's embrace, "for I've got to get downtown in a rush."

"Well, the car isn't in sight yet," answered the first girl, humbly, "and if you'll keep quite long enough for me to say so, I'm going downtown, too. Where are you going in such a hurry, anyway?"

"Oh, I've had a perfectly awful time this morning," said the second girl, nervously buttoning he gloves and putting on her veil, "and I'm just as nervous as a cat. I feel as if I could fly. And I do so hate dressing on the street in this way! But you know how it is, I'm sure, those mornings when everything goes wrong and everybody is just as mean as they can be. Just listen to what I've gone through with to-day already.

"I got up late to begin with—I was out late last night and had a horrid time. Two buttons flew off my skirt and half a dozen hooks were missing from my waist. Then my hair just wouldn't curl, and I couldn't find my powder. And then, just as I flew downstairs, ready to go, who should come in but my married brother, and he's the greatest tease in town. He wouldn't let me go, and he kept saying: 'Don't hurry, sis,' until I lost my temper completely, and cried. I never saw such a day in my life."

"You poor thing!" sympathised the other girl, compassionately, "you have had an awful time. But you didn't say where you were going."

"Oh," explained the girl, as they entered the car. "I forgot. That lovely East Indian preacher is giving us girls a series of lectures on "The Realisation of Truth," and this morning he's going to speak on "The Uselessness of Hurry." It's sure to be lovely, and I wouldn't miss it for the world."

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and I want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. T. MULFORD, Apothecaries Supplies, P.O. Box 36, St. Henri, Que.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

TO THE BICYCLIST BENDING FORWARD.

O youth, who, bending forward, rides apace,
With melancholy stamped upon your face,
Pursuing pleasure with a frenzied eye,
Yet mocked by her, however fast you fly,
Are you aware how horrible you look?
No guy invented for a picture book
Was ever a more painful sight than thou,
Lord of the bent back and the anxious brow.
Oh, sit up straight and try to wear a smile;
Be less intent to pile up mile on mile;
Enjoy the prospects as you glide along.
The trees, the sunshine and the robin's song.
To us who view you screaming day by day,
Bent on your bar in such an awkward way,
You are the homeliest thing on earth, my lad,
Oh, sit up straight, and make the landscape glad.

Every contributor to the musical portion of the entertainment was an artist, but all felt themselves helped and supported by the noble tones of the instrument. Mason & Risch Pianos are the instruments of the cultured.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

Price $1 or 6 for $5.00. All Dealers or Address

FINE FUR EXCELLENCE.

Furrier Genius Dominates our Workrooms

Material—Style—Workmanship—Finish—in all their detail are just right here.

Watch the Manufacture:—The skins first of all to be properly and well dressed and sometimes dyed—Matching the skins as to colour and length of "hair"—"Letting down" in order that stripes and shades will harmonize in one distinct unbroken design—Sewing thousands of stitches tight and firm, and not one of these stitches to show when the garment is to wear—then with the skins held taut over wooden "blocks" to actually work the skins into proper shape.

That's why well made Furs look and wear well—this care to detail.

That's why our Furs are usable again—all is ready for rebuilding when a change is desirable.

The average ready-made Fur garment is simply sewed up with machine stitching and without proper care paid to cutting and blocking—that's why they soon look mean—and very rarely work over satisfactorily.

LADIES' FUR LINED CAPES

Our Fur Lined Cloaks are manufactured by ourselves in every case, from the best materials and with skilled workmen. There is all the difference in the world between these goods and the furnished garments sold by dry-goods dealers, which are imported largely from Germany—made of materials that cannot always be guaranteed, and in a very flimsy and unsatisfactory manner.

Prices From $15.00 to $60.00.

The Latest in Collarettes and Caperines.

Gray Lamb, Alaska Sable, Persian Lamb and Seal—ranging in prices from $10.50 to $40.00.

LACROSSE.

A meeting of the Peterborough lacrosse club is called for Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Palace Restaurant.

President J. J. Craig, of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, has fixed the final match for the association championship for Friday of this week. It will be played by the Orangeville and Markham clubs at Guelph, and if a suitable train service is arranged, will draw many lovers of the game.

An Orangeville despatch to the Mail and Empire says:—The following is the personnel of the Dufferins and Twin City teams in their match in Fergus on Friday last for the championship of Western Ontario. Berlin played four ringers under assumed names, viz., Hawkshaw, of Seaforth, Sutcliffe, of Madoc; Phalen and Rubidge, of Peterborough. The players replaced Burns, MacDonald, Bradley and Smith on Berlin.

The Dufferins were as follows:—Goal, J. Irving; point, E. Menary; cover point, J. Kearns; defence field, W. Island, A. Irvine, A. Clarridge; centre, J. Telford; home field, F. Menary, F. Dowling, W. Irvine; outside home, W. Henry; inside home, J. Henry.

CURLIANA.

The Millbrook club has elected these officers:

President—A. A. Smith.
Vice President—Geo. Hetherington.
Secretary-Treasurer—Harry M. Wood.
Representative members—Dr. Needler, G. H. Dean.
Committee of Management—Capt. Winslow, D. Hannigan, R. J. Dack.
Skips—W. T. Wood, Chas. Needler, J.A. Vance and J. Steele.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. W. A. Moore, formerly a student at the Canadian General Electric Works, carried off quite a few prizes in the recent sports in connection with McGill University. He took first prize in kicking the football, second in the 100 yards dash, second in the 120 yards over hurdles, third in the running long jump and first in the 220 yards run.

GOLF.

There is a little bunch of boys, or, rather a bunch of little boys, down Flushing way who are saying things in tones which reverberate from the clam shell shores of Little Neck Bay to the trolley gridirons of Long Island City.

It's about golf.

A rude truant officer of Flushing, who no doubt would unblushingly speak disrespectfully of the equator, has so little reverence for the things which interest the smartest sets of two continents that he has actually interfered with the proper conduct of a golfing tournament.

Down Flushing way are the Oakland golf links, where, on Monday, there were played two tourney rounds for the Oakland and Consolation Cups. Of course there was a demand for extra caddies, and there are scores of boys in the neighbourhood who would rather earn $1.50 per day in that capacity than—well, even than say their prayers

But school opened on that very day, and the extra caddies are all school boys.

Is it necessary to ask what determination those boys came to when confronted with the choice of going to a stuffy school room, where they would have to tell a teacher—who knew already—how many apples go into a pie at $1.30 a barrel, or going out on a glorious green golf ground and earn $1.50 each while toting sticks and hustling for balls?

Why, without the pay, the green would have won over the red schoolhouse.

So they went, a score of them, from Professor Montford's scholastic studies, and caddied as hard as ever they could, and discussed Keene's stroke and Willie Sands' put, and Crowlishield's "slow back," and had a perfectly lovely time, and were paid for it.

It was paradise, with wages thrown in!

It is sinful that there should be an obverse to such a picture, and that it should show a Long Islander with his thumb at his nose, twiddling his fingers at the whole institution of royal golf. One William G. Mangles is the truant officer for that neck of woods, and he learned of the picnic which was going on, with the assistance of a score of Prof. Montfort's pupils, behind the hedges and walls which surround the Oakland links. He proceeded to get busy. He called on the Professor and remarked that there was a remarkable absence of sprightly boys on the school benches. The Professor remarked that the malaria was prevalent, and the officer remarked that if the Professor would give him a list of the absent boys, he would give them a prescription for their illness, which would be a sure cure.

He took the list and visited the parents of every absentee. He told the parents about a certain law which makes the parents responsible for the school attendance of their children, and, departing, mentioned something about summons if his hint was not acted upon.

It is said that when those extra caddies returned to their homes, the people of Flushing thought there was a musketry practice going on at Willet's Point. But it wasn't musketry; it was the sound of the slippers of those parents falling in sharp, regular strokes upon portions of the anatomies of those devoted caddies.

There is woe and tears and sorrow on Long Island. Little boys who did not care much about sitting down last evening were saying things about Truant Officer Mangles and contemplating the morrow, when they will have to tell a teacher, who already knows, how many apples go into a dumpling at $1.50 a barrel.

Linseed and Turpentine are not only popular remedies, but are also the best known to medical science for the treatment of the nervous membranes of respiratory organs. Dr. Chase compounded this valuable Syrup so as to take away the unpleasant tastes of turpentine and linseed.

Mothers will find this medicine invaluable for children, it is so pleasant to take, and will positively cure croup, whooping cough and chest troubles.

Heads That Ache.

Heads that ache can be made bright, clear and free from pain by using Burdock Blood Bitters, the true natural cure for headache from whatever cause arising. "Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to the use of one bottle and a half of B.B.B." Miss J. McAllister, Almonte, Ont.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mrs. Matthew Breckenridge has returned from attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Robt. Emerson, Otonabee. We sympathize with Mrs. Breckenridge in her sad bereavement.

Mr. Geo. Reid, Keene, is here at present sojourning with his son, Mr. Wm. Reid.

Mr. R. Snyder, Warsaw, is here for a a few days. His purpose is to shake some trees.

Messrs. W. English and D. Cleary journeyed into Percy township last Sunday to see "sick" friends.

The W. F. M. S. intend to have their annual thank offering meeting on the afternoon of Nov. 3rd.

Fairs are in the background.

Mr. and Mrs. John McConnel, Jefferson City, Montana, have returned home. We extend heartiest welcomes.

Mr. James McNeil and his sister, Miss K. McNeil, both of Keene, were visiting at their sister's, Mrs. Wm. Sharpe.

Miss Kate Ryan, Peterborough, was the guest of her brother, Mr. Jas. Ryan, for a few days.

Miss Edith Stewart, Hastings, was in the village on Wednesday, calling on friends.

Miss Maggie Herr, Caughnawaga, called on some friends in the village last week.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church extended an invitation to the Epworth League of the Methodist church to unite with them on the evening of Nov. 7th. Rev. D. A. Thompson, Hastings, will handle the topic. The Epworth League has accepted the invitation.

Mr. Leitch is anxious to recover his lost heifers. He would be glad to gain any information concerning their whereabouts.

Mr. Thomas Breckenridge is proud to realize that his dwelling is just at the point of completion. It is nicely situated and he expects to occupy it shortly.

The Epworth League is progressing favourably. Last Sunday evening the meeting was led by Mr. D. M. Hunter, and the topic—"The Beauty and Unity of the Church"—was ably taken by the Rev. Mr. White. The orchestra provided some excellent selections. The male quartette, by Messrs. Hunter, Warr, Comstock and McMillan, was rendered with precision and effect.

Don't forget the tea meeting under the auspices of the Methodist church. Nov. 9th is the date. An entertainment is being prepared in connection with it. See posters.

ADMITTED HIS CRIME.

John Demfrio Got Into Serious Trouble Through Helping to Drink a Barrel of Beer—Shot a Man.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 18.—Detective Mains of the Ontario Police arrested this noon John Demfrio, a half-breed Italian, who shot and killed an Italian at Utica, N.Y., last evening. The arrest was made on the strength of a telegram received giving the description of the murderer. The man was crossing the street when Mains apprehended him, and, walking up, said: "Hello, young man! How are you? Where are you from?" He replied he was from Toronto. The detective told him he was wanted at the police office, and walked him off there, and when confronted with the crime he wilted and admitted he had shot an Italian about 8 o'clock last evening on Catherine-street, in Utica. He has consented to waive extradition and return to Utica with the officer when he reaches here to-morrow. Demfrio is about 22 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches, of brown complexion, sandy hair, and is slightly cross-eyed.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 18.—The latest mail advices from the east bring the announcement that Li Hung Chang's health has failed almost totally. It is reported that he has despaired of the task of reforming China, and is about to retire permanently from public life.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

AFTER THE PREMIER

With a Loaded Revolver and Drunken Threats.

A CRANK LANDS IN JAIL AT OTTAWA

He Fired a Shot and the Bullet Whizzed Unpleasantly Near Ald. Powell—

The Frenzied Man Was Soon Disarmed—Gen. Moore to be Administrator

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Ferdinand Carriere, who, it is said, hails from Rimouski, crazed with liquor, and flourishing a 32 calibre revolver, started down Wellington-street this afternoon, making a scatter of people on all sides. As he neared the Rideau Club he commenced crying: "I am after Sir Wilfrid Laurier and I will shoot him!" at the same time pulling the hammer of the revolver, which went off with a loud report, the bullet whizzing unpleasantly near Ald. Berkley Powell. Ald. Powell rushed into the Rideau Club and called up the police station. Constables McEwen and Joliat were despatched at once to arrest Carriere. They met him near the United States Consul's office, and he was still flourishing his revolver and looking for the Canadian Premier. In less time than it takes to tell Carriere was disarmed and taken to the station. It was found that four of the six chambers were loaded, and in his pockets were found two boxes of cartridges. It is thought that the man is a sailor, as he is attired a navy blue suit, with brass buttons, upon which is stamped an anchor. He will be taken before the magistrate in the morning.

The Government intends improving the Rideau Canal this winter.

General Montgomery Moore will be here to-morrow and will be sworn as administrator.

NEWS OF KLONDIKE.

Valuable Information for Prospectors Through an Interview With Mr. Ogilvie.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—This morning's Globe contains a special letter from its Klondike commissioner, dated Nanaimo, Oct. 15, and which gives the following detailed information of Mayor Walsh' departure and authentic views of Mr. Ogilvie on the prospects :

It was my good fortune to reach Vancouver at the same time as Major Walsh and his party en route for the Klondike and to witness the preparations on board the Quadra for transporting and provisioning the gallant officer and those of his staff who were going "right through." Not the least interesting feature was the getting on board and housing in temporary kennels on deck the 200 train dogs, which had been secured from the Northwest. They were in charge of five Indians and looked powerful animals. Their breed was of the most nondescript character and as various as their color. It was possible in some to detect traces of the retriever, collie, or wolf dog, but the majority were "just dog" and nothing more. They attracted considerable attention from the crowd which lingered around the wharf, and the opinion of those who had been over the trail—and they were not a few—was that the dogs were well selected and would pack through in good time.

The Commissioner and his officers were the cynosure of all eyes until it became known that the quiet, reserved, middle-aged man of medium height dressed in grey homespun and wearing a cloth cap, who had just landed from the Victoria boat to meet the party, was Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, who has not thuptly been called "the hero of the Klondike" then the centre of attraction was transferred and many were the attempts to glean information from this man who knew more about the new Eldorado than anyone else, and who had moved untouched amid its fabulous treasures for more than five years. It must be admitted that Mr. Ogilvie looked strong and well, in spite of the hardships he had endured, and, indeed, he assured me in reply to an inquiry about his health that he never felt better in his life. He kindly consented to answer a few questions, and in deference to the many who were waiting to get a shake of the hand or a word with this famous man I assured him that they should be few.

"Are the reports as to the richness of the Klondike exaggerated?"

"No," said he, "that is almost impossible; although individual finds may have been 'stretched,' the quantity of gold along the creeks of almost all the streams emptying into the Yukon is enormous."

"Which do you consider the best place for prospectors who are going up next spring?"

"The Stewart River. You see, most of the claims on the Klondike have been taken up; the only way to get in there is by 'buying out.' This will require a lot of ready cash, and I imagine that is the object of the large companies formed in London; but for men with limited capital who intend to do their own prospecting, the Stewart is the place, although I believe the Pelly will turn out all right."

"Which is the best route, Mr. Ogilvie?"

"Well, I think there is no doubt about Dyea being the best way at present. The Skagway trail is broken up, and the Dalton, although good, involves 450 miles of overland travel."

"Is it true that there will be starvation in Dawson City this winter?"

"There will be unless the provisions now on the way reach there safely, but if they get through, as seems likely, I do not think anyone need die for lack of food. Still it is a big undertaking to keep 5000 or 6000 people supplied with food in Dawson City under present conditions, and it cannot be too widely known that no person ought to land there without 12 months' supplies. If he does he runs great risks."

"What about the climate?"

"Well, no doubt it is trying, but the principal thing is for a man to have plenty to eat and some warm clothing. Then he is all right."

On Sunday afternoon, the 3rd inst., amid the cheers of the populace, the Quadra steamed away for the north to inaugurate a system of government which promises to make the Yukon a model for gold-mining camps.

The correspondent also tells an awful story of the hardships of the Skagway, gleaned from the pilgrims who have fortunately been able to return with their lives

"DOUBLE HEADERS" NO MORE.

The Grand Trunk Will Put an Extra Engine on Behind in Future.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—The G. T. R. has decided to abandon the "double-header" system of moving heavy freight trains, because it involves so many accidents. For the information of unlitiated, it may be explained that under the "double-header" system two engines are employed in pulling a freight train on up grades, and the bad feature about the method is that the trains often break in two, to the end that much loss accrues. Henceforth one engine will be employed to pull a train, and a second to push from behind.

It is estimated that the railways and express companies have during the past season carried to Montreal on an average $30,000 worth of fruit per week.

THE POPE LOSES

The Action Brought by the French Abbe in Charge of St. Joachim, His Jubilee Church.

Rome, Oct. 19.—The lawsuit brought by the French abbe, Brougidon, against the Pope, in the Italian court here, for the possession of the Church of St. Joachim, has been decided in favor of the priest, and against the Pontiff, who is condemned by the terms of the judgment to surrender the church in question to the abbe and to pay the heavy costs of the legal proceedings. It is considered certain in clerical circles that the Pope will, under the circumstances, place the church, which is not yet entirely completed, under interdict and excommunicate the abbe, who has thus been the means of placing upon His Holiness one of the worst slights to which he has been subjected since his election to the tiara.

The Pope has good reason for feeling exceedingly bitter about the matter, for St. Joachim was destined as a memorial of the jubilee which he celebrated a few years ago, since which time the Abbe Brougidon, with the sanction of His Holiness, has been collecting money throughout the world for the purpose of building this church as a lasting memorial of the jubilee, and as a present to the Pontiff.

Recently the abbe was obliged some months ago to get the Pope to advance him a sum of over 1,000,000 francs, in order to prevent the church from being sold by the sheriff for the benefit of the abbe's creditors. Less after furnishing this money, entrusted one of the cardinals with the duty of investigating the accounts as well as the financial condition of the enterprise.

The discoveries which His Eminence made were of so startling a nature that the Pope at once decided to take the entire affair out of the abbe's hands and to entrust the completion of the church to a commission chosen by himself. This commission declined to permit the abbe to have any further voice in the management of the matter, and practically turned him out of the edifice. He thereupon showed fight and commenced a suit against the Pope, demanding the surrender of the church on the ground that it belonged to him personally and would continue to belong to him until he had definitely deeded it to the Pope on its completion. This view has now been sustained by the courts.

DOCTOR BESSEY'S PLEA.

Says He is Not Guilty of Murder—The Body of Mrs. Thomas Will be Exhumed To-day.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Dr. W. E. Bessey, pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder preferred by the relatives of the late Mrs. Jennie Thomas, when he appeared in the Police Court yesterday, and, without any evidence being taken, the case was laid over until Monday.

As the Magistrtae has no power to grant bail in such a case, the doctor will have to spend the interval in jail.

The remains of Mrs. Thomas, which are interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, will be exhumed to-day, and to-morrow Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest. The case of the prosecution will be accordingly pushed.

GREAT CAR BUILDER.

Geo. M. Pullman Dies of Heart Disease at Chicago.

LEAVES A FORTUNE OF $50,000,000.

Twelve Hours Prior to His Death He Was At Work in His Office and Apparently in His Usual Health When Death Came his Wife Was in New York.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The great car builder, George M. Pullman, died suddenly of heart disease at 5 o'clock yesterday morning at his home at the corner of Prairie-ave and 18th-st. Mr. Pullman retired last evening at his usual hour, which was somewhat early. He was apparently in his ordinary health, and there was no indication of his demise, or indeed any premonition of illness.

Mr. Pullman was at his office in the Pullman building up to 5 o'clock yesterday attending to business. Nothing unusual was noticed in his appearance. Mrs. Pullman was in New York when her husband passed away.

At the town of Pullman, where the shops are that bear the name of the great man, no word had been heard of his death until newspaper men began to inquire as to the feeling of the townspeople on the subject. The event had been so sudden and at such an hour that the company officials in the town had heard nothing regarding the death of their chief till after the toilers in the huge car works and kindred establishments had begun the daily routine. Immediately, however, preparations were made to close the big shops and for the proper observance of Mr. Pullman's obsequies. While seemingly in good health Mr. Pullman had been complaining during the last three or four days of the hot weather, and of feeling rather uncomfortable. After leaving his office at 5 p.m., he remained at his residence all the evening. About 4.30 o'clock this morning he awoke, called his body servant to his bedside, and spoke of again feeling uncomfortable. Finally, he requested that the family physician, Dr. Billings, be sent for.

In the meantime, hearing through the servants of Mr. Pullman's indisposition, Rev. Dr. Charles H. Eaton of New York, an intimate friend of the Pullman family, and who was visiting at their home, went into the sick man's bed chamber. Mr. Pullman rapidly grew worse, and a second message was sent to Dr. Billings, but before the doctor reached the house Mr. Pullman had died.

It is believed that General Horace Porter, Ambassador to France, will succeed Mr. Pullman as president of the Pullman Palace Car Company.

The value of Mr. Pullman's estate is estimated as being between $35,000,000 and $50,000,000. He was undoubtedly one of the richest men in the United States.

Mrs. Pullman Left for Home.

New York, Oct. 19.—Mrs. George M. Pullman left immmediately for Chicago this morning on receipt of the news of her husband's death.

STILL UNDECIDED.

Luetgert's Fate Still in the Hands of the Jury—Jurymen Offered Bribes—Conflicting Opinions.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The jury in the Luetgert case resumed its deliberations early this morning.

Luetgert was early astir. By order of Jailer Whitman the prisoner was permitted to leave his cell and exercise in the corridor.

Luetkert said: "I slept well last night and ate a hearty breakfast this morning. I could eat another in a little while. I believe I will be acquitted. Every hour the jury is out makes it better for me. But you cannot tell what a jury will do, after all," concluded the prisoner, after a pause.

State Attorney Deneen said: "I am still confident that the jury will return a verdict of guilty, and that the punishment will be the greatest known to the law."

Two letters addressed to the foreman of the Luetgert jury have been received by Judge Tuthill, offering bribes aggregating $1000 for an acquittal or a disagreement.

All mail for the jurors has, since the opening of the trial, been opened by the judge. State Attorney Deneen thinks the letters are a hoax, but Captain Schaack believes them genuine.

Judge Tuthill announced at 9 o'clock to-night that there is no possible chance for a verdict on the Luetgert case before 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The opinion around the Criminal Court to-night was that all chance of a verdict has disappeared and that the result is practically certain to be a disagreement.

It Was Dana's Own Wish.

New York, Oct. 19.—The only announcement which The Sun made of the death of its famous editor consists of the following ten words, printed at the head of the editorial columns.

"Charles Anderson Dana, editor of The Sun, died yesterday afternoon."

This was all that told the readers of that paper that its editor, the man who had made it famous, had passed away. The brevity of the notice occasioned some surprise in newspaper circles, for Mr. Dana was a man of more than national reputation, but the explanation is simple. One of the last wishes Mr. Dana expressed to his son when he knew that his end was not far off was this:

"Paul, when I am gone, don't have a long obituary of me printed in The Sun. Simply announce my going away; that is all."

And this request was heeded.

ACTION BETTER THAN INTENTIONS.

MR. FISHER, Minister of Agriculture, is being given credit for the success of the cold storage shipments lately made to Great Britain. The praise, moreover, is deserved. Mr. Fisher has stuck very close to the lines laid down by his predecessors, and is reaping the advantage of their wisdom.

The Gazette, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, is evidently beginning to see things administrative through clearer glasses than heretofore. If the "lines" which ended in the establishment of cold storage were "laid down" by the ex-government all to be said is they began and ended in the laying. The abortive fast line contract contained not a syllable indicative of any desire on the part of the administration to provide even good freighting facilities much less cold storage. But the Liberals have not been in office more than fifteen months and they have already provided cold storage accommodation at the principal centres and made arrangements under Parliamentary enactment for cold storage in ships. It is results and actions the public will judge, not theorising and preaching. The Gazette would have been wiser and reflected public opinion better had it given Mr. Fisher, and the Government, the exclusive credit for the practical efforts in the direction of promoting the welfare of the agriculturists of the country. Certainly, as the Gazette says, "the praise is deserved." Why not give it without dilution.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE entire tobacco crop in Essex Ont., has been bought up by one firm of cigar makers at prices varying from 9 to 22 cents per pound. La Patrie reminds its readers that the Essex people owe this "windfall" to the duty imposed on foreign tobacco by the present Government.

ACCORDING to the Insurance and Finance Chronicle, the United States Treasury reports the coinage of 30 millions of silver dollars, upon which a net profit was made of over 6 millions. One wonders why the Treasury issued such a moderate amount of these coins. There is, however, this practical difficulty. The public could not absorb such a vast mass of silver coins. If by some forced process a few hundred millions more were got into circulation, they would quickly be got rid of by being deposited with bankers, who, in self-defence, would put a restriction upon deposits of silver, as an over supply would inevitably reduce the silver coins to a discount. The idea of the silverites is that the public are longing to load down their pockets with a very clumsy form of currency when an incomparably more convenient one is available. Their notion of the popularity of silver is contrary to the whole tendency of modern ideas, which are becoming more and more in favour of paper currency. The Treasury seems to be wasting a great opportunity by making so little profit on its silver coins. As a matter of fact, the American dollar is only a "token," it is not a "coin" in the true sense. Why not then put, say, only 25 cents worth of silver into the dollar piece, or even less, and so clear 70 or 80 per cent. profit out of its silver coinage business? We commend this idea to the U. S. Treasury—"there is money in it."

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Dawnie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

FOUR GREAT FRENCHMEN.

THEY ARE REPRESENTATIVES OF DIFFERENT DEPARTMENTS.

The President of the Republic—A Clerk Who Became a Painter—The Original Synthesist and Founder of Organic Chemistry.

Francois Felix Faure, President of the French Republic, may be said to be one of the four greatest men in France, because he rose from the position of a tanner to that of the president of the republic. Like many men, he began life as a poor boy and grew rich and got into politics. When the war broke out between France and Germany Faure enlisted as a volunteer and made a good record. In the elections of August, 1881, he presented himself as a candidate for the Chamber of Deputies in the third district of Havre, his birthplace, as a Republican, and defeated his opponent, M. le Vaillant du Douet. When the great Gambetta formed his Cabinet in November of the same year he made Faure his Under Secretary of State. In 1882 Faure went out of office with the others members of the Ministry, but Jules Ferry called him a year later to his Cabinet. For two years the tanner of Havre sat in the councils of France, and then retired with his colleagues in 1895. Felix Faure was elected President of the French Republic in 1895. He was elected on the retirement of Casimir-Perrier by the chamber. On the first ballot M. Brisson was elected by an insufficient majority, and then Waldeck-Rousseau, a third candidate, retired in favor of the present president. Such is Faure's story, and all of it.

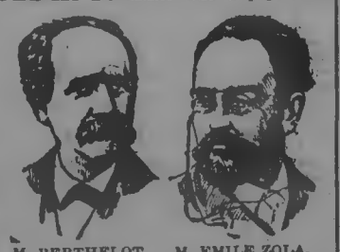
Next to Rosalie Bonheur and Sir John Millais, the paintings of Adolphe William Bouguereau are most widely known of men. Bouguereau began life as a clerk in a business house of Bordeaux, but he had a passion for female beauty that drove him to the idealization of the figures of women, and he painted them as poets sing and as musicians write down their thoughts. The critics of his pictures are forced and vulgar, and in that alone Bouguereau is weak. Critics in art laugh at Bouguereau's creations as critics in literature laugh at Zola's writings. But Bouguereau, like Zola, is above the critics, and his paintings will be familiar to man in replica and engraving long after the original canvasses are molded into dust. According to the canons of art the French clerk is correct. His "anatomy" is perfect. His ancient master, Picot, has wrought out in him the truth of nature as he knew it. When Bouguereau entered the Ecole des Beaux Arts he had many competitors, but he easily passed them, and the teachers saw in the young man the force that was destined to carry him above the commonplace. Judged by the highest standards of art, Bouguereau is a great painter, because he painted what he felt. And there is no doubt that the world, for that reason, would proclaim him the greatest artist of France.

There is no doubt that P. E. Marcelin Berthelot is the greatest among the scientific men of France. As a matter of fact, he is the founder of organic chemistry. He is the original synthesist, and that is enough to say. In Berthelot France has one of the makers of real history. He began by inquiring into the synthesis of alcohol and of fats. Prior to his time chemists had analyzed. Berthelot took the parts and put them together after his predecessor had spent infinite patience in separating them. In that much he was original, and in being original he was everything. The great French chemist is now 72 years old. He is a native of Paris and his father was a physician.



M. BERTHELOT. M. EMILE ZOLA.

Chemistry attracted him when he was a mere lad, and he devoted himself to it wholly. His researches in nitroglycerin and dynamite have been of vast value to science. It was Bethelot who discovered the new smokeless powder. The title of his principal work is "Chimie Organique Fondee sur la Synthese." His memoirs are many, and for forty years he has been a contributor to the annals of chemistry and physics. He is a member of all the great scientific societies in the world, and has at old times been a member of the French Cabinet. Marcelin Berthelot has probably been rightly called the Herbert Spencer of chemistry.

Emile Zola is one of the four great men of France, in spite of the fact that he is not now and may never be one of "the immortals." If Zola has been read by a million people, he has not perhaps been understood by ten thousand. But even if the academy has consistently shut its doors to him, there is no denying that he is the greatest living writer of France. Zola is now 57 years old. Thirty years ago he deliberately gave up a place in a publishing house to devote himself to the writing of books. His earliest work of fiction came out in 1863—"Contes a Ninon." Toward 1870 he began the publication of his famous series of books in which he works out the pathogeny of crime as exemplified in the Rougen-Macquart clan, a study in the causes of certain social conditions that, however unpleasant to polite ears, is regarded as a valuable appendix to criminology. In 1888 M. Zola became a Knight of the Legion of Honor. Oddly enough, his one ambition is unattainable. He desires to be an academician, and it would seem that nothing else will satisfy him. He may realise it some day when he is too old to linger care for the honor. His books have been done into every language of the civilized world. His "realism" is condemned because it is not scientific and only because it is not scientific.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

MR. FIELDING SPEAKS

As a Guest of the Mansion House in London.

HE ENCOURAGED IMPERIAL UNITY.

The Bengal Lancers Suffer Through an Ambuscade Two More Tribes Submit—Resignation of the Servian Cabinet—The Latest News From the Old World.

London, Oct. 19.—The Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance, and his daughter were guests at dinner at the Mansion House to night. Lord Mayor Davies, in toasting Mr. Fielding, referred to the importance of the latter's mission.

Mr. Fielding, who was loudly applauded, thanked the Lord Mayor for making him the recipient of the historic hospitality of the City of London, and expressed Canada's deep gratitude for the honors conferred on the occasion of Her Majesty's jubilee, and for the generous treatment the Imperial Government has accorded her in the matter of tariff. The Canadian Government and people," he declared, "are determined in all ways to promote imperial unity."

Englishman Dies From Hunger.

London, Oct. 20. The Daily Chronicle this morning, in commenting upon the death in Cuba last week, of W. Hughes, correspondent of Black and White of London, who is said to have starved to death in the streets of Havana after having been maltreated and robbed by a party of Spanish guerillas, says:

If the story of the death is true, fresh execration of Spanish action will arise and the British Government may have something to say.

Return of an African Explorer.

London, Oct. 19. — Cavendish, the nephew of the Duke of Devonshire, who with a companion, Lieut. Andrew, has been exploring Somaliland, East Africa, at the head of an expedition composed of 90 Ascaris, and who with his party was reported to have been massacred by the natives, has arrived safely in London from Zanzibar, via Kikuyu, which place the expedition reached on Aug. 5 last.

The explorer has had a remarkable journey, lasting less than a year, during which he traversed much of the unexplored country between Berber and Mombasa. He and his only European companion, Lieut. Andrew, were everywhere received with cordiality.

Lady Tatton Sykes Charged With Forgery.

London, Oct. 19.—Lady Tatton Sykes, wife of the famous Yorkshire sporting baron, was charged before the magistrate presiding to-day at the Guildhall with forging her husband's name to a bill of exchange for £1000 in connection with a stock transaction. The magistrate dismissed the case, and in so doing said it seemed to him that the court had been used for an improper purpose, intimating that the charge, while not wholly unsupported by evidence, had been brought in order to damage the reputation of the defendant.

Dervishes Put to Flight.

Berber, Oct. 19.—A patrol of Dervish horsemen on Saturday last raided a village seven miles from here, killing men and capturing many women, children and cattle. A detachment of the Anglo-Egyptian cavalry was sent in pursuit, overtook them and routed the enemy with heavy loss. The Dervishes abandoned their booty and fled in the direction of Atbara.

A BRITISH DISASTER.

The Bengal Lancers Fall Into an Ambuscade and Lose 15 Men.

Simla, Oct. 19.—Two squadrons of the Ninth Bengal Lancers fell into an ambuscade yesterday in the hills between Bara and Mamanni. A native officer and fourteen Sowars were killed, seven Sowars were wounded and twenty-seven horses were killed.

In the fighting yesterday between the brigades of troops commanded by Gen. Sir Yeatman Biggs and the insurgent tribesmen from Chagru, on the Samana Range, Major Jennings Brumley and two privates of the Gordon Highlanders were killed. Lieut. Pears and fourteen privates of the King's Own Borderers were wounded, seven native Sowars and 75 native soldiers were killed. The loss of the enemy was severe.

The Saharzais have surrendered 157 guns, and the Mamunds have completed their submission to the British authorities, and have promised to be loyal in future.

THE JERSEY LILY

Supplied Her Husband With Money and When He Died Sent a Wreath.

London, Oct. 19.—Sir George Lewis, counsel for Mrs. Lilly Langtry, has issued a statement in reference to the report that the husband of the actress, when he was found wandering helplessly in the vicinity of Crewe, previous to his commitment to an asylum for the insane at Chester, had only a few copper coins in his pockets. The lawyer says that since the separation of Mrs. Langtry from her husband the former had paid to the latter regularly an adequate allowance, through Sir George Lewis, and that as soon as Mrs. Langtry heard of Mr. Langtry's illness she forwarded money sufficient for the immediate wants of the sufferer. The allowance paid Mr. Langtry was entirely irrespective of the income which he derived from his property in Ireland.

Marriage in High Life.

London, Oct. 19.— The Times announces the approaching marriage of Lord Mountstephen, formerly president of the C. P. R., to Gian, daughter of the late Robert George Tufnell.

The announcement has caused much interest in Canadian circles, Lord Mountstephen having, in addition to the presidency of the Canadian Pacific Railway, been a director, vice-president and president of the Bank of Montreal, and president of the St. Paul and Manitoba. Lady Stafford Northcote, the adopted daughter of Lord Mountstephen, has hitherto been regarded as the latter's heir.

Possible Spanish-Portuguese Alliance.

London, Oct. 19.—A special despatch from Madrid says there is much discussion at the Spanish capital on the subject of the alliance between Spain and Portugal, which is reported to be in process of negotiation. The Portuguese Minister of Marine, who is now in Madrid, has expressed his belief that such an alliance may be accomplished at any moment.

TROUBLE IN SERVIA.

Ex-King Milan Has Returned to Belgrade and the Cabinet Has Resigned.

Belgrade, Oct. 19.—King Alexander of Servia, accompanied by his father, ex-King Milan, has arrived here. This is the first visit of ex-King Milan to the Servian capital since his abdication in 1889, and it is reported that trouble is likely to result from it, as the Premier is said to have declared he would resign if the former King returned here.

The Cabinet has resigned. It is supposed the resignation of the Ministers is connected with the return of ex-King Milan to the Servian capital.

King Alexander has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet. Dr. Whadai Georgevitch, Servian Minister at Constantinople, has been entrusted by the King with the task of forming a Cabinet. It is expected that several days will elapse before he completes his selection.

BIG BACKERS.

Lord Strathcona, Marquis of Lorne and Sir Edward Dawes in the Fast Line Scheme.

London, Oct. 19. — (Montreal Star Cable.)—With reference to the Petersens' fast Atlantic plans, the statement is made that Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal and Sir Edwyn Dawes of the British India Steam Navigation Company have joined the Board of Directors of the proposed company, with the Marquis of Lorne as chairman. This information is unofficial, but it is understood that it indicates the direction in which Mr. Petersen is working.

MISS WILLARD

Has Emerged From Her Retreat in Toronto—Her Address Now Ready for Delivery on Saturday.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Miss Francis Willard, President of the World's W. C. T. U., has been in Toronto for several days, but this fact was unknown to the public until yesterday. She has been stopping at a private residence on Pembroke-street, with her private secretary, where she has been busily engaged in putting the finishing touches on her inaugural address to the convention on Saturday.

Miss Willard emerges from her retreat to-day and goes to stay at a fashionable residence on Jarvis-street, where the business of the convention will be interpolated with an occasional social function.

Physical strength and energy contribute to strength of character, and both may be had by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mark and Clear Them Out.

It is neither the very large nor the very small loose stones that are most destructive to mower and reaper knives. The guards shove the small stones to one side. But they may themselves be broken if they come in contact with the full force of an active team of horses against a small stone firmly imbedded in the soil, and sticking out of it two or three inches high. If such stones are parts of larger rocks lying below the surface, it may pay to dig down and blast out enough of the rock to make a smooth surface, and deep enough so that it can be plowed without danger. Rolling the surface while the soil is moist in spring will bury all small stones so that the ground may be cut over safely. This is especially important with spring grain, which may be beaten down by rains, so that the reaper must be set very low to make sure of cutting it all. Under lodged grain it is very hard to see stones that might be plainly visible if it were standing upright.

"By Their Fruits."

Nothing more clearly shows the painstaking and careful farmer than to have fence corners between fields or along the roadsides kept free from weeds, grass or shrubs. As a rule all the old-time fence-corners were kept scrupulously clean. A good deal of valuable hay was made from what the scythe reached in and cut there. But when the horse mower and the self-binding reaper came into use, it every year became harder to find anybody who could be hired to clear out the fence-corners. The result was that the axe rather than the scythe was required, and the growth, instead of being restricted to fence corners, encroached each year more on the cultivated fields.

No Room For Salt Rheum.

Salt rheum, erysipelas, tetter, shingles, rashes, scurf, etc., cannot exist where Burdock Blood Bitters is used. Here is the proof: "I was so bad with salt rheum that my finger nails came off. B. B. B. cured me completely and I have had no return of the disease during the past three years."

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

Dominion Timber Regulations.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—The Government has decided upon a change of policy respecting the timber regulations applicable to the Northwest and Manitoba, the aim being to maintain permanent timber reserves. With this object in view the heavy timber belts will be withdrawn from settlement to preserve the young growing trees and to foster a growth to provide for the future. Guardians will be immediately appointed to protect the reserves, particularly at Moose and Turtle Mountains, from fire and to prevent the cutting of the young trees by the settlers, but the latter will be allowed to take the matured, the dead and the fallen trees.

It is the purpose to expend money to lay out a proper fire guard, a considerable sum having been appropriated last session for this purpose. On the tops of these reserves are numerous lakelets. These will all be connected with wide roads, which when completed will form a complete barrier to the progress of a fire. The open space and the lakes should effectually prevent any further ravages and act as a reliable fire break.

A TERRIBLE TIME!

A Port Hope Lady Undergoes a trying experience, from which she is at last freed by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

This is Home Talk From Home People.

Mr. F. J. Armstroug, one of Port Hope's best known citizens, speaks as follows:—"My wife has had a terrible time with her heart for the last fifteen months.

The pains were intense, and she had a smothering feeling together with shortness of breath, weakness and general debility. Medicine seemed to do her no good, and we had about given up trying when she started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which she got at Deyell's Drug Store. They have toned her up wonderfully.

She is stronger to-day than she has been for months, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I am sure there can be no better remedy from their remarkable effects in Mrs. Armstrong's case."

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neusalgia since.

'Twas Ever Thus.

No sooner was Hunter street put into first-class shape, metalled, rolled and all, than the ground is broken at the foot of Chambers street from a sewer connection. Of course this breaks up the well hardened surface and we must have either a mound like a grave or a hollow in the street. 'Twas ever thus, but why is it thus?

The Chrysanthemum Show.

The first annual exhibition of chrysanthemums, under the auspices of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, will be held on the evening of Thursday, November 4th and the afternoon of Nov. 5th. This popular multiform flower is in great favour, and the probability is that the forthcoming exhibition will be of unusual interest. The exhibition will be held in the old Council Chamber, Opera House block.

The Examiner is Read.

In last evening's issue Mrs. M. T. Ostrom inserted an advertisement announcing the loss of a letter en route to the post. The paper was printed at 4.30 and at eight o'clock a Mr. Buck called on Mrs. Ostrom with the missing letter, stating that he had read the advertisement as to its loss in the EXAMINER. If you wish to have your advertisements bear fruit advertise in the EXAMINER, which is a newspaper and is read by everybody.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens.

No man should be without an "Ideal." How much time you could save in a year if you never had to dip your pen in an inkstand, would be valuable testimony to the fountain pen. Lawyers, doctors, clergymen and trained writers, will find the most complete assortment of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens at the Peterborough Bookstore. Always ready when called upon. The gold pens never rust or corrode or change the ink. Pen Points to suit all writers—long nibs, fine, medium or coarse; short nibs, fine, medium, coarse and broad or stub points. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

The Opening of the Oriental Shoe Store.

The new boot and shoe store just opened out by Mr. M. Murty on Hunter street is deserving of local mention. Every style of footwear is represented from the humblest stogie to the most aristocratic slipper. The new lines ought to be successful sellers, being well made goods, fashionable, common sense and medium at popular prices, the product of reliable Canadian and American manufacturers. Nothing in stock but what is spic and span new, which show every improvement of this season's styles and many new things in toes, heels, soles and novel design, which are distinctive to this new stock. The whole establishment is tastefully fitted up and decorated and the new accessories for window display are very attractive and unique. Mr. Murty deserves no little credit for the manner in which he has transformed the entire premises, having improved the exterior as well as the interior of the store. The general brightening up has had the effect of a well-appointed, up-to-date business house. Being centrally situated in the Oriental Hotel block and close to George street, this stand should pull in a fair share of general patronage. Mr. Murty's friends will be glad to see him make a success of his undertaking.

CARYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

The Horticultural Society Decide to Have one Early Next Month.

A meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held last evening in the town treasurer's office for the purpose of authorizing the payment of the prize money of the annual exhibition, held in August, and to arrange for the Chrysanthemum Show. Dr. Burnham, president of the society, was in the chair.

W. H. Foord, who is chairman of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the chrysanthemum show presented a list of prizes, which was adopted by the meeting. It was decided to hold the show on November 4th and 5th. The doors will be open to the public from 7 to 10 p.m. on the 4th, and from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 on the 5th.

There will be no charge to exhibitors. Each member of the society holding a ticket will be admitted, together with a friend, free of charge. The general public will be charged fifteen cents admission.

Mr. W. H. Foord was authorized to procure a judge, and Dr. Burnham was empowered to arrange for the printing and music.

The show will in all probability be held in that part of the Opera House Block formerly used as a council chamber, it having been loaned by Mr. Bradburn for that purpose.

The members present at the meeting were Dr. Burnham Adam Hall, W. H. Foord, R. D. Hamilton, J. H. Roper and F. Brownscombe, secretary.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

A Correspondent Enters a Plea For Liberal Patronage.

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to hear that there is a good prospect of having a very creditable chrysanthemum show on the 4th and 5th of next month, as I understand that the suggestion made a few months ago as to having such a show has induced several to specially cultivate this lovely autumn-flowering plant.

I had the pleasure yesterday of seeing a few chrysanthemum blossoms cut from a collection of an intending exhibitor and they were simply grand and I have no doubt when the show days arrive we shall have a fine collection of chrysanthemums, carnations and roses that will be a treat to inspect.

Of course it will be an experiment and I hope that those interested will send all the plants they can and so assist in making it a successful one, showing their appreciation of the efforts of the directors of the Horticultural Society to stimulate lovers of horticulture to a wholesome rivalry.

Yours truly,
MUMEHTNASYRHC.

A WINTER SHOW

Will be Held by the Peterborough Central Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

A general meeting of the Peterborough Central Poultry and Pet Stock Association was held last evening in the council chamber, for the purpose of deciding whether or not to hold a winter show.

The attendance was small, but it was almost unanimously decided to push it through.

Dr. Poole advocated a bench show in connection with the poultry show, and if reasonable encouragement is given to the association the directors feel like carrying on the two together.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Geo. Pratley, Henry Lush, John Robson, Chas. James, Smith Milburn, B. R. Poole, V.S., Gerald Hayward, R. Cockburn, J. E. Cullen, Jas. Baptie, H. C. Winch and I. Dormer, with power to add to their numbers, to canvas for members and subscriptions and report at the next meeting, which will be held in the same place on Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, at 7.30 p.m. Every person invited.

ART LOAN EXPIBITION.

Arrangements Being Completed—Articles of Interest Wanted.

Citizens are required to send word to the Association regarding any articles of interest they may wish to loan.

Same will be called for, well cared for and returned in good condition.

In connection with the exhibition there will be refreshments of all kinds. Full announcement later.

His father's old associates in Scotland had sent numerous messages and greetings, which of course could not be be delivered.

Bad Made Worse.

There are many preparations on the market for the cure of toothache that are absolutely injurious to the teeth. "Quick cure" is recommended by the leading dentists of Canada as a cure for toothache, without having any evil effect on the teeth, gums or nerve.

MINNICOLA DISCHARGED.

The Evidence was Not of a Nature to Thoroughly Convince the Judge of His Guilt.

As the result of his trial yesterday before Judge Weller, Philip Minnicola, the Italian, who was charged with committing incest in respect of his daughter, is now a free man.

The principal witnesses told the same story for the prosecution, with the exception of the daughter, who previously testified that her father had committed the act complained of but once, but yesterday before Judge Weller she swore that she had not told the truth in the police court, as the old man at a later date had left his own room at night, where he was sleeping with his wife, and had gone to that of the witness, and again been guilty of the charge preferred against him.

The fact of the girl having perjured herself in the Police Court was a strong factor against her, the defence arguing that when she lied in one case she might as well in another.

Minnicola, in his evidence, stated that he had left town as his wife had threatened to kill him. On being asked if he was afraid of his wife, he said he was not, but that if she had attacked him he might have hurt her, and as Queen Victoria was a woman the Court and jury would be down on him for striking his wife. He had gone to Cornwall and had not tried to secrete himself, but on the contrary had written home to try and effect a reconciliation. He had afterwards come home but the family were still opposed to him and he had then gone to work at Indian River. His family knew where he was all the time. He denied in as to the charge brought against him, most indignantly.

Judge Weller, in summing up the case, stated that it was one of so peculiar a nature that he would have to be most certain on the point before he would convict. It was not a case of uncertainty as to the man's innocence, but of certainty as to his guilt, and this he was not certain of. He therefore dismissed the case and discharged the prisoner.

SEARCHING FOR A BODY.

With Grappling Hooks and Pike Poles—A False Alarm.

A big crowd gathered down along the water's edge near English's boat houses yesterday afternoon to watch the occupants of a number of punts and dugouts with grappling irons and pike poles trying to locate the body of a young son of "Doc" Mulvaney, who was reported by his companions to have fallen in that portion of the river lying between the C.P.R. spur track and the shore.

One of the most interested spectators of the work was the youngster himself until his identity was established, when the rescue party ceased work feeling rather foolish. Several hundred spectators had assembled along the shores.

BOTH UNCONSCIOUS

From the Effect of an Accident This Afternoon.

This afternoon at about three o'clock as Mr. Wm. McNairn and Mr. Wm. Jackson, both residents of the Chemong Road, were turning from Hunter street up Aylmer the high spring seat in their wagon overturned throwing both to the ground with such force as to cause sufficient concussion to induce unconsciousness for some time.

A physician was hastily summoned, but it was soon ascertained no bones were broken, although it was some time before the men regained consciousness.

The accident was probably caused by the fact that the horse rounded the corner on a sharp trot, and Mr. McNairn being so much heavier than his companion caused the clamps of the spring seat to jump from the side of the wagon on one side.

CONVICTIONS FOR DRUKENNESS.

The following table, showing the convictions for drunkenness by provinces, for 1884 to 1895 will be read with more than ordinary interest just now:

	1884.	1895.
Ontario	3,966	3,132
Quebec	4,272	4,807
Nova Scotia	1,258	1,767
New Brunswick	1,227	1,205
Manitoba	585	467
British Columbia	881	408
Prince Edward Island	174	162
The Territories	194	220
	11,558	11,558

It is rather peculiar, to say the least of it, that the total number of convictions for the Dominion should have been precisely the same in 1895 as in 1884. With respect to Ontario, however, it is satisfactory to know that for years past there has been a steady decline of convictions under this heading, as will be seen by the appended table:—

1884	4 694
1886	5,453
1887	6,200
1888	6,533
1889	7,050
1890	6,558
1891	4,973
1892	3,967
1893	3,787
1895	3,132

With such a record the Liberal government of Ontario may certainly make reasonable claim that its efforts for the promotion of temperance have not been unavailing, and that the province of Ontario enjoys no mean position in contrast with the other provinces of the Dominion.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Knox College team defaulted, a telegram having been received by Manager Smith to that effect. An effort is being made to bring some other firstclass club to town for Saturday.

RUGBY DROP KICKS.

A good practice was held yesterday afternoon, the players being out in full force, and some good work was done. With a few practices such as yesterday the team will be much improved. It was impossible to get the light put in the rink yesterday, therefore was no practice last night. The light was put in to-day, however, and every player is requested to be on hand at 7 o'clock to-night.

Bell was tried at full back yesterday and Hendren at quarter, and both did well and will likely be in those positions on Saturday.

Everything indicates a first-class game on Saturday, and the public should turn out in force to encourage the players and show their appreciation of the efforts the boys are making to hold their own with the best teams of Ontario.

Linseed and Turpentine are not only popular remedies, but are also the best known to medical science for the treatment of the nervous membranes of respiratory organs. Dr. Chase compounded this valuable Syrup so as to take away the unpleasant tastes of turpentine and linseed.

Mothers will find this medicine invaluable for children, it is so pleasant to take, and will positively cure croup, whooping cough and chest troubles.

THE NEW HASTINGS CHURCH.

The Cornerstone Was Laid on Monday Afternoon.

On Monday afternoon a large number of the congregation and others of the sister churches and several from Norwood and Campbellford, witnessed the laying of the corner stone of the new Presbyterian church in Hastings. The ceremony was opened by the pastor, Rev. D. A. Thomson, announcing the 118th Psalm, and singing from the 22nd verse to the end. Rev. Mr. Laird, of Campbellford, then read the scriptural lesson from 1 King 8th chap., beginning with the 22nd verse. This was followed by prayer by the pastor. After the prayer, the pastor gave a very explicit history of the church in Hastings from its inception. This was followed by the deposit of the box containing the following stamps, coins and papers:—Jubilee stamps, 1c card and stamps from 1c. to 5c.; ordinary stamps, 1c. card, and stamps from 1c. to 20c.; Canadian coins, 1c., 2c., 5c., 10c., 25c. and 50c.; papers, Daily Mail and Empire, Daily Globe, Daily Montreal Star, Daily Montreal Witness, Peterborough DAILY EXAMINER, Peterborough Review, Campbellford Herald, Campellford Gazette, Warkworth Journal, Norwood Register, Havelock Standard, Sterling News-Argus and Hastings Star, by Mr. James Moore. Mr. H. M. Fowlds, one of the oldest members of the congregation and the only member of the original family, living in Hastings, was presented with a handsome silver trowel, bearing a suitable inscription, with which he laid the corner stone in masonic form. The Rev. Mr. Laird then offered the dedicating prayer, after which the doxology was sung, and the pastor pronounced the benediction. A number of reverend gentlemen and laymen were expected, who were unavoidably detained. Mr. McNeil, of Keene, excused his absence by forwarding a ten dollar bill. Near the closing of the ceremony Revs. Messrs. Sommerville, of Norwood, and Jewell, of Hastings, arrived and added their congratulations.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. E. A. Sanderson, assisted by Rev. John G. Lewis, B.A., of Tamworth, brother of the groom, and at the conclusion the wedding party sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast eaving in the evening for a bridal trip west.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complication of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

A VOICE FROM THE VATERLAND.

A Former Peterborough Boy in the German Army.

The appended letter has just been received by Mr F.S.Schneider from Mr. Emil Baumer, who will be remembered as having lived here for some time, being in the employ of Mr. P. H. Green, photographer. Mr. Baumer returned to Germany and was drafted into the army. His letter will be found interesting:

WEISBADEN, Oct. 8, 1897.

Dear Cousin,—I received your letter long, ago, but I didn't have time to write you any sooner, because we had the great sham fight and manoeuvres, at which Emperor William and the King of Italy were present. Well, I guess you know by this time how I am getting along in the German army. I tell you there is quite a difference between the Peterborough Rangers and us here. You ought to see me now. I could show the fellows in the 57th Battalion how to drill. See what a difference it makes in a fellow when he goes to the Toronto Military School only for a three months' course. When he comes back, how straight he walks and how well he drills. You ought to see what the fellows in the German army can do after a two years' course. Here a private soldier has to know a great deal.

We had great sham fights this year. There was 750,000 men altogether engaged in them. There were two army corps of Prussians against two Bavarian army corps. Out of these 450,000 men, 272 fell sick from the exertion and hardship which they had gone through, and 102 men were killed—some from falling off the gun carriages, and some from the horses, in the attack. We had to suffer a great deal in these manoeuvres. It was just like actual warfare. We became used to hunger and thirst, heat and cold, rain and frost. Just think, every morning at 4 o'clock we commenced the fight against the enemy. We only had a little coffee and some German black bread. The fight lasted till 3 p.m. It is no wonder some men got sick when they had to carry a knapsack weighing 60 lbs. on his back. It makes no diff-rence—rain or shine, the manoeuvres still continue. One time it was raining all day; we were 14 hours in the rain and became drenched. Then we halted for 3 hours. Then again in the evening we had to put up our tents and sleep in them on damp straw. Every man has to carry part of his tent equippage, some wood, some condensed meat, and beans. Each man has a tin to cook his meals in. You must not think that a fellow gets his meals cooked. If he don't cook it himself he goes hungry.

The 22nd of next November I will be a year in the German Army. I had a medal presented to me from the Emperor, but not myself only, but all the soldiers who were inspected by the Emperor last March, in honour of the 100th anniversary of Emperor William's 1st birthday, and also another medal was presented to every soldier who was present in the grand manoeuvres. At the manoeuvres were present: The Emperor of Germany, King of Saxony, King of Italy, King of Wurtenberg, Prince of Bavaria, Empress Frederic, daughter of Queen Victoria, Czar of Russia, King of Siam, Emperor of Austria, and lots of other princes.

I wish Capt. Wes. Miller was here now, and could see our regiment. It was nice when we had to "march past" before the Emperor in Hamburg.

Here a regiment is divided into three battalions, each battalion in four companies of one hundred and fifty men each. One captain, two lieutenants, one sergt.-major, two colour sergents, four sergeants, eight corporals and two lance corporals. Each battalion has a band of forty five men and a drum and bugle band with eight buglers and eight drummers. Each battalion is commanded by a major. The regiment is commanded by a colonel, and when he is not present one lieut.-colonel takes his place. Each major has his adjutant, as has also the colonel. In each company are six wheelmen. It is very nice to see a whole regiment drilling at once. Our drill ground extends as far as the eye can reach, and it is all nice, level ground.

Give my best respects to all the boys in the 57th.

Yours truly,
FUSILIER BAUMER,
4th Company Fusilier Regiment, "Von Gersdorff," Hessisches No. 80, Weisbaden.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S. C. E.

An Interesting Meeting Held on Monday Evening Last.

St. Andrew's Y. P. S. C. E. held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening last, the president presiding. After devotional exercises the work of the different committees was considered by the conveners as suggested in the topic card.

Several papers were read on the character of the work that we are expected to do by our Divine Master, who said to begin at Jerusalem, Samaria, and to the uttermost parts of the earth, that we take a deep interest in the welfare of others, and to have a special oversight of the work Christ has committed to us. Seed time and harvest are the two great facts in the life of those who till the toil. The confidence with which the seed is sown is born of faith in the laws of nature. To know that there will be harvest some day gives hope to the worker.

We were delighted to have with us Mr. Ridgeway, a once much-respected member, and to hear him. He said, What we say we do, to do it and not get discouraged and faint by the way, but be as faithful as old Joshua, of good courage, and strong in the Lord. We have all about us souls to win, hearts to comfort and burdens to lighten.

Mrs. B. Brown and Rev. Mr. Potter each sang a solo, which was much enjoyed by all present. The meeting closed with prayer by Mr. Ridgeway and the benediction by the pastor.—COM.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. James Allen & Sons, who purchased the threshing mill owned by Mr. Dettman, have got it repaired and are now doing first class work. Almost every farmer in the township is patronising them. They have been threshing steadily since the harvest was taken off, and every one is well satisfied with the treatment they received. The turn out of grain is much better than was first anticipated.

Mr. Robert Shaw, the county representative for this division, was here last week looking after the requirements of the electors.

Mr. W. and C. Dudman have lately purchased a short horn Durham bull calf. Also a thoroughbred Berkshire boar.

THIS TELLS THE WHOLE STORY.

A Hamilton lady restored to Health.

Mrs. A. Simpson spoke to our reporter as follows, at her cosy residence, 113 Locke St., Hamilton, Ont. Said Mrs. Simpson, "For the last two years I have suffered greatly from heart and nerve troubles, also pains in my head. My appetite was very poor, and I felt very miserable all the time, hardly able to do my household work. My heart was so bad that I frequently fainted away, and was liable to drop down at any place or time.

Sometimes my heart seemed to bound into my throat so that I thought I would smother. My rest was very much broken, and I grew quite discouraged after using so many medicines without relief.

When I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and procured a box at John A. Barr's drug store, and now after having used two boxes can say that I am completely cured. My appetite is good, indeed it seems as if I wanted to eat all the time. I sleep well and am thoroughly toned up. Truly I am better than I have been for many years."

POULTRY RAISING

Some Hints to Beginners The Market The Chief Aim, After All.

If one could carry out the ideas advanced in books on poultry-raising, both for eggs and for meat, and make it a specialty, and, having overcome every difficulty, and succeeded just as the books and pamphlets argue, and would make one a successful man or woman in that line, the main item would still be to make sales and handle the cash. In order to do this one must study the markets at each particular season. He must be observing, shrewd and good at figures. Above all things he must not despise the day of small things. It is easy enough, if experience teaches that it will do, to branch out and enlarge, much easier to add than to shrink and contract, viz., with safety for your capital. You need also a good honest commission man in the city.

A young man writes: "I have a few hundred dollars to invest; will it do for me to buy six or eight acres at $50 per acre and engage in poultry-raising for a living business? Shall I look to egg-production or raise for meat? I am young and have a wife. I think I should like the business.

We answer if you and your wife like the business, yes; engage in it. Right management will yield eggs in mid winter. If these come to market in good condition they will sell for a fair price. But there is competition on every large farm where suitable buildings shelter the fowls and where feed grain is so abundant that no one even thinks of feeding the hens, they can help themselves. On such places there also is a great plenty of offal from the table and the dairy.

The thirfty and frugal housewife sees to it that the scraps go to the hens and chickens. We seldom feed curds now; they have come into disrepute, but in former years while living on a large farm, curds were made and systematically fed to the chickens.

The hen house should be roomy, so that the birds are not crowded; it should be light and warm, and, on the poultry farm, should have in it a stove for heating the room in case of a bitter cold night, and of these we have more or less every winter. This stove and fixings should be so arranged as to be well secured against fire; also have guards of some kind to prevent the hens from lighting upon it, and thus burning their feet. The south side, especially, and more or less the east side, should have large glass windows and double sashes. When one comes to examine the matter by figures these things are not very expensive. The windows need not be large, and should, on the ontside, at least, be guarded by wire fencing of small meshes.

The yards, each for a separate breed, should all center in the building, which, of course, should also be partitioned so that while the fowls could see each other they could not mix.

To raise "fancy stock" is not the idea at all; but to have select and choice breeds certainly is. I have known a farm where no new blood had been introduced for years; the breed of "dunghills" had run out so that a full grown fowl dressed would only weigh about one and a half pounds. It certainly cannot be profitable to raise such stock. Young male birds should dress at least four to eight pounds. These are only hints, which we hope may be of use to new beginners.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

THE CHARGE IS MURDER.

Dr. W. E. Bessey of 45 Carlton-street Under Arrest- An Alleged Criminal Operation on Mrs. Thomas.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—The serious charges of murder and abortion will have to be answered by Dr. William E. Bessey, 45 Carlton-street, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Davis.

Mrs. Jennie C. Thomas, a widow, who kept a boarding house at 187 Berlen-street, died at that address last June. She was 34 years of age and her husband had been dead for three years. The cause of Mrs. Thomas' death was blood poisoning, and it is alleged that it was the result of a criminal operation performed by Dr. Bessey.

Charles McCarthy, brother of deceased, lives with his mother at 135 Queen-street east, and in a statement to Detective Wasson, who has been looking into the matter, says that Mrs. Thomas was ill in May last and that Dr. Bessey was called in to attend her. He visited her several times, but her condition became very serious and Drs. J. E. Brown and Dwyer were called in for consultation, but their skill was of no avail and the woman succumbed. Dr. Brown issued the burial certificate. It is said that a few days before her death the woman made a dying statement to the effect that Dr. Bessey had performed a criminal operation upon her. She also mentioned the name of a well-known tobacconist.

Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest at the morgue on Thursday night.

Singular and Plural.

Tommy was told that "couple" was singular, and, to make him remember it, he had to write an essay about "A Couple." Tommy went into his study corner, was quite a half hour, except once, when he demanded the proper orthography of one or two big words, and this is what he handed his mother when it was all done:

A COUPLE.

There was a couple that went fishing. One-half of it was a man; the second half was a woman. It went in a rowboat with a pair of oars, which was also a couple. The woman half of the first couple caught a couple of fish. Then there was three couples. Said the man part of the first couple:

"We has caught enough fish."

Then it sat down together, and it put its arms around it and said:

"Oh, my, don't."

But it didn't act as if it cared much. Just then the boat ran into a stump and stopped. This couple was very singular for awhile, but finally she said to it:

"George, my dear, doesn't it think it is time to go home?"

It looked at its watch, and said: "Yes, dearie. It is."

Then this couple was plural while one of it rowed home.

So a couple is both plural and singular, just the same.—Detroit Free Press.

A Fatherly Assurance.

Mr. Cumrox's son was studying his Latin lesson. There was the tremolo of discouragement in his voice as he remarked:

"I don't seem to get along with this lesson very well, father."

"Can't you say any of it?"

"Yes; I can say 'amo, amas, amat'; and then I always forget what comes next.

"What does those words mean, Johnny?" asked Mr. Cumrox, who deserves credit for being always ready to add to a somewhat deficient early education.

"They mean 'I love, thou lovest, he loves.'"

"It does seem too bad to see you starting in so soon," the old gentleman mused, "with the difficulties that has always surrounded that verb. But you might as well commence young to learn that them words in one way or another cause two-thirds of the botheration that occurs in this life."

"Please, can I quit school, then?"

"No; it wouldn't be any use. You couldn't dodge 'em, and you might as well go right along and get as familiar with them as possible. You'll find that learnin' 'em ain't half the worry that handlin' 'em is after ye know 'em. Cheer up, Johnny, and remember that most of your trouble is still ahead of you."—

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

How to Cure all Skin Diseases."

Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman Sons & Co., Montreal wholesale agents.

BLACKLEG VACCINE.

The U.S. Agricultural Department Has a Cure For the Disease.

The United States Department of Agriculture, through its Bureau of Animal Industry, has just prepared vaccine for the cattle disease known as "blackleg." It has also issued a circular containing facts about the disease itself and full directions for using the vaccine. Frequent reports have come to the bureau for several years in reference to the great mortality from "blackleg" among young stock in many widely-separated districts of the United States.

The animal losses in certain badly-infested districts in Europe, where the disease long prevailed, became so disastrous that cattle raising had to be abandoned. Three French scientists 12 or 15 years ago succeeded in producing a "blackleg" vaccine. This is used extensively now in a number of centers where the disease prevails. The method used is that of injecting into each calf two doses of highly attenuated "blackleg" virus, with an interval of 10 days between the two inoculations.

A very mild vaccine is used for the first, which is called "the first lymph." The subsequent one, with a stronger virus, is "the second lymph." In each case the vaccine was introduced by means of a hypodermic syringe under the skin. Later, this method, which is very inconvenient, and especially where a large number of animals are to be treated, was modified by a German scientist. He reduced the process to a single injection with less attenuated virus and chose the loose skin just behind the shoulder for the point of the inoculation.

This method was adopted very extensively and satisfactorily in Eastern Europe and Northern Africa. For that reason it has, on account of its simplicity, been taken as the foundation for the investigation made by the bureau.

What is known as a "single vaccine" was prepared in the pathological laboratory. Subsequently it was tested on a large number of calves in Texas, both of high grade stock and common. The result warranted the conclusion that the vaccine is satisfactory in every manner. It is hoped that by the vaccine method "blackleg" will be effectually stamped out.

Bee Drones.

It is quite a loss to allow a colony of bees to become overstocked with drones. If the bees are allowed to build their own comb they are almost certain to do this. Using foundation overcomes this tendency.

Proof Against Robbers.

One advantage with good, strong colonies of bees at this season is that they are proof against robbers. See that all hives have good-laying queens and young broods.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain.... Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

"Sweet Bells Jangled Out of Tune."

How many of woman's life happiness is lost for lack of harmony. A hundred sweet melodious tones ruined by one little note of discord. Women who ought to enjoy the perfect happiness of love and wifehood and motherhood are miserable from one year's end to the other, because of some weakness or disease of the delicate organism of their sex.

These delicate complaints, which make a jangling dissonance of so many lives, are not by any means a necessity of womanhood. They may be overcome and completely eradicated under judicious treatment.

There is no need of repugnant examinations. There is no need of resorting to any unauthorized medicament compounded by an unskilled, uneducated person. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the troubles of the feminine organism positively, completely and safely.

For nearly 30 years Dr. R. V. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. He is an eminent and expert specialist in this particular field of practice. Any woman may write to him with perfect confidence, and will receive, free of charge, sound, professional advice and suggestion for self-treatment by which 99 out of 100 cases of female complaint, even of the most obstinate kind, may be completely and permanently cured. Address him as above.

"While I was living at Eagle Rock, Botetourt Co., Va.," writes Mrs G. A. Connor, of Alleghany Spring, Montgomery Co., Va., "a lady friend came to me and said: 'My daughter, aged 18 years, has repeated hemorrhages at the nose, and she has never had the necessary indispositions of womanhood.' I advised her to get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The lady purchased one bottle and it cured her daughter. She was well and happy when I left there."

Constipation is the all-embracing cause of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.

MILCH COWS IN AUTUMN.

Successful Dairying Demands Especial Care This Season.

In successful dairying every point will have to be watched carefully to keep the cows to their milk. After a cow has been milked for months, and if she is again breeding, any failure of the best of care in feeding and milking fast and clean has a tendency to dry up her milk. Exceptional animals may keep on giving milk to such an extent that they cannot be dried up, but that really is an abnormal condition.

The next query is, How shall we manage to keep the cows up to their milk? Let me say here, first, that there is a natural tendency to shrink in the milk a little; that must be expected from the condition of the animal. Naturally the milk is the food of a calf, so that to keep the cow in milk is to make her feed or sustain the calf, viz.: The milk which you draw and also the foetus; two calves as it were.

The ordinary pastures in the month of August and later cease to give the quantity of succulent food they yielded in the fore part of the season. Succulent food must be furnished.

Cattle, no matter how well fed, will eat quite a lot of hay when they come into their stalls. They should have it, too, because just so much feed is needed to keep up the weight of the carcass, so much is burned up for fuel, so to speak, and the remainder is by the cow manufactured into milk, which contains a due proportion of butter fat, casein, sugar and water. Water, pure, easily accessible and abundant, is a prime necessity in the pastures. The argument that salt makes the cow drink and of course makes the milk thin does not hold good. It doubtless makes it easier for the cow to generate milk, but it does not to any extent dilute the milk itself.

When dairying years ago it was my custom to raise pumpkins between the corn, not here and there a vine, but rows that would run right parallel with the corn rows. These were skipped when the corn was laid by at its third or fourth plowing. The yellow pumpkins are very sweet and give to both milk and butter an excellent flavor. Break them in clean places in the pasture, and give, or rather leave, as few of the seeds as possible in the rinds. The seeds when eaten freely work unduly upon the urinary organs.

It is often the case on a farm that cows are pastured in the orchard, because it is easier to allow the cattle to eat the half ripe and (often half rotten) apples than to pick them up and boil them. Even ripe apples are not always good for milk cows, because much or rather many sorts of them are acid. If sweet apples, like the Tolman, are plenty they may be fed and will do good rather than harm. Turnips may be given in the morning immediately after milking and will not give flavor to either milk or butter. Beets and mangolds are always in order when fed in moderation. The fact is, cattle like a change of diet as much as mankind, and the change, when made consistent with common sense, is alike beneficial to each.

A caution is here inserted concerning cows coming fresh at this time of year. Parturition fever is always present, but while it is produced and made violent by giving such rations as are hinted at in this paper, it can be reduced to the minimum by withdrawing all milkfeed and the ears on the corn stalks. By allowing only grass or the corn stalks, garget is not likely to set in. And if hard lumps are felt in the udder a large compress and hot water applied for 20 minutes and between milking time will soon scatter the lumps. After the cow has cleaned, if she is lively and ready to eat, she may gradually be brought up to the usual ration. Do not do it with a rush, or you may yet lose the animal.

Always Felt Tired.

"I suffered with severe headache and loss of appetite and I always felt tired. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking one bottle my headache disappeared. I continued taking it until now I am never troubled with headache and my appetite is good." LAURA GARLAND, 247 Claremont St., Toronto, Ont.

WINTER AND SPRING.

BOTH MADE BRIGHTER BY SOWING CALCEOLARIA SEED NOW.

Recently This Garden Practice Has Been Growing in Favor How the Seed Bed Is Made—Treatment of the Young Plants for Success—Enemies.

The public is beginning to appreciate the value of calceolarias as spring-blooming pot plants. They are very interesting in their structure and striking in their general appearance. For early planting the seeds are sown the middle of June, but for April flowering, during which month they should be in their prime, reliance should be had on July sown seed, while to secure a later succession another batch should be put in some time in August.

The seed should be sown in shallow pans upon a light compost with a slight covering of sifted soil, and placed in a cool house, or better, a frame which should be well-ventilated and shaded. If the frame is in a sheltered spot, facing to the north, and a lath screen is used in addition to a shaded sash, which is raised a few inches above the frame, the seeds and future plants will have as nearly perfect surroundings during a hot dry summer as can be secured. As soon as large enough, the seedlings should be pricked out into flats and later into two or three-inch pots, using a rich fibrous compost composed of equal parts of rotted sods, loam, decayed manure and sand. Leaf mold can be added to advantage for the small plants. The plants should be returned to the frame and kept there until November; they will need copious watering, on which account perfect drainage is necessary. The leaves should be kept as dry as possible except that they should have a gentle syringing upon warm, sunny mornings.

The green fly must be kept down at all hazards, as if it gets the start it will be hard to control; to aid in this chopped tobacco stems may be scattered between the pots. As soon as the plants begin to be pot-bound, shift into four-inch pots and later into five or six-inch. They should be removed into a cool house, where they can be kept at about 40 degrees, as soon as there is danger of frost working into the frame, which should be covered up on cold nights with mats during the last month. Keep the plants near the glass, but shade from the direct sunlight.

The early started plants should be established in their flowering pots by the first of December, and should be in flower soon after New Year's. During the winter, give ventilation even on cold days, and give attention to the watering so that the plants can by no chance become dry. Keep the moisture of the leaves as much as possible. As soon as the roots fill the pots after the final shift, supply manure, water liberally, but discontinue its use when the flowers begin to open. To avoid disease keep the leaves dry and at once remove and destroy all diseased and decaying leaves.—L. R. Tuft, in American Agriculturist.

The Rhinometer.

The latest scientific invention is the rhinometer. The object of this instrument is not, as the vulgar might suppose, to measure money; its purpose is to gauge the extent to which you breathe through your nose, says The Pall Mall Gazette. This matter, it appears, is of far more importance than might be imagined. All the lower animals breathe through the nose and through the nose alone. Human beings, with their customary perversity, are given to breathing through the throat, not merely when a cold in the head compels them to have recourse to this illegitimate mode of respiration, but from their cantankerous disposition to do things the wrong way whenever opportunity offers. Of course, they are punished for this disregard of the best animal traditions. The scientific truth is that the oxygen of the air knows better than to allow itself to be smuggled into the lungs by the back door, as it were. It will only enter our system in the quantity desirable through the nose—the straight and narrow way. The serious predicament of the throat-breathers is at once apparent, as to the outcome of their detestable habit they are kept short of oxygen. The consequence is they become anaemic and suffer from a hundred other ills to which a sensible animal refuses to be heir.

Milk for Salt Fish.

It is well to know that if salt fish is wanted quickly the fish is freshened much sooner if soaked in milk, milk that is turned being as good for the purpose as the fresh milk.

Didn't Want to Carry It.

"I would like to get a mouse trap," she said, as she balanced at the counter of the hardware store.

"Y'es'm," answered the clerk, "here is a new kind that is very simple—you put the bait just inside and when the mouse gets in he can't get out and there you have him."

"But he would still be alive, wouldn't he?"

"Oh, yes'm, you must drown him after he's caught."

"Oh—oh—h—h—I wouldn't drown a mouse for the world!"

"Why not, ma'am?"

"It would be so cruel!"

"You might warm the water. But here's another kind. This one has little windows for bait, and when Mr. Mouse puts his head in, a wire noose catches him around the throat and he is slowly choked to death."

"Yes; that is just the thing! Please send it home right away so it can catch some mice to-night."

"I'm sorry, ma'am, but there is no one to send. Now, if you will take it along, I can make it into a very small parcel."

"Oh! Oh—h—h—h—you horrid man! I wouldn't carry a mouse trap for the world. Take it away and send it home to-morrow. A trap to catch horrid little mice—the idea!" and she walked off with the air of an injured tragedy queen.

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubled for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

The jury awarded Miss McNiven $800 damages.

Patent for Fattening Pigs.

The most ingenious scheme ever devised by the Yankee mind was that of a man who wished to claim as exclusively his a plan for fattening hogs by a wonderful method. The plan was this: Three pigpens were built, one having several lean scrub swine, known as "razor-backs," the central one being empty, and the third containing the blooded animal which it was desired to fatten. The scheme was to let the fine pig into the central yard and let him eat all he could out of the trough. When he had so much as he could hold, a hungry pig would be let in, and, of course, begin to eat. It being a pig's nature to eat as long as it saw another pig do so, the man reasoned that the full pig would immediately set to work again and take another meal. When the razor-back was full he was to be taken out and a third hungry pig brought in, when the same performance would be gone through again.—Philadelphia Times.

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET, OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

FINE FUR EXCELLENCE.

Material—Style—Workmanship—Finish—in all their detail are just right here.

Watch the Manufacture:—The skins first of all to be properly and well dressed and sometimes dyed—Matching the skins as to colour and length of "hair"—"Letting down" in order that stripes and shades will harmonize in one distinct unbroken design—Sewing thousands of stitches tight and firm, and not one of these stitches to show when the garment is to wear—then with the skins held taut over wooden "blocks" to actually work the skins into proper shape.

☞That's why well made Furs look and wear well—this care to detail.

☞That's why our Furs are usable again—all is ready for rebuilding when a change is desirable.

The average ready-made Fur garment is simply sewed up with machine stitching and without proper care paid to cutting and blocking—that's why they soon look mean—and very rarely work over satisfactorily.

LADIES' FUR LINED CAPES

Our Fur Lined Cloaks are manufactured by ourselves in every case, from the best materials and with skilled workmen. There is all the difference in the world between these goods and the fur-lined garments sold by dry-goods dealers, which are imported largely from Germany—made of materials that cannot always be guaranteed, and in a very flimsy and unsatisfactory manner.

BIG DEAL IN REAL ESTATE.

Pretty Good Sale of Property in Montreal—Sir William Van Horne and Others the Purchasers.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—One of the heaviest real estate deals yet recorded in the city has just been consummated. Some time ago several Canadian Pacific magnates, with R. Prefontaine, M.P., acquired a large tract of land in the east end, near the site of the proposed basins, which are said to be favored by Hon. Mr. Tarte and the Canadian Pacific. It is now announced that Alderman Prefontaine has sold out his portion of the property, amounting to over a million feet, to Sir William Van Horne and several other gentlemen at the rate of 15 cents per foot.

Archbishop Machray of Rupert's Land, who with most of the Canadian bishops visited England during the summer to atten dthe Lambeth conference, is lying seriously ill in London, and fears are entertained for his recovery. The Canadian primate was taken sick while attending the conference, and was prevented from being present at most of the deliberations of that body.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

Four-Year-Old Daughter of Mrs. Pareira of Owen Sound the Victim.

Owen Sound, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A terrible fatality occurred here yesterday afternoon, in the accidental burning to death of a little 4-year-old girl, Georgie Pareira, daughter of Mrs. Pareira, a widow residing on the North Gravel road on the west hill. The child, it appears, was playing during the afternoon along with some neighbors' children around a bon fire, and in some way allowed her clothes to become ignited, and when attention was attracted to her by her cries was all afire. Her mother and others quickly ran to her assistance, but before getting the flames extinguished the little one was burned beyond recovery. Medical aid was summoned, and Drs. Dow and McCullough did all that could be done to lessen the suffering of the child, but she died early this morning. Several of those who endeavored to put out the fire were badly burned about the hands.

My baby had Eczema in its worst form. The top of her head was as raw as a piece of beef, the hair eaten down to the scalp by applying tar poultices, and I thought if she ever got well she would be bald. The best physician in the city attended her, but she continued to get worse all the time, and he finally admitted "it was the most obstinate case he had ever seen," and that he was "at his wits' end." Some one suggested CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I purchased and tried. In a few days I noticed a great change. She continued to improve, and to-day is entirely cured, has a nice head of hair, is lively and hearty, and the disease shows no signs of returning. I send you her photograph to show her as she is to-day.

A MAGNIFICENT RUSH

By British Troops in the Teeth of a Fusilade

PUTS THE TRIBESMEN TO FLIGHT.

A Strong Resistance to the Government Troops by Those of the Samana Range—Close Quarters Reached—Losses of Goorkhas and Gordon Highlanders Were Severe.

Simla, Oct. 20.—Official advices from Fort Lockhart say that, after the fighting on Monday last between the British troops under General Sir Yeatman-Biggs and the insurgent tribesmen from Chagru, on the Samana Range, the British force returned to Shinwari, and the tribesmen, greatly reinforced, reoccupied in force the heights west of Chagru. The third brigade of the British punitive expedition, which advanced to-day to Kharappa, expects to have a lively time in clearing the heights.

Later advices from Fort Lockhart say that, the tribesmen having occupied Dargai Ridge, which commanded Chagru on the Samana Range, General Sir Yeatman Biggs sent the second division this morning to dislodge them. The position was a very strong one on the summit of a precipitous hill, reached only by a single path along which the attacking force, consisting of the Goorkha Regiment and the Dorsetshire Regiment, was obliged to climb in Indian file, these batteries meanwhile shelling the rangers. The British suffered a temporary check when they reached the open space and were exposed to an accurate fire. After a prolonged artillery fire the Goorkhas were reinforced by the Gordon Highlanders. Then followed a magnificent rush across the open space in the teeth of a murderous fusilade. The enemy stood their ground till the British reached the rocks below, down which the tribesmen could not see to fire, and then they fled pell mell. The losses of the Goorkhas and the Gordon Highlanders were severe.

According to later advices General Biggs' division advanced at daybreak, by way of Chagru-Kotal, with Brig.-Gen. Kempster's brigade leading. It was nearly 10 o'clock when the enemy began a long-range fire. The three mountain batteries, massed on Chagru-Kotal, replied, while the Gordon Highlanders pushed through to support the first line, firing volleys at long range.

The tribesmen reserved their fire till the Goorkhas reached the zigzag path under the perpendicular cliff, where Major Jennings Bromley was killed on Monday in the fighting between the Biggs brigade and the insurgent tribesmen from Chagru, on the Samana Range.

Three British companies crossed the zone of fire at a rush, sustaining heavy losses while the remainder deployed to the left to intercept a flank attack, threatened by some 7000 of the enemy from that direction. The Dorsetshire regiment attempted to support three companies of Goorkhas, but was kept back by the enemy, who remained cool and reserved their fire until the British were well exposed.

At 12.30 p.m. matters looked serious, as the British gun fire, though aided by a mountain battery, from Fort Gulistan, had failed to dislodge the enemy. Gen. Kempster thereupon went forward in person, moving up the Gordon Highlanders, and the third Sikh regiment into the fighting line. A systematic assault was organized, and 2000 men with fixed bayonets stood waiting for the order to advance.

Three minutes before the word of command was given, Gen. Kempster heliographed back instructions to the batteries to concentrate their fire. The 18 pieces of artillery responded and, under cover of this fire, the leading company of the Highlanders, amid perfect silence, rushed into the fire zone. Half the men dropped, but the remainder pushed gallantly on till they reached the cover where the Goorkhas lay. The rest of the force streamed after them, and the tribesmen, seeing that most of the troops had passed the fire zone, fled up the hill and collected under cover of the cliffs. The Highlanders and mixed regiments, after pausing a moment to take breath again advanced to the assault, and 20 minutes later the position was won.

General Sir Yeatman Biggs will continue the advance so as to hold the frontal hills and push on to Kharrapoa, where he will be joined by Sir William Lockhart.

Throughout yesterday the tribesmen continued their work of building breastworks on the summit.

COLONIAL DEFENCE.

British Government Sending an Official to Look Over Australia.

London, Oct. 20.—In connection with the increase in the strength of the British army, the defence of the colonies of Great Britain is receiving unusual attention. The Government has just despatched a former Under Secretary of State for War, Sir Ralph Wood Thompson, to Australia, with instructions to report to the War Office upon the condition of the defences of the Australasian colonies, to urge an increase in the colonial forces, and to submit proposals for arming the local troops and exchanging battalions from Australia with those of the Motherland. The mission of Hon. W. S. Fielding, the Canadian Minister of Finance, to Great Britain also includes discussing with the Colonial Office what proportion of £1,500,000 which it is proposed to expend in strengthening the Canadian defences, should be borne by the Imperial Government.

The India Council and the War Office are said to be considering important measures involving the addition of one-third to the strength of the Indian army.

METEMMEH SHELLED.

British Gunboats Advanced Up the Nile on a Trip of Inspection.

London, Oct. 20.—The British gunboats advanced up the Nile to-day, shelled Metemmeh, the Dervish position between Berber and Khartoum, and returned after inspecting it with the view of ascertaining its strength and defensive works.

THE U. S. TARIFF.

Herr Buck Says It is the Most Complicated and Uncertain Ever Conceived.

Berlin, Oct. 20. — At a meeting of the Central Association of German Industrialists held to elect delegates to Prince Hohenlohe's committee for drafting new commercial treaties, Herr Buck denounced the Dingley tariff as "the most complicated, contradictory and uncertain tariff ever conceived." He declared that it was due to "capitalistic speculations, which are proving fatal to the industrial existence of the United States."

At the same time Herr Buck said he felt bound to protest against the danger of a custom war. Germany would not be in a position to support herself if the United States should retaliate with repressive duties on corn, cotton or petroleum.

THE SILVER PROPOSALS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Promises to Publish All the Papers on the Bimetallic Conference.

London, Oct. 20.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, replying to the memorial of the bankers and merchants of the City of London, says papers will shortly be published, fully explaining the proposals made and the position taken up by the Government.

Lord Salisbury sent this evening to Ambassador Hay the reply of the British Government to the proposals of the American bimetallic special commission, headed by Senator Wolcott. It is a diplomatically worded note. His Lordship says that the Government of Great Britain is not able to reopen the India mints at present. He regrets the inability to accede to the proposals of the American commissioners, Great Britain having as great an interest as the United States and France in securing a stable par exchange for gold and silver and an enlarged use of silver. In these circumstances, continues Lord Salisbury, the British Government does not see the desirability of an international monetary conference, but will be pleased to consider any other practical suggestions from the United States. Lord Salisbury encloses with the note a copy of the statement of Sir James Westland, head of the financial department of India, which was under discussion at the meeting of the Cabinet Council last Saturday, and which takes strong grounds against the reopening of the India mints. Senator Wolcott is not in London this evening. Ambassador Andrew White came from Berlin last Saturday. In the course of an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press, Mr. White said that Germany's action as to bimetallism will depend on England's.

The Emperors Kissed.

Wiesbaden, Oct. 20.—The Czar and the Grand Duke of Hesse arrived here at 12.30 p. m. on a visit to Emperor William. They were met at the railroad depot by His Majesty and the Prince of Schaumburg-Lippe. The two emperors cordially embraced and kissed each other. After the usual presentations, Their Majesties drove to the castle, warmly cheered by the crowds lining the route. The Czar will return to Darmstadt after lunch.

Causes of Serv a's Trouble.

Vienna, Oct. 20. — The Neue Freie Presse to-day publishes a despatch from Belgrade, Servia, which says the Servian Premier has declared the Cabinet resigned because of differences with King Alexander, and owing to the strained relations existing between the Premier and ex-King Milan, making the conduct of business impossible while the latter remains at Belgrade.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—Lord Rosebery, former Premier of Great Britain, in company with Count Herbert Bismarck, is visiting the former Chancellor, Prince Bismarck, at Friedrichsruhe.

Will British Supremacy be Lost?

London, Oct. 20.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon, in the course of a long article on American competition in the iron and steel industries, says: "To-day we find the United States not only challenging our supremacy in neutral markets, but even obtaining a foothold in England.

"The causes which are giving the United States such a favorable position are permanent, and everything points to the United States remaining the cheapest steel-producing country in the world."

North Renfrew Conservatives.

Pembroke, Ont., Oct. 20.—At the meeting of Conservatives held here to-day, Andrew T. White was chosen to contest the county in the Ontario elections in that interest. Mr. Whitney was present and spoke in reply to an address presented to him.

MURDER AT SUDBURY

Felix Villeneuve Found With an Axe In His Skull.

THE MAN'S HEAD SHOCKINGLY HACKED

The Victim's Body Discovered by His Twelve-Year-Old Son—Skull Literally Hacked to Pieces—A Neighboring Farmer Placed Under Arrest.

Sudbury, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Felix Villeneuve, a farmer residing at the Township of Rayside, about fifteen miles from the Town of Sudbury, was brutally murdered yesterday afternoon. When discovered by his twelve-year-old son the body was lying in a log building which the deceased had been working at. The skull was literally hacked to pieces, and an axe was found imbedded in the brain. Coroner Struthers left town this morning and opened an inquest, which was adjourned until Friday. As a result of to-day's investigation, Arthur Chartrand, a neighboring farmer, was placed under arrest, and others will likely follow to-morrow.

HOT FROM THE WIRES.

Mr. Ryan, formerly collector for the Grand Trunk Railway, has been appointed subcollector of customs at Georgetown.

Two little girls were burned to death in Buffalo last night as a result of children making bonfires of leaves, and the police will stop that practice.

A man calling himself James Smith is under arrest at Buffalo. In his possession was found some of the property stolen from J. H. Crowe's hardware store in Welland about a week ago.

Ottawa lumbermen state that work in the lumber woods will not be as brisk this year as last, the principal cause being uncertainty caused by the Government's indecision regarding export duty on logs.

At Los Angeles, Cal., Joe McAuliffe, the Mission Giant, of San Francisco, added another to his string of defeats Tuesday night, when Jack Stelzner, Fitzsimmons' old sparring partner, received a decision over him at the end of a 15-round contest.

A farmer of East Nissouri Township, named Alex Sterritt, aged about 45, was burnt to death, along with his house and its contents, on Tuesday night. His sister, who lived with him, was in St. Mary's, and deceased, who was a paralytic, was alone in the house. Origin of the fire unknown.

LUETGERT'S FATE

Still Undecided by the Jury Which is Still Out—One Man is Standing Between Him and Death.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—At 8.30 o'clock to-night it was said at State Attorney Deneen's office that there would be no announcement in the Luetgert case before the opening of court to-morrow.

It is the firm determination of Judge Tuthill to keep the jurors until Saturday night or late Saturday afternoon before he permits them to go with a disagreement.

At one time to-day the jury sent for Judge Tuthill to know, among other things, if eleven men could compel one man to vote with them, or if a verdict would be valid if but eleven men signed it. This incident gives to the State the idea that there is but one man standing between Luetgert and a death sentence. Judge Tuthill refused to answer the question.

FARMER LOST HIS BUILDINGS.

Bush Fires Caused the Destruction of Mr. Thomas Clarke's Property.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The bush fires near Wakefield destroyed all the buildings on the farm of Mr. Thomas Clarke last night. Mr. Clarke carries $950 insurance, but his loss will probably amount to several thousand dollars. Mr. Clarke had a brick house, several barns, a granary, an implement house and large stables, all of which were burned.

A Bicycle Tube Cannon's Recoil.

Kingston, Oct. 20.—A son of Charles Brennan of Gananoque, 14 years of age, manufactured a small cannon from the handle bar of a bicycle, and, along with some other boys, was testing the new toy. They put in quite a large charge of powder and as he set off the cannon it recoiled and struck him near the eye, along the nose, boring a hole in his head for a distances of four or five inches. Fortunately, however, the base of the brain was not touched, nor is it expected that the sight of the eye will be destroyed.

Forty of the hymn books loaned to the audience at the Moody meetings were not to be found at the close. The secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is advertising for their return.

Prof. Barnard and the Yerkes Lens.

Williams Bay, Wis., Oct. 20.—Prof. Barnard yesterday announced to his fellow savants at the conference attending the dedication of the Yerkes Observatory and telescope, that he had already discovered a third companion star to Vega, using the new telescope. The professor has also picked up twenty new nebulae beyond the clouds—nebulae that even the Lick glass failed to locate. He also says his measurements of distances between stars by means of the Yerkes lens have been amazingly accurate, the variations on five consecutive observations being smaller than have ever been recorded before. It has been found by the astronomers that the atmospheric conditions here are fully as good as those on Mount Hamilton.

DWIGHT L. MOODY.

Style and Methods of the Great Evangelist.

HE IS NOT A SENSATIONALIST.

The Secret of his Wonderful Success a Mystery.

BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

He Comes of Puritan Stock—His Early Christian Life Gave Little Promise of His Great Career.

Since it was learned that the evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, whose name is known and honoured from one end of Christendom to the other, was about to visit Peterborough, the most active preparations have been made for his reception, and as previously announced, a number of meetings were arranged. Some of these had to be cancelled by Mr. Moody, as, though he speaks twice a day, his physicians nine years ago put the veto on his speaking more than once.

Those who expected to find in Mr. Moody a sensationalist were disappointed. His reputation has been made and sustained through the fact that his style is one of extreme simplicity. He seems to rely solely upon a wonderful clearness of statement, and a most extraordinary command of vigorous descriptive power to produce those indefinable effects, the origin of which has ever been shrouded in mystery.

He is a lay evangelist, and comes from the ranks of the business men. His birthplace was Northfield, Mass., where he was born on the 5th of February, 1830. He came of old Puritan stock, his father's and mother's families being numbered among the early settlers of that State. His father, Edwin, owned a farm house just without the town, and a few acres of stony land, the whole encumbered by a mortgage. When the building trade was brisk he worked as a a stone mason, and his leisure hours he spent in cultivating his little farm. But his spirit was crushed by reverses in business, and he died suddenly after an illness of a few hours. Mr. Moody was then only four years of age, but the shock of that death made an impression on him which he declares he has never forgotten. Mrs. Moody was burdened with the care of seven sons and two daughters, of whom the eldest boy was only fifteen years old. Yet this widowed mother refused to part with any of her little brood. She bravely set about caring for them all, and contrived to have the little hands earn something for their support by tilling the garden and doing odd jobs for their neighbours. She taught them every day a little Bible lesson and accompanied them to the Unitarian church and Sunday school, and then sorrow came on the bereaved family through the eldest boy running away from home. He was lost for years, but at last he came back, asked for forgiveness and was forgiven. In his boyhood Mr. Moody was healthy, boisterous, self-willed and a boon leader among his companions. His mother has said he used to think himself a man when he was only a boy. At the age of seventeen young Moody left Northfield with his mother's permission to seek employment in Boston, where his uncle was in business as a shoe merchant. Mr. Holton engaged his country nephew with some reluctance and on two conditions. The young lad agreed to be governed by his advice and to attend regularly the Sunday school and services of the Mount Vernon Congregational church. Its pastor was the eloquent and learned Dr. E. N. Kirk, who in earlier years had accomplished much good as an evangelist. The lad was not much impressed by the preaching which he was not qualified to comprehend, but the personal efforts of his teacher, Mr. Edwaed Kimball, were blessed to his conversion. The young convert was unpromising enough at first outward appearance. He knew very little of the Scriptures and he was not grounded in evangelical truth. Besides his bashful shyness in the presence of cultured refined Christians, his poor command of words to express his thoughts, and his broken awkward sentences made him, in the language of his teacher, very "unlikely to become a Christian of clear and decided views of Gospel truth, still less to fill any extended sphere of public usefulness." Therefore it was that he was not accepted into the membership until 1856, a year after his first application. He remained but two months longer in Boston. He longed for a wider field of usefulness where his energy in business and religious work would be less trammelled. So in September, 1856, he betook himself to Chicago with testimonials which secured him a business engagement as salesman in the shoe trade. He also entered the Plymouth Congregational church and showed his earnest by renting four pews, which he kept filled with young man and boys. He desired to work in the service of prayer, but the brethren were not patient enough to suffer his crude experience, and suggestions were not infrequent that he could best serve the Lord by silence. Mr. Moody first began Christian work by entering a mission school as teacher, and he brought eighteen ragged boys together and marched at their head to Sunday school. Then he set up a mission for himself in Chicago and held his services in an empty tavern. The school grew larger and a hall was engaged and the attendance was brought up to 650 and 60 teachers were engaged. His engagement as travelling salesman did not prevent him attending these Sabbath services. In 1860 he decided to become an evangelist and commenced as a city missionary in Chicago. He was married in 1862 and for years his home was a small and plain cottage. The work grew. This mission expanded. A church was erected and Mr. Moody gradually became known throughout the States, then in Europe and now his name is a household word in many countries. His school at Northfield, supported by himself, is attended by hundreds.

Yesterday he aroused the same enthusiastic interest as is his wont. His two meetings were attended by thousands of all denominations. To-night he addresses men only in St. Paul's church.

KILLED NEAR DEVIL'S HOLE

Man Supposed to Be William Henry of Lewiston Got in Front of a Trolley at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Oct. 20.—An unknown man was killed by a trolley car near the terminus of the Devil's Hole Line in this city at 9 o'clock last night. The deceased was about 55 years old, had grey hair and grey mustache and was dressed in a coat and vest of dark grey color and dark trousers. He wore a pair of congress shoes and a four-in-hand tie. The only clue to work out his identity was a letter-head found inside the sweatband of his hat, which reads: "Office of Francis Kahle, sole agent for Dominion of Canada and Great Britain, for Dr. Ransom and Son, Western Medicine Co." The remains are now at the morgue.

It is possible that the man referred to in the above despatch is William Henry of Lewiston. The latter has been for the past two weeks in the employ of Francis U. Kahle, at 123 Bay-street. Henry answers pretty well to the description given of the unknown man. He is about 47 years of age, with grey mustache, and what little hair he has is grey. Henry formerly worked for Judge Lewis of Lewiston, as gardener, and was brought over here by Mr. Kahle yesterday and proposed to take the steamer Empress of India to return to Lewiston. Henry's working clothes were of a dark color, but he may have changed them before leaving here. He was considerably addicted to drink.

A FATAL SHOOTING,

Andrew Legault the Victim of a Ridiculous-Know-It-Was-Loaded Accident.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—A fatal shooting affair took place this morning at about 9.30 at St. Anne De Bellevue, in the house of Mr. J. F. Spence, a farmer. The hired man, Alexander Legault, about 22 years of age, and the servant girl, Miss Godin, 19 years of age, were looking at an old gun which had not been used for many years, and which was generally supposed to be unloaded. The weapon was discharged, the contents passing through the young man's heart. He died instantly.

It does not seem to be known in whose hands the weapon was when the accident happened.

The Star's cable says: The condition of Archbishop Machray of Rupert's Land, and Primate of Canada, is not so serious as the private advices received in Montreal indicated. His Grace returned yesterday after five weeks' recruiting in Cornwall and Gloucestershire, and is very much better. He walked out to-day, and expects to return to Canada in June.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. TORONTO.—The Dominion W.C.T.U. delegates from every portion of Canada to the tenth convention opened yesterday at 9 o'clock and held a consecration meeting before entering upon the business work of the convention.

The convention was called to order before 10 o'clock by the Dominion President, Mrs. Archibald.

Her address to the World's W. C. T. U. was then presented.

A hearty welcome was extended by the city ministers to the visitors, especially to the delegates from the sister province, Manitoba.

The report of the Department of Scientific Instruction, read by Mrs. Cromwell, Cromwell, proved that this department realized the value of prevention rather than cure in children by proper training.

Stanstead, Que., presented a fine exhibition and fair work, in which stood forward. At 26 of our branches the W. C. T. U. have been receiving of which refreshments have been served, the net proceeds therefrom amounting to $177. Literature was distributed, including 4850 pages, and 1,000 The Templar were distributed.

Mrs. Chase of New Westminster, B.C., read from the Purity Department.

Miss Florence Bible Woman of Toronto made 6,000 visits to immoral houses and received from these places 1,000 letters to their friends in Ontario and various parts of Canada at a cost of $23. One of the houses in the city, frequented by men and white women, has been entered so that some of the girls found to be connected, yet fallen so low.

This afternoon session, Miss Wiggins, the World's Convention Counsellor, bade a hearty welcome to the delegates, and in a brief address, emphasized the importance of every endeavor to make the coming election a prohibition triumph.

The treasurer's statement, presented by Miss Dickie, showed total receipts of $5,15.20, and $721.33.

Miss Dickie of Moncton, N.B., read the report. The present membership of the Dominion is 10,101, being an increase of 1,012 for the year; 62 new unions have been organized. Some 183 Bands of Hope belong to the Dominion Union, with 6,000 members. The annual income of the unions in British Columbia not reaching $2559.74; 1376 signatures have been added to the abstinence pledge; 47 unions formed during the year.

Mrs. Cromwell read an interesting and faithful report of juvenile work.

Mrs. Rutherford, the president, was listened to with the utmost attention throughout her inaugural address, during which time Mrs. Youmans took the chair.

A hearty vote of thanks was gratefully tendered the president for her address.

Mrs. Dixon Craig, M.P., said a few words to the ladies, and, though his sympathies were with them on temperance, he was sorry to say, in the presence of the fair sex, that he was not with them on the question of woman suffrage, but perhaps, he might be converted before the close of the convention. He was himself in favor of prohibition.

In the Evening Session.

After preliminary invocations the chair handed the meeting over to Dr. Theodore Allen, who spoke of the three lines of work—legislative, reformatory and educational—in which the purity branch of work dealt, and introduced Miss Willard.

The president of the World's W.C.T.U. arrived to-night, and when her work is finished has to speak in Buffalo at the annual W.C.T.U. convention, and has therefore confined herself to a little address, saluting with sisters and sisters of the larger hope." She said that the meeting had gathered principle that, although "the darkest when no man pursueth," yet the dawn came a great deal faster when somebody helped them. There were those in close touch who worked with a motherly hand on mother's shoulder, and with a heavenly Father who is the only source of power. She told of a little boy who, looking at an atlas had told his mother he was unable to find a map of heaven. He could have been told that the places above were countries where there was no rum and alcohol was licensed, and where people even thought of saloons as the greatest irregularity known to the human race.

"Abolitionists," she proclaimed, "the ribboners were bound to demolish the liquor traffic, the liquor traffic and vice, their second nature which was to them. It was their nature, the very blood and the granite in their soul which was inspiring them to do unflinching. Miss Willard spoke of the great work carried on by Dr. Mary Dixon Craig, the publishing house. She told how Editor W. T. Stead had placed the columns at their disposal when the people of Britain had been aroused and the Women's Protective Association formed. Concluding, she expressed her joy at being on the platform with Mrs. Rutherford and Dr. Woodsworth Allen. "I come," said she, "to shake hands with my dear sisters in Canada, who look so much like my own people that I didn't know when I had crossed the line."

Miss Willard's concluding remarks, like those in introduction, were deservedly greeted.

Mrs. Ada Marian Hughes followed with a paper on "The Co-operation of Mothers and Teachers in the Training of Pure Men and Women."

Mrs. Amelia Yeomans dealt on "Methods of Treatment of Outcast Girls."

Mrs. Charlton Edholm, Chicago, made a strong appeal for aid for the Florence Crittenden Missions. "Girls," she claimed, "are not in lives of shame because they want to be."

Mrs. John Harvie of this city was heard on behalf of dependent children.

The concluding address came from the lips of Rev. C. A. Eaton, who would set about reformation from a sociological standpoint. He would enact laws to give girls who made but $2.50 a week, and had to dress well, enough to live on, and it would be easy to save them. He would remove the double standard of morality and set up a standard in literature and art, which would tend to elevate and not to tickle our sensuality.

PEAS SPROUTED IN HER NOSE.

Barbaric Cruelty to a Girl in Quebec Bad Case of Stepmother The Monsters Found Guilty.

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 20.—The jury, after a trial of eight days, found the accused father and stepmother in the Laplerre case guilty, but with a recommendation to mercy. The charge was an attempt to murder the little girl, Celina.

The poor child's story, as told on the witness stand, and corroborated by prominent farmers, the priest and several well-known physicians, is as follows:

"My mother is dead, and I have been in a convent at Arthabaska till last winter when my father brought me home. At first, although I had never seen my stepmother and brothers and sisters, the latter all younger than myself, they seemed pleased to see me, but they soon changed. My mother took my clothing away and gave me a calico dress, without any underclothing, which I had to wear all winter. She would never let me wear shoes or stockings, and in the coldest weather (that means about 20 below zero) I had to go out barefooted through the snow to do my work.

"They soon made me do all the work. I had to clean the entire house, clean the dishes and pans, scrub the floors, wash the clothes, chop and carry in the wood and feed the animals on the farm. I was never allowed to come downstairs except to work and to eat one meal a day, which consisted of a crust of dry bread and dry potatoes. I slept all winter in the garret, which had great big cracks in the wooden walls, through which the wind and the snow came.

"Soon after I had arrived the children began to beat me and treat me very badly. Why, I do not know. My stepmother used to encourage them, and often took part herself in ill-treating me.

"She used to beat me almost every day with a great big stick of firewood, and one day, after my brother Francois had stuck a pen up one side of my nose, she threw me down on the sofa and put two peas up the other side, stuffing them in with a pencil. They caused me the most terrible pain, especially when they began to grow and sprout, and almost prevented me from breathing. I think my father and stepmother wanted me to die, for one night when I was up in the garret trying to sleep upon the cold, bare floor, for they would not give me a bed or bedclothes, I heard my mother tell my father about the peas. He said, 'Put some more up her nose, and they will sprout and grow in her brain, and that will kill her.' Another time, when a calf had died, I heard him say to my mother downstairs, 'I would much rather that Celina had died than the calf.'

"My young brother Francois was the worst, and he used to treat me badly all the time, the girls helping him, and my stepmother looking on and laughing. They often knocked me down, and they often tied my head in a bag and let me fall everywhere and hurt myself terribly. Once Francois made the girls hold me while he stuck a piece of red hot charcoal in my mouth and burned my tongue so that I could not eat for days afterward. My brother Henri was not so very bad, but he used to tie a string around my tongue and let all the other children pull at it. One night in the winter I froze one of my feet in the garret, but my mother said it was nothing, and a few nights after I froze the other. They did nothing for me, and made me go out and work just the same. Then I got sick and two of my toes dropped off, and when they finally took me away to the hospital at Sherbrooke, the doctors wanted to cut off two more, but I was too weak, and they said I was going to die, but they cut them off when I got a little stronger."

The poor little girl, when she was taken away from her cruel parents, was a mass of bruises and wounds and reduced to a skeleton from lack of nourishment and exposure. There was some talk at one time of lynching the parents.

THE CITY OF TORONTO

Collingwood, Oct. 20.—During a heavy thunderstorm here this evening the steamer City of Toronto, returning with an excursion to Penetanguishene, was struck by lightning, which went through the boat. The damage to the steamer was very slight.

Findlay Campbell, a cattle buyer, of Stayner, stepped in front of the way freight returning from the Collingwood meat factory and was dangerously injured. He is being attended by Dr. Stephens.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Wickworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complication of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

DOMINION W.C.T.U.

Opening of the Tenth Convention in the Queen City.

ADDRESS BY MISS FRANCES WILLARD

Reports and Speeches by Women Who Have Made Many Phases of Life a Special Study—Great Meetings in the Pavilion—Work of the Union in Canada.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—The Dominion W.C.T.U. had delegates from every portion of Canada when the tenth convention opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and held a consecration meeting before entering upon the three days' work of the convention.

The meeting was called to order before 10 o'clock by the Dominion President, Mrs. A. O. Rutherford.

Many delegates to the World's W. C. T. U. were also present.

A gracious welcome was extended by the president to the visitors, especially to the Australian delegation, coming from a sister colony so far away.

The report of the Department of Scientific Temperance Instruction, read by Mrs. Bigelow of Cornwall, proved that this branch has realized the value of preventing intemperance in children by proper teaching.

Mrs. Rugg of Stanstead, Que., presented a report on exhibition and fair work, in which Ontario stood forward. At 26 of our country fairs has the W. C. T. U. been represented, at nine of which refreshments were served, the net proceeds therefrom amounting to $177. Literature was distributed at 17 fairs, including 4850 pages, and 200 pounds of The Templar were distributed.

Mrs. Cunningham of New Westminster, B. C., reported from the Purity Department.

"The Temperance Bible Woman of Montreal has made 6,- visits to immoral houses. Girls rescued from these places have been sent home to their friends in the city, to Ontario and various parts of the States, one at a cost of $23. One of the worst haunts in the city, frequented by colored men and white women, has been broken up, where so of the girls found were well connected, yet fallen so low.

At the afternoon session, Miss Wiggins, chairman of the World's Convention Committee, extended a hearty welcome to the visiting delegates, and in a brief address, following, emphasized the importance of putting forth every endeavor to make the coming plebiscite a prohibition triumph.

The treasurer's statement, presented by Mrs. Tilton, showed total receipts $1045.20, amount on hand $721.33.

Mrs. Atkinson of Moncton, N.B., read the secretary's report. The present membership of the Dominion is 10,101, being an increase of 1712 for the year; 62 new unions have been organized. Some 183 Bands of Hope belong to the Dominion Union, with 9780 members. The annual income of provincial unions (British Columbia not reporting) is $2559.74; 1376 signatures have been obtained to the abstinence pledge; 47 members died during the year.

Miss Tilley read an interesting and favorable report of juvenile work.

Mrs. Rutherford, the president, was listened to with the utmost attention throughout her annual address, during which time Dr. Yeomans took the chair.

A standing vote of thanks was gratefully given the president for her address.

Mr. T. Dixon Craig, M.P., said a few words to the ladies, and, though his sympathies were with them on temperance, he had the nerve to say, in the presence of hundreds of the sex, that he was not with them in regard to woman suffrage, but that, perhaps, he might be converted before the close of the convention. He announced himself in favor of prohibition.

The Evening Session.

After the preliminary invocations the president handed the meeting over to Dr. Mary Wood-Allen, who spoke of the three methods of work—legislative, reformatory and educational—in which the purity branch of the union dealt, and introduced Miss Willard.

The President of the World's W.C.T.U. is to speak to-night, and when her work is over in Toronto has to speak in Buffalo at the American W.C.T.U. convention, and Miss Willard therefore confined herself to a pleasant little address, saluting with "Brothers and sisters of the larger hope." She remarked that the meeting had gathered on the principle that, although "the wicked flee when no man pursueth," yet they run a good deal faster when somebody was after them. There were those in close pursuit who worked with a motherly hand upon mother's shoulders and with a heart lifted up to Him who is the only source of power. She told of a little boy who, intently looking at an atlas had told his mother that he was unable to find a map of Christendom. He could have been told that in Christendom were countries where the sale of opium and alcohol was licensed, and where some people even thought of sanctioning the greatest irregularity known to the human race.

"We are abolitionists," she proclaimed. The white ribboners were bound to demolish the opium traffic, the liquor traffic and vice. It wasn't their second-nature which was prompting them. It was their nature, the love in their blood and the granite in their spinal column which was inspiring them to effort. Continuing, Miss Willard spoke of the beneficent work carried on by Dr. Mary Wood-Allen's publishing house. She told how Editor W. T. Stead had pinched his columns at their request when the people of Britain had been aroused and the Woman's Protective Association formed. Concluding, she expressed her joy at being on the platform with Mrs. Rutherford and Dr. Wood Allen. "I come," said she, "to shake hands with my dear cousins in Canada, who look so much like my own people that I didn't know when I had crossed the line."

Miss Willard's concluding remarks, like those in introduction, were deservedly greeted.

Mrs. Ada Marian Hughes followed with a paper on "The Co-operation of Mothers and Teachers in the Training of Pure Men and Women."

Mrs. Amelia Yeomans dealt on "Methods of Treatment of Outcast Girls."

Mrs. Charlton Edholm, Chicago, made a strong appeal for aid for the Florence Crittenden Missions. "Girls," she claimed, "are not in lives of shame because they want to be."

Mrs. John Harvie of this city was heard on behalf of dependent children.

The concluding address came from the lips of Rev. C. A. Eaton, who would set about reformation from a sociological standpoint. He would enact laws to give girls who made but $2 50 a week, and had to dress well, enough to live on, and it would be easy to save them. He would remove the double standard of morality and set up a standard in literature and art, which would tend to elevate and not to tickle our sensuality.

MULTITUDES MEET MOODY.

THE WORK OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.

The Two Great Meetings Which Were Held Yesterday.

MR MOODY'S EARNEST APPEAL.

Fully Fifteen Hundred People Signify Their Willingness to Receive the Holy Ghost—A Great Testimony to the Power of Moody—In the Afternoon His Exhortation to Prayer was Even More Powerful Than His Evening Address.

"This preliminary service to the address of Mr. Moody," explained Rev. S.J.Shorey, at the George street Methodist Church, yesterday afternoon, "is not arranged for the purpose of accommodating those so desirous of getting comfortable seats, but rather that by the time the great evangelist arrives, those present may be in a receptive state of mind for the truths which he is come to tell us."

With these few remarks a song and prayer service was commenced at half past three o'clock and continued until the arrival of Mr. Moody. There were many of the clergy from every portion of the county present, as well as large numbers of the citizens from Lindsay, Omemee, Lakefield, Millbrook, Hastings and Norwood.

Amongst those assisting in the preliminary meeting were Rev. D. O. Crossley, Rev. Roger Allen, Bethany. Rev. J. A. McCamus, Norwood; Rev. C. E. McLeod, Gilmour Memorial Baptist church. J. L. Hughes, Rev. S. J. Shorey and Rev. W. G. Clarke, Belleville.

BY TWO O'CLOCK

in the afternoon several hundred citizens were already seated in the church, and by three the body was entirely filled and the galleries begining to get crowded. Half an hour later and nearly all the draw seats were in use and by the time that the Evangelist arrived there was an immense crowd present.

Mr. Moody was met at the C.P.R. station at 4 10 p.m. by Revs. Torrance, Potter Dykeman and Bennett, and escorted to the church. He was accompanied by Mr. J. H. Burke, of whose singing too much cannot be said, his voice besides being exceptionally clear and well trained, possesses an amount of sympathy quite indescribable. His first song was rendered, immediately after the arrival at the church and was one of the new hymns the words of which are appended:

A NEW HYMN.

The home land! O the home land! the land of the free born!
There's no night in the home land, but aye the fadeless morn;
I'm sighing for the home land, my heart is aching here;
There is no pain in the home land, to which I'm drawing near.

My Lord is in the home land, with angels bright and fair;
There's no sin in the home land, and no temptation there;
The music of the home land is ringing in my ears;
And when I think of the home land my eyes are filled with tears.

My loved ones in the home land are waiting me to come,
Where neither death nor sorrow invades their holy home;
O dear, dear native country; O rest and peace above;
Christ, bring us all to home land, of Thy redeeming love.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, who was at one time associated with Mr. Moody in evangelistic work in Scotland, led in prayer, after which rose and announced that the subject of his address would be "Prayer." He had often said that he would far rather be able to pray, like Daniel than to preach like Gabriel. There never had been a great wrought for God unless it was preceded by prayer.

Every event in the life of Jesus Christ had been preceded by prayer. Before the the selection of the twelve there had been prayer and this, too, had been the case before the sermon on the mount. When He was baptized there had been prayer, and there had been prayer before the transfiguration on the mount. In answer to prayer at the baptism there had been heard a voice from heaven saying: "This is my beloved Son."

So if we are going to hear from heaven during my stay here, continued Mr. Moody, it will only be in answer to earnest prayer. A bed-ridden saint in her chamber can accomplish as much there as any minister in town.

One day when I was preaching in London, the first service

WAS A COLD ONE.

The atmosphere was not congenial, yet in the evening there came a marvellous change and the people rose in hundreds, when asked which of them who were sinners desired to live a changed life. It seemed as though there must have been some mistake, as nothing before had I seen like it. A repetition of the question, however, and an invitation to adjourn to the chapel with them brought fully four hundred forth. I went away from the town, but had to come back again so great an effect had been produced. The meetings held were even larger than when I had been there first.

The secret of it all lay in the fact that a member of the church, who had cast aside deeper feelings for years one day felt cast down that she had not done more for the the church. She thought that she could at leeast pray more, and seeing the accounts in the papers of the work I was doing she began to pray the Lord to send Moody to her church. When her sister returned from the church on this particular Sabbath and told her of what had occurred she turned pale and said it was the answer to her prayer, and spent the rest of the day in close communion with her Maker.

Mr. Moody had no doubt that it was her prayers which brought about the great blessing. That had made her voice reach God, and He had opened up the flood-gates of His love. It was through this circumstance that he and Mr. Sankey felt encouraged to return again to England.

The field here, said he, is just as ripe for prayer.

The evangelist then spoke on the attitudes that qualify for prayer.

If one felt discouraged, as a Christian, by reviewing carefully the fault would be found at your own door.

There must first be Adoration. Job was a great man to argue and he generally got the best of it, but when he got sight of God he abhorred himself and his arguments and grovelled in the dust. It was when abhorrence of self was in his face that God talked with him.

Then there must be Confession. When our prayers don't reach higher than our heads then there must be something wrong. We must confess and mak restitution. The trouble lies in the secret sin around our hearts that we are not willing to put away. When certain men get up in church to pray the women shrug their shoulders. They know of

in his life. Unconfessed sin in the soul is a foreign element and man has no power whilst that is there. "Physician heal thyself." It would be a good thing if we would hold a prayer meeting for ourselves sometimes. As a woman said, who suddenly realized her unconfessed fault, "My conscience marched up and down my soul and gave it the greatest lashing it ever had."

The evangelist then told a simple little story of a fashionable woman who was convinced that she had been standing in her husband's way and proving a stumbling block to him, and worked into it some of the thoughts and wonderfully stirring impressions which probe the hearts and souls of his hearers, and have attained the grand results which attend his efforts in evangelistic work.

The next element to prayer is Restitution. If I, said he, have a dollar of any one's else, my prayers will never reach higher than my head. If you want God to forgive you and answer your prayers, you must make restitution. It won't do to give it to the church if you take something which isn't your own. God doesn't want anything which doesn't belong to you:

IT IS AN INSULT

to offer it. Think a minute. Have you ever slandered anyone's character and brought sorrow into their life. If so, have you made reparation? You cannot expect an answer to prayer until you do. Prayer to God will not mend matters. He will not straighten out anything which you can straighten out yourself. When you have done all that you can do, then ask Him to do the rest.

Then there is Forgiveness. He forgives us only on condition that we forgive. If some one has done me an unforgiven, mean turn, I am a contemptible wretch if I ask God to forgive me a thousand sins when I will not forgive this one. No heart is right that has an unforgiving spirit. You can cultivate hate if you want to, but you will be a blasted tree in the desert with no fruit on you.

Another element to true prayer is a spirit of Unity. Did you ever hear of the Holy Ghost working where there was a fued in the church or where even the choir was not in unity? In going to a town if I only get one church I cannot do much. Two churches, however, help a little, but then there is an outpouring of the spirit. What we want is to get united in spirit. Take a small stick and you can easily break it, but bind it up with a thousand others and no power on earth can snap it. I don't believe that it is the will of God that Satan should go into our homes and haul our children out into drunkards' graves, but what we want is to be united or we will never prevent it.

Then another element is Thanksgiving—with thanksgiving let your prayers be given to God. Your hear some people complaining all the time. It is hard to do anything for a person who will never be grateful for it. A child of God should be full of joy and gladness. A smile begets a smile and a frown a frown. One snappy person in a family will spoil the tempers of all.

Perseverance is another element to prayer. Christ says "Pray without ceasing." He encourages importunity. Importunity has three names—asking, seeking and knocking. If we do not receive what we ask for and if denied then we must knock. There is no date in Heaven and we must not think that our prayers are not going to be answered because they are not answered at once. If they are not answered today they will be to-morrow, and if not to-morrow then next week, and if not then next month, but we must keep right at it.

Another element is Faith—After I have done what the Lord has told me then I must expect an an answer to my prayer. Moses entreated the Lord to let him go over into the promised land. The prayer was not answered the way he wanted it to be, but 1,500 years later we find Moses on the Mount of Transfiguration. Wasn't that better than letting him go out like Joshua and have to fight his way.

If my child asks my razor do I give it to him; yet a great many of God's people ask for razors and then cry because they can't get them.

Paul prayed that the Lord might take the thorn from his flesh. This was refused, but he was given power.

Other elements, concluded the speaker, are petition and submission, but on those I have no time to speak this afternoon.

THE EVENING MEETING.

The assemblage in the George street church in the evening was something unparalleled in the history of Peterborough religious services. Every inch of standing room was utilized and people crowded into every nook and corner of the big building anxious to catch a word from the earnest evangelist. The surrounding towns and villages were even more largely represented than in the afternoon, and some familiar faces were seen from the far back country.

The opening devotional services were taken by Rev. S. J. Shorey, pastor of the church, and Rev. C. E. McLeod, of the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church. Under the leadership of Mr. J. H. Burke, the choir sang several hymns, and Mr. Burke also sang some of the new hymns.

Mr. Moody in opening, called the attention of the audience to the work of the Holy Spirit.

If he asked why Jesus Christ came into the world he could easily get an answer, but if he asked something of the Holy Spirit he knew many would be puzzled.

Yet, said he, we are living in the day of His dispensation. He was sent into the world by Jesus Christ.

It is a work distinct from the Father and the Son. The Father has His work, the Son has His work, and the Holy Ghost has His work.

For ten years after I was in the church I knew nothing of His work. I used to speak of it the influence of love and mercy. Jesus Christ always speaks of Him as a Person, never as an influence. Look at John xiv, 17—

AS AN INFLUENCE—

"Even the spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you."

There is sufficient evidence of personality in this one verse, for the Holy Spirit is spoken of three times as "Him" and once as "He."

He would call attention to the office of the Holy Ghost. First of all it was to convict the world of sin. We would have a different state of affairs in our church if we could recognize the fact that He is the Convictor. A minister cannot convict, no matter how eloquent. It takes the Holy Ghost to convince a man of sin—of the many sins, including the worst, namely, unbelief. Through unbelief came murder, theft, drunkenness and other terrible sins. Unbelief was the mother of all of these. What an influence religion would have if unbelief could but be put away. One reason why some people did not attend religious meetings was that they did not want to be convinced of their sins. He rather liked people to come to his meetings and go away swearing and enraged. It was a good sign—showed they had been touched—that the words

HAD GONE HOME.

Mr. Moody instanced a man in Philadelphia who sulked for a whole week after attending one of his meetings, and then asked his wife why on earth she had either told, written to, or got some one else to tell Mr. Moody all about him. The man had thought that Mr. Moody's remarks were directed at him and him alone. The average sinner, however, was a very generous man—he was always willing to pass a sermon on to anyone else than himself, but the above instance was an evidence of the Holy Spirit at work. He said, "Thou art the man!"

After a man has been wounded and is willing to give up his sins then the Spirit pours in the love of God.

If you tell an unconverted man to forgive his enemies and pray for them that persecute him he will think you are crazy. But when the Holy Ghost pours the love of Jesus Christ in his heart he is willing, with the Saviour, to say, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

IT IS EASY ENOUGH

to love anything lovable—a pagan can do that. But the rub comes in when you try to love a crooked person, one who does mean things to you.

It is easy to reach persons if you can once convince them that you love them. A man is not fit for God's service unless he is filled with love.

A man may be a successful lawyer and have no love for his client, or a successful merchant and have no love for his customer, but a man cannot be a successful saver of souls unless his own soul is overflowing with love.

I don't mean this duty love that one hears so much about. A man's wife would think it odd if her husband loved her because it was his duty, or if he loved his children for the same reason. Don't let us work out of a sense of duty. Let's get on higher level in worshipping our God.

Now let us speak of Hope. It is a sign of backsliding when a man loses hope. If you are discouraged and lose heart you will fall away. What we want is hopeful Christians. If it was black as midnight all around I could not be a pessimest. The Holy Spirit imparted hope. He never saw a man filled with the Spirit of God who was not hopeful. Such a man could not be a pessimist if he tried. Mr. Moody then spoke of the evils of discouragement, illustrating his views with

SOME INTERESTING ANECDOTES.

It was not the will of God that a man should lose heart. If one felt discouraged one should avoid looking on the dark side of things for the kingdom of God, as prayed for in the Lord's prayer would surely come upon the earth.

Then the spirit of God gives liberty. Have you liberty in Peterborough? Have you ever gone to your Bible class without liberty to say what you wish? Have you ever gone into your pulpit without having the liberty you required to get at the hearts of your congregation?

The fault does not always lie with the minister. It lies in the pew. The atmosphere is not right. "I cannot say a word unless the atmosphere is right. I am helpless if an audience assembles "just to see how Moody does it."

This was the age of criticism and many people went to church to criticise. A man may say a hundred good things in the pulpit and one bad one. People will ignore the hundred good things, but jump upon him unmercifully on account of the one bad one. There was none of this spirit of criticism to be observed in the Bible. When Peter, on the day of Pentecost, spoke, being filled

WITH THE HOLY GHOST,

the other apostles did not make any critical comment upon his style, logic or the want of it and so forth. Mr. Moody illustrated this had it been possible in a very apt manner. Again, no one went up to Peter as they had often come to h (Mr. Moody) to ask what was the secret of his success? Peter would probably have told them, as he, Mr. Moody, had told such questioners, to go to work and god out. That critical spirit must go out of people; picking a minister to pieces was not a way to strengthen and encourage him. A minister would never break down if his congregation consisted of godly persons who prayed for him, instead of criticising him. The Holy Spirit worked wonders. Men filled with the Holy Spirit preached pure and simple Christianity which many pastors of to-day did not do. Many preached geology, history—anything but Christianity. One only had to pick up a Monday newspaper in which sermons were reported to be convinced of this fact. It

"No heart is right that has an unforgiving spirit."

"You can cultivate hate if you want to, ut you will be a blasted tree in the desert with no fruit on you."

"A man is not fit for God's service unless he is filled with love."

"Some men complain that their field is not large enough. The field is always the same size as the man. It is a small man who says his field is too small."

"When certain men get up to pray in church, the women shrug their shoulders. They know of unrepaired wrongs in his life."

"It would be a good thing if we would hold a prayer meeting for ourselves sometimes."

"Did you ever hear of the Holy Ghost working where was a feud in the church, or where the choir was not in unity?"

"It is hard to do anything for a person who will never be grateful for it."

REMEMBER THE PLACE—416 George St.

HAD TWO HUSBANDS.

And Was Suing the Second for not Supporting Her.

There was a very peculiar ending to the case in which William Moffat was charged with non-support of his wife in the police court this morning.

The evidence of Mrs. Moffat was taken, in which she stated that she was married a year ago last June to Moffat. During her married life she had only received ten dollars in money from him and was only provided with the bare necessities of life, having meat probably once a week. She had contributed toward the support of the household herself by taking in washing. At times her husband had boarded away from home, leaving her to shift for herself. She had two children by a former husband.

So far the evidence was of the usual routine character, but something spicy was expected when, on Mr. D. O'Connell rising to cross-examine the witness for the defence, she asked that the court room be cleared.

As there was no provision for such action the audience was permitted to remain.

Mr. O'Connell first asked the witness how long her first husband had been dead.

"Eight years!" she replied, but immediately took it back and stated that, as far as she knew he was still alive.

This made quite a sensation in the Court room, as did the account of the affair, which she related to the magistrate.

She stated that her first husband, George Mann, was from Cincinnati. His brother had married her sister and after going with the witness two years George married her and and they lived together for five years. He then left her and went back to the United States, and she learned afterwards that he had another wife living and had gone back to claim her under the belief that if he stayed away for over eleven years, he would lose his right to take her. Witness then waited for a number of years, but finally married the prisoner, Wm. Moffat.

On hearing this story County Crown Attorney Wood decided to drop the case, stating that he had been unacquainted with the facts as just told by the witness.

The complainant was then informed by the magistrate that she had no claim whatever on the prisoner, unless she could prove that the first marriage of her former husband was a legal one, and consequently the one to her, illegal. At present, as the matter stood, she herself was amenable to the law for having two husbands.

The woman stated that she would be pleased enough to be rid of Moffat, but that he was giving her a hard name around town and thus preventing her from getting get work. She was told that if this was continued she could get redress in the police court. The case was then dismissed.

AT Small Expense a Harvest Of Profit is Reaped.

The wonderful Diamond Dyes have long ago reached the highest point of fame and popularity. They are called into use in the homes of all classes in Canada, and have always been true to name and give the most unbounded satisfaction. It is as easy to dye a dress, coat, vest or pair of trousers with Diamond Dyes as to wash any of these garments.

With the Diamond Dyes—so easy to use—there is no necessity for sending work to the city steam dyeing establishments where you pay from $1.50 to $2.00 for work that you can do in your home at a cost of from ten to twenty cents.

Home dyeing with Diamond Dyes is always successful; when cheap imitation package dyes are used, failure and loss of time and money is the reward. See that the name Diamond Dyes is on every package you buy.

W. H. MELDRUM.

HONOURABLY ACQUITTED.

Harry Labelle was not Guilty of Theft in Connection With the Bowman Robbery.

This morning the evidence for the defence was called in the Labelle case, but by the way the magistrate asked Mr. O'Connell if he intended to produce any it was apparent that it was not needed, that adduced by the prosecution on Tuesday not connecting the prisoner with the crime in any way.

Joseph Wilkins, the first witness for the defence, testified that at ten minutes to eight a.m. on Friday he had gone into the barroom of the Oxford Hotel and asked for Harry Labelle. At that time R. N. Roddy was standing on the rung of a chair in front of the pyramid of cigar boxes. He had one door of the case open. He was not waiting on any customer at the time.

Thos. R. Campbell swore that he was in the bar with two other men on Friday evening when Roddy went out to supper. Labell was in the bar. Someone asked for an Eight Hour cigar and Labelle went to the pyramid of cigar boxes for one. He saw Roddy on Monday at noon and from his conduct judged he was intoxicated. Saw him drink three whiskies in Bowman's.

Addie Rowe testified to seeing the prisoner come from behind the bar on Friday evening, but stated that he had nothing like the missing money box in his hand.

Wm. Morton said that Mr. Bowman had told him the Tuesday before the robbery where the money was kept.

R.N. Roddy being recalled, stated that it was untrue that he had a stool behind the bar.

Councillor McWilliams was on the bench with Mr. Dumble, and both agreed that no evidence had been produced which could in any way connect Labelle with the robbery, and he was accordingly acquitted, and the court room was the scene of quite a demonstration amongst his many friends.

SAYS HE WAS DESERTED.

Little Percy Milligan, Formerly of Town, Beats his way Home From Winnipeg.

Policeman McGinty picked up a queer little chap last night on the street. He landed in town on the nine o'clock train and is about the smartest kid that ever spent the night in the cooler.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milligan, who left here a little over three years ago for the Northwest, and who were both members of the Methodist church in good standing. They came to Peterborough from Warkworth and Mr. Milligan was in the blacksmithing business. Two of Mrs. Milligan's brothers are well known in town, being Mr. Charles Fisher, the market gardener, and Mr. James Fisher, who has a small farm out near Auburn.

The lad's story is an odd one, and is evidently manufactured out of whole cloth. He states that shortly after leaving Peterborough, his parents took up residence just three stations this side of Winnipeg. Here they lived for a few months, but on returning home one day, the lad says he found the house empty and learned that his parents had left town. Being abandoned, he states that he then went to Winnipeg and has lived there for nearly three years, making his living by begging. That the little lad is sharp enough to do this, there is no doubt, but the neatness of his clothing, etc all bears evidence to a mother's care.

He says further that he left Winnipeg the day before yesterday and beat his way along the line to Toronto. The returning harvesters from the Northwest fed him along the way in return for services in the way of procuring hot water for tea, etc., for them. Arriving in Toronto, the lad took the Grand Trunk as far as Orillia, but states that the conductor put him off there and that some one gave him a pass to Peterborough.

Mr. F. W. Miller, the Children's Aid Society's agent, has Percy now in charge, and as soon as feasible will turn the nine year old traveller over to his relatives.

The theory is that probably his parents have punished the youngster for some fault and he has run away from home. That it is not long since he left his parents is evidenced by the fact that when asked by an old friend of the family if the baby could walk yet, the lad stated quite promptly, "Oh! yes, and yet the baby was only in swaddling clothes when it left here.

Doubtless his parents are by this time very anxious about their boy.

BOARD OF TRADE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see that W. H. Lever, the big English soap manufacturer, arrived in New York yesterday. He has come to establish a factory in the United States and another in this country for the manufacture of his "Sunlight," and other soaps. Where is our Board of Trade, which makes such a splurge on paper? I hope it wont awake after the factory is established elsewhere.

ANOTHER GRUMBLE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—Will you kindly call the attention of the proper individual to the propriety of sending an army of men along the sidewalks here, there and everywhere through the town and gently tap the thousand and one or more protruding nails which have been allowed for some months past to be the means of injury to to all kinds of footwear that have unfortunately come into contact with them. Complaints have been many, but these do not seem to have reached the proper ear, so perhaps this may reach the proper eye and be the means of having the nuisance dispensed with.

Yours,
PEDESTRIAN.

—The Fourth Conference of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough will be held in Lindsay on Nov. 16th and 17th.

—The Canadian Express Company will carry parcels of clothing, etc., free to sufferers from fire in Windsor, Nova Scotia.

—Forty of the special hymn books handed out amongst the audience at Mr. Moody's Kington meetings, were—kept well,—and none of the gentlemen residing at the penitentiary were at the meetings either.

—To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar and, incidentally, of the death of Nelson—England's greatest naval victory and England's greatest naval hero. The Old Flag is flying on the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street, in honour of the occasion.

—The Lindsay Post of yesterday says: Fully 150 of our citizens left for Peterborough this morning on the 11 o'clock express to hear Mr. Moody, the celebrated evangelist. A much larger crowd will leave on the special train at 5.30 this evening.

—It is said that the sewer service now being put in on Hunter street, at the foot of Chambers street, was passed by the council a fortnight ago. The ratepayers want to know why the work was postponed until the street was permanently reconstructed. If the city fathers conducted their own business on the same principle that some of the town business is (not) done, they would be in the sheriff's hands right early.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.

Mr R. Wheatley, of the Department of Militia, Ottawa, says in reference to Doan's Kidney Pills that they are the best remedy he ever tried.

Mr Wheatley makes the following statement:

"I suffered a great deal for a long time with severe pains in my back over the kidneys, restless headaches, sleepless and general debility also made life a burden.

"Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try them, seeing that no other remedy had succeeded in my case. Well, from the first a wonderful change took place, and I continued to improve rapidly until, at the end of six weeks, I was cured.

"I now eat well, sleep well, have no pain, dizziness or headache, and am in fact all O. K., thanks to Doan's Pill, which it is needless to say I recommend highly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

A WINNIPEG BAD MAN.

Stabbed an Indian, Who Will Likely Die, Because He Refused to Drink Whiskey.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19. — (Special.) —An Indian named Williams was stabbed by a tough, "Curley" Burns, last evening. Burns was partially intoxicated, and wanted the Indian to take a drink of whisky. The Indian refused, whereupon Burns drew a knift and plunged it into Williams' abdomen, whose bowels were cut and protruded fourteen inches. He is till alive, and made a deposition, charging Burns with the crime at the hospital to-day. Burns was arrested. He is an old jail bird.

Mr. R. J. Anderson of Toronto, who has been visiting Portage la Prairie, died very suddenly there on Monday morning. He had been ill for a considerable period of time, but his sudden demise, caused by a hemmorhage, was totally unexpected.

Bernard Langford, a young English boy, who had his back broken at Edmonton on Friday, while attempting to drive a water cart into a stable, is still living.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

A $15,000 Fire in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Another fire in the heart of the wholesale business districts last night completely gutted the factory building recently purchased from the James Lumbers Company by the H. P. Eckardt Coffin Company. The damage was difficult to ascertain, but it is estimated that it will total $15,000.

The factory was a tall five storey structure, standing in the rear of 51-57 Front-street west. It was almost centrally situated in the block bounded by Front, Bay, Lorne and Esplanade-streets.

The inflammable nature of its contents rendered the destruction of the ramshackle old building a foregone conclusion. When the thick western wall fell at half-past 12, the completeness of the ruin was vividly apparent.

The Eckardt Company had begun only yesterday to install a machinery plant. They had not yet moved in their stock. The only losers on stock were the Shipe Wood Rim Company, who occupied part of the eastern end. At the late hour no definite estimate could be made, but the loss to the building will approximate $7000, and on contents $8000.

Two Years for a Swindler.

Quebec, Oct. 19.—Belval, alias Benancon, the French swindler, was to-day sentenced by Police Mafistrate Chauveau, to two years in the penitentiary. Later it was found that the paper was worthless and his arrest followed.

HOW TO TELL A MAD DOG.

Some Popular Ignorance Upon This Subject Put to Shame.

Rabies does not exist as a disease. And consequently a sick dog does become raved. But the symptoms are far different from the accepted theories of the so-called rabies. The supposed symptoms are entirely fallacious. People have been very much misled by the ignorance of would-be savants.

First of these, it is a popular fallacy that a mad dog froths at the mouth. This is not true. You may be sure that a dog can froth at the mouth but must. There is, however, one sure sign of madness. That is the presence of a thick, coarse, stringy brown mucus clinging to the lips. It is so troublesome to the dog that he spends all his time trying or clinging to wipe or wash it away, if he can reach water.

Then, again, a mad dog does not avoid water, as some people sagely state. His anxiety to get water is so great that when he finally succeeds, he plunges in his whole body up to the ears.

A mad dog never runs. He never demonstrates any unusual anxiety, nor shows any evidence of excitement. He is never agitated; he never hastens at a gallop. He prefers to be alone. He seeks out of the way places, like secluded roads and drags himself along slowly.

A mad dog will never make the first attack. If approached by another dog or human being, he never bites, if the disease is underway. He rather snarls a little, and then resumes his journey toward death.

The dog that rushes frantically up and down a street, yelping and whining is not a mad dog. The mad dog rarely ever utters a sound. When he does, it is a hoarse, strident howl, more pitiful than fierce. He is too preoccupied with his own agony to molest others. A blow will not even arouse him.

If a dog is bitten by another dog that is mad, signs of the disease will not set in for ten days, says The Chicago Times-Herald. The symptoms of the approaching disease are not generally known. They are similar to the following: The dog will first become exceeding restless. He will get up and lie down repeatedly, changing his position angrily, rolling over from side to side, and constantly licking his head and body. In the first stage of the disease, he will be more irritable than later on, and he will snap constantly at objects that approach him, and even at imaginary objects. His thirst becomes excruciating from day to day, and he never ceases to lap all the water within reach. Large granular swellings will then make their appearance about his mouth and throat and heavy brown mucus will be discharged freely. If permited to leave the house, he will stray away from home, and probably never return, preferring absolute solitude. He will probably seek the open country rather than remain in city streets. In the early stages of the disease the dog is ferocious and will bite. But in the latter stages he will molest neither man nor beast, but wandering off, despised and alone, he seeks some thickly grown corn or wheat field. Then laying down his feverish head between his tired paws, he dies within a day or two afterward.

Air to Distance Steam.

The air age is about to begin. On the third track between the two regular tracks, just south of the Rector street station of the Sixth Avenue Elevated Railroad, the air motor, which is shortly to be tried on the elevated road, is now receiving the finishing touches preparatory to the coming trial, writes a New York corespondent of The Pittsburg Dispatch. The motor does not differ much in general appearance from an ordinary locomotive. It has about the same sized engineer's cab, and what looks like a boiler, though it is not a boiler, but a place for the storing of compressed air. The chief difference is in the absence of a smokestack. The new idea in locomotion is in good condition for a fair trial. About 1300 pounds of compressed air has been put into it. When the motor is run it will carry 2000 pounds of compressed air. The air is obtained from a pipe connecting with a compressed air station in Greenwich street, which the Air Power Company has constructed. To charge the motor with 2000 pounds of compressed air takes about the same time as to put water into an ordinary engine, or something under a minute. The 2000 pounds, it is said, will run the motor for an hour, or long enough to make the trip from the Battery to One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street.

The new motor will be quietly tested in a night or two, and the regular trial, which is expected to take the motor over the whole length of the elevated system, will follow. The Air Power Company officers are very sanguine as to its success. The motor has already been run successfully at Rome, N.Y., where it was built. It is the first motor of the kind to be built in this country for use on a regular railroad, though air motors have ben run on some French railroads. One man, it is said, can easily operate the air machine, though, to avoid risk of accident, two men are likely to be placed upon a locomotive. And other surprises are in the air.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Beans in Wet Seasons.

The season so far has been unusually wet, and as it injures beans to cultivate among them, while either the soil or their leaves are wet, it is likely that there will be many weedy bean fields and a light crop. A little mud on the leaf of a bean is likely to cause rust, while if it falls on a blossom, that blossom is thereafter blighted. It is for this reason that beans in a wet season do best on gravelly soil, though the crop is one which phosphate greatly benefits.

A Fly Preventive.

A very weak dilution of carbolic acid will keep flies off from cows in hot weather. The carbolic acid may be made stronger and mixed with some grease to put around the cows' horns, as the horn fly is more persistent in its attacks at this point, and there is no danger of the acid here where the cow cannot get at it to lick it. No cow likes the odor of carbolic acid.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak organs. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks, and I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you no fee or recompense. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 34, St. Henri, Que.

TRUE EDUCATION.

Report of a Friendly Discussion With a Kernel in It.

We were discussing education and public schools on Sunday evening. The lady of the house, who has four children of school age, said that parents did not help the teachers as much as they should. If the homes did their part by the children as well as the schools do their part education would be on a higher level. And then, turning from abstract education to her very concrete—not to say adamantine—boy Harry, this wise woman told a story.

"One day," she said, "I received the usual printed notice from Harry's teacher, asking me if there was any reason or excuse for Henry's absence from school on the previous afternoon. 'Irregular attendance interferes with the progress of children's studies, etc.' Now, my boy is as truthful as Mr. Froude says the ancient Persians used to be, and when I spoke to him he promptly admitted that he had not been to school at the time specified. He had gone off with a crowd of his friends to see the ostriches.

"Accordingly, I wrote to the teacher that I knew of no valid excuse for my boy's absence, but the reason seemed to be that he feared it difficult to appear in two places at exactly the same time. In fact, he had gone off to see the ostriches without any preliminary consultation with his parents or those set in authority over him. I ventured to suggest that 'the natural punishment,' according to Herbert Spencer's well-known theory of education, for such an offense as his ostrich expedition, was to keep him in after school for a certain time each day until he should have written a satisfactory composition on ostriches.

"After a couple of days the boy came home in such a palpably exultant mood that I said: 'Well, my son, is the composition finished?' He replied with, 'Yes, ma.' 'Well, what did she say about it?' 'Oh, not much. She only said it was the best composition she ever got from me.'

"So, you see, my boy has made a beginning in natural history. The teacher is pleased, I'm pleased and the ostriches cannot be quite dissatisfied. It is hard to say whether Harry and his father think victory is all on the side of the teacher and the mother. There's just one danger. I have a premonition that the younger boys will make this a precedent for a surreptitious visit to the next circus."—Visitor, in Chicago Times-Herald.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

A sick man is like a man who goes up in a balloon. He is blown hither and thither by the winds of disease.

A traveler by rail or steamer has a regular track. He is reasonably certain of reaching a given destination; but the balloonist is at the mercy of totally uncertain elements. No track, no course, no rudder, no certainty that any breeze may not bring destruction.

So with the sick man. His disordered constitution renders every natural operation uncertain. No organ can be depended on to do its normal work. The stomach will not digest food, the liver will not filter bilious poisons from the blood; the kidneys and skin will not excrete the waste. No regular nourishing or purifying process is going on. There is no certainty except the certainty of suffering.

In all dyspeptic, bilious, debilitated conditions, what is needed is to change the abnormal, erratic operations of the system into a natural, regular, straightforward progress in the right direction. Nothing in the world will do this so rapidly and certainly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It directly regulates the vitalizing functions. It sets the stomach and liver into natural, healthy operation and gives the blood-making glands power to manufacture an abundance of pure, rich blood.

It creates appetite; builds up muscular strength, and banishes nervousness and neuralgia. As it can be assimilated by the weakest stomach, its nourishing properties are far superior to nauseating cod liver oil in severe coughs and all wasting diseases.

The druggist who recommends something else as "just as good" is thinking more of his extra profit on the "just as good" kind than of your welfare.

LIGHTNING FREAKS.

Queer Things the Subtle Fluid Has Accomplished.

Not far from Hodgenville stands an old house which has a wonderful power for the attraction of lightning. It is in an unused field, surrounded by shrubbery and undergrowth. It is only the frame of a once costly dwelling, and has been standing there for forty years. Strange as it may seem it has been struck by lightning every time an electrical storm has visited that section.

The house was erected by a well-to-do farmer years ago, and was intended for a dwelling for his family, but had to be deserted on account of its habitual subjection to lightning. It has never since been occupied. During a thunderstorm one perpetual flash of lightning plays about the old house. On a dark night and during a storm, a more beautiful scene could not be found. The whole sky and earth around the old house is brightly illumined by the lightning. The house has been torn away strip by strip, with each bolt of lightning, until now only a small portion is left standing. So far as is known no fatalities have ever occurred in the house.—Louisville Post.

Lightning has been very fatal in this section the past month, over eight people having been killed by it. Many strange incidents are related, the most extraordinary being a story from across the Kissimmee River told here to-day. Henry Myers was killed by lightning there last week while in a field and buried the next day. The second day a heavy thunderstorm arose. His grave was struck, the lightning tearing open the grave, throwing the coffin out and breaking it open. It was thus found two days afterward by some relatives and the body reburied. The body was not disfigured by the last electric bolt, but the coffin had been torn to pieces, the body being left on top of the upturned earth with the splintered coffin fragments around it. This is vouched for by several people from that section.—Fort Ogden, Fla., correspondence Louisville Courier-Journal.

Power of the Heart.

The human heart is practically a force pump about six inches in length and four inches in diameter. It beats seventy times per minute, 4200 times per hour, 100,800 times per day and 36,792,000 times per year, and 2,575,440,000—say two thousand five hundred and seventy-five millions four hundred and forty thousand—times in seventy years, which is "man's appointed three score years and ten." At each of these beats it forces 2 1-2 ounces of blood through the system, 175 ounces per minute, 656 1-4 pounds per hour, or 7.03 tons per day. All the blood in the body, which is about thirty pounds, passes through the heart every three minutes. This little organ pumps every day what is equal to lifting 122 tons one foot high, or one ton 122 feet high—that is, one ton to the top of a forty-yard mill chimney. During the seventy years of a man's life this marvelous little pump, without a single moment's rest, night or day, discharges the enormous quantity of 178,850 tons of human blood.—Philadelphia Record.

Heads That Ache.

Heads that ache can be made bright, clear and free from pain by using Burdock Blood Bitters, the true natural cure for headache from whatever cause arising. "Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to the use of one bottle and a half of B.B.B." Miss J. McALLISTER, Almonte, Ont.

Things We Ought to Know

That an attractive table will cause a husband to come regularly to his meals.

That books, flowers and pictures are always acceptable to the sick.

That cranberries are healing to the throat and will frequently prevent soreness.

That all left-overs should be placed in china dishes—never in tin.

That children should be carefully trained to breathe through the nostrils.

That polished steel may be kept from rust by giving it a light coating of olive oil.

That hoarseness and cold in the chest may be greatly relieved by rubbing the chest twice a day with olive oil.

That children should be taught that to help mother is a pleasure rather than a duty.

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach trouble for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

MODERN FARMING.

Some of the Tendencies Apparent in Soil Culture These Days.

Out of the soil every thing comes. And back into it every thing goes. The soil yields a crop, and although its precise products may not actually return to it, some other, soil product descends on it and renews its life. Ninty-five per cent. of every product of the soil comes from the air, and of course the elements of these goes back into the air, and return to the soil again by means of crops which take their equal share from the air, and the small residue from the mineral matter of the soil.

Modern farming is essentially the restoration to the soil of its ability to sustain itself. It may be exhausted for a time but every winter's rains and summer's heats, the frosts and snows all tend to develop a new fund of fertility from unexhausted latent sources. And to do this is the business as well as the duty of the farmer. It has been proved by unquestioned facts, learned by fifty years of good culture, that an average soil is able to yield an average crop of fourteen bushels of wheat per acre for an indefinite time. And this is above the average of the present yield of this grain on this continent. It is somewhat exceeded in the least well cultivated lands of Europe, and double in the well farmed lands of both England and France, and this after two thousand years of culture. After that of course we can easily realize that it may continue as long as there are farms and farmers.

Why is it that in the average on this side of the ocean this high product is only half reached? That this is due to the fault of the farmers themselves is shown unquestionably by the fact that thousands of farmers easily reach the full limit, and many surpass it, some doubling it. It is a good time to study out this problem just now when the land is lying scorching in the sun waiting for the plow. This time is lost forever, for it, if were not wanted but spent in fitting the land for the next crop, and series of crops in the ordinary rotation, the better fitting of the soil for the seed would unquestionably increase the yield, possibly double it. That is the secret of productive crops. Tillage! An old successful farmer said "tillage is manure," and his crops yielded generally forty bushels of wheat to the acre, and occasionally in the best years sixty-four bushels, eight quarters, English measure. The farmer always worked the soil under wheat and used a drill for this purpose. Good farmers still hoe their wheat in English fields, and so do their neighbors the French in their small farms. It must be good farming that supports a French family on five acres of land. And this is what is wanted here on this side of the water. Simply better culture; and this makes a small quantity of manure go a great way. It may be that the modern farmer does not work as the old one did. But with the excellent improved implements he might do two or three times the work of the old farmer, and have abundant time to spare.—Montreal Star.

Good Homemade Potato Sorter

I made and used last season a potato sorter, Fig. 1, which gave first-class satisfaction, says Dwight Herrick in Orange Judd Farmer. It is cheap and serviceable and is used when hauling potatoes from the field to the cellar or bins in barns and sheds. One end must rest upon something solid, like the side of a bin, while the other may be suspended by a rope, so the whole will be on an incline. My method of operation was to have two bins, one for the sorted stock and one for small potatoes. The lower end of the sorter is suspended over the bin for small potatoes. The other end extends two or three feet outside the small potato bin. This gives the dirt a chance to settle through before reaching either bin.

Fig. 2 shows the inside slat frame, which is made of hard pine slats 10 1-2 ft. long, two inches wide and three-fourths of an inch thick. They are set on edge and bolted with quarter-inch bolts to slotted sticks near each end. This arrangement admits of adjustment. I have the upper end of the slats three-fourths of an inch apart and the lower end 1 3-4 inches. This prevents wedging of potatoes between the slats. The upper ends being close together allow the dirt to drop through in advance of the small potatoes. This end also has a hopper four inches high and reaching two and one-half feet from the end. This whole frame is suspended to the outside frame by iron hangers. These are made of 3-8 inch rod iron and are six inches long. Notches are cut to receive these these on the upper edge of the outside frame and the lower edge of the outside slat of the inner frame. A piece of tin may be tacked over to prevent their getting out.

To operate, pour into the hopper a box or basketful of potatoes, then give a vigorous shake or two by taking hold of the upper end of the hopper. This will send the potatoes rolling down the incline, where they will be separated. Two men can unload and sort 1000 bushels a day as they come from the field. The material for making the sorter will not cost over $1.50 at the outside. If it is desirable to sort the seed from the small potatoes, the slats may be set closer, and a cloth may be tacked around the side to prevent their dropping through the larger spaces at the sides thus made, or additional slats may be used.

Pallid faces indicate pale, thin blood. Rosy cheeks show the pure, rich blood resulting from taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

ture. The sting is composed of two highly polished, sharp hollow spears or lancets, BB, and an awl, A, as portrayed in the cut, held firmly together by projections T on the central one, which fit into grooves T on the sides of the other two. These lancets lying together form a tube between them. The central lance, A, sometimes called the sheath, is larger than the other and has a cylindrical reservoir S at its base which connects with the poison sac, C, by the tube M, and below by a slit with the tube made by the joining of the three lancets. The smaller lancets, BB, have at their bases peculiar valves, EE. Their points are barbed, UU, in the sectional drawing, which also shows the tube in the lancet, and the openings, OO, connecting the tube with the exterior. These barbs catch and hold, causing the sting to be left in when it is used. The poison is driven through the openings and through the tube formed by the lance, into the object stung. This poison is an acid fluid which the bee secretes and stores in the sac C. Being acid, an alkali, as ammonia or soda, will neutralize it and help to allay the pain and swelling.—Farm and Home.

THE DEAF HEAR.

DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE

Working Wonders in Toronto.

Gave MRS. BINDON her hearing when Specialists failed.

About 3 years ago, Mrs. Bindon, of 11 Maitland St., Toronto, was attacked with la Grippe, which affected her hearing to such an extent that she was completely deaf. It was a serious affliction and she tried many remedies and consulted a prominent specialist on ear diseases, but derived no benefit. By a happy circumstance she was led to use Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and before she had completed 3 boxes her hearing had partially returned.

She persisted in the application of the remedy, so confident was she of ultimate cure, and by the time 12 boxes had been used her hearing was completely restored. For 3 months now she has been free from deafness, and no emancipated sufferer was ever more delighted than Mrs. Bindon. On Sunday she goes to church and enjoys the service, a thing she was unable to do before Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure gave her back her hearing.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

FINE FUR EXCELLENCE.

Furrier Genius Dominates our Workrooms

Material—Style—Workmanship—Finish—in all their detail are just right here.

Watch the Manufacture:—The skins first of all to be properly and well dressed and sometimes dyed—Matching the skins as to colour and length of "hair"—"Letting down" in order that stripes and shades will harmonize in one distinct unbroken design—Sewing thousands of stitches tight and firm, and not one of these stitches to show when the garment is to wear—then with the skins held taut over wooden "blocks" to actually work the skins into proper shape.

That's why well made Furs look and wear well—this care to detail.

That's why our Furs are usable again—all is ready for rebuilding when a change is desirable.

The average ready-made Fur garment is simply sewed up with machine stitching and without proper care paid to cutting and blocking—that's why they soon look mean—and very rarely work over satisfactorily.

LADIES' FUR LINED CAPES

Our Fur Lined Cloaks are manufactured by ourselves in every case, from the best materials and with skilled workmen. There is all the difference in the world between these goods and the fur-lined garments sold by dry-goods dealers, which are imported largely from Germany—made of materials that cannot always be guaranteed, and in a very flimsy and unsatisfactory manner.

Prices From $15.00 to $60.00.

The Latest in Collarettes and Caperines.

Gray Lamb, Alaska Sable, Persian Lamb and Seal—ranging in prices from $10.50 to $40.00.

MULTITUDES MEET MOODY.

was said of him that he preached a theology

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.

If my theology,' said Mr. Moody, 'wasn't six thousand years old, I wouldn't have any at all."

And then the ministers style wasn't liked in some cases.

My friends, how is it about the message?

I got lost in Kingston this morning. A hod carrier showed me the way. He did it as well as a bishop.

How about the message? Am I talking the truth? If I am, what care you for the messenger?

What we want is to get done criticising and get to the message.

The Holy Ghost will guide you with all truth. I have no sympathy with those who run away to strange teachings, after having come into the church.

I know the Holy Ghost. I know His fruit. It is peace and love. He has been tested these 1800 years and we KNOW HIS FRUIT.

Christ says he will guide you into all truth and tell you things to come.

Christ always said when speaking of His death that he would rise again, and yet not one of disciples remembered it.

The Romans, however, kept it in mind, and sealed up the tomb with the seal which no man dare break, but it could not hold Him after the third day and He arose and went forth.

After the Holy Ghost came unto the disciples they remembered the Lord Jesus.

Mr. Moody then spoke upon the power of the Holy Ghost in causing people to speak.

Anyone filled with the spirit can quote Scripture. I have preached through the South and heard those old slaves that could not even read, quote Scripture by the hour. They were fairly overflowing with it. Take a man who has lived a sinful life and knows nothing of the Bible; when he is converted all is not his mother's prayers the first thing that recur to him. They are all he knows of Scripture. So when a man is filled with the Holy Ghost he will PREACH THE WORD.

The word and nothing else. When God spoke there were no newspapers to chronicle his sayings, and yet see how His Word has been preserved.

The Holy Spirit has had three dwelling places on earth. First, there was the Tabernacle, in which He was conveyed to Jerusalem, and then when Solomon reared the Temple, He took up His abode within it. And when Christ died He came into the church, and when your bodies are clean in the sight of God, then will the Holy Ghost abide with you.

The church has mislaid this gift and overworked it. Many start out in the church by the Holy Ghost, and make an utter failure of it, although graduates of universities.

WITHOUT BEING ANNOINTED

The disciples were with Jesus Christ for three years, and yet they had not the power until He left them and sent it unto them.

"You tarry," said He, "until you get the power from on high."

"Greater works than I shall ye do, for I go unto the Father."

"Ye shall receive power after the Holy Ghost come upon ye."

The sign was often noticed in empty stores in large cities: "This store to rent, with or without power." For an extra payment, power to run machinery would be furnished.

When people applied for admittance to church membership, they should be asked, "With or without power? and if they said "without," they should be told there was quite enough of that kind in the church for the present.

You can get power, if you pay for it. The price is unreserved surrender.

TWO EPOCHS,

continued Mr. Moody, stand out very clear in my life. At 17 years of age I became a child of God. In 1871 I thirsted for the power. I could do nothing without it, and for days I hungered and prayed for it. Then the power came and I went forth with strength into the battle.

Don't be satisfied with just being a child of God. Nicodemus came to Christ and got life, but he did not get all of life. If he had he would have fared better, and enjoyed the better things with Peter and John. But he did not get the power, and could not tear himself away from his high offices and influences. He was a man of mighty influence, and he must have argued that if he threw in his lot with the Galilean he would lose this influence.

He would have lost influence, doubtless, but he would have gained power.

Goliath has influence, David had power—that is the difference.

How many people do you hear of who have plenty of influence but no power. Satan walks right into their homes and hands their children to destruction before their eyes. They occupy high social positions, and have all the earthly influence obtainable, but they have not that power which is necessary to keep Satan at bay.

See Rebecca.

She had power, and she realized it, and went abroad with her story, telling it to all.

WATER WILL RISE

to its level. It flowed down from the throne of God into her heart and lifted her right back up to the throne with it again.

No man or woman who is filled with the power can have their influence curbed. No four walls or town can hold them. They will spread the word over the world.

You don't have to look back to the prophets or even to Wesley to realize this and find your proof.

See! Forty years ago, a boy comes up from the country. He feels he has the power within him and makes others realize it. He is soon known to the whole world as Dr. Spurgeon. His sermons are printed and go out to all the corners of the earth in different languages. His influence could not be prevented from spreading.

I can't begin to tell you of the streams of influence that flowed from that man. If God just pours water upon us it will flood us out. He says, "I will pour water upon him that is thirsty. I will pour floods upon the dry ground."

If you keep your heart filled with the Spirit, the world cannot get in.

Your heart must be filled. If it isn't with God, Satan will get in.

This latter statement was emphasized by a very apt illustration, on the spur of the moment. Mr. Moody picked up

AN EMPTY GOBLET.

As he poured the water in the air—or that which was there before, was driven out in this way the world would be gradually excluded as the Spirit of God was allowed to enter. If the goblet were not filled to the brim then there was room for foreign substances—room for satan still, but as the goblet overflowed, as the heart could overflow with the Spirit then everything worldly would be carried off. So with the Christian—when his heart overflows the good influence is carried out into the world and the world will feel it.

Some people pray for a crumb from the Master's table. I don't believe in asking for crumbs. I want the whole loaf, continued Mr. Moody.

We honour God when we ask great things.

A man once told me he had a good well but for two reasons. It froze up in the winter and dried up in the summer. Just like the hearts of some Christians. Whenever there is a time for them to be useful there is something the matter with them.

Some men complain that their field is not large enough. The field is always as large as the man. Mark that and keep it in your mind, my brethren. It is who complains of a small field.

Some say the day of Pentecost is never to be repeated, I don't believe this. The Holy Ghost came down in Jerusalem and ten years afterwards again. Why not still again? Any day—right here in this town. I tell you it would be a grand day for you in your homes if this should be the case.

The speaker then told the old old story of Elijah and Elisha crossing Jordan and going out into the desert, and related it in such a manner as to invest it with new interest.

Who was Elisha? asked he. A common farmer.

Who were the disciples? Illiterate men.

O don't wait for the minister to lead souls to God but go to ork yourselves my brethren. You too can be endowed with the power of the Holy Ghost as well as Elisha and the disciples.

The sermon was then closed with a most eloquent and beautifully worded prayer offered by the evangelist.

As an instance of the wonderful effects of his simple words it may be stated that at last night's meeting, when there were fully 2 000 present, over three-fourths of the immense audience signified their wish that the power of the Holy Spirit might be given unto them in response to Mr. Moody's appeal.

To-night Mr. Moody addresses a meeting for men only in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

LIST OF THE KILLED

In the Great Indian Engagement on Monday Last.

LOSSES VIEWED WITH MISGIVINGS.

The Alleged Demoralization of the Insurgents Does Not Seem to Be Borne Out —Plan of Campaign Criticized— Afridiland Will Have to be Conquered Yard by Yard.

London, Oct. 21.—The staunch resistance of the insurgent tribesmen when the British forces stormed and eventually carried the Dargai Ridge of the Samana Range yesterday afternoon, as detailed last night in despatches from Fort Lockhart, via Simla, and the apparently heavy losses of the British, are facts which are viewed with serious misgivings in London to-day. The insurgents were evidently in great force, for, in addition to being able to make a stubborn stand against the British advance, they had a contingent of 7000 men to spare for a flanking movement. Not any of the stories of this fierce engagament suggest any demoralization of the enemy, who retired in good order and proceeded to construct fresh defensive works on the adjacent hills, showing that Afridiland will probably have to be conquered yard by yard.

The news of the massing of the Afridis in the Sampagha Pass and the report that they are erecting strong fortifications there is also most disquieting.

The newspapers here criticize the plan of campaign, which apparently necessitates capturing the same prouud twice, as the Dargai Ridge was carried on Monday only to be left for the tribesmen to reoccupy on Tuesday. But it appears that the British force which first captured the ridge was not provided with commissuriat supplies, and the difficulties of forwarding them from the base were insurmountable.

Six officers and one hundred men were killed or wounded in the storming of the Dargai Ridge.

Names of the officers Killed.

London, Oct. 22.—According to a special despatch from Simla, the casualties during the fighting yesterday, which resulted in the storming of Dargai Ridge by the second division of the British troops under General Sir Yeatman Biggs, were as follows: The officers killed were Captain Charles Judge of the Second Goorkhas, Lieut. Alexander Lamont of the Gordon Highlanders and Captain Smith of the Derbyshire Regiment. The wounded officers are Lieut. Robinson of the Second Goorkhas, who is dangerously hurt; Major Forbes MacBean of the Gordon Highlanders, and three others. Of the rank and file 156 were killed or wounded, the Gordon Highlanders having 36 casualties, the Dorsetshire regiment 32, and the remainder being equally divided between the Goorkhas and the Derbyshire Regiments.

A Difficult Position.

London, Oct. 21.—The advance of the British force in yesterday's battle was rendered extremely difficult by the precipitous nature of the hill, the men having to scale from rock to rock, there being almost no paths to facilitate their movements. The loss sustained by the natives cannot be estimated, but the slaughter was great. Many of the tribesmen were shot as they were fleeing to the heights above their abandoned position. There was severe hand-to-hand fighting when the attacking forces rushed the position of the tribesmen.

A NEW ELEMENT INTRODUCED

Into the Fight of the Striking Engineers — America Appealed to for Funds.

London, Oct. 21.—The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers is about to send to the leading newspapers and labor organizations in the United States a statement, giving the details of the strike of engineers now in progress, and declaring that the sum of $100,000 is required weekly to pay the men on strike and meet other expenses. This amount, the statement says, can only be raised by subscriptions, and the committee appeals to the liberality of the American friends of labor to assist the engineers to defeat the employers' attempt to crush their organization.

A new and most important element has been introduced into the great engineering dispute by the official intervention of the Board of Trade.

Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, President of the Board, proposes, in an identical letter addressed to the masters and the men, a conference based upon the following suggested arrangement:

First, the Federated Employers, while disavowing all intention of interfering with the legitimate action of trades unions, will admit no right of interference in the management of their business. The trades unions, on their part, while maintaining the right of combination, will disavow any intention of interfering with the management of the business of the employers.

Second, the demand for a 48-hours' week made by the men's joint committee upon the Federated Employers in London, without a previous request for a conference with the employers, is withdrawn.

Third, a conference between the representatives of the federated employers and the Engineering Unions shall be held forthwith, to discuss and settle the hours of labor.

Fourth, the constitution of the conference shall be arranged by its chairman or other selected representatives of both parties.

No Chance of Acceptance.

Glasgow, Oct. 21.—Members of the Employers' Federation in this city say that there is no prospect that the mediation of the Board of Trade in the engineering dispute on the lines suggested by the identical letter of the Board will be accepted.

As The Times Sees It.

London, Oct. 21.—The Times this morning, in an editorial on the engineering dispute, says: "It would be a very paying business for German or American artisans to supply funds to prolong a struggle which will drive the engineering business from Great Britain to foreign competitors."

Spanish Cabinet Council.

Madrid, Oct. 21.—The Queen Regent presided over the Cabinet Council today. Senor Sagasta, the Premier, and Admiral Bermejo, Minister of Marine, both of whom were indisposed, were absent. Senor Gullon, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, explained at length the present status of Spain's diplomatic relations with the United States, and declared that the Cabinet was entirely in accord as to the policy to be pursued.

General Correa, Minister of War, said he was satisfied with the manner in which reinforcements were concentrating in Cuba. He declared that there were few desertions.

At the meeting of the Cabinet tomorrow, Senor Sagasta presiding, the Ministers will consider the draft of the answer of Spain to the United States, on the subject of Cuba, delivered to the Spanish Government by the United States Minister, General Woodford, shortly after his arrival here. It is understood that the reply will contain a formal protest against filibustering.

El Heraldo says that Senor Gullon submitted to the Premier to-day his suggested draft of the reply to the note, and that the Premier approved it, but intimated that it would be withheld until after the arrival of Marshal Blanco at Havana.

$50,000 DAMAGES.

W. H. Ponton Institutes His Solicitor to Issue a Writ Against the Bank and Claim This Sum.

Belleville, Oct. 21.—W. H. Ponton, who was accused of robbing the Dominion Bank at Napanee and was, after his acquittal, discharged from that institution for misconduct in the bank, has instructed his solicitor, Mr. E. Gus Porter, to issue a writ against the bank claiming $50,000 damages.

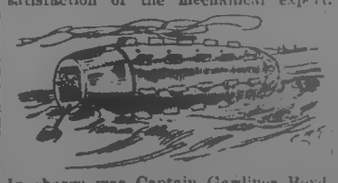
The directors of the Dominion Bank are determined to ferret out who robbed their branch at Napanee, if possible. Yesterday they decided to offer rewards, amounting to in all $12,000 for the recovery of the missing good money and the $10,000 of notes not countersigned by Local Manager Baines. The bank offers $5000 for information which will lead to the conviction of any person concerned as a principal in the theft of about $20,000 from the bank's premises in Napanee on the 27th or 28th of Aug. last. The directors also offer $5000 for information enabling them to recover the money stolen, and in like proportion in case only part of such money is recovered. They also offer a reward of $2000 for the return of the uncountersigned bills, and in like proportion in case only a part of such bills are recovered. The numbers of the uncountersigned bills are: Nos. 46,001 to 47,000, series A, dated 2nd Jan., 1888.

KNAPP'S BOAT ROLLS.

The Trial Made Yesterday Afternoon A Large Crowd Witnesses the Event.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The roller boat invented by Mr. Knapp has rolled. The trial trip of the celebrated roller boat was made yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a great crowd of people on the banks of the bay.

About 1.45 a trial was made, and the boat revolved slowly, but to the entire satisfaction of the mechanical expert.



In charge was Captain Gardiner Boyd, and in company on the boat were Messrs. Knapp, Frank Polson, J. B. Miller, W. E. Rolway, the marine engineer who had charge of the construction, and Stewart Houston.

After the first few revolutions the boat was stopped and a conference was held between Mr. Goodwin, who gave the financial backing, Mr. Knapp, and Mr. Polson, to decide whether the boat would be sent out in the bay.

The new boat was then turned out, given a trial round the bay, and gave general satisfaction both to the inventor and those engaged in its construction. They have no hesitation in stating that, with a few alterations, the new venture will be a success.

THINKS MISS FRANCES E. WILLARD

Her Great Lecture on a White Life for Two —Regulation of the Social Vice Denounced—The Second Day's Session of the Dominion W.C.T.U.

Toronto, Oct 22.—The consecration meeting led by Mrs. Gordon (Ottawa), occupied an hour yesterday morning before the second day's business of the Dominion W.C.T.U. began.

The importance of finding work suited to each "Y" member, so that she would feel herself to be necessary and useful to the "Y" Union, was brought out in the discussion.

The woman's convention began about 2 o'clock. Miss Iris Stuart and Miss Helen Fisher were bright little additions to the convention's pages.

Miss Agnes Slack of England, the world's secretary, whose face was so familiar to the temperance audience of Toronto, was introduced. She was glad to be again in this the brightest spot of the British Empire, and pleased to see the Union Jacks everywhere, even in the shop windows.

Others introduced were: Miss Hicks of Colorado, Mrs. Willing, Superintendent of Evangelistic Training School, New York;

OLAFIA JOHANNSDOTTIR

Miss Erickson of Finland, Miss Anna Gordon of England, and Mrs. Hughes, President of the Manchester Union, England, for the past 19 years.

Miss Olivia Johannsdottir, the representative from Iceland, brought over warm and loving greetings from her cold country, and the young president was just recently received by the sister white ribboners. In remarkably good English, Miss Johannsdottir tendered their union's greetings in a sweet voice, and with a smile which won hearts.

Her long, fair, silken hair was twice plaited, and the fine ends of the two braids crossed behind, were caught up under a very small black knitted cap, or "chua," from which depended a silken tassel, wound with a heavy band of solid gold.

She wore a simple dress of black homespun, her own handiwork. She wore a black apron of pressed velvet, which gave a quaint effect to the costume, and about her shoulders a grey purple-bordered shawl of French weave, which has been long in the family.

About her throat hung a silver necklace, with heavy links of exquisite design, and a Maltese cross for pendant. Her countrywomen always wear the jacket and skirt of black, but can vary the color of the apron or soft bow tie whenever desired.

With her she brought an engraved address in English and Icelandic, bearing the device of a brown eagle on the wing, grasping in his yellow claws a streaming white ribbon:

Reykjavik, 14 Aug., 1897.

Kristin Ehardsdottir, vice-president.
Marta Peturesdottir, secretary.

The W. C. T. U. of Iceland send the greetings of God and their own to the International World's W. C. T. U. Convention of Toronto. It gives us strength in our struggle to know that we are a division, though a small one, in an invincible army of God and noble women of the whole world, fighting for the moral improvement of mankind. It is a heartfelt joy for us that our president is able to attend your convention, and we hope she will express our wishes and our sympathy. We pray to God to bless this convention and all the work of W. W. C. T. U., as we ask for His blessings, for our own efforts, hoping that we shall not be the blindmost though we are few.

A petition, signed by Mrs. Rutherford, president; Dr. Amelia Yeomans, vice-president; Mrs. W. McLachlan, recording secretary; Miss Atkinson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Tilton, treasurer, will be presented to the Dominion Parliament at the earliest opportunity.

The petitioners will ask the Government to modify the present law, which makes the admission or exclusion of Christian Temperance workers to prisons depend entirely upon the will of the local official in each Dominion penal institution, and will draw their attention to the fact that the W. C. T. U. is a thoroughly undenominational society, especially adapted to such work. As but one Protestant denomination can be represented by the chaplain at any institution where prisoners are confined, while the convicts are of various faiths, the W. C. T. U. sends members from different churches, according to the nature of the need.

"A White Life for Two"

Miss Willard's address on "A White Life for Two" was listened to with great interest. In the course of her address, which was listened to by 4500 of an audience, she said:

I like to think that in the coming days the men who are our brothers and our friends will become so refined and women so developed by Christianity that they will see us on many angles of choice; that they will look upon us as intellectually their comrades, and their peers; that they will look upon us as industrially coming forward to claim our kingdom; that they will count up our help in all philanthropic and religious movements; that they will find we are ready and glad to put our hands to any good work. And I believe that not far beyond the door swinging on the golden hinges of the twentieth century they will set us beside themselves upon the throne of government.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. MUNICIPAL AUDITS.

Every day almost, furnishes evidence of the wisdom of the Act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, looking to better bookkeeping methods in respect of municipal and school board accounts, and for better auditing Anyone reading the report of Mr. David Murray, special auditor appointed to the Frontenac County Council to examine the accounts of the defaulting treasurer, can easily understand the necessity of a better system of bookkeeping and also of a better system of auditing. The report explains how great was the difficulty of coming at the enormous deficiency of $31,380 that was disclosed by the special audit. The report states:

Owing to the careless way in which, during the past few years, the books have been kept I found the only method by which I could, within reasonable time, arrive at the state of his indebtedness to the county to be by taking account of all receipts and disbursements during his entire term of office.

The difficulty referred to at the outset is met by the Act which prescribes that certain simple and plain forms of books (greatly simplifying the bookkeeping) shall be adopted and kept by all treasurers of municipal corporations as well as school boards. This will make it easy for a treasurer who may not be an expert to keep an intelligible and correct record of the financial transactions with which he has to deal. The muddled system had a great deal to do with the tangle in the accounts of the treasurer of Frontenac.

Then the system of auditing heretofore in vogue was a premium upon rascality. The special auditor says in regard to Frontenac's audits:

Your audits have for several years been conducted in a manner which made it a comparatively easy matter for Mr. Vanluven to falsify the books in the way and to the extent to which he did. The most careless and serious error occurred in 1894 when your auditors certified in the detailed statement of receipts for that year that $4,553.49 was recived from the city of Kingston when the cash book contains no such entry. The treasurer did receive this amount but failed to charge himself with it.

For a somewhat similar error of $3,165.in 1890, also received from the city of Kingston, and not entered in the cash book the responsibility falls to be shared by the auditors of 1890 and 1891 and also by a special committee appointed in June, 1891, to examine and report upon the auditors' statement for 1890. The minutes do not show that this committee sent in any report to the council.

In dealing with paid debentures also your auditors have displayed great carelessness. In no instance while these defalcations have been in progress have the debentures been cancelled in such a way as to fix the date of payment, and Mr. Vanluven was thus able to use the same debentures as vouchers for alleged payments in December of one year and January of the year following. In this way he covered up $11,000 of deficiency.

I find that in December, 1895, the auditors passed an alleged payment of $2,000 to Folger Bros. on account of a note under discount, apparently without any voucher, as this payment was not made until December, 1896. Mr. Vanluven, however, only took credit for this amount once.

This shows that auditors as a rule, though of course there are notable exceptions, have little qualification and little sense of the responsibility that attaches to their office.

The act cited provides for this defect. On the request of any two members of a council or thirty ratepayers, the Government will send the Provincial municipal auditor to investigate a treasurer's books and report to the council. This investigation is made so simple and inexpensive that the first suspicion of any crookedness or carelessness in a treasurer's accounts may bring investigation and, if it exists, detection.

Lack of simple system and the prefunctory character of audits, have, in the past, permitted, if they did not furnish, the temptation to municipal treasurers to enrich themselves at the expense of the people they were employed to serve. But a better and simple system of books will make effective audits easy and reduce the possibility of treasurers defaulting to a minimum.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

Nine Men Wanted to Hang Luetgert, But Three Were for Acquittal The Prisoner Happy.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The grey light of a cold autumn morning struggled through the big windows of Judge Tuthill's court to-day as Adolph L. Luetgert heard from the foreman of the twelve men who have been considering his case for the past sixty-six hours the words: "We are unable to agree upon a verdict."

Imperturbable as ever, evincing no joy at the words, the wonderful nerve of the man was with him to the end. He stood up, and with only a good-natured smile on his swarthy face shook hands with his son, Arnold, his counsel and his business partner, William Charles. In less than five minutes he was led back to jail, the jury was dismissed and the great trial was over.

The twelve men were divided as follows:

For conviction and the death penalty: Heckhold, Boyd, Bibby, Mahoney, Bennigler, Hosmer, Shaw, Franzen and Fowler.

For acquittal: Harley, Hohbird and Barber.

As the jurors filed into court about 10:40 this morning they were a haggard looking set of men. Several of them were collarless, and the eyes of all of them were swollen and red.

The jurors took the seats they had occupied daily for over two months, and waited for the appearance of the central figures in the case—and his lawyers. Judge Tuthill sat on the bench and looked quietly at the worn-out jurors. The clock in the court room ticked off five minutes and nothing occurred to disturb the quietness. Then States Attorney Deneen, ex Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen took their accustomed seats.

Soon Luetgert walked into court, followed by a bailiff. Smiling and confident he grasped the hand of William Charles, and whispered a few words into his business partner's ears.

Then he sat down. Judge Tuthill looked up at Bailiff Connor and nodded. The grey-haired custodian rapped sharply for order and commanded silence.

"Gentlemen, I have called you into court to ask if you have reached a verdict," said Judge Tuthill.

Foreman Heckhold replied: "Your Honor, we have not."

"Is there any prospect of your reaching one?" asked the court.

"I don't think so; in fact, I know there is not, at least that is my firm belief," responded the foreman.

"How do you stand—numerically, I mean; not individually?" queried the court.

"We stand nine for conviction to three for acquittal. We have stood that way for thirty-eight hours; there has not been a solitary change in the vote during the past thirty-eight hours. In my opinion there is not the least possible chance of an agreement."

"What have you to say, Juror Barber?" asked His Honor.

"We can never reach a verdict," replied the juror. "Every point of the evidence has been minutely discussed, and it is impossible for us to agree."

"What is your impression, Juror Fowler?" continued the court.

"The same as the others. We cannot agree," replied Mr. Fowler. "We have discussed the case thoroughly, and we cannot reach a verdict."

Judge Tuthill then called each of the jurors by name and each responded in the same manner, expressing the view that it would be impossible for the jury to agree. Juror Harley was the last juror called. He arose and replied firmly and with emphasis: "I do not believe we can agree upon a verdict."

"Yes, sir; we will try him again," said States Attorney Deneen, when asked as to the probability of Luetgert being brought before the court a second time. "When we will get at it, however, is something I cannot tell you now. We have had nine weeks of this, and I must have a couple of weeks' rest."

DR BESSEY'S CASE.

The Coroner's Jury Begins an Investigation Into the Cause of Jennie Thomas' Death.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—In Millard's undertaking establishment, Yonge-street, Coroner Johnson last night commenced an inquest concerning the death of Jennie Thomas, which occurred on May 30 last, and for which Dr. Bessey of Carlton-street is now in custody on charges of murder and abortion.

The accused, who is an elderly man, well known in the city, was present in charge of a policeman and was attended by his counsel, Mr. Faulds. He declined to give any evidence at this stage of the case. After the jurymen had been sworn, they viewed the remains, which were exhumed yesterday and lay in Mr. Millard's morgue. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition, and it would be difficult to recognise the features.

Dr. Alexander Primrose, professor of Anatomy in Toronto University, made a post-mortem examination of the body of deceased, in conjunction with Dr. Dwyer. He testified to the effect that deceased had, to all appearances, died of blood poisoning, as the result of a miscarriage.

In reply to Mr. Faulds, he said: There was nothing in the condition of the uterus to lead to the belief that the miscarriage was not natural and there was nothing indicative of instruments having been used.

Dr. Dwyer, superintendent of St. Michael's Hospital, corroborated this evidence.

The coroner explained to the jury that it had been necessary for the inquest to go on as quickly as possible after the charges had been laid against Dr. Bessey, in order to get the medical testimony, but the mass of evidence forthcoming in the case had not yet been prepared. An adjournment was therefore necessary, and the inquest will be continued at the same place on Wednesday next, 27th inst.

HE MAKES GOLD

And He is After Our Antimony With Which to Do It.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—Prof. Edward C. Brice, who claims he can make gold out of antimony, is in the city. He registered at the Queen's yesterday, and called on Director Blue of the Bureau of Mines, with a view to ascertaining if he can obtain any antimony in Ontario.

Mr. Brice says that he has within the past four months manufactured and sold $4000 worth of gold, and that, having secured sufficient backing, he has erected a plant in Chicago, with a daily capacity of 40 tons. Washouts have shut off his source of supply in the Utah Mountains, and therefore he is now after our antimony. He was informed by Mr. Blue that deposits of the metal exist in the Township of Barrie, in North Frontenac, and the Professor will likely visit the eastern district. Mr. Brice's theory includes the idea that gold is a compound substance of which antimony is the basis. He says his process is so simple that a blacksmith, did he know it, could manufacture gold in his forge.

THE HAMILTON LIBERALS

Held Their Annual Meeting and Election of Officers.

Hamilton, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Over 150 enthusiastic Liberals gathered in the Young Liberal Club rooms at the annual meeting of the Hamilton Reform Association last night, and the greatest harmony prevailed during the meeting. President J. J. Mason was in the chair, and on the platform were Hon. J. M. Gibson, Messrs. T. H. MacPherson, M.P., J. T. Middleton, M.P.P., J. V. Teetzel, Q.C., W. R. Davis, Adam Zimmerman, John Ronan, Ald. Dixon and D. R. Gibson, acting Secretary.

The following officers were elected: J. V. Teetzel, President; Vice-Presidents, Messrs S. F. Washington and W. R. Davis, for the west division of the city, and Messrs. J. Ronan and Ald. Hill for the east division. Mr. R. A. Whyte was elected Secretary and Ald. Dixon Treasurer.

Hon. J. M. Gibson complimented the new President and the retiring President of the Association, and he stated that he did not know when the elections would be held. He referred to his nineteen years of continuous service in the Legislature, and he said he felt it a great honor to enjoy the confidence of the party for so long a time. He alluded to his onerous duties as Commissioner of Crown Lands, his work preventing him going among the members of his party as often as he would like. He was hopeful the Reform party would again meet with success at the polls, and while it had suffered loss by the withdrawal of Sir Oliver Mowat, it had an excellent leader in Hon. Mr. Hardy, who was entirely deserving of the confidence of the people of the Province

THE PLACING OF BUOYS

Proceeds by the Hon. Mr. Tarte After His Exciting Tug Accident.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Hon. J. I. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, and his party had an exciting time on the river last evening near Champlain, on the Government tug St. James, on their return from Lotbiniere, where the minister attended the blessing of the new wharf yesterday morning, after which he delivered an address. It was about 10 o'clock and it was rather dark when a sailing vessel with all sails displayed, and which was afterwards ascertained to be the Blanche of Deschambault, brick laden, was sighted. The vessel had only been passed when another craft, which was supposed to be one of the Government dredges, was sighted. It was afterwards ascertained to be the stranded Lake Superior. The minister having expressed the desire to go alongside, the St. James was turned about and a few minutes after it was in collision with the sailing vessel. The captain of the Blanche, on seeing the danger, tried to avoid it, and lowered his sails, but it was too late. The rear cabin of the St. James was torn off by the bowsprit. The crush created a good deal of excitement. The minister's secretary, Mr. Hams, was in the cabin at the time working a typewriter, and he had a very narrow escape from serious injuries.

Mr. Tarte on being asked if he would have any objection to taking control of the placing of buoy in the channel instead of leaving it to the Department of Marine and Fisheries, said that he would be willing to include that duty among his, upon a petition to that effect. In fact, he would not wait for any red tape in the matter of attending to the present difficulty, but would see personally to it this afternoon. He said that the Cap a La Roche Channel was as clear of boulders as it could be, as he had been there himself while it was being tested. They had, however, discovered two huge anchors there, presumably buoy anchors, which would cause serious damage to any ship striking them.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay will regret to learn that their eldest daughter, Miss Euphemia (Effie), has passed away. Miss Mackay, who was 21 years of age, has been ill for some weeks. She died at midnight last night at the family residence, Kildonan Hall, No. 1059 Sherbrooke street. The flag at the Mackay Institution is at half-mast on account of the death of Miss Mackay.

A CHINESE SETTLER

In Manitoba Phenomenal Increase in Winnipeg's Bank Clearings—He Shot Prairie Chickens.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The transactions of the Winnipeg Clearing House for the past week were as follows:

Week ending Oct. 21, 1897, clearings, $3,080,572; balances, $644,440. Week ending Oct. 21, 1896, clearings, $1,964,482; balances, $224,301. Week ending Oct. 21, 1895, clearings, $1,025,805; balances, $295,517.

Dr. Emory of Toronto was up yesterday before Justices Wilson and Hunichen of Birtle, on complaint of Game Guardian Flower, for illegally shooting prairie chickens in the Province. The doctor was defended by Mr. W. A. Doyle, Q.C., of Rilulah, but was convicted and fined $30.

This week a celestial visited the C. P. R. land department and selected a quarter section in the Dauphin District, which he has purchased, and intimates he will settle on the land. The name of the investor is Wingle, and he is the first Chinaman known to have purchased farm lands in Manitoba.

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R. Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

SETTLING THE WEST.

What Is Being Done by Our Immigration Agents.

MRS. TASSE'S FALL ENDED IN DEATH

Many Bridges Destroyed by the Fires Maxville in Danger Suit Against the C. P. R.—The Sealing Conference at Washington The Dominion Dairy Regulations.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Mr. Jas. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, has returned from his trip through the Western States after an absence of a couple of weeks. Asked as to his reasons for making the trip, he said it was one he had contemplated for some time, but owing to the attention that it was necessary to give to fitting out the Yukon expedition and other matters connected with it, it was impossible to get away. His eighteen years' residence in the Northwest had given him a thorough knowledge of the country into which the agents of the immigration branch are sending people, but he felt that the work entrusted to him could only be properly performed when he had a better knowledge of the country from which they were coming and the conditions which existed there. It was with this end in view that, accompanied there with Mr. Frank Pedley, Superintendent of Immigration, he started on his 5000 mile trip, which has carried him through the Western States, in which active work is being prosecuted. In this way he has become personally acquainted with all the Government agents in the field, and from careful observation learned of the condition of things, favorable and otherwise, in the interests of Canadian immigration. Thus advised, he has gained information that will lead him to deal intelligently with emigration work in the United States.

Discussing his trip in a general way, the deputy said he was satisfied from what information he was able to secure that the policy of the Government to carry on the work of immigration on the present extensive scale is fully justified. Everywhere there seemed to be an anxiety to hear about Canada, and an earnestness was exhibited on the part of the enquirers that was quite assuring. He found that the work of the agents was a great educative work, and that the people of the United States were becoming posted on many things regarding the geography, the climate and the resources of Canada that they were entirely ignorant of.

Dairy Registration Act.

Dairymen throughout Canada have been prompt in realizing the benefit conferred upon them by the dairy act passed at the last session of Parliament, which provides, among other things, for the registration of cheese factories and creameries. A few weeks ago the Department of Agriculture opened the "cheese factories and creameries register," and already numerous applications for registration certificates have been received from all the Provinces. Over two hundred have passed through the hands of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying, and at the rate at which they are now coming in will soon reach one thousand. The act provides that the person to whom a registration number is assigned shall have the exclusive right to use it to designate the dairy products he manufactures. He thus obtains free of cost what is practically a trade mark, under which he may make a name for the butter or cheese he puts on the market.

SEALING CONFERENCE.

Much New British and Canadian Information to be Published—A Fatal Fall Down Stairs.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Further arrangements were made by the Council at its last sitting for the Sealing Conference at Washington. Much new and hitherto unpublished information, both British and Canadian, will be presented.

Mrs. Tasse, wife of Emanuel Tasse, died to-day from the effects of a fall down a back stairs in her residence, from which she received severe injuries on her head, as well as internal injuries. It is supposed Mrs. Tasse missed her way in the dark. Mr. Tasse is a nephew of the late Senator Tasse.

Peter Stewart of South Indian, the centre of the recent disastrous forest fires, says there is not a bridge of any kind over the Nation River, in Cambridge township, Russell county. All the bridges were burned, and the loss in these alone will be several thousand dollars. Mr. Stewart has just returned from a drive over the burned district. He says that the loss among the farmers is larger than anyone has any idea of.

Advices have reached here of serious fires raging in the vicinity of Maxville. In McDougall's bush, a few miles from Maxville, a very large fire is burning which threatens the destruction of much property.

Henry Thibaut, formerly of Hull, is now at Fort McLeod with seventy of his companions, who signed a contract to work in the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. They have been working there two months for the contractors and have received, it is alleged, only $1.00 each month. It was understood before they started that their fare would not be charged them if they worked six months on the railway. Thibaut and his companions are now suing the C.P.R. Company.

Child Killed at Mimico.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—A sad fatality occurred about 80 yards from the Mimico Station when Nellie, the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wilson, was struck by a passing train and killed. The little girl was picking up coal between the tracks when two trains approached from opposite directions. She was evidently bewildered, not knowing which side to rush for, and in her excitement made for the south side of the tracks and was caught by the C.P.R. express going west. Dr. Cotton, Coroner for the district, was at once summoned, but after viewing the remains, decided that an inquest would be unnecessary.

Toronto Live Stock.

There was a light run of live stock on the market to-day; 25 car loads, composed largely of butchers' cattle, stockers and feeders. Only a very few export cattle came in, and these did not seem to be wanted, as there were no buyers on the market.

Butchers' cattle are firm and a few sales of small lots took place, but most of the dealers were holding their stock for Friday's market.

Stockers are also firm, and in good demand. Taking the different grades and classes of cattle all round, we could not see any change in prices from Tuesday's quotations.

A very small number of milk cows came forward, and more are wanted; there were only four, which sold at $25 to $45 each.

About 300 sheep and lambs were delivered, and the only change of price was in lambs, which were worth from $3.85 to $4.00 per cwt.

About 800 hogs were delivered yesterday and to-day and the best price paid for choice selections was $4.87½; light fats sold at $4.62½ and heavy fats at $4.50 per cwt.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

Care for Plants.

In one of our horticultural papers, says T. Greiner in Practical Farmer, I find quite a discussion about the proper time of watering plants, especially whether the watering can be safely done in sunshiny weather or not. It seems to me that this is a case like that of the best time of pruning trees. Somebody hit the nail pretty well on the head when he said: Prune when the knife is sharp. When shall we water? Surely when the soil is dry, and if that be in hot, sunshiny weather, I would water all the more quickly. There may be some plants that cannot stand the direct application of water on the foliage, and for them it is advisable to put the water on the soil rather than on the plant. But that is a good thing for almost all plants, anyway. For instance, in watering celery, cabbage strawberries, potatoes, etc., the right way is to let the water run down between the rows, and soak into the ground until the latter is well moistened through. I would do this in bright weather just as quickly as I would in cloudy weather or at night, and I can say that I have never seen a garden vegetable injured by watering thus either in bright or dark weather. So far as the crops in the greenhouse are concerned, I have always watered indiscriminately, whenever I found the soil dry, and all the more freely when the sun was shining brightly. Indeed, our friends interested in greenhouse crops are well aware that the rule is to water lettuce only when there is a prospect of bright weather, and even then preferrably through underground pipes or tiles. The chief point is to water thoroughly whenever you do water, and then wait until the soil gets dry and needy again. Mere sprinkling is seldom of much account, and in outdoor operations sometimes seems to be an injury.

Roup and Small Chicks.

The best method of treating a flock of hens afflicted with roup is to administer this remedy in the drinking water. To one quart of water add ten drops of tincture of aconite. Air-slacked lime sprinkled on the floor of the house and on the ground outside the house, and even in the nests, will prove a good disinfectant. If the chicks are kept away from the hens they will probably escape the disease.

Children's Jackets.

This is particularly interesting to the Children. They will be glad to know that we have not forgotten them in buying our stock. We have been as solicitous in selecting JACKETS for them as we were for their mothers. We have them in luxuriously soft and warm materials—yet as tough as buckskin—to stand the hard usage children know so well how to give their clothes.

Some of the styles are very taking. The RUSSIAN BLOUSE shape is as popular for girls as for ladies, and the briget colours and gold buttons are like a gleam of sunshine.

The double-breasted KERSEY REEFER FRONT, buttoned nigh at neck, and deep Sailor Collar, handsomely braided, and gold buttons, is a coat that will set the young miss wild to get it. Or perhaps she will prefer a handsome rough DIAGONAL CHEVIOT, high collar, fly front, lined with fancy taffeta. Or a RUSSIAN BLOUSE COAT in smooth black cheviot, blouse shape back and front, satin lined, finished with rows of stiching. Or if her taste points in the direction of a JACKET of CREAM, TAN, or RED KERSEY, lined with rich striped taffeta, double breasted, high neck, with two rows of fine pearl buttons, high turnover collar inlaid with velvet, seams all strapped, she can find it with us.

We can give her any assortment the most fastidious can wish, and can show different patterns and styles until she gets almost bewildered by looking at so many beautiful coats.

A Wedding Gift.

Tuesday's Ottawa Citizen says: A pleasant event took place in the drill hall last evening after the parade. It was the presentation of a magnificent clock as a wedding gift to Lieut. Matthews, of No. 4 Co., 42rd Batt., by members of the company. The gift was handed Lieut. Matthews by Major Sherwood, who spoke in the highest terms of the recipient's many good qualities and of his keen interest in the affairs of the battalion. Lieut. Matthews replied in appropriate terms, warmly thanking his friends for their great kindness.

A Fine Chance for the Boys.

With the view of securing room for an important new department, Messrs. A. Mercer & Co., have commenced a closing out sale of their entire department devoted to boys fine clothing. It will doubtless be a matter of regret especially to those parents who have been so well satisfied with the juvenile clothing of this firm, to learn that they find it necessary to sacrifice this popular department for another of a more important nature. A rare chance, however is now open to secure boys' suits, reefers and overcoats, at reductions similar to those advertised by Mercer & Co. in another column. Prudent mothers and saving fathers will no doubt realise the low prices offered and take advantage of them while this closing out sale lasts. The Sale is bona fide, and the stock must positively be disposed of to secure the desired accommodation immediately for other purposes.

MORE MULTITUDES MEET MOODY.

His Two Last Services Were Held in St. Paul's Church.

THE MEETING FOR MEN WAS LARGELY ATTENDED.

Last Night's Address was such as to Move Scores to Walk Boldly to the Front and Give Their Names as Being Anxious to Live a Better Life, Receiving as a Souvenir One of Mr. Moody's Pamphlets to Assist Them—This was the First Cross of the Christian.

The woman's meeting in St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon brought out a large number of ladies, and the church was comfortably filled before the service began. Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., of St. Andrew's church, led in the preliminary devotional exercise, and Mr. F. H. Burke, delighted the large audience by rendering several of the new hymns in the Sacred Song book, of which the appended is one:

Hide me O my Saviour, hide me
In Thy holy place;
Resting there, beneath Thy glory,
O let me see Thy face.

Refrain.

Hide me, hide me, O blessed Saviour, hide me;
O Saviour, keep me safely O Lord, with thee;
O my Saviour, keep thou me.

Hide me, when the storm is raging
O'er life's troubled sea:
Like a dove on ocean's billows,
O let me fly to Thee.

Hide me when my heart is breaking
With its weight of woe,
When in tears I seek the comfort
Thou canst alone bestow.

A WOMAN'S MEETING,

Mr. Moody thought, was of far more importance than any other, as the influence of the woman was more extended than that of the man, the men being more or less under the influence of the women themselves. And then, what influence is more far reaching than that of the wife and mother?

The speaker put in a good word for the Y.M.C.A., the local building being the finest he had ever seen in a town of this size. He asked the mothers to keep it in mind that it was easier to keep the cars on the track than to get them on again once they were off. Every boy in town should belong to that gymnasium. Five dollars may be a big sum to pay for the privileges, but every father and mother should be so interested in that Association as to make a special effort to afford the fee. He hoped that the girls would be given a chance to exercise in it, as a world of good could be derived from a daily romp around the running track. He had established a seminary with four hundred girls in it, and was bemoaning the fact that he could not give them proper exercise when along came a man and says: "Mr. Moody, you just drive a stake in the earth where you want that gymnasium, and you will have it." It was erected, and there were no doctors' bills to pay at the seminary now.

One of the sad things about a short mission, such as his in Peterborough, was the fact that you crossed a person's life but once, and hardly knew what subject to take to do the most good. He proposed, however, to take up the SUBJECT OF THE BIBLE.

It was something in which there should be universal interest.

He believed that the whole Bible had to taken from beginning to end if we were to get any good out of it. The reason that some Christians were poor in spirit was tha they were living on a few chapters of the Bible.

Prayer is very important, but there are things more important than that. When I pray I am talking to God; when I read His book He is talking to me. That is more important.

We cannot get anything out of the Bible to help us unless we take the whole. I don't believe in the Christian who sits down to read the Bible with a pair of scissors in his hand to cut out offending portions. When a man begins to cut the Bible to pieces he generally finished up in five years. Why not cut it all up at once and save the time. When a man begins to pick that book to pieces he is doing the work of the devil better than the devil can do it himself.

When a man begins to accept only such parts of the Bible as suit him he is assuredly on the down grade. Some people doubt the story of Jonah and the whale. They say a whale is so constituted that it cannot swallow a man. But surely if God could make a whale, he could make one to swallow anything.

The next thing would be to doubt the Resurrection, as God connects the story of Jonah and the whale with His resurrection.

OTHERS AGAIN SAY

"Oh yes; I believe in the Bible, but I don't believe in the supernatural things." Well, take out the supernatural things and you can have the whole book, I don't want it. Must not a supernatural God have a supernatural book?

You can't touch Jesus Christ anywhere but that there is not something supernatural about Him. There are more supernatural things in the four gospels than anywhere in the Bible.

It is a most stupid sentiment to say you don't believe in the supernatural. Would you have a God today if He did not rise up out of Josephs' tomb and lead captivatity captive? And, my friends, isn't that supernatural?

Those who stated that they believed in the New Testament but not the Old were quickly disposed of by Mr. Moody, who showed that the New Testament was largely composed of quotations from the Old Testament, and the desciples had nothing but the Old Testament to speak by.

The adulterer, the selfish man, the drunkard and the rumseller each could go all through the Bible, cutting out that to which they objected if they were allowed, and then what kind of a Bible would be left? Little more than the covers.

CUTTING AND SLASHING

A man once came to the speaker with a difficult passage in the Bible and asked him what he made out of it.

I make nothing out of it!
Do you understand it?
I don't!
Well then do you believe it?
I do!
Well, I dont believe in anything I can't understand!
Look here, my friend, have you studied astronomy?
No!
Do you believe in it?
Well, yes; I suppose I do!
Have you studied higher mathematics?
No; I haven't!
Well, do you understand them?
No!
You believe in them, of course?
Oh, yes!

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

Have you ever seen your brains and do you understand how they operate?
No, of course not.
Then how do you know you have any?
You see, my brethren, that every argument will work both ways.

I am glad I cannot understand everything in the Bible; that I cannot probe into it unfathomable depths and scale to its heights. It shows that the book is of Divine origin.

There is no book so misjudged as the Bible. If a new book comes out you are a little careful in giving your opinion about it until you have studied it carefully, but yet you are quite ready to give an off-hand opinion about the Bible, which you know hardly anything about.

There are actually people who have been in the church ten years who have yet to be fed with every Sunday. What you want is to learn to feed yourself. To go to that Book and get what you want. When this state of affairs come about there will be no backsliding.

I can give no directions as to how to get at this, as what might apply to me wouldn't do for you, but I can give you a few hints—a suggestion or two that may be useful. I would advise the purchase of Alexander Cruden's concordance and a good topical text book. Study them carefully.

Take and read one of the books of the Bible at one reading. Read it through so that you can get the full meaning of it, and then think it over, until you read the next one. If I get a letter from my wife I don't read a page a day of it till I finish it, but I read the whole letter at once. If I read a page a day, and it was a long letter, I might forget the first page of it before I reached the last.

Then go at it topographically. Take the Holy Spirit for instance. Read everything in the Bible about the Holy Spirit and soon you will become and when a tree is full of sap there is going to be fruit, if it is a fruit tree.

Then read about repentance, the new birth, the two natures—the carnal man and the spiritual man—the higher level and the lower level. Then you will get to understand yourself. Read up the resurrection—what a treat is in store for you.

Look up everything for yourself when you are in doubt. If you don't believe in sudden conversion read up about it.

It doesn't take a man a minute to leave his sins and turn to God.

Now I'll show you where the opposite line of argument will lead you.

A man comes to me and confesses that he is a drunkard.

HE GETS DRUNK

twice a week and beats his wife and children. I say to him—make an effort to try to do better—only get drunk once a week now for a start; then next year only get drunk once in two weeks; then the year after only get drunk once a month and may find in after years you may attain to such a state of perfection finally that you will only get drunk on the anniversary of your marriage,

That is just where the opposite line of argument will land you.

If I am looking for a place in a strange city and find I am going the wrong way it doesn't take me long to turn around when I find it out.

If, as I said before, we come to that book every day we will never get far away from God.

And now to get something for ourselves out of the Bible. I used to go to it to get something for others but now I go to get SOMETHING FOR MYSELF.

Just take your Bible off by yourself and study it to get something which will benefit you.

There are times when God just wants you to be with Him. Go to Him, just to be with Him. Don't ask for anything. If you can get a few minutes every day with the Master, O, how your soul will be quickened!

I'll tell you another great thing that helped me wonderfully. It is an interleaf Bible. When I hear anything good I put it in my interleaf Bible. If I read anything good it goes into the same place.

I believe the time has now come for the expanding of the word of God in the pulpit. The day of pulpit orators who speak on other subjects is coming to an end. It is the Christian people who are demanding it. Others, of course, will object, but it is as with the artificial and the real bee. An artificial bee can be made so like a real one that you can't tell the difference, but put a drop of honey near the pair of them and the real bee will soon find it. The artificial Christian doesn't want to hear Gospel preaching, but the real Christian does and will carry the day.

There is nothing to-day that is going to quicken the church like the preaching of Christ—exalt Him and hold Him up. If I have said anything this afternoon which will lead you to study your Bible I thank God.

THE EVENING MEETING.

The fourth of the Moody meetings—being that especially for men—was as well attended as any of the previous ones. It was held in St. Paul's church and that edifice was crowded to the doors. More than nine-tenths of the audience was composed of men—the ladies not being admitted until half-past seven o'clock.

In opening the service Mr. Moody paid a profound tribute to Mrs. Nicholls for her generosity in endowing the Y.M.C.A. so liberally. Those were the kind of monuments which he liked to see. He urged the business men to see that their employees identified themselves with the work.

Before beginning his address he asked for the new hymn, "Saved by Grace," to be sung over and over again:—

And I shall see Him face to face
And tell the story "Saved by Grace."
And I shall see Him face to face
And tell the story "Saved by Grace."

As long as you live you will always remember that all have sung that chorus over and over again. "Saved by grace." I would sooner have you sing it than have me tell it to you. That chorus will ring in your ears long after you forget my sermon. Saved by grace. Let me tell you, you will never be saved any other way. Saved by grace. Get that down into your hearts if you don't get anything else.

IF YOU GET TO HEAVEN

it will be by the sovereign grace of God and not by any act of your own.

As his text for the evening Mr. Moody chose the words, "Be not deceived, God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the spirit, shall of the spirit reap life everlasting."—Galatians, vi, 7 8

One reason I take that verse to-night is that it applies to all. To the preacher and the congregation.

It is God's eternal decree for every man. A man must reap what he sows. You can't get around it. I've had men shout out to me that they didn't believe it. If you want to quarrel with that text do so, but it will cut you all to pieces. I challenge any infidel in the audience to disbelieve that text. You've got to reap whether you want to or not.

Now, to take the first part of the text. Everybody has been deceived, and everyone deceives you. Even your own parents deceive you. Your heart deceives you. You say, I'll never do that thing again, and then turn around and do it.

But you can't deceive the Almighty.

A man says, now I don't want to think I am as bad as you think,

BUT HE IS.

He's a good deal worse. His wife knows it sometimes. God always knows it. You cannot deceive Him.

We are all sowers and we have all got to reap.

It is no new doctrine. It is as old as man. Adam had to reap before he left Eden and man has been doing it ever since—nations reap.

You can forget the preacher, but don't forget my text.

I'll try and speak of my subject under four heads:

I. Aman expected to reap where he had sown.
II. He reaps the same kind as he sows.
III. He reaps more than he sows.
IV. Ignorance of what he is sowing makes no difference in the result.

A man expects to reap when he sows. You all know that. No man would sow his seed, be it the seed of agriculture or the seed of intellectual life had he not a reasonable assurance of a harvest

IN DUE COURSE.

A man expects to reap the same kind of seed he sows in the natural world. You know very well if you sow wheat you get wheat, and if you sow tares you get tares. You all see that. That's just as true in the spiritual world as it is in the natural world, just the same in the kingdom of God as in the kingdom of man.

And here the speaker dwelt upon the sin of untruth: untruth in the "society lie"; untruth in the commercial world. What father could expect his child to grow up truthful when the parent was himself addicted to deceit: Was it strange that good servants were scarce when mistresses were so lax in their regard for the truth? How should the merchants look for integrity in his clerks when himself an exponent of commercial deceit?

If you plant a lie you are going to reap it. That's the reason that if I tell my child to lie he WILL LIE TO ME.

When a mother complains of a child being so deceitful the fault, ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, lies at her own door. That's how your children get to lying.

If you teach your men to work seven days in the week and break God's law, they will break yours.

No man can afford to sell whiskey. You sell my son whiskey and make a drunkard of him. Some one will sell your son whiskey and make a drunkard of him. Now who can afford to sell whiskey. It is the ruination of your homes.

Do you believe it? Then stand together. There's men enough in this church to keep the whiskey out of the town. They say it will hurt business. Will it hurt business. Your soul is worth more than business, and I don't believe it will hurt business anyway.

Sow tares and you are going to reap them. Don't lose sight of it. The law is

SOME OF MR. MOODY'S SAYINGS.

"The leprosy of sin is worse than the Eastern leprosy. The latter ruins the body, but the leprosy of sin ruins both body and soul."

"You can't break the Sabbath without reaping a bad harvest."

"There is nothing to-day that is going to quicken the Church like the preaching of Christ. Exalt Him and lift Him up."

"When a mother complains of her child being deceitful, the fault, ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, lies at her own door."

"Be sure your sins will find you out. You can't dig a grave so deep but that there will be a resurrection."

"When a tree is full of sap, there is going to be fruit, if it is a fruit tree. When we get filled with the spirit of God, then we are ready for service."

"If we come to the Book every day, we'll never get far from God."

Get everything done before cold, frosty weather sets in, and you will be surprised to see how neat your yard will look in the winter, and how much less work there will be to do in the spring. Besides, it is healthy to have clean premises.

HIS MONTH AMONG MISSIONS.

BISHOP O'CONNOR RETURNS HOME.

VISIT TO THE NORTHERN PART OF HIS DIOCESE.

A Personally Pleasant Journey—Officially Gratifying Also—Evidences of the Growth of Religious and Educational Interests.

Last evening His Lordship Bishop O'Connor returned home safely and happily from a four weeks' visit to some of the districts of the northern portion of his diocese. His Lordship is in excellent health, and had a most pleasant journey that was free from the many discomforts and hardships incident to travel in a new country, that have marked some previous visits. The weather was generally delightful, though there was some rain. The season also meant an absence or abeyance of the pest represented by the activity of the musquito and the black fly. Bishop O'Connor returns in excellent health physically and in good spirits over the evidence of which his visit presented.

His first visit was to the Trout Creek parish, or rather mission, situated in the northern part of the Parry Sound District. Here the work is in charge of the incumbent, Rev. Father Kelly, formerly of the Cathedral staff, who is assisted by Rev. Father Phelan, so well known in his native town. Under these devoted priests the work is going forward at a satisfactory rate.

From Trout Creek the Bishop proceeded to the missions at Powassan and Alsace, at each of which places he administered the holy rite of confirmation, besides blessing two cemeteries. At Trout Creek also confirmation was given and the bell of the church blessed.

From this point he journeyed to the Nipissing District where he visited the several missions, the most important of which is Sturgeon Falls, where there is a large settlement, composed chiefly of French Canadians. The Nipissing district is growing very satisfactorily in population, material prosperity, and spiritual and educational progress.

From the Falls the bishop went up the Sturgeon River by canoe to who had never before been honoured with an episcopal visit. Here he found about seventy families in portions of four townships—Badgerow, Field, Gibbons and Bastedo. Parts of these townships contain good land which is fairly well occupied, especially along the river. In Field township at a point near where four townships join a new church has been erected, and as population increases it will be necessary to add another.

On his return to Sturgeon Falls His Lordship drove to Verner to note the improvements that had taken place there and in the vicinity since his last visitation four years ago. He was much pleased with what he saw. The farms had improved, the clearings had increased, and considerable farm produce, principally hay and oats was raised.

At the next point visited, Warren, there is a large settlement of Catholics. Twelve or fifteen miles southward from Warren there is a new settlement in four townships, two of which were

ONLY SURVEYED LAST SUMMER.

Here there are fifty families, with prospects of large additions next summer. The bishop received a delegation appointed to solicit the building of a church, but for the present it was decided that a school house could be made to serve the double purpose of a school room and place of worship. If the increase in population warrants it a church will be erected next year. The settlers in this district are chiefly French Canadians, who are attracted by the fact that the country has been burnt over (some time since,) and is covered only by undergrowth which makes clearing of the land easy. Those settling there tell the story to their friends in Quebec, many of whom come also. Among the settlers is a considerable number of repatriated French Canadians, who have come back from the United States.

The Bishop next returned to the Indian Mission at Beaucage, on the north shore of Lake Nipissing. He noted very little improvement in the lands of the Indians since his last visit, but in the religious, moral and social condition of the Indians, who, when converted, make good Christians. They are learning, through the medium of the schools, to speak and read English. The Indians are under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

His Lordship's next visit was to North Bay, where he spent the last Sunday of his visit. This parish is in charge of Rev. Father Scollard, who is greatly esteemed and beloved by his flock. Here the Bishop was enthusiastically received. He was expected on the evening train, and the parishioners had made arrangements to escort him to the parsonage with a torchlight procession, but in the meantime had taken advantage of a freight and arrived in the afternoon. But he could not disappoint the people, and expressed through Father Scollard the pleasure it would be to him to receive their escort from the parsonage to the church, which was accordingly done, and, after the service the same escort was provided from the church to the parsonage. He was also presented with a dutiful address.

There is

of French Canadians and English speaking people, and Rev. Father Scollard is beginning to deliver brief sermons in the French tongue.

From North Bay the bishop went to Callendar (on Tuesday) and gave confirmation. The following day he started home, coming via Bracebridge, and arrived home last night.

During his visitation his Lordship administered confirmation on ten occasions, confirming 481 candidates, about seventy-five per cent. more than on his previous visit. There was also a corresponding increase in the religious and social condition of the people. Their increased material prosperity was also evident. The people were better housed and better dressed.

Altogether his Lordship was much pleased with his journey. Peterborough is considerably interested, from associations, in the district visited. There are four priests at work in this new field from Peterborough — Rev. Father Scollard, North Bay; Rev. Father Kelly, Trout Creek, and Rev. Father Phelan, and at Sturgeon Falls, Rev. Father O'Leary, of the parish of Douro.

Next Sunday His Lordship will administer the holy rite of confirmation at St. Peter's Cathedral. Children's mass will be sung at 9.15 a.m.

If, therefore, there is anything which should interest the workingman's wife, it is that which will give more food and better food for her money.

The thoughtful housekeeper who will make a test case of buying all her Teas, Coffees, Sugars, Provisions and General Groceries at our store for one month, will discover that a substantial saving has been made when compared with her outlay for any previous four weeks.

It is no more surprising that overcharging should explode a gun than that the same thing should burst a business. We buy for Cash and sell for Cash, and don't have to Overcharge.

DIZZY AND WEAK.

Sinking Sensations. Strong Evidence from Belleville that there is a Cure.

Mrs. Jas. A. Rose, Geddes St., Belleville, Ont., says, "To me life has been made a misery for the last six or seven years because of heart trouble and nervousness, from which I have suffered all this time.

"My heart throbbed, and seemed to rise into my throat, causing a sensation of suffocation. At times I had to walk the floor, and often then would have a sensation of falling down from a high place such as falling down stairs.

"This would be followed by dizziness, my eyesight would become blurred and dim, so that many a time I knew not what to do. Gradually I grew weak, my blood became poor, and my entire system run down. My nerves were so unstrung that I could not sleep.

"All the medicine I used and all the doctoring I did was without effect, when providentially I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and started using them. The results were so wonderful that I cannot refrain from speaking about them.

"I got stronger from the first dose, and am now like another person. The action of my heart is all right, my blood is enriched, and my whole system toned up to its normal condition of strength and vigor.

"To my mind there is no medicine in the world so good as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for all who suffer as I did." 219

FOUR-HORSE LINES

An Arrangement Exceedingly Adapted for Field Work.

"Can you tell me how to drive four horses abreast with two lines, and without jockey sticks?" was recently asked us.

For field work the arrangement shown in the sketch presented herewith is perhaps as good as any. Put the ordinary checklines on outside horses as shown by L. Have four coupling straps made with snap on one end and an adjustable loop on the other end, by means of which its length can be readily adjusted. Separate cut 181 shows how straps are made. The loop works in hame ring, while the snap fastens to bit (B). Snaps may be used on both ends.

Another arrangement is to use lines on outside horses, same as here shown, and instead of the four coupling straps, use but three, and with these couple the horses heads together right through.—George T Pettit, in Agricultural Epitomist.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

Ten Years for Attempted Murder.

Chatham, Oct. 20.—Joseph Dumas, who was on trial here before Justice MacMahon on a charge of shooting Mrs. Catherine Snook of Dover, with intent to commit murder, was found guilty this afternoon by the jury, after but five minutes' deliberation. He was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary.

Charles A. Dana's Funeral.

New York, Oct. 20.—The funeral of Charles A. Dana took place at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in Glencove, Long Island, to-day. The service was short and simple.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington, rector of Grace Church, this city, assisted by the Rev. John Gammack, rector of the Glencove Church. The body was interred in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Popular Hotel Man.

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and head which caused me much annoyance. After trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle helped me and I took four bottles. I am now completly cured." JAMES REILLEY, Proprietor Chapman House, Sarnia, Ont.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubled for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

U. S. Reciprocity Talk.

Washington, Oct. 21. Special Commissioner Kasson, who was appointed to deal with the negotiations relative to reciprocity agreement under the new tariff act, has entered upon the actual work with which he is charged, beginning with the effort to prepare an acceptable agreement in the case of France. The French Ambassador, M. Patenotre, was at the State Department to-day, and for several hours was in conference with the commissioner and the secretaries of the commission, the phase of the matter under consideration being, it is understood, the wine and spirit clause of the act.

500 FAMILIES DESTITUTE.

Relief to be Distributed Systematically to Windsor, N. S., Fire Sufferers.

Windsor, N. S., Oct. 20.—The Relief Committee met yesterday in connection with the recent disastrous fire, and found that there were 500 destitute families to be provided for. Relief will be distributed systematically.

Halifax citizens have already subscribed $5000 for the fire sufferers, and $15,000 more, it is expected, will be given.

General Montgomery Moore has detailed 50 soldiers from the garrison to protect property. A sentinel was obliged to fire on two men who were making off with a bundle. After an investigation they were released.

George Fletcher, the colored man who is accused of setting fire to his place in the Marine Block and thus starting the conflagration, is now under police surveillance.

BADLY SCORCHED.

Howell's Lithographing Establishment at Hamilton Burned.

Hamilton, Oct. 21.—There was a costly Staff Correspondence.—There was a costly fire in the F. J. Howell Lithographing Company's premises, 125 James-street north, this evening. It started about 9.30 in the store room on the third floor and spread rapidly, burning through the floor to the second flat, where the presses are located. A varnishing machine and a rolling machine on the top flat were destroyed, with a large amount of finished stock. The damage to the unfinished stock is very large. The Fire Department did good work and the flames were kept from spreading after the department arrived. Street car traffic was blocked for almost an hour. Mr. Howell estimates his loss by fire and water to plant and stock at $7000. The damage to the building is not heavy. The loss is almost covered by insurance.

Incendiary Fire Near Chatham.

Chatham, Oct. 20.—Yesterday evening a large barn in Dover township near here was burned to the ground. The barn was the property of John Mount of this city, and contained the season's crop of corn, amounting to 1400 bushels. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, and a reward has been offered for the arrest of the party.

Duck Hunter Drowned.

Kingston, Oct. 20.—Charles McGregor, aged 65, a servant at the Royal Military College, went out duck hunting yesterday. Two hours later his canoe was picked up. He had evidently fired broadside and upset his boat. He is undoubtedly drowned. McGregor was an old soldier.

BIG ENGLISH SOAP MAKER

Proposes to Get Over Tariffs by Starting Factories in Canada and U. S.

New York, Oct. 20.—Because of the new tariff laws of the United States and Canada, W. H. Lever, the big English soap manufacturer, has come to the United States to establish a factory, and he will go to Canada with the same project for that country. Mr. Lever with his three daughters arrived here to-day on the White Star Line steamship Majestic. He has a monster $10,000,000 soap factory at Port Sunlight, England, where he employs 3000 persons. From this place he has heretofore supplied the trade of foreign countries. The prohibitive tariffs against foreign soaps, he says, forces him to erect factories in those countries. He has also started new works on 11 acres of land in Switzerland. When he finds a suitable location in this country he will also build a factory, and then will go to Toronto to establish a branch soap works there. He expects to go as far west as Chicago.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Blind-folded.

A woman has no right to go "blind" in matters of life and health. She has no right to shut her eyes to the plain facts of her physical being and the consequences of neglect. She has no right to be wretched and ill when she might be happy and free from pain.

Women who drag through life weighed down by some torturing, dragging weakness or disease of their sex are not doing their full duty to themselves. They are not taking the means which enlightened science affords them of being well and strong and capable.

These special complaints from which so many women suffer are not necessary. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription positively cures even the most severe and obstinate cases.

It is not a haphazard medicine. It is not a "cure-all." It is a scientific remedy devised by an educated and experienced specialist for the one purpose of curing the special diseases of women.

Tens of thousands of women have been restored to perfect health by this wonderful "Prescription." In many instances they were actually given up as hopeless by physicians and family doctors.

"I have taken both your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' for chronic inflammation of the uterus and bladder," writes Mrs. M. A. Scott, of Park Rapids, Hubbard Co. Minn. "I also had stomach trouble which was terribly distressing. I have been cured of all. I had suffered untold misery for four years previous to taking your treatment, but began to feel the good effect at once."

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains information of price less value to women. A paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a cloth-bound copy send 50 stamps.

IN THE LAUNDRY.

How the Home Washer May Lighten Her Summer Labor.

Always hard, the family washing is for various reasons especially so in hot weather. And as if to make bad matters worse, the majority of housewives are slow in adopting new methods and such helps as are within their reach.

I don't think much of washing machines myself, except for slightly soiled linen and bed linen; but borax, ammonia and javelle water are inexpensive and excellent cleansing agents, and instead of being injurious, when properly used, clothes will last much longer than when cleansed with soap and main strength.

Two other old-fashioned operations that ought to be abolished for all time are soaking clothes over night before they are rubbed and boiling them afterwards. The former is sure to make them yellow or muddy-looking, and pouring scalding hot suds over clothes answers every purpose of the latter, is much easier, and not apt to yellow them.

White clothes are more likely to be stained in summer than any other time, and these should always be taken out before they are put in suds. A bottle of oxalic acid solution should always be kept in readiness, but not where children can reach it or without being plainly labeled, as it is very poisonous.

Scalding hot soft water is all that is needed to remove fresh raspberry, strawberry, tea, coffee or chocolate stains, but ripe peach, pear and grape stains must have acid. Touch only the stained parts and rinse quickly and well as soon as they disappear or it will destroy the fiber of the goods. Delicate stuff, like lace or muslin, should have a little ammonia put in the first rinsing water. Better dilute the acid before using, and make it stronger if necessary. Buy the crystalized acid, put it in a bottle and add cold water until it is all dissolved.

Mildew is particularly a summer stain, and although it will disappear if persistently wet in buttermilk and laid in the sun, it is much easier to use chloride of lime. Put a little lime in cold water and stir until it is dissolved; then strain through cheese-cloth and pour over the stained spots. Lift occasionally to see if they are bleached out, and as soon as they are, rinse in three or four waters to remove every particle of lime.

If you are "five miles from a lemon," and find red iron-rust on clothes, make a paste of tomato or pie-plant juice and salt and starch, instead of lemon juice, and expose to the sun.

If you have no alcohol, use molasses for grass stains.

Wash out machine oil or vaseline with cold water and soap, and use kerosene for blood stains and tar.

Nothing equals hay water for washing the natural tinted linens now so fashionable. Boil enough hay to color the water perceptibly, pour a pint or more of boiled starch in with it (after the hay has been strained out), and rub the dress without using any soap. Rinse, adding more starch to the rinsing water, if desired, and dry in the shade.

All colored clothes should be dried in the shade, and ironed on the wrong side as far as possible.

Colored cotton dresses should be stiffened very little, and the way recommended above is decidedly the best one. If you have never tried it you will be astonished to see how easily they are cleaned in starch water.

Delicate red or pink cottons should be soaked in salt water before washing, and a tablespoonful of sugar lead.

White clothes should be carefully assorted, then placed in hot suds to which borax or ammonia in the proportion of one tablespoonful to every pailful of water has been added. Let them lie half an hour. Table and bed linen can be rubbed through the same suds, but badly soiled garments should only be worked up and down, then wrung out and rubbed through a clean suds. Meantime heat an abundance of water to the scalding point; add javelle water, borax or ammonia; pour over the clothes (that have been previously shaken out and placed in a tub) and let them stand fifteen minutes, occasionally stirring that every part may be thoroughly scalded.

Put a little lard or kerosene in boiled starch, and borax in cold, and your linen will be both glossy and stiff.

If the rollers of a wringer are linty or sticky, clean them by passing a cloth dampened with kerosene back and forth between them.

Javelle Water.—Put four pounds of sal soda in a large granite pan, pour four quarts of boiling water over it and stir until well dissolved. Add one pound of chloride of lime and dissolve. When cold, carefully drain off the clear portion; strain through a cloth and bottle. Use a small teacupful for a boiler of water.—Elizabeth Moreton, in Country Gentleman.

HOME PASTEURIZATION OF MILK.

The Mode of Operation and the Utensils Necessary for Operation.

In most large cities one can now obtain milk that is pasteurized on a large scale for general distribution and usually at nominal prices. In smaller towns and isolated homesteads, however, it cannot be secured and must be prepared at home. The practice of boiling milk is not an uncommon one and beneficial but for the increased difficulty of digestion, producing results quite as alarming as any likely to occur from the use of ordinary raw milk.

Pasteurizing accomplishes practically all that boiling does, and that without to any noticeable degree affecting either the flavor or digestive properties of the milk. The process is one that is recommended by the most thorough bacteriologists of this country and Europe.

The accompanying cut shows a simple household apparatus, consisting of four or six bottles made to set in a pail which is provided with a cover. The milk is bottled and the bottles are placed in the pail, which has been filled with water. The whole is then heated to the required degree, about 160 degrees F. at which temperature it remains for 10 or 15 minutes and is then cooled down to 50 degrees as rapidly as possible without breaking the bottles.

A friend of mine has pasteurized successfully by using any ordinary bottles, filling with milk to the neck or a little below, placing a stopper or cotton batting in the neck, then setting on a thin strip of wood or inverted pie-plate which has been perforated, in a tin basin or pail until the milk shows a temperature of nearly 150 degrees. The bottle is then stoppered and the pail and contents are removed to the back of the stove, where the temperature will remain fairly constant for 20 minutes, especially if covered with some non-conducting material, as a cloth or dry towel or the pail cover. At the end of the 20 minutes the bottles are removed and set in warm water, which is gradually cooled and then iced. The bottle may finally be put in the refrigerator after being partially chilled in water.

Pasteurizing may also be accomplished with equally good, if not better, results, in tin vessels, either a double boiler oatmeal cooker or two dishes of suitable capacity, one with a diameter two inches shorter than the other. The water is poured into the outer dish at boiling point, the milk dish and contents being set in at once and the milk constantly stirred until its temperature is 150 degrees. It is then removed for a moment while the water in the outer dish is tempered to the same, or a degree or two higher. The milk is then set back into the boiler, put to one side and closely covered and wrapped in order to retain the heat for 15 or 20 minutes.

The advantage of tin vessels is that they may be plunged from hot water to ice water without danger of breakage, and with positive advantage to the milk.

If the object of pasteurizing be to destroy the bacillus of tuberculosis, a minimum temperature of 149 degrees should be maintained for 15 minutes, or 140 degrees for half an hour.

If milk can be obtained from a herd known to be free from tuberculosis or the person has no fear of this trouble, a pasteurizing temperature of from 135 to 140 degrees maintained for 15 or 20 minutes is sufficient to give good keeping qualities, and to effectually get rid of 95 per cent. of all bacteria, including the forms which produce stomach disturbances, vomiting and cholera infantum in children.

In all pasteurizing work the sudden chilling to 50 degrees, or thereabouts, is imperative. The milk should be kept covered and at as low a temperature as can be obtained. Treated in this manner, pasteurized milk will be found to have a delightfully sweet, pure taste long after common milk has lost its freshness. On the average it keeps from six to 36 hours longer than unpasteurized milk in the same temperature.—F. W. Mossman, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Stable Floors.

We are inclined to think, says Hoard's Dairyman, that there is nothing better for a cow stable floor, in the basement or ground floor of a barn, than a properly constructed concrete or cement floor. It will be durable, and can be kept clean, and will keep out rats.

Plank floors are apt to be slippery, wear out, and frequently rot out, and the liquid is liable to leak through and get under the planks, and be the source of foul odors which will be damaging, not only to the cows, but the product.

Here is a good rule for making concrete stable floors: First, tamp the ground solid where the floor is to be so there will be no settling after it is made. Make the floor six inches thick. The lower four inches should be made of four parts broken stone or coarse gravel, two parts sand, and one part Portland cement. The upper two inches of two parts coarse sand—if mixed with some very fine gravel all the better—and one part of cement. In finishing off the floor go over it at the last with a wooden float which will make the surface even, but not so smooth and slippery, as though a trowel were used. When finished in this way the cows will not slip on it, and the bedding will stay on better than if it was smoother.

Care of Milk For Factory.

Since the hot weather has come we hear of great quantities of milk returned to patrons because of being sour and gassy when it reaches the factory. At the Ontario factory on Monday morning, July 5th, over 15,000 pounds was returned. The following suggestions will prove helpful:

See that the cows drink nothing but pure water, and breathe air untainted by bad odors. That green, scum-covered pond hole must be shut out.

Milk with clean, dry hands, and keep the milk free from stable dust or other contaminating particles.

Strain at once thoroughly, then run the milk through an aerator, or if you have none use the dipper freely pouring and stirring.

Then cool the milk down and stir again before retiring for the night. A deep shotgun can filled with cold water may be set in the large can of milk to do the cooling. Most expert cheesemen now consider aeration more important than cooling, but when the latter is done in conjunction with the former the milk will certainly keep sweet longer.—London Farmer's Advocate.

Symptoms—Moisture intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Some Vegetables in New Styles.

Corn Timbales.—To 6 well-beaten eggs put 1-4 teaspoonful of white pepper, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 1 1-2 cupfuls milk and 2 cupfuls of grated green corn. Mix thoroughly and pour into buttered patty pans making each two-thirds full. Set these in a large pan, pour boiling water around, cover and bake in a moderate oven until the centers are stiff. Serve with a cream sauce.

Cucumber Fritters.—Select very ripe cucumbers, peel and grate. Press the pulp free from juice and for each pint stir in 3 tablespoonfuls of sweet cream, 1 tablespoonful melted butter, 1-2 cupful sifted flour, 1-2 teaspoonful salt and a dash of cayenne. Whip 2 eggs to a light froth and add to the butter. Drop a spoonful at a time, into smoking hot lard, fry a rich color and drain on thick brown paper. These should be eaten immediately.

Tomatoes stuffed with macaroni may be new to some. Choose large, solid tomatoes and slice off the stem ends. Then with spoon carefully remove all the seeds, cut cold boiled macaroni into small pieces, and season with salt, pepper and onion juice. Fill the cavity in each vegetable with this, lay a piece of butter on top and bake in a hot oven for half an hour.

Carrot Croquettes.—Well wash and scrape a bunch of nice young carrots, boil them tender, drain and mash. Then to each cupful allow the yolks of 2 raw eggs, a pinch of mace, and salt and pepper to taste. Stir all well together and when the mixture is cool form into little croquettes. Dip these in slightly beaten egg, roll in breadcrumbs and cook in hot lard in a deep kettle.

Escalloped Cauliflower.—Boil the cauliflower quite tender, then cut into small pieces and place in a baking dish. Pour over it a white sauce made by boiling to the consistency of custard, 1 pint of heated milk thickened with 1 1-2 tablespoonfuls of flour and 1 tablespoonful of butter, blended together. Bake 30 minutes. Onions and asparagus may be prepared in the same manner.—Alice Carr Sage, in Orange Judd Farmer.

TALKS ON

Dyspepsia.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF

In all forms of stomach trouble Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will promptly cure where there are such symptoms as pain or soreness in the stomach, indigestion or distress after eating, pressure and fullness in the stomach, shortness of breath, poor appetite, coated tongue, sour or bitter raising from the stomach, heartburn, wind on the stomach, constipation, dizziness, faintness and lost energy.

When these symptoms are associated with biliousness, yellow-coated tongue, nausea, bitter taste in the mouth and sallow skin take Munyon's Liver Cure in alternation with the Dyspepsia Cure, an hour apart. Where there is obstinate constipation keep the bowels open once a day by using Munyon's Constipation Cure until they become regular under the effect of the Dyspepsia Cure. When there are troublesome heart symptoms alternate Munyon's Heart Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great nervousness or inability to sleep, alternate Munyon's Nerve Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If the blood is poor in quality alternate Munyon's Blood Cure and Dyspepsia Cure. By this plan of treatment one can eradicate the worst forms of stomach troubles and their complications, and make the cure permanent.

A separate specific for each disease. Sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

Watch the Manufacture:—The skins first of all to be properly and well dressed and sometimes dyed—Matching the skins as to colour and length of "hair"—"Letting down" in order that stripes and shades will harmonize in one distinct unbroken design—Sewing thousands of stitches tight and firm, and not one of these stitches to show when the garment is to wear—then with the skins held taut over wooden "blocks" to actually work the skins into proper shape.

☞That's why well made Furs look and wear well—this care to detail.

☞That's why our Furs are usable again—all is ready for rebuilding when a change is desirable.

The average ready-made Fur garment is simply sewed up with machine stitching and without proper care paid to cutting and blocking—that's why they soon look mean—and very rarely work over satisfactorily.

the same for the millionaire as for the pauper.

I used to be afraid when I started out for fear some one would rise to oppose my opinions, but I am not afraid to

CHALLENGE THE CROWD

now. I am not afraid to stand by my doctrine.

If a man swindles you he will lose ten time as much. He can never look up and have the smile of heaven on him as long as he lives.

Birds of a feather flock together. A hypocritical man will consort with hypocrites, a liar with liars.

Jacob lied to his father and stole a kid and killing it used its skin to aid him in his deceit. Jacob's sons sold Joseph into slavery, and killing a kid used its blood to aid them in their deceit by soaking his coat of many colours in it.

As ye sow so shall ye reap.

Be sure your sin will find you out. You cannot dig a grave so deep but that there will be a resurrection. God has got a law. You may escape the law of man, but you cannot escape the law of God. You need not go to the sea or to the Rocky Mountains—you can't get away from your sins.

David sowed adultery and murder, and he reaped adultery and murder through his best-loved son, Absalom. If God made David reap, do you think He will allow

YOU TO GO FREE?

Now to my next head—You will reap more than you have sown, and it takes longer to reap than to sow. From a momentary sin a man might reap a harvest of life-long misery.

I want to say, exclaimed Mr. Moody, that the most crying shame in this world to-day is the way woman is treated. She is made the outcast of society when she falls, and the man can walk into his pew in church without having a side glance being cast upon him.

Is the God of equity going to allow such a thing as that? Will that man be allowed to hold his head high and to go unpunished?

Would to God he was ascertained and made to feel his just punishment on earth as he will surely feel it in the hereafter!

When I hear a man talking of sowing his wild oats, I don't laugh. I feel like crying.

He must reap.

Have you ever been in court, and seen the agony of the father and mother when their boy is sentenced to be hanged? If you haven't try to avoid the scene, it will haunt you to your death bed.

THE LEPROSY OF SIN

is worse than the eastern leprosy. The eastern leprosy ruins the body, but that leprosy ruins both body and soul.

A man died in prison the other day after forty years' confinement. There was trouble about a railroad running through his farm on the site of the present city of Cleveland, and in a moment of hate he placed an obstruction on the track when the first train went through many were killed and he was imprisoned.

Perhaps just an hour's sowing, but a reaping of forty years.

I've been forty odd years building up a Christian character, but I can blast it in an hour.

Now, to my fourth head. Ignorance of the kind of seed makes no difference in the result. Men, women and children—old and young—all alike are sowing. Therefore, it becomes me as a rational man to see what kind of seed I am sowing. If we sow good seed we are going to have and if sow tares we will reap them. It is God's eternal decree.

You can't break the Sabbath without reaping a bad harvest.

How do you treat your parents?

You have an old white-haired mother. You haven't time to write to her! If you say now that she tried to cram religion down your throat when you were at home, I have an utter contempt for you.

Do you speak contemptuously of your mother when out among the boys? God forgive you if you do. You know down with the small pox to-night, your old mother would spend her last dollar to get to you.

IF YOU WERE STRICKEN

Look well to see what kind of seed you are sowing.

Am I speaking to a young man that drinks. If I am, don't you know that you are just killing your mother.

It is only the best murderers that are hung!

You stare at that remark but it is so. I would rather have my son step up to me and drive a dagger straight to my heart, then kill me by inches by coming home drunk every night.

Think!

To have a boy come in at midnight, and when reproved by his mother, to curse her—God have mercy on such a wretch. That's the meanest kind of a murderer.

If I am speaking to a drinking man to-night, Oh, let him say, God "helping me I will never touch it again."

If there is a whiskey seller here to-night by God's help that he will never sell it again. He will not starve by losing his occupation. The church has had no martyr for a long time. The idea of the people letting a man starve because he refused to sell whiskey for a living.

LET HIM SAY

Go into the church and help to sow the seed of God and you will prosper and your children will prosper. God will put His strength in you, but you must will to do it. Are you willing to shoulder the cross of Christ, take up your cross and follow Him?

A large show of hands went up when Mr. Moody asked for those who, seeing the error of their ways, wished to be prayed for.

In closing he explained that he had written a pamphlet to assist converts on their way after they had made up their minds to start. Any convert who was sufficiently interested in his soul to come forward and give his name would be welcome to one of these little books.

In answer to the offer scores of men crowded to the front and Mr. Moody, with tears in his eyes explained that he asked this manifestation before the public to impose the first cross of the Christian. He was delighted to see the noble way in which so many stepped boldly to the front to acknowledge their allegiance to Christ.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Just as I am," and the benediction.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Medland-Bickell Nuptials at Port Britain.

A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. W. H. Bickell, Port Britain, when he presented in marriage his eldest daughter, Miss Jennie L. A. Bickell, a very estimable young lady, to Mr. T. J. Medland, the progressive Englishtown merchant. Some forty of the relatives of the bride and groom were present on this important occasion, and Rev. Francis Johnston of Welcome, officiated.

The bride was habited in a gown of cream cashmere, trimmed with satin and ribbon, and taffeta silk ruffles. She carried a very handsome bouquet of cream roses, and looked very pretty indeed. The bridesmaid was Miss Laura Bickell, the bride's sister, who was attired in a dress of white organdie muslin with beautiful lace trimmings. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. J. Medland, of Toronto, in the capacity of best men. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

The evening was very pleasantly spent by the indulging of those pastimes as would tend to make it such, games, vocal and instrumental music. Welcome band assisting very acceptably in the latter. Many handsome presents were received by the bride from friends and relatives in Toronto, Bowmanville, Peterborough, Corry, Pa., Rochester, Guelph, and in the neighbourhood of her home, where she was a great favourite. A number of the guests at the wedding came from the places above mentioned, Mr. Samuel Bickell, of Peterborough, being amongst those in attendance.

She was married to Mr. Wm. Cuthbertson, at Hamilton, Ont., a little over ten years ago. About three and a half years ago she became afflicted with a cancer trouble and since that time has endured very great suffering, notwithstanding all that medical skill could do for her. Mrs. Cuthbertson had many warm friends in the community who, while sorrowing, feel that she has been released from pain and suffering for something better. Four brothers and three sisters of deceased are living, viz., Mr. Joseph Morrow, of Burlington, Mr. Robt. Morrow, of Belmont, and Mr. James Morrow, Percy, Mrs. James Harper, of Norwood, Mrs. B. Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. THE INDIA CAMPAIGN.

A Junction of Troops Effected Near Kharappa

WITH ONLY SLIGHT RESISTANCE.

Additional List of the Officers Wounded

The Silver Proposals British Exporters Urge a Canadian Insolvency Law Upon Finance Minister Fielding.

Simla, Oct. 23.—Despatches received to-day from Kharappa announce that the plan of campaign against the insurgents has been so far successfully carried out that a junction has been effected near Kharappa between the British forces under General Sir Yeatman Biggs and General Sir William Lockhart. After the storming and capture of Dargai Ridge, on the Samana Range, by the troops of General Biggs on Wednesday afternoon, the plan was for the latter to push on, so as to hold the frontal hills, and then continue his advance to Kharappa, where he was to join forces with the column under Sir William Lockhart. This has been done, and the two columns are now camped about two miles from Kharappa. The British troops met with only slight resistance, but the enemy is massed on the hills around Kharappa, and desultory firing is proceeding.

Captain Arnold of the Dorsetshire Regiment, Lieut. Dingwall of the Gordon Highlanders and Lieut. White of the Sikhs, are among the British officers severely wounded, in addition to those whose names have already been cabled.

Simla, Oct. 22. — Despatches from Kharappa say that it is impossible to praise too highly the conduct of the Gordon Highlanders at the storming of the Dargai Ridge. When Brig.-Gen. Kempster realized that the British gun fire, aided by the mounted battery from Fort Gulistan, could not dislodge the enemy, and went forward in person to move the Gordon Highlanders and the Third Sikhs into the fighting line for a systematic assault, Col. Mathias, commander of the Gordon Highlanders, addressed his men in this stirring appeal:

"Men of the Gordon Highlanders: Our general says that position must be taken at all costs. The Gordon Highlanders will take it."

The men gave a ringing cheer, and when the advance sounded they bounded after their leader, the officers at the head. When they came down the slopes after the successful charge they were spontaneously cheered by all the other regiments. The Goorkhas also behaved magnificently throughout the engagement. Captain Robinson of the Goorkhas acted with the greatest gallantry. He led his men across the fire zone to cover. Finding the force there insufficient, he returned alone over the death trap. He was mortally wounded while leading the second rush to support the first contingent.

Many acts of heroism are recorded of the rank and file. The total casualties of the day were 134, and the Gordon Highlanders lost 29 in the rush through the line of fire.

General Westmacott's brigade is now encamped in the Khan-Ki Valley. He has cleared the enemy from the heights commanding the valley and destroyed their towers.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Expectations of the Yankee Commissioners to Great Britain and How They Were Met.

London, Oct. 22.—The correspondence in regard to the bimetallic proposals of the United States Monetary Commission was issued by the British Foreign Office this evening, and the following account of the negotiations was taken from it:

At the conference held at the Foreign Office on July 12 the Premier, the Marquis of Salisbury; the Secretary of State for India, Lord George Hamilton; the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach; the First Lord of the Treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour; the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, and the United Monetary Commissioners, Mr. Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado, ex-Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, and General Charles Jackson Paine of Massachusetts, were present.

On the invitation of the Premier, Senator Wolcott explained that the object of the mission was to ascertain, in advance of an international conference, if one should be called, the views of the French, British and German Governments on the question of reaching an international bimetallic agreement.

The Senator then explained that the success of the mission depended upon the attitude Great Britain would take, and he requested Great Britain to agree to open the English mints as its contribution to the attempt to restore international bimetallism, with France and the United States co-operating together in an attempt to that end.

The Marquis of Salisbury asked if France was ready to open her mints to free coinage, and Senator Wolcott replied: "Yes."

The Premier thereupon inquired at what ratio France would open her mints. Senator Wolcott said at 15 1-2, adding that the American envoys had accepted this ratio.

The Senator then presented the following list of contributions which, among others, he suggested Great Britain might make:

First, the opening of the Indian mints and the repeal of the order making the sovereign legal tender in India.

Second, placing one-fifth of the bullion in the Issue Department of the Bank of England in silver.

Third, raising the legal tender limit of silver to, say, £10, and issuing 20s notes based on silver, which shall be legal tender, and the retirement, in graduation or otherwise, of the 10s gold pieces and the substitution of paper based on silver.

Fourth, an agreement to coin annually so much silver, the amount to be left open.

Fifth, the opening of the English mints to the coinage of rupees and to the coinage of British dollars which shall be full tender in the Straits Settlements and other silver standard colonies and tender in the United Kingdom to the limit of silver legal tender.

Sixth, colonial action and the coinage of silver in Egypt.

Seventh, something having the general scope of the Huskisson plan.

The meeting then closed, and it is understood by the parties that the absence of the French Ambassador, Baron De Courcel, from the proceedings should be regarded as informal, and a second conference was held on the 15th, at which, in addition to those already mentioned, the French Ambassador and M. Geoffray, the counsellor of the French Embassy, were present.

The French Ambassador was then invited to declare the position of the Government, and he said France was ready to reopen her mints to the coinage of silver if the commercial nations adopted the same course, and he advocated at great length the ratio of 15 1-2. But, he explained, France would not consider the reopening of the mints of India alone as being a sufficient guarantee to permit the French Government to reopen the French mints to the free coinage of silver.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach then announced definitely that Great Britain would not agree to open the English mints to the unlimited coinage of silver, and that whatever view he and his colleagues might separately hold regarding bimetallism, he could say that they were united on this point. Baron De Courcel said, as a personal suggestion, that among other contributions he thought Great Britain should open the Indian mints and also agree to purchase annually £10,000,000 sterling of silver for a series of years.

Senator Wolcott accepted the proposal that the British Government should make this purchase with proper safeguards and provisions as to the place and manner of its use.

Since this conference the British Government has been considering the proposals, and finally made the reply handed to the United States Ambassador yesterday.

WAITED UPON MR. FIELDING

Who Promised to Lay a British Deputation's Views Before His Colleagues.

London, Oct. 22.—(Telegram Cable.)—A deputation representative of the leading firms in the export trade to Canada met Hon. W. S. Fielding, Dominion Finance Minister, at the High Commissioner's offices to-day with reference to the insolvency laws of Canada. Mr. Still, managing director of the European Exporters' Association, introduced the deputation. Lord Strathcona and Hon. R. R. Dobell were present during the meeting, which was private. Mr. Fielding, it was learned, promised the gentlemen that their views would receive every consideration, and that he would lay the whole matter before his colleagues in the Cabinet immediately upon his return to Ottawa.

SPAIN IS SORE

Over the Alleged Injustice Meted Out to Her by Uncle Sam.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—The Imparcial, in an article entitled "The Denouement of the Drama—Another attack of the United States," declares Spain cannot remain silent in the face of America's persistent injustice. The Government must not forget the national honor, and ought to pay more attention to the moral than to the national interests. A memorandum should be sent to the powers, comparing the attitude of Spain and of the United States. It would have great moral effect, unless notions of the justice and right of nations no longer exist.

A Warning to Spain.

London, Oct. 22.—The Madrid correspondent of The Daily Mail says: Senor de Lome, the Spanish Minister at Washington, has been instructed to notify the American Government that henceforth filibustering expeditions will be regarded as breeches of international law. Such, at any rate, is the substance of his instructions, though it is just possible that the form in which they will be carried into effect may modify their import."

The Eight Hours Fight Won.

London, Oct. 22.—The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers issued a statement to-day saying that the fight for eight hours' work per day, so far as London is concerned, is practically won, and that arbitration or a conference on that subject cannot be entertained.

Abyssinians Devastating Somaliland.

Cairo, Oct. 22. — News just received here from Somaliland shows that the Abyssinians are devastating that country. They have already dispersed or wiped out four great Somali tribes, have stolen all their live stock, and have committed horrible atrocities. All the prisoners taken by the Abyssinians were mutilated. The area laid waste extends from the banks of the Uebi to the source of the Jubat.

THANKS FROM INDIA

Received at Ottawa for Famine Fund Contributions.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE TO EUROPE

Mr. Ross Has Faith That a W. R. Will Be Built and That It Will Shorten the Distance Between the Northwest and the Point of Ocean Shipment.

Ottawa, Oct. 22. (Special)—Mr. J. M. Courtney, Honorary Treasurer of the Canadian India famine fund, has received from Sir Francis Maclean, Chief Justice of Bengal, a final letter of thanks for Canada's contributions. The communication in part reads as follows: "The Central Committee desire to offer, on behalf of the sufferers and on their own behalf, to his Excellency the Governor-General and the Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces, to the ministers of all religious denominations, to the press and in fact to all who have assisted in this great work of benevolence, this expression of their warmest and most sincere thanks. Outside of the United Kingdom and India itself, the largest charitable contribution has come from the Dominion of Canada, and we are especially grateful for the promptitude with which the funds were collected and remitted. My committee will shortly transmit to his Excellency the Viceroy, as President of the General Committee of the fund, its first report of their operations in relation to the relief of distress, and will suggest to his Excellency that copies thereof be sent to his Excellency the Earl of Aberdeen as Governor-General of Canada. I can only repeat that the remarkable sympathy shown by all classes in Canada towards India in her need, apart from the very substantial aid afforded, is most gratifying to the people of this country, whether European or natives."

Hudson Bay Route to Europe.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22.—Mr. John Ross of Lancaster, a prominent railroad contractor who has been assisting the English syndicate to whom the Dominion Government granted a charter last session to construct a railway from Fort Churchill, on the Hudson Bay westerly, under the name of the Hudson Bay and Pacific Railway Company, was in Ottawa to-day. He has absolute faith in the feasibility of the Hudson Bay route to Europe, and says the new road will greatly reduce the distance by railway to the point of shipment for ocean navigation. From Athabasca via Edmonton to the Atlantic seaports, the distances via C.P.R. are: To Montreal, 2853 miles; to Portland, 3136 miles; to St. John, 3331 miles; to Halifax, 3369 miles. From the eastern end of Lake Athabasca to Fort Churchill, the distance by the northern route will be between 400 and 500 miles.

The authorities at the Geological Survey say that the asphalt reported to have been discovered on the Edmonton trail to the Klondike was found six years ago. It is not like ordinary paving asphalt, being largely a composition of sand and tar. Its utility for street purposes has never been experimented with, and the distance it would have to be hauled leaves it outside the realm of commercial calculations for the present. There are large beds of tar in that district, which has led the Government to put men at work boring for oil. The presence of the tar indicates that at one time the country was very rich in oil.

R. G. McConnell, J. McEvoy and W. R. Brock of the Government Geological Survey have returned from the Kootenay district, where they spent the summer. The Klondike excitement, it is stated, has not affected the mining in Kootenay. The work there is going quietly on and many of the mines are paying excellent dividends. The low duty on lead entering the United States has been very beneficial to the Kootenay miners and they are exporting large quantities. A great deal of English capital is invested in Kootenay mining properties. The area of workable mines is constantly extending, and the district is wonderfully rich in minerals, especially in gold, silver, lead and copper.

There is a proposition before the Government from the Rathbun Lumber Company for the manufacture of wood alcohol in Canada. This is a product that is not manufactured in the Dominion. It is used in the States and found to be very cheap and perfectly suited for the manufacture of methylated spirits, such as is not drinkable. The wood alcohol leaves a charcoal which is disposed of at a profit in the States for smelting purposes. Up to the present there has been no market for the charcoal in this country, but now it is said that since smelting has developed into an industry in Canada the charcoal might very easily be disposed of.

Mr. McInnes, M. P., has left for British Columbia. He confirms the report that Dr. Milne's company, the Vancouver, Victoria, and Eastern Railway Company, have strengthened themselves by making an agreement with Messrs. Dun, Mann, W. McKenzie of Toronto street railway fame, and others. It is also said that Senator Cox is interested in the bill. The new company will present their bill for a Dominion charter again next session. Mr. Warfield, representing the Helaze scheme, is also in town, endeavoring to pull wires for the opposite company.

Mr. Dyment, M. P. for Algoma, is here on business with the Minister of Customs. Speaking as a lumberman, he said he was strongly opposed to the imposition of an export duty on logs. The statement that all the Georgian Bay lumbermen favor the duty and all the Ottawa Valley men oppose it is not true. "I am a Georgian Bay man, and I do not favor it," he said. "As it is we get four-fifths of the labor of making the lumber and the Americans one-fifth, because four-fifths of the cost of making lumber is in getting out the logs. Besides, if we put on a duty on logs the American duty on lumber will be raised, and we cannot live with that. The Ottawa Valley people might, but we could not."

The supply of jubilee stamps in the Postoffice Department is finally exhausted.

In the Supreme Court this morning the argument in the case of Haggart vs. Brampton was continued.

Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh's resignation seems to be still in abeyance. It was in circulation that he would resign, and now the latest said is that he will seek leave of absence to visit British Columbia.

WILL MR. WHITNEY DO ANY BETTER?

Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition, and those who join him in addressing the electors, grow eloquent and audaciously imaginative over the fancied disastrous results of Liberal rule in Ontario, and the inference is that he and his followers would do better. Apart from the self-evident improbability of such a result, evidence is afforded by the Province of Quebec of the fearful results of Conservative government in that province, which has been almost as continuous, or at least of as long duration, as Liberal rule in this Province. While the Province of Ontario has not only no interest to pay, but receives large sums from her invested funds, Quebec has to pay interest on her public debt to the great sum of over a million and a half of dollars, that is, before a single cent can be devoted to the public service—a sum equal to about half of the total annual expenditure of Ontario, has to be paid to meet interest charges on the public debt. To this is to be added the fact, the expenditure of the province of Quebec in 1897 exceeded, according to the published statement, those of 1896 by the tremendous sum of one and a third million ($1,393,361). The deficit for 1897—the excess of total ordinary expenditures over receipts—is nearly a million dollars ($979,124). Thus there is no chance to claim that the Conservative Government of Quebec was economical, capable or even honest. And have we any assurance that Mr. Whitney and his Conservative friends will be any better?

MEDALS FOR THE VETERANS.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in England he did much for Canada, and he did not forget Canadians, either. He literally fulfilled his promise to the veterans of 1866-70, who took part in repelling the Fenians, to place the matter of granting them medals as a recognition of their services, before the Home Government. Sir Wilfrid's personal recommendation to Lord Lansdowne, accompanied that made officially by the Government of which he is the head, and the fact that the request was granted is another practical proof of his great influence in Great Britain. The veterans have reason to be well pleased for two reasons—for the kindly and successful interest taken by the Premier, and for the ready response of the Home Government. The medals represent a great deal. They will serve to recall how, when our beloved Canadian soil was threatened, and actually invaded, the volunteers as one man responded and stood ready to defend their homes. Those who were chosen for the field endured hardship in the active service that followed, and it is eminently fitting that they should be permanently remembered. It was hardly enough that the services of high officers at the time received Imperial recognition; the rank and file, who suffered most hardship, those who were not killed or wounded having suffered exposure that shortened their lives, should have specific recognition of their services. One of these medals will tell of the spirit of patriotism that prompts our volunteer force, and will also suggest that similar services may be expected should occasion again arise. They will also serve as a reminder of the noble manner in which Canadian young men temporarily domiciled in the United States, came to the assistance of the home volunteers, especially that noble band of one hundred young men who came from Chicago, paying their own expenses, in order to help to repel the invading Fenians.

In contrast with the prompt response of the British Government to the request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Government is the cavalier treatment that was received at the hands of the Government that preceded the present.

The reply made that the request of "certain militiamen" could not be entertained by the British authorities. Their claims must have been very coldly pressed by the late Government, who were somewhat noted for their indifference to the welfare and efficiency of the volunteer force. Some of the veterans shrewdly suspect that their petitions in the first instance were merely forwarded in a prefunctory manner, without a warm personal interest being manifested as in the successful advocacy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Lord Lansdowne's good office in securing the recognition of the services of the veterans, shows that he still takes an interest in Canadian affairs. The whole circumstances, especially taken in conjunction with other matters, shows that Canada has taken a new and closer place in the affections of the Mother Land.

In connection with the arrangements of the details for the presentation of the medals, the Montreal Witness suggests that it "ought to be made a national event. The veterans should be grouped wherever they are to be found, and the public school children and the volunteers of the day should be associated in the lesson of patriotism to be learned from the men who knew their duty and did it, and the nation which was willing, even at a late day, reward them for it."

ALONE in London isn't a patch on Mr. Fielding's fine new play, A Loan in London, remarks the Hamilton Herald.

IT is sometimes complained that there is a lack of Canadian literary geniuses, especially novelists. But this reproach is in a fair way of being removed. Mr. J. Piercy Whitney, leader of the Ontario Opposition, has, during the past summer, been publishing a series of romances that do great credit to his inventive genius. As romancers Mr. Whitney and his companions imperil the laurels of the most fruitful three volume novelist.

A WOMANS TRIUMPH.

She Managed Her Work so Well That it Equalled the Efforts of Professionals.

While it is well known that any woman of intelligence can do as good work with the Diamond Dyes, and at less than half the cost charged by professional dyers in city steam dye houses, yet there may be some people who doubt the statement. The following extracts from a letter written by Mrs. J. Gardiner, of Owen Sound, Ont., prove that Diamond Dyes are unequalled:

"There was a man in our town going from house to house taking orders for a Toronto dye house for the dyeing of all kinds of garments and clothes. I had just taken off the line some goods that I had dyed with Diamond Dyes, and showed him that I could do as good work as any dye house. He honestly admitted that I was right about my work with Diamond Dyes.

"Having a large family I use Diamond Dyes to economize. I have always the best of success with your dyes, and must say that I am more than delighted with your colours for dyeing cotton."

Another Kind of Fire.

"Sir Colin himself told me what to do, and to get a piece of port fire from Capt. Peel. This I did, and off we set. The distance we had to traverse was insignificant. As soon as ever I got into the first hut I put the port fire to the roof and fired the grass, then on to the next, but, alas! no sooner was a blaze well established than my men seized lighted brands right and left, and set fire to every hut around. We were instantly in a circle of fire. The dry materials blazed like tinder; one of my men's pouches blew up, and, what with fire and smoke, it was impossible to go further, so I ordered a retreat. Just as soon as I got on the main road, who should I meet but Sir Colin himself, with some of his staff. He called me and said: 'You have not half burned the huts, sir.' I answered that I could not burn more on account of the fire.

Sir Collin turned on me like a wild tiger, shouting: 'D—— your eyes, sir; I will not allow you or any other man to tell me the fire is too hot!' I was simply speechless; I felt as if I could cry. I looked at Gen. Mansfield, who happily caught my meaning, for he said: 'I think the officer means the fire of the burning huts.' 'Yes,' I cried. 'I was not afraid of the other fire, but one of men's pouches blew up, and we were so surrounded by flames that I thought it better to retire.' Sir Colin said: 'All right, sir, it was a mistake,' and so I returned, terribly crestfallen. I lost three men out of the nine who had accompanied me in this work."—From "An Old Soldier's Memories." His Method.

Friend—Now, confidentially, how do you figure what to charge for a prescription?

Druggist—Well, our system is perfectly fair to everybody. After the clerk makes up the prescription, he goes to the back of the store, and shakes up a lot of cards in a hat. The cards are marked with prices ranging from 25 cents to $1.50, and whichever card he draws settles the price of the prescription.—Puck.

Without a Peer—Works Miracles.

If there is a palpitation, shortness of breath, pain in left side, smothering sensation—don't delay, or you may be counted in the long list of those who have gone over to the great majority, because the best remedy in the world to-day was not promptly used.

A UNIQUE BANQUET

Brought to a Close the Dominion W.C.T.U. Convention and Welcomed the World's Members.

Toronto, Oct. 23. Last night's banquet tendered the delegates to the World's W.C.T.U. Convention was unique in the history of such affairs here. It closed the meeting of the Dominion W.C.T.U. and ushered in by its welcome the World's W.C.T.U. Convention, which begins in this city to-day. The scene was unparalelled. Around the festive board, where be wont to be seen the immaculate black of the gentleman's evening costume, was seen the variegated coloring of the ladies' attire and hair intermingled promiscuously were the silvery locks of the veterans in the fight for reform with the golden tresses of those who are in the future to bear its brunt. Some wore hats and others didn't. The honor of a seat at such a feast was not a little enhanced by the pleasure of being waited upon. For a small army of white-aproned, rosy cheeked college girls served the luscious viands and innocent drinks. It goes without saying, too, that the drinks were all above suspicion of any connection with either grain or grapes. Cold water, coffee and lemonade served their turn so efficiently that every guest, lady and gentleman, for there were a few meek representatives of the other sex present, enjoyed as clear a mentality at 11 as they did at 8.

A banquet unique in its originality as was that of Lucullus in its prodigality, last night celebrated at once the conclusion of the convention of the Dominion W.C.T.U. and the opening of another in this city, in which all the world is to be represented.

The World's President, Miss Frances E. Willard, was in charge of the ceremonies. It was a vivid evidence of the cosmopolitan nature of the great Union to see representatives from all parts of the earth, from Britain, Australia, the United States, Iceland and Armenia arise in succession and express fervent prayers for its success.

The guests of honor were arranged on the platform as follows: Miss Ross, Hon. G W Ross; Dr Yeomans, Winnipeg, Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Father Ryan, Mrs. Helen Barker; Miss Johannsdottir, Iceland; Mrs. Rutherford, Miss Willard, Hon. A S Hardy, Miss Agnes E. Slack, Mayor Shaw, Mrs. Kirk, Australia; Rev. Mr. Turnbull, Mrs. G W Ross.

Of course, in such a congregation of women, the earth's great woman, Queen Victoria, should receive tribute. It fell to the lot of the ex-alderman and world's president, Miss Willard, to propose her health in quiet lemonade. Her words were well chosen. She said the visiting delegates had come and well come. They had been well fed and well satisfied, but the best was yet to come. She called upon those present to drink the health of the greatest woman, of whom there is any record, who had pointed the way for all women of her generation, the Queen of England.

The applause which followed was succeeded by the hearty singing of the British National Anthem.

The "World's Officers" were welcomed in brief words by Mrs. Rutherford, President of the Dominion Union, to the Queen City, of the "bright gem" of Britain's crown.

Responding, Miss Agnes Slack, Secretary of the World's Union, apologized for the absence of Lady Henry Somerset, the British President, who was ill in England, she said, they always coupled two thoughts together: "Love God and Honor the Queen." But the convention had met to honor the American Queen. [Applause.] You could not find a White Ribboner in America who did not call Miss Willard Queen. One thing was certain, if America had her at its head, the arbitration treaty would have been adopted. The world-wide W.C.T.U. had been formed by American women, and was largely pioneered by them to-day.

Next were heard the deep tones of the manlier voice of Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier of Ontario, who toasted "The British Delegation."

Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, in a neat address, welcomed the "Australian Delegation." Mrs. Kirk, secretary Australian W.C.T.U., in accepting the courtesy, told how in her stay in England this summer the name of Canada seemed to be on everyone's lips, as never before.

Then came the formal welcome to the Americans, coupled with the verse:

"Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee, are all with thee."
—Longfellow.

Mrs. Helen M. Barker, one of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair, replied on behalf of 150,000 women members of the United States.

The next toast proposed by Miss A. M. Bascom, President Toronto District W.C.T.U., that of "The Foreign Delegation," occasioned one of the most interesting features of the evening. It was responded to by the fair-haired Miss Johannsdottir of Iceland, and her dark-eyed swarthier sister, Miss Krikorian of Armenia, the former garbed in the peculiar costume of the land of the Geysers.

The "Fraternal Delegation" was honored by Rev. William Turnbull of this city, and answered for by Miss Boyd of Constantinople.

After Mr. W. J. Carnahan of East Toronto had delighted the banqueters with a solo, Hon. G. W. Ross did the honors to the "World's Superintendents," and told how it was at the solicitation of members of the W.C.T.U. that he had ordered "Temperance" put on the public schools' curriculum. Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, world's superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, Boston, Mass., in response, told how there were 16,000,000 children on this continent now being taught in the schools the evil effects of alcohol.

Rev. Father Ryan paid a tribute to "The On-Coming Host," by which was meant the children. As an evidence of the interest of the Roman Catholic Church in temperance he mentioned that the Archbishop of Toronto had himself administered the pledge to some 60,000 children.

Mrs. Mary T. Burt, President W.C.T.U. of New York State, the last speaker, prophesied, in reply, that the head of the serpent was being crushed by the text books of the nation.

The vast assemblage once more chorused the National Anthem, and a function as successful as it was unique was over.

This morning at the Pavilion Miss Frances Willard, president of the World's W.C.T.U., will deliver her biennial address.

In Massey Hall during the afternoon there will be fraternal greetings and the presentation of presidents of National Unions.

This evening in Massey Hall there will be addresses by Miss Vincent of Australia, Miss Krikorian of Armenia, Mrs. Thurman of the United States, Mrs. Kirk of Australia and Mrs. Thornley of Ontario.

The last day of the Dominion W.C.T.U. Conference began yesterday morning in the usual way with devotions, conducted by Mrs. Gordon, in Jarvis-street Baptist Church, the Pavilion being rendered uninhabitable by noisy preparations for the evening banquet, where the tables were turned by the women having the floor.

At the Executive's meeting, Mrs. [illegible] were appointed delegates from the D. W. C. T. U. to W. W. C. T. U. Ontario: Mrs. Asa Gordon, Mrs. Thornley and Miss McArthur. Quebec—Mrs. Judge Foster and Mrs. Middleton. Manitoba Dr. Amelia Youmans. British Columbia, Mrs. Gordon Grant. Prince Edward Island Mrs. [illegible] Nova Scotia Mrs. Chesley. New Brunswick Mrs. Burgee.

The first convention business was the motion to hold the Dominion Conventions biennially instead of annually in future, and the motion carried.

Miss Alonzo, a typical and very graceful young woman of Spain, conveyed in English sentences the greetings of the Y's of her country, who sent their love and asked for Canada's prayers.

The elections were by informal ballot. Mrs. Rutherford was re-elected president for the next two years, and an hour was formed of the first retiring Executive for a meeting, a brief but kindly address to the ladies, who had once more evinced their confidence in her for another season.

Other officers elected were: Vice-presidents ex-officio, Dr Amelia Youmans, corresponding secretary, Mrs Atkinson, recording secretary, Mrs McLachlan; treasurer, Mrs Tilton. Vice-presidents, ex-officio, Mrs Teasdley, Ontario; Mrs Sanderson, Quebec; Mrs McLeod, New Brunswick; Mrs Judge Chesley, Nova Scotia; Mrs Strong, Prince Edward Island; Mrs McClung, Manitoba; Mrs Lamb, British Columbia.

These resolutions were adopted:

That objection be taken to coupling the plebiscite with any such questions as direct taxation.

That the world's convention be asked to join in memorializing the Queen, and the British Government, in the Jubilee year, to refuse any longer to receive revenue from the opium traffic in India, instead to turn their attention towards the growing of grain.

The following resolution did not carry:

That we view the action of the president of the British Woman's Temperance Association in suggesting any methods whatsoever for state legalization of vice with most profound sorrow, the deeper on account of our warm appreciation of her services to the temperance cause and our love for her in Jesus Christ, but that we think her present views utterly irreconcilable with the platform of the W. C. T. U.

After numerous votes of thanks to everybody for services rendered, convention ended meet again informally at the evening banquet.

WHEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Dodd's Kidney Pills as Usual, Worked a Cure.

STRATFORD, Oct. 11.—There are few people in this city who do not know Mrs. R Roberts, Downie street. She has been an invalid for some years, and her case awakened the sympathy of her neighbours, who were confident there was no cure for her. Judge of their surprise and delight on hearing what Mrs. Roberts tells thus: "I have been afflicted during three years with kidney disease. Have used doctors' medicines but could not get cured. I have used five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am now cured. You may publish this if you choose." This is a short statement, but it tells a great deal.

Thousands of Sufferers Seeking Safety and Health From False Sources.

Paine's Celery Compound the Only Agent That Can Bestow Vigour and Life to the Sick and Those Nearing the Grave.

Do people cultivate and foster disease and sickness because they love suffering, and desire to show the world that they are martyrs to some particular ailment, and worthy of public admiration because of their fortitude and courage? We have yet to meet the individuals who are actuated by such motives. If such men and women were known, intelligent people would place them in the ranks of the foolish and insane.

Those who are sick and diseased suffer most unwillingly; their prayer by day and night is for new life, health and strength.

That most precious of all blessings—good health—can only be secured in one way. The old fashioned medical prescriptions will fail to bring the desired results. The worthless pills and liquid concoctions of our times will only aggravate suffering and endanger life. Faith cure prayers and invocations will prove of little avail to the weak and dying mortal, and can never assuage pain.

To all who suffer from the common diseases of our times, such as kidney and liver troubles, dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous prostration, headache, heart trouble and blood diseases, we would say, "Use Paine's Celery Compound at once and receive new life." Do not imagine that your case is too desperate. Bear in mind that the great life-giving medicine is made for desperate and hard cases such as yours, that have resisted all other medicines and baffled the skill of physicians. Paine's Celery Compound always cures. Read the following testimonial from Mr. Thos. Baxter, of Karsdale, N.S.:

"I desire to let you know about my wonderful cure by your precious medicine, Paine's Celery Compound.

"I was afflicted by three complaints that made my life a misery and a burden. I had erysipelas for forty years, bleeding piles for fifteen years, and sciatic rheumatism for over a year.

"I tried the doctors and all kinds of medicines, but no help or relief was afforded me, and I could not eat or sleep. I was then advised to use Paine's Celery Compound, and, oh, what a mighty change! The use of the first bottle enabled me to eat and sleep, and after using seven bottles I was quite another man; was perfectly cured and felt young again. All that I have written can be proven by merchants, doctors, magistrates, and by three ministers of the Gospel, and by scores of other people. I shall always thank you and your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and droopy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

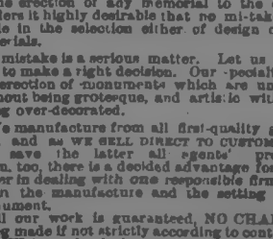
High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.



The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Children's Jackets.

This is particularly interesting to the Children. They will be glad to know that we have not forgotten them in buying our stock. We have been as solicitous in selecting JACKETS for them as we were for their mothers. We have them in luxuriously soft and warm materials—yet as tough as buckskin—to stand the hard usage children know so well how to give their clothes.

Some of the styles are very taking. The RUSSIAN BLOUSE shape is as popular for girls as for ladies, and the bright colours and gold buttons are like a gleam of sunshine.

The double-breasted KERSEY REEFER FRONT, buttoned nigh at neck, and deep Sailor Collar, handsomely braided, and gold buttons, is a coat that will set the young miss wild to get it. Or perhaps she will prefer a handsome rough DIAGONAL CHEVIOT, high collar, fly front, lined with fancy taffeta. Or a RUSSIAN BLOUSE COAT in smooth black cheviot, blouse shape back and front, satin lined, finished with rows of stitching. Or if her taste points in the direction of a JACKET of CREAM, TAN, or RED KERSEY, lined with rich striped taffeta, double breasted, high neck, with two rows of fine pearl buttons, high turnover collar inlaid with velvet, seams all strapped, she can find it with us.

We can give her any assortment the most fastidious can wish, and can show different patterns and styles until she gets almost bewildered by looking at so many beautiful coats.

The President Once More Wins at Pedro From the Vice.

The pedro tournament drew a large attendance of Victoria men to the club rooms last evening. It was the occasion of the return match of President vs. Vice-President, and the President's side once more came out victorious, but by a very narrow margin.

PETERBOROUGH RANGERS INSPECTED YESTERDAY.

LT.-COL. OTTER STATES THAT THERE IS IMPROVEMENT.

A New Parade Ground has been Selected which is Admirably Suited to the Requirements of the Battalion—Col. Montizambert was Banquetted Last Night.

The annual inspection of the 57th has been going on for the last few days, and culminated yesterday in the entire Battalion being reviewed in a body.

Lt.-Col. Montizambert inspected the companies separately on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, taking three each night, and also examined the books and the different armouries of each.

On Friday afternoon the Battalion, headed by the band and drum and bugle corps, marched out the Chemong road to a fine large field just in front of Mr. A. E. Dixon's residence, and utilizing it as a parade ground, were put through a number of evolutions by Lt.-Col. Otter. On arriving at the field the men were put through the following

MILITARY MOVEMENTS:

Formation from line into column and from column into line.
Advancing in column from right of line.
Forming quarter column from column and column from quarter column.
Forming line to the left on rear company from quarter column.
Wheeling in quarter column.
Closing to quarter column from column when moving to a flank in fours.
Advancing and retiring in echelon, and forming line from echelon when advancing and retiring.
Advancing and retiring in line and the attack formation.
Manual and firing exercises.
The ambulance corps were also called upon to bandage and remove a man who was supposed to have broken his leg.
The Battalion was addressed by Col. Otter, who stated that he found the men greatly improved in many points, particularly in attack and drill. He pointed out that there was still in some of the minor regulations. In marching the men did not swing their arms with quite the military precision which he would like to see, and in a few instances he noticed there was some crowding. On the whole, however, the Inspecting Officer's remarks indicated that there was considerable improvement apparent since his last visit in the same capacity.

The few words of advice given by Col. Otter, respecting the swinging of the arms had a visible effect, as on the return trip every arm was swung in unison and as the Battalion came swinging down the London street hill the sight was a pretty one. On account of the muddy roads the men were allowed to march on the sidewalks, and the long double line of snow white helmets topping the brilliant tunics made an impressive spectacle.

Both officers and men are unanimous in stating that the big field, which Mr. Dixon kindly offered for the occasion, made the best inspection ground which has yet been used. It is large and level and the recent rain did not affect it to a sufficient degree to make it muddy.

The different companies paraded in

F Co—Capt. Hayes, Lieut. Mills—28.

In speaking to the EXAMINER reporter Lt.-Col. Montizambert, of Kingston, District Inspecting Officer for No. 3 district, stated that he found the books and armouries in first-class condition and capital order, the books being well kept and the armouries neat and clean. The showing which the different companies made when inspected separately by him was most creditable indeed and he was well satisfied with their work. As this was his first visit to Peterborough he could not speak as to the improvement in the Battalion, but he thought that Col. Otter's remarks were indicative of the fact that the Rangers were progressing.

NOTES.

Chaplain Davidson was present in full regimentals.

The Bugle and Drum Corps deserve a special word. They looked as neat as though each individual had just stepped out of a band box, and the way they blew their bugles—well it was a wonder they didn't blow them out straight.

The Pioneer Corps is composed of a fine set of men. A whole battalion composed of just such men would make a magnificent showing.

One great change was noticed in the manœuvres. There was no "march past." This has been dropped from the regulations and it seemed odd to those who were accustomed to size up each company as it went by at the salute, to miss this pretty incident of the old time reviews.

Lieut.-Col. Otter returned to Toronto on the 4 10 C.P.R. express, and in the evening Lieut. Col. Montizambert was entertained at dinner by the officers of the 57th at the Oriental Hotel. Afterwards a pleasant evening was spent in the parlours, where song and story went round.

The Piano which will be used at the Bernhard Walther Concert Tuesday evening, Oct 26th, will be one of Heintzman & Co.'s magnificent Concert Grands. The Workmanship of this instrument is a special piece of art, being inlaid with marquetry work.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Encouraging Results in one Department of the Work.

The following letter received by the Peterborough Agent of the Children's Aid Society goes to show that one mission of the Society, that of placing homeless and dependent children in foster homes, has met with the most encouraging results:

Mr. Miller:

DEAR SIR,—I suppose you would like to hear how the little children we took are getting on. They are doing nicely. They are dear little ones and we love them so much. They think their eyes of us. They both have the whooping cough, but they are getting along nicely so far. Johnny has gone to school all summer and he is learning better than some of the scholars that have been going two years. The school house is on the corner of our farm. He is a healthy little boy now. I will send you their pictures.

I remain yours truly,

The attention of the public is called to the fact the society has under its guardianship a female child, three weeks old, for adoption.

A suitable home also is required for a girl of fifteen. The pressing needs of the society are more money and a temporary shelter.

AN EXPLANATION ASKED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR—I should like to ask through your paper for some light in connection with sewer services. I believe the town permits the present contractors on Aylmer street to put in services for those requiring them. We have a town inspector of sewerage construction, and also an engineer, who are supposed to see that the work is properly done. The sewer services put in by the contractors go to the street line and the work is done on the street. Now I want to ask why the town allows the engineer a fee of $2, I think, for superintending this work when his duties require him to be upon the spot in connection with the laying of the sewer? This it strikes me is a pretty big rake-off for simply looking down into a hole for a few minutes, especially when he is well paid for superintending sewerage construction. Have the town authorities any interest in making the ratepayer, who has in all conscience enough taxes to pay, to contribute an extra two dollars. It seems to me utterly unnecessary and indefensible expenditure. Will somebody, who can, furnish an explanation?

Yours, etc.,
TAX PAYER.

INJUSTICE TO CANADIAN DETECTIVES.

Detective Wasson Writes on the Employment of Pinkerton Men.

Detectiue Wasson, chief of the Provincial Constabulary, in a letter to the Mail and Empire, takes most decided exception to the employment of Pinkerton detectives in Canada. His communication reads:—

"On the 15th of December last, when the annual meeting of the Ontario Constabulary Association was held in the city of Toronto, there were present about fifty delegates, who each had the position of chief of police or high constable for one of the different Counties of Ontario, representing a force of about 2,000 constables. During the session one of the resolutions brought up and fully discussed was in relation to the employment of Pinkerton men at the Fort Erie race track, which is located in Canada. This practice was strongly condemned, and it was resolved that the Ontario Government should be requested to stop it, the feeling being that there was an abundance of capable men in Canada who could act as constables at race tracks without going to the United States for men.

"Since then it has been made apparent, through the press, that Pinkerton detectives are at present working in Canada on the Napanee Bank robbery case.

"It appears from the evidence given by them that they are under contract with the Dominion Bank for $35 per week and expenses, and if they make out a case they are to receive in addition a bonus. Is it any wonder that these men should make a good showing to the bank authorities and strive to give the impression that no puzzle can be solved without a key to it?

"It is a well-known fact that no officer can go from Canada to the United States under a contract and take charge of any case and work on it, even with a Government detective second in command; any Canadian officer attempting to so act would speedily be deported and the party bringing him there fined. Then why should Canadians submit to this treatment without raising an objection, when we have as smart men in Canada as there are in the United States in this or any other line of business?

"All we want is for the Government to protect our rights, and let us have Canada for Canadians."

Linseed and Turpentine are not only popular remedies, but are also the best known to medical science for the treatment of the nervous membranes of respiratory organs. Dr. Chase compounded this valuable Syrup so as to take away the unpleasant tastes of turpentine and linseed.

Mothers will find this medicine invaluable for children, it is so pleasant to take, and will positively cure croup, whooping cough and chest troubles.

BISHOP THORNLOE AT ALL SAINTS.

HE SPEAKS ON THE SUBJECT OF ALGOMA MISSIONS.

A Large Congregation Assembled to Hear the Former Rector of Sherbrooke Work Amongst the Indians at a Standstill.

Bishop Thornloe, of the Diocese of Algoma, made an earnest appeal for his missions last evening in All Saints church, where a meeting was held under the joint auspices of the Woman's Auxiliaries of St. John's, St. Luke's and All Saints' churches.

He was introduced by Rev. J. C. Davidson, who reminded the congregation that His Lordship had been rector of Sherbrooke from where so many mechanics came with the Edison Works and who had been his parishioners. Another reason why those present should take particular interest in his words was that scores of men went from Peterborough annually to the timber limits of Algoma and doubtless the Bishop would make a statement as to the facilities which were provided to enable them to be reached by the church when in the northern wilds.

Before speaking on his work in Algoma referred pleasantly to his association with many families who had moved from Sherbrooke to Peterborough, and earnestly hoped that if any of the members of them were present they would not allow him to go away without renewing the acquaintance.

In opening his address he reminded the congregation that the mission aspect of the church was the true idea of the church's charter. In England very marked progress was being made as the people began to accept this idea, and during his recent visit to the Old Country, nothing struck him more forcibly than the fact that this idea was becoming uppermost in the minds of the people.

The Church could not possibly be what our Lord intended until a clear understanding was reached by all in connection with this matter. It was essential that all should begin at home in their mission work and then gradually extend operations. He had heard what the people of Peterborough had been doing in this respect and knew that they were not living on the narrow plan of caring for their own welfare only, but were reaching out to do good to others as well. He reminded his hearers of the divine injunction: "Go ye into all the world and make disciples of every living creature."

The speaker then explained that in 1872 the diocese of Algoma was set apart by the Ecclesiastical Synod as a missionary diocese.

THE TERRITORY

was 600 miles in length, extending from Gravenhurst to a point fourteen miles west of Fort William. From Lake Superior and Lake Huron 250 miles back to the great watershed of the north and embracing parts of Muskoka, Nipissing, Algoma, Parry Sound, Manitoulin and St. Joseph's Island.

The extent of country was so large that he was kept always travelling and was rarely at home. This was so noticeably the case that the name by which he was known amongst the Indians signified "the reviving sun."

His diocese was noted for its vast lakes, vast forests and vast ranges of rock, and as the traveller flies through the country on the C. P. R. it presents the very picture of rugged desolation with its rock and blackened tree trunks as far as the eye can reach, in places.

Of course all the country is not like this, as Muskoka is one of the fairest spots in Canada with it 800 odd lakes.

All through the country there are fertile strips of land amongst the rocks, but as you go further west you come to stretches of desolation trodden only by the foot of the Indian, who has never heard of the Gospel, and whom it is desired to rescue from paganism. He hoped that the good people of the Church would rise and to the Indian by saving his soul as a recompense for invading his territory.

The population of the diocese was 90,000; out of this 8,000 were Indians who were at present ministered to very largely by the Roman Catholich church.

The church of England is by no means keeping pace in this good work.

The settlers are not well off. There are no wealthy people in Algoma, although nearly all are making a living for themselves, but it is hard work re-claiming the land.

The villages in Parry Sound and Muskoka are progressing, but there is no real wealth and no town even half as large as Peterborough. Sault St. Marie is the largest, having a population of 4,000.

Only one-third of the money required to pay the stipends of the clergy can be raised and the balance has to be asked for.

Some people think Algoma ought to be able to do for itself by now and so it would probably if the work stood still, but it is being pushed forward and more missionaries are needed every day. It is not standing still, but has brought forth abundant fruit in the way of church growth.

There are now 36 missions, 77 churches and 24 parishes. All this REPRESENTS WONDERFUL GROWTH.

It is for the new work and not the old that aid is asked and the speaker foretold the time when Algoma would be able to support itself—after the country had been developed through its mineral deposits and its agricultural prospects.

It was found impossible at present to pay such particular attention to the Indians as was desired. There were three missions amongst them, but two were without clergy, through lack of means, although men were plentiful for the work.

The diocese was able to raise about $9,000 a year; $15,000 more was needed. Of this over $10,000 was given by missionary societies at home and abroad, but it was the worry connected with the raising of the other $5,000 which had broken down so many of the Algoma bishops.

Bishop Thornloe then stated that he was making an effort to have each diocese pledge itself to raise an equal portion of this amount. Of the nine dioceses four had consented, and if the others fell into line, it would be a grand day for Algoma.

In closing he referred to the condition of the lumbermen in the shanties, stating that it was impossible for the clergy to get in and see them regularly, although if he could raise the funds he was going to try and send a missionary to them this winter.

SMITH.

Successful Anniversary Tea at Gilmour Memorial Church.

Tuesday night the Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, was the scene of one of the most successful celebrations of its anniversary in the history of the church. The attendance at the annual tea was very large, and the financial outcome most gratifying.

Refreshments of a most excellent and appetizing quality, such as the ladies were noted for, were served to the multitude from 5.30 to 8 p.m.

At the intellectual banquet splendid addresses were given by Rev. A. T. Dykeman, town, Rev. H. S. Erb, Lakefield, and Rev. J. H. Tanner, Omemee. Splendid songs were contributed by Mrs. and Dr. Scott, a duet; Miss Udy, Bridgenorth; Mr. Harry Graham, Kinmount, and Miss Graham. The choir gave a chorus and quartette, and Rev. Mr. McLeod a capital Scotch reading. The entire anniversary services had their success emphasized by the phenomenal success of the high tea.

KIDNEY GRIND.

South American Kidney Cure the Only Specific for Kidney Disease—A Liquid and Solvent—Never Fails.

Medical Science has proved beyond a doubt that the solid particles which pass through the kidneys in the ordinary course of circulation—and which in time so grind and wear these organs that they become diseased and will not perform the functions for which they were created—require a solvent to dissolve and eradicate from the system these foreign substances, and the great South American Kidney Cure has proven to be the best and most scientific remedy for such, and the testimony of thousands who have been cured by it when pill doses have failed, is the best demonstration of the fact that a solvent must be administered. If in despair use this remedy.

LACROSSE.

A full meeting of the Lacrosse Club is called for this evening in the Palace Restaurant parlours. Every member is urged to be in attendance at eight o'clock sharp.

Guelph, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The championship of the Canadian Lacrosse Association is Orangeville's unless the Markham protests are pushed and made good before another Judicial Committee of the association. The match that gives Orangeville the banner was played here to-day, and it is characteristic of the bad management of the C. L. A. and the flood of protests that have followed almost every game that this late date was reached—over two months after the close of the district series—before the final match was played.

In the matter of regard to the association requirements this match was no better than those that have preceded it. The Markham team went on the field without a certificate for any one player of the twelve, though the rules say "under no circumstances shall any person or persons be permitted to take part in any match unless said certificate has been produced." The Markham officers stated to the referee that their certificates had never been returned by the referee in the last match they played. This was accepted as a valid excuse, though Orangeville said that the real reason was to be found in the fact that Markham team included a Peterborough goalkeeper and Churchill, of Stouffville, who played for Toronto this year. The lack of certificates and the presence of these men formed the basis for the first protests. Another was directed against George Glover on the old ground that he was an expelled player, who had not been reinstated. In this case the referee acted on a telegram from E. Herbert Brown, Secretary of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada, authorizing him to permit Glover to play, pending the action of the sub-committee to which his case had been referred. Some doubt was cast on the authenticity of the message.

Markham also protested several Orangeville players on the ground of professionalism, and then the match went on. A few more protests were thrown in later, one that the referee violated the rules in allowing Jack Henry back in the game after being ruled off for striking an opponent, and another on account of the darkness.

The match was played on the Exhibition grounds, which though not the best in the world, afforded a very fair field. The most important objection to the place is that there is no way of keeping the spectators off the field, and they frequently interfered with the play in there eagerness to be close up. The weather was pleasant and though it rained in the morning the ground was pretty dry. The crowd was very demonstrative, Markham's supporters wearing the red badge of courage, while the friends of Orangeville sported the green and white colours of their clubs. Both teams were strongly represented and one of the most encouraging features of lacrosse is the enthusiastic support that such places give to their teams.

The Campbell Method of Culture.

The "Campbell method" of farm culture consists, first, in thoroughly pulverizing the upper three or four inches of the soil intended to be cultivated. This is best done with a spader or disk harrow. If the soil is already in perfect condition this operation may be omitted. In this upper stratum, at the end of the summer, is concentrated the most of the available plant food. Secondly, the ground is to be plowed to a uniform depth of eight inches, by measure and not by guess, the furrow slices to be turned completely bottom up so that the pulverized surface soil containing the humus may be in a position to form the rootbed for the coming crop. Third, the plow is to be immediately followed by a tool called the sub-surface packer, which thoroughly firms the lower four inches, but leaves the upper stratum in a friable condition suitable for a seed bed. The object of firming the lower four inches is to prevent drying out by a too free circulation of air, and to increase the inflow of water to rot the vegetable matter in the root bed. Fourth, the grain is sown in drills, eighteen or twenty inches apart, and the cultivator kept going in it every week until headed out. This surface cultivation is only about two inches in depth, and with a proper tool can be done very rapidly. Corn and other hoed crops are planted at equal distances and tended to maturity. The method has proved very successful in dry seasons, as it saves all the rain that falls.

Sinking Sensations. Strong Evidence from Belleville that there is a Cure.

Mrs. Jas. A. Rose, Geddes St., Belleville, Ont., says, "To me life has been made a misery for the last six or seven years because of heart trouble and nervousness, from which I have suffered all this time.

"My heart throbbed, and seemed to rise into my throat, causing a sensation of suffocation. At times I had to walk the floor, and often then would have a sensation of falling down from a high place such as falling down stairs.

"This would be followed by dizziness, my eyesight would become blurred and dim, so that many a time I knew not what to do. Gradually I grew weak, my blood became poor, and my entire system run down. My nerves were so unstrung that I could not sleep.

"All the medicine I used and all the doctoring I did was without effect, when providentially I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and started using them. The results were so wonderful that I cannot refrain from speaking about them.

"I got stronger from the first dose, and am now like another person. The action of my heart is all right, my blood is enriched, and my whole system toned up to its normal condition of strength and vigor.

"To my mind there is no medicine in the world so good as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for all who suffer as I did." 219

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another is hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant medical strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Sweep by a Cyclone.

Madrid, Oct. 21.—A despatch received here from Leyte, one of the Philippine Islands, says that place has been almost devastated by a cyclone, that many persons have been killed and that the damage to property is incalculable.

The cyclone destroyed the towns of Tagloban and Hernani, on the Island of Leyte, as well as several villages. It is estimated that 400 persons lost their lives through the disaster.

Later advices from Manila say the cyclone occurred on Oct. 12, and they add that Carigara and Burago, on the eastern coast of Leyte, have been wiped out, and that an immense wave swept inland, engulfing villages. Several thousand natives perished at Tagloban.

The cyclone also swept the Island of Samar. The full extent of the catastrophe is not yet known. The town of Leyte, however, sustained but little damage, contrary to the first reports received.

Can Work all the Time.

"My daughter was suffering with catarrh of the stomach, and tried many different prescriptions without benefit. Finally she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it helped her at once. She has taken fifteen bottles and is now able to work all the time. We prize Hood's Sarsaparilla very highly." ANNA MERRILL, Eaton, Que.

FASHION NOTES.

The Autumn and Winter Fabrics and Styles Knowingly Discussed.

The Russian blouse craze is likely to continue through the fall and winter seasons.

Subdued colors and big autumn fabrics in monochromes and also in the display of figured materials were promised, but a glance at the exhibits this week at all the highclass importing houses shows an array of dress goods that are positively startling in their color, mixtures and brilliant effects. These effects are preeminently gorgeous among the checked and plaided materials.

Fashion seems totally regardless of the amount of work she lays upon the shoulders of those who carry out her high behests. Dresses entirely covered with braiding or jet embroidery are set forth among the extreme elegancies of the season. How the work is accomplished it is hard to determine, but a dress of accordion-plaited satin was literally overspread with a design of leaves and flowers worked apparently by hand in fine jet. A dovegray satin was verily lovely embroidered in steel sequins and tiny mock emeralds. Although an amateur may not feel disposed to undertake such an elaborate task as the embroidering in beads of an entire gown, a costume wholly braided seems more reasonable. And the decorating at least of panels to alternate with silkings, and braiding on the revers, collar and sleeves, or one side of a full Russian blouse, is quite within the capacity of a diligent worker, and the labor would not prove at all tedious. The thought of the charming results to be achieved would naturaly stimulate the braider and very greatly lighten the task.

The exquisite tints in gray in cloth, in soft, beautiful wools like drap d'ete, or silky India cashmere, in corded silk, silk and wool mixtures and a host of fancy weaves are a great temptation. It is true that in very many cases these tints are as trying as they are tempting, but a color relief or often the addition of cream white accessories to the bodice will work a wonderful change in its effect upon the wearer. Some very elegant gowns and costumes are being made in gray, fawn, almond, doe color, beige, and similar soft tones. A lady skilled in fine needle-work is employing her leisure hours while still out of town in decorating a gray drap d'ete gown in gray silk embroidery in vine and rose-bud designs all in gray. The modiste sent her a box of the various plastron, collar and sleeve pieces that will be used in putting the gown together; and this summer she has, during odd hours, embroidered a four-inch wide pattern on the hem of the skirt. The embroiderer's work is perfect, and when completed the dress will prove a remarkably elegant one, distinctive in its style, because the modiste designed special pieces to be embroidered, and the costume, which also includes a Russian blouse elaborately embroidered, will prove extremely becoming to its wearer, who is a brunette with clear complexion and brilliant color.

The Victorian poke may become quite a popular head-covering for a certain beautifully picturesque type of women this winter, made up in velvets of various shades, to match the costume, but it is not to show itself to any extent as a full bonnet in felt or dark straw.

The double skirt is not becoming to many women. It shortens in appearance a figure to which every inch is a distinct advantage, and, worn by a taller woman, one gets at first sight the impression of a school girl who has outgrown her petticoats. A skirt that has a second edition, which reaches to just below or is on a line with the knees, will prove decidedly more becoming, if double skirts are to become general.

We might reasonably assume that bodices would become less ornate as skirts grew more elaborate, but as yet there has been no such sign, except, of course, the diminution of the sleeves, which bid fair to become as meager in their proportions as they were many years ago. We may reach close coat shapes wholly unadorned by next spring, perhaps, but that all decorations on the tops of sleeves are to be quite diminutive seems to be inevitable. All the most fashionable out-of-door garments are made with sleeves of extremely moderate size, that decidedly do not allow for dress sleeves that are the least elaborate. Still There are some concessions at the tops in the way of little crescent-shaped puffs, decorated cups and points, triple frills, bound or lined with a contrasting color, etc., and these mitigate in no small degree the ultra-severity of a style that is like a mousquetaire glove, with nothing to relieve its stiff outlining contour—a style most trying to an arm either too thin or too plump.

The merchants this past week have been receiving and opening to view their fall and winter fabrics. The handsomest goods yet displayed are the tailor cloths, satin cloths, and the fine ladies' cloths, in very tempting autumn colorings. The richness and beauty of these materials cannot be described. Next in desirability are the fine elegant silk and wool novelty goods, those in jacquard or raised effects being a conspicuous feature of the season in lighter fabrics; there is a variety of quaint antique shades that form no specially pronounced color, but are made up of two or three dyes so intimately blended that the identity of each is lost. Aside from the taffetas, the bulk of the first silk importations is of soft rops and gros grains, with distinct even round threads of various sizes and admirable luster. In both silks and silk and wool fancies many of the block-patterned plaids and highly colored tartans are immense in size, and at a large importing house one immense window is filled with nothing but huge block patterns in black and white taffeta silks.

Jacket shapes, basque bodices, blouses, round waists and pointed corsages, of black satin, faille, armure royal, or brocade, will all be worn this and next season, draped in various ways, with nets and laces of every pattern imaginable. Also light textured grenadines and etamines. Airy effects will be in great favor in black over some heavier silk or satin material. Point d'esprit Chantilly, fine imitations of Venetian and point lace will be highly favored in black nets and edgings, insertions and flounces are displayed in matching patterns. The Russian blouse blossoms out triumphantly in this style, and next to black velvet, a handsome silk net over satin or moire is the most elegant creation in this type of garment. Another pretty and fashionable model has a round yoke back and front and below the yoke, in the back, the figure is closely defined, although neither seams nor forms are visible. In front, below the yoke, which fastens on the left shoulder, the waist material droops slightly in blouse form. A piping of satin and a frill of lace finish the edge of the bodice where it laps on the yoke, and the fullness below this yoke fastens invisibly under an odd satin-piped plastron that starts from the collar-band. Three little satin-piped frills finish the sleeve tops. Any broadening effect across the shoulders which can be produced by epaulets, wing points cut in one with the jackets, or plaited or circular frills, are the height of fashion; these diplomatic substitutes being made great use of by modistes in lieu of the huge sleeve puffs, which have finally vanished altogether.

GERMANY SHOWS HER TEETH.

Will Increase Her Army as Well as Navy and Scare France in a Pointed Way.

London, Oct. 21.—The German Government, according to a special despatch from Berlin, published to-day, in addition to the sums of money which will be asked for to increase the strength of the navy, will shortly ask for a large increase in the army estimates.

While at Wiesbaden, the despatch adds, Emperor William struck the names of many officers off the active list of the army, in pursuance of his policy of placing younger men in the most important posts.

It has already been decided that the German army manoeuvres of 1898 will be held in Alsace-Lorraine, and that they will be on an unprecedentedly large scale.

Why Did Williams Suicide?

Markdale, Ont., Oct. 21.—The body of George L. Williams, aged 21, son of George B. Williams, four miles north of here, was found to-day in Bell's Lake. Coroner Christie of Flesherton inquired into the cause and circumstances of his death this afternoon, and decided that it was a case of suicide. He left his home on Monday at 11 o'clock in apparent good health. No cause is known why he should have committed suicide. His family is very highly respected in this neighborhood.

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET,
OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phreneline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

CONDEMNED.

When an innocent man is condemned for any crime he doesn't lose hope. His lawyers appeal from one court to another. They are bound to save him, if he can be saved. It is the same way with a good doctor when his patient seems condemned to death by disease.

But doctors make mistakes sometimes, they lose heart too soon. After they have tried everything they know and the patient is no better, they think there is nothing more to be done. They don't always get at the root of the disease. They frequently give a patient up to die of consumption, and are afterwards surprised to see him get strong and well again.

Mrs. W. B. Duncan, of Arlington, Phelps Co. Mo., writes: "My husband took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when he was (as he thought) almost into consumption, and we were very thankful that such a medicine could be found. I wish all persons troubled with cough would take it. Long may the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' be made. I shall always recommend and praise these medicines."

All lung and bronchial diseases are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because it supplies the system with healthy blood. It puts the vital forces into action and fills the circulation with the life-giving red corpuscles which builds up solid, muscular flesh and healthy nerve-force.

As a medical author, Dr. Pierce holds an eminent place in his profession. His great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" is one of the standard medical works of the English language. Nearly 700,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. A paper-bound copy will be sent for the cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

BOB WHITE.

Harvest's coming and one hears
O'er the wheat field's ripening ears,
Swaying on their fragile spears
From a bird throat, clear and light:
"Bob White! Bob White!"

Grateful waves of fulsel perfumes;
Here are rosy cockle blooms,
Blue-grass panicles, soft plumes,
Dew-bespangled, charming sight,
"Bob White! Bob White!"

Low, the hawk, marauding, sails;
Frightened, slip the sleek, young quails
Through the stake-and-rider rails.
Again a call, that cheery pipe:
"Bob White! Wheat ripe?"

Blood-red in the bronze-trunked trees
Cherries, good maraschas these,
Ideal cherries, if you please.
Answering ring of Bob White:
"Not quite! Not quite!"

In the orchard apples green,
Color of the leaves are seen.
Here a prize, a windfall found,
Red-streaked apple on the ground.
Calling, answering: "Bob White!
Wheat ripe?" "Not quite!"

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

The Metric System.

Metric standards of weights and measures have been adopted by twenty-one countries, Great Britain and the United States being the only prominent exceptions. Before another year Great Britain will, in all probability, have passed an act legalizing the system in the United Kingdom, and providing for the preparation of a table of equivalents between the metric and the imperial standards. This will leave the United States in a conspicuous minority among nations.

The British act, it should be noted, is merely permissive, and the choice between pounds and kilos remains free to every merchant; but even so, it is a concession to the metric enthusiast, in that it will lead to a more careful teaching of his system in the schools and to a wider use of it in dealings with other nations. The metric system has much to conquer before it becomes universal, but it is making rapid strides toward ultimate success. Its standards unquestionably facilitate the keeping of accounts, and give one a great deal in common with the rest of the world. With our decimal money system we have a good start made upon the metric gradations, and our arithmetic classes have always paid more attention to the French standards than corresponding classes in English schools.

It may be fifty, it may one hundred years before the metric system becomes the established method of adjusting weights and measures in all civilized nations. The change is gradually being effected, however, and not rapidly enough to entail confusion or sudden great cost. American scientists have long asked for a compulsory bill from Congress, and it is likely that we shall at least go as far as Parliament in this change before many more sessions are ended.—Boston Journal. Canada is about to begin education along metric lines.

Here's Her Chance.

Ten million dollars' worth of eggs were bought in foreign countries by the United Kingdom the past six months, a steady increase over one and two years ago. France furnished more than any other one country, followed by Belgium, Germany, Russia and Denmark in order named. What a chance for the Canadian hen.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. T. HUDFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. box 84, St. Henri, Que.

THE PNEUMATIC HUB.

A BICYCLE BUILT ON AN ENTIRELY NEW THEORY.

A Severe Test Results in Proving the Inventor's Cleverness and Faith in His Machine—A Spoke Innovation is Likewise a Feature.

A young inventor by the name of Harry R. Collins, residing at South Bethlehem, Pa., has devised a bicycle on an entirely new theory. Pneumatic tires have been abandoned and pneumatic hubs have taken the "air" part in the invention. The tires are solid.

It was a puncture that gave Mr. Collins his idea. He was a long way from home, just as it is every person's luck to be when a puncture takes place, and he had no end of trouble to get his wheel into town.

"Why not," said he to himself, as he was puttering over the refractory tire, "build a bicycle with a pneumatic hub and a solid tire? Couldn't the principle of pneumatics be applied so that the machine would work as successfully as it does now with a solid hub and inflated tires?"

Then his hands became willing slaves to his mind and he began to work on his scheme. Some laughed at him, and sometimes he laughed at himself, but he would not give it up. Now and then little incidents happened that led him to believed that he was on the right road to success.

The wheel has finally been built, the patents have been secured and the young inventor has been overwhelmed with orders that he cannot fill. In fact, he has no factory, no company, as the darky said, "no nuthin'." He has given the wheel a trial, however, before a large number of invited guests, and he has proved to their satisfaction that he has built it well. He exhibited the bicycle in an open lot and gave it the hardest kind of usage, and it "came out of the ordeal unscathed," as the tenderfoot works of fiction say.

A professional instructor of riding was asked to test himself on the machine, and then Mr. Collins told him to pitch in and take steeplechase over every log, every ditch, every hole, every obstruction in the place.

"Nay," said the professor; "not on your handle bar. I don't want to scorch to my grave."

"But I'll back the wheel against your funeral," said Mr. Collins. So the instructor consented to ride. The spectators, men whose word cannot be doubted, say that one of the ditches crossed half a dozen times by the instructor was twenty-one inches deep. Three times in succession he rode over a log eight inches in diameter. He rode over ash piles and rocks and in other ways amused himself and the crowd.

As a final request, Mr. Collins invited any person present to mount the wheel and ride it full tilt against a brick wall. He was willing to back the machine against the injury. But no one was willing to take chances of splitting open his head by going over the handle bar.

The pneumatic tire, if there is such a thing, is in the hub of the wheel. The wheel tire, as before stated, is solid, the latter tire is not opened to the rim, but it is sliced on the inside so that it fits snugly in groove cut into the wood. Once on it stays until it is worn out. The wooden rim is made of three kinds of wood in three sections.

The spokes are of a material that can be bent and twisted and are so strung to the rim that the weight is on four at a time. That's an innovation.

Around the axle of the wheel, protected by steel thimbles, that there is no wear on the rubber, is pneumatic tube, blown up the same as pneumatic tires. This tube is encased in a nickel-steel frame, to which spokes are attached.

The frame, hanging on these inflated hubs, cause the rider to rock easily, as though he were sitting in a swing. There is consequently the least possible vibration, jarring and jolting. In running up against a ditch the pressure of the frame forward is against this inflated tube in both hubs, so that is simply springs and swings, as it were, instead of jolts, which is the reason it does not throw the rider over the handle bars.

The pneumatic tube in the hub is so well protected that there is absolutely no wear upon it; hence it cannot become out of order and will last about three years. No plugs nor repair kit is necessary with this bicycle. For this reason General Miles, of the United States army, is said to have ordered ten of the bicycles made with which to experiment.

The confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to its unequalled record of wonderful cures.

Bean Straw For Sheep.

It has been well attested that bean straw is a valuable feed for sheep, and that they are fond of it. The bean, like clover, is a leguminous plant, and many farmers say that the straw, though coarse and harsh, has nearly as much nutrition as clover hay. It makes a very rich manure when fed to either sheep or cows. That is shown by its rotting very fast when piled and giving off the strong smell of ammonia which comes from feeding any manure rich in nitrogenous nutrition.—Dakota Field and Farm.

Burn All Diseased Plants.

Diseased plants should never be added to the manure heap, as they contaminate the whole mass. It is possible to spread plant diseases over the entire farm through the agency of manure, and no farm will get rid of any disease that attacks plants until all refuse is burnt.

Mark and Clear Them Out.

It is neither the very large nor the very small loose stones that are most destructive to mower and reaper knives. The guards shove the small stones to one side. But they may themselves be broken if they come in contact with the full force of an active team of horses against a small stone firmly imbedded in the soil, and sticking out of it two or three inches high. If such stones are parts of larger rocks lying below the surface, it may pay to dig down and blast out enough of the rock to make a smooth surface, and deep enough so that it can be plowed without danger. Rolling the surface when the soil is moist in spring will bury all small stones so that the ground may be cut over safely. This is especially important with spring grain, which may be beaten down by rains, so that the reaper must be set very low to make sure of cutting it all. Under lodged grain it is very hard to see stones that might be plainly visible if it were standing upright.

"By Their Fruits."

Nothing more clearly shows the painstaking and careful farmer than to have fence corners between fields or along the roadsides kept free from weeds, grass or shrubs. As a rule all the old-time fence-corners were kept scrupulously clean. A good deal of valuable hay was made from what the scythe reached in and cut there. But when the horse mower and the self-binding reaper came into use, it every year became harder to find anybody who could be hired to clear out the fence-corners. The result was that the axe rather than the scythe was required, and the growth, instead of being restricted to fence corners, encroached each year more on the cultivated fields.

20 YEARS OF BONDAGE

Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills Loose the Shackles of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

In summing up the causes of human misery it will be found that by far the greatest sources of disease originate in derangement of the Stomach and Bowels. People will abuse their stomachs and neglect the calls of nature till they bring on themselves her vengeance. To get back to nature's paths, to have the Stomach and Bowels once more fulfilling their function properly, to clear the system of all the results and consequences of poisons accumulating and circulating in the Blood is the work of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Thos. Miller, Lucknow, Ont., says that he was afflicted with Stomach Trouble and Constipation for about 20 years, during which time he tried almost everything he heard of, but to no purpose. Mr. H. Day, the popular druggist, sent him a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The first dose he took did him good, and they have proved so effectual in his case that he recommends them to all those afflicted as he was.

These Pills may be had of all Dealers at 25 CENTS A BOX.

FINE FUR EXCELLENCE.

Furrier Genius Dominates our Workrooms

Material—Style—Workmanship—Finish—in all their detail are just right here.

Watch the Manufacture:—The skins first of all to be properly and well dressed and sometimes dyed—Matching the skins as to colour and length of "hair"—"Letting down" in order that stripes and shades will harmonize in one distinct unbroken design—Sewing thousands of stitches tight and firm, and not one of these stitches to show when the garment is to wear—then with the skins held taut over wooden "blocks" to actually work the skins into proper shape.

☞That's why well made Furs look and wear well—this care to detail.

☞That's why our Furs are usable again—all is ready for rebuilding when a change is desirable.

The average ready-made Fur garment is simply sewed up with machine stitching and without proper care paid to cutting and blocking—that's why they soon look mean—and very rarely work over satisfactorily.

LADIES' FUR LINED CAPES

Our Fur Lined Cloaks are manufactured by ourselves in every case, from the best materials and with skilled workmen. There is all the difference in the world between these goods and the fur-lined garments sold by dry-goods dealers, which are imported largely from Germany—made of materials that cannot always be guaranteed, and in a very flimsy and unsatisfactory manner.

Prices From $15.00 to $60.00.

TARGET PRACTICE FOR THE "YOUNG IDEA."

COUNTY TEACHERS IN CONFERENCE.

The Convention Meets at Norwood—Good Attendance—Three Inspectors Present Insure Order—A Library for the Association—The Art of Teaching Considered.

At the beginning of the Friday morning session of Peterborough County Teachers' Association, some time was spent in the transaction of general business. The sum of $60 was voted to purchase a library to be kept at Norwood for the use of Model students and the teachers of the county.

Mr. Perney, Principal of Norwood Model and Public Schools, took up in a short but able and interesting paper, the subject of "The Art of Questioning."

Inspector Brown discussed the subject "Interest and Annuities," and gave the teachers some valuable hints on the teaching of problems along this line.

The afternoon attendance was much larger than at the morning session.

In the afternoon Inspector Knight took up "Mental Arithmetic with a Third Class," and had a class present to illustrate his method of teaching the subject. He gave some new and original ideas on how best to teach the important subject of mental arithmetic. He allowed the members of the class to go up ahead of any who missed an answer, thus creating quite a rivalry amongst the class.

He enabled the class to understand him by frequently using a very apt story to bring out his points.

He said teaching and examining go very much together in mental arithmetic. He recommended all teachers to have much mental arithmetic, and to never use the blackboard, slates, paper, etc. It gives a training in remembering numbers. He advised teachers to go as far as possible in each line of questioning. When the pupils get stuck try a new line of questioning.

At the close of the lesson the subject was discussed by Messrs. Hall, Brown, Evans and Knight.

Mr. Hall, of the Norwood High School, took up the subject of "Reading." He said reading was one of the most difficult subjects to teach on the curriculum. He took as heads:

1. Object of teaching reading.
2. How to accomplish this object.
3. Some of the advantages.
4. What to criticize.
5. Some elements in oral reading and how to deal with them.

Expression will take care of itself if the thought has been clearly understood.

Thought-getting is the chief end of teaching reading. To do this:

1. Require pupil to tell the thoughts in his own words.
2. Require pupil to write the lesson in his own words.
3. Asking such questions as might be answered by the pupil if he had seen the occurrence told about in the extract.

Allow pupil to read naturally, but not by imitation.

Utility of oral reading:

1. To get thought from books.
2. To acquire the power of vivid conception.
3. It develops the power of expression.

To what extent to criticise:

Do not violate the laws of consciousness and individuality.

Do not allow the pupils to read until they can pronounce all the words.

Train pupils in special lessons in pronunciation, word definition, voice culture, etc. Do not make these part of the reading lesson.

Mr. Hall's excellent paper was well appreciated by the audience.

In discussion Mr. Knight said if reading be an art, why treat it differently from other arts? Hence, he would be in favour of imitation. He did not think that a pupil can necessarily read well, because he knows the thought, although he cannot read well unless he has the thought. He said there are two parts in teaching reading, intellectual and mechanical. Don't neglect the mechanical simply because it is the easier part.

Discussion was also carried on by Messrs. Gallagher, Brown, Hall and Evans.

"Habit" was the subject of an excellent paper by Inspector Walker, of Peterborough Public schools. He said in all our work we are familiar with old adages, for which we often acquire contempt.

This is an age of utilitarianism, and we are accused of teaching much that is useless.

If we know the three r's we can make a living. But more than this is demanded. Want, work and wages come from a knowledge of only the three scholastic r's.

Man is said to be a walking bundle of habits. Hence we should be careful to form correct habits.

Habit is doing something without thinking about it. An act once performed is performed the second time more easily than the first. Habit saves power, decreases effort and economizes time.

To implant right habits and eradicate bad ones should ever be our aim.

Inculcate cleanliness, neatness and tidiness, order in time and place, self control, silence, concentrated attention, industry, obedience, unselfishness, courtesy, politeness and truthfulness. His paper was very excellent.

The next number on the programme was "Railroads and Commerce of Canada," by Mr. M. W. Matchett, principal of Ashburnham Public School. He gave a number of very interesting facts in connection with the above subject, and presented them in a manner which was very acceptable to the convention, as the applause at the close testified.

This finished the business of the afternoon. Afterwards a football match was played between the teachers and Campbellford, resulting in a tie, neither side scoring a goal.

In the evening a good programme was presented, made up of music, addresses, etc., the meeting being held in the Model School room.

The discussions at the day sessions were very lively and interesting.

The gathering was graced by the presence of three inspectors—Messrs. Walker, Brown and Knight.

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Afflicting a Whole Family. Speedily Cured by CUTICURA.

Statements Sworn to Before the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

My wife had appear on her limbs, just above the ankles, five small pimples that began to enlarge, and soon developed into eating ulcers of the indolent type, which, despite all remedies and our efforts to cure them, grew worse and worse, and at the end of three months had become very bad, two of them having eaten to the bone. At that time we began to use CUTICURA remedies, and with two bottles of RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, they were cured sound and well in about two months. The scars are there to-day as living witnesses of the severity and extent of the ulcers.

I also was afflicted the same winter with papular rash, from which I could not rest day or night. My skin became in a very bad fix when I began using CUTICURA remedies. I used them for about one month and was cured.

My little baby girl, when about ten months old, was afflicted with Eczema, her limbs from her knees down were one solid sore from which she suffered greatly. We tried several remedies which only aggravated them, before we began the use of the CUTICURA remedies, in which case there was a complete cure with no return of the disease.

FIREBUGS AT WORK.

A Story Told by a Colored Youth Which Gives This as the Origin of the Windsor Fire.

Halifax, Oct. 22.—Charles Cronin, a colored youth, who was arrested at Windsor to-day, tells a story about the origin of the last Sunday's conflagration which, if true, shows pretty clearly that the fire was of incendiary origin. He states that Fletcher, the other colored prisoner, near whose dive the fire started, had most of the articles of value removed from his place Saturday night. The fire started while Cronin was sleeping alongside Fletcher.

John McIntyre, the third prisoner, who is said to have purchased a can of oil Saturday, knocked at the outside door and shouted that the barn was on fire. the three men then fled from the scene, doing nothing to extinguish the flames, which Cronin admits could then have easily been quenched. He is credited with saying some days ago that he would like to burn up the women of the W.C.T.U.

$500 a Week Offered Luetgert.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Formal application for bail for Adolph L. Luetgert was made to-day to Judge Tuthill by Attorneys Vincent and Phalen. George Middleton, the dime museum manager, was at the Criminal Court building when the application was made, prepared to go on the big sausage maker's bond in any sum, should Judge Tuthill act favorably upon the application. Should Luetgert be released pending another trial he will probably sign the contract which Middleton has already prepared, giving Luetgert a salary of $500 a week for his appearance in a museum for an indefinite period.

Luetgert denied himself to visitors at the jail, with the exception of two of his old-time country neighbors, who drove into town to see him.

Gold of Great Purity in B. C.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 22.—News has been received from Omnica, in the northern part of this province, of the discovery of rich placer mines in a new creek and of the finding of the remains of Walker, Gid Hallaway and Jim Robinson, who went there nine years ago and lost their lives. Hugh Grant was at the head of the party.

Samples of the gold brought back are the purest seen in British Columbia.

When the news of the discovery spread word was sent to all the prospectors in the district who could be reached, and an old-time rush ensued. A number of claims have been staked and recorded.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A WIDOW'S STRUGGLE.

HARD WORK BROUGHT ON A SEVERE ILLNESS.

Nervous Prostration, Dizziness and Extreme Weakness—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Came to Her Rescue After Hospital Treatment Failed.

From the Fort William Journal.

In the town of Fort William lives a brave widow, who, for years by dint of constant labour, kept the wolf from the door and her little family together. From morning till night she toiled to provide comforts for her loved ones until nature at last protested against such a constant drain on her strength and so she began to lose health. Soon the slender frame became unable to bear its daily load of toil, and the poor mother was at last forced to give up the unequal contest, and become a burden where she had once been the chief support. Nervous prostration, heart disease, consumption, and other names were given to her malady by local physicians, but months passed, during which she suffered untold agony, without finding any relief from her sufferings. Palpitation of the heart, dizziness, extreme pain in the chest, loss of appetite and nervousness were some of the symptoms of the disease, gatherings that caused excruciating pain formed at the knee joints and other parts of the body, and at last she became perfectly helpless and unable to walk or even sit up. At this stage she was advised to enter the hospital, that she might have the benefit of skilled nurses as well as best medical treatment; but after spending some time there without obtaining any relief the poor woman gave up all hope of recovery and asked to be taken home. So emaciated and weak had she become that her friends were shocked at her appearance, and so utterly hopeless was her condition that it was like mockery to speak hopefully of her ultimate recovery. What then was the astonishment of all who had known her dreadful condition to hear that she had at last found a remedy whose magical power at once demonstrated the fact that where there is life there is hope. The name of this remedy that worked such a wonderful change in such a short time was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking five boxes she was able to walk about and visit her friends. Her strength gradually but surely returned and in a few months from the time she began using the medicine she was able to resume her work. The subject of this article, Mrs. Jane Marcellie, is well known and her youthful and healthy appearance to-day causes people to exclaim—wonders will never cease. She attributes her restoration to her family solely to the virtues to be found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and her experience, she hopes, may put some other sufferer on the right road to health.

This great remedy enriches and purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and in this way goes to the root of disease, driving it from the system, and curing when other remedies fail.

Every box of the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has the trade mark on the wrapper around the box, and the purchaser can protect himself from imposition by refusing all others. Sold by all dealers at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

INTO HUDSON RIVER.

Terrible Accident on the New York Central R. R.

WITH LOSS OF TWENTY-EIGHT LIVES.

The State Express Plunges Into the River—Scene of the Accident Near New York City A Number of Toronto and Other Canadian Passengers on Board.

Garrisons, N. Y., Oct. 24.—From the sleep that means refreshment and rest to the tete nad sleep that knows no waking, plunged, in the twinkling of an eye, this morning, 28 souls—men, women and children. Into the slimy bed of the Hudson River a train, laden with slumbering humanity, plowed, dragging through the waters the helpless passengers. There was nothing to presage the terrible accident which so suddenly deprived these unfortunates of life. The New York Central train left Buffalo last night, and had progressed for nearly nine-tenths of the distance towards its destination. The engineer and his fireman had just noted the grey dawn breaking in the east and the light streak of red betokened the sun's appearance, when the great engine plunged into the depths of the river. Neither engineer nor fireman will ever tell the story of that terrible moment, for, with his hand upon the throttle, the engineer plunged, with his engine, to the river bottom, and the fireman, too, was at his post. Behind them came the express car, the combination car and the sleepers, and these piled on top of the engine. It is known that it was a trifle foggy and that the track was not visible, but if there was any break in the lines of steel it must have been of very recent happening, for only an hour before there had passed over it a heavy passenger train, laden with human freight. Neither is there an explanation ready. All is conjecture. The section of road was supposed to be the very best on the entire division. There was a great, heavy retaining wall all along the bank, and, while the tide was high yesterday, it was not unprecedented.

What seems to have happened was that underneath the tracks and the ties the heavy wall had given away, and when the great weight of the engine struck the unsupported tracks, it went crashing through the rest of the wall and toppled over in the river. Then there happened what on the railroad at any other time would have caused disaster, but now proved a very blessing. As the train plunged over the embankment the coupling that held the last three of the six sleepers, broke and they miraculously remained on the broken track. In that way some sixty lives were saved

Of eye-witnesses there were none except the crew of a tugboat, passing with a tow. They saw the train with its lights as it came flashing about the curves and then saw the greater part of it go into the river. Some of the cars, with closed windows, floated, and, the tug, whistling for help, cast off her hawser and started to the rescue.

A porter jumped from one of the cars that remained on the track and ran into the yard of Augustus Carr's house, near which the accident occurred, and stood screaming for help and moaning: "The train is in the river; all our passengers are drowned!" In a few minutes Carr had dressed himself, and, getting a boat, rowed with the porter to the scene. As they turned a point in the bank they came upon the express car and the combination car, floating about twenty feet from shore, but sinking every minute. One man was taken from the top of the car, and efforts were made to rescue those inside who might be alive. A few were gotten out.

The day coach and smoker had gone down in the deeper water, and rescue was impossible. In the latter coach the conditions must have been terrible. The car turned completely over, and the passenger end of it was in the deep water, while the luggage end stood up towards the surface. The men in that lower end must have fought like fiends for a brief period, for the bodies when taken out were a mass of wounds.

The closing scene of the first day of this tragedy is drawn around a common car that stands near the scene of the accident, where nearly a score of terribly mutilated bodies, none of them yet claimed by friends, are lying in a long row, gruesome evidence of the worst disaster that has ever occurred on this road.

The wrecked train was known as the State express. It left Buffalo at 7 o'clock last night, and was due in New York at 7 o'clock this morning. The train was hauled by engine 872, and consisted of one American express car, one composite baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers. This was the make-up of the train when it left Poughkeepsie, the last stopping place before the disaster, at 5.10 p.m.

At this time there were in the smoker, in addition to the baggageman, Herman Acker of Peekskill, who was in his compartment, eight Chinamen en route from the Canadian border to New York, and a middle-aged man, supposed to be Thomas Reilly of St. Louis. All of these excepting the baggagemaster perished.

The day coach contained 18 to 20 passengers, many of whom are women and children.

How many of these escaped is not known, but at least twelve were drowned or killed in this car.

Behind the coach were the six sleepers: the Glenalpine, with 15 passengers; the Hermes, with 12 passengers; the Noble, with 11; the Diana, with about 15; the Anita, nearly full, and the car Sacket River, with no passengers. The total cargo of human freight consisted of something over a hundred people.

One of the few occupants of the coach who escaped with his life was Frank J. Degan, a wood-finisher, of New York. His left eye was cut by broken glass and his body was slightly bruised. Mr. Degan made this statement:

"With my friend, W. H. G. Myers of Passaic, N.J., who was killed in the car from which I escaped, I had been to Poughkeepsie. We boarded the train at that place and took a seat in the coach. Three other people got on at Poughkeepsie: one was a woman and the two others were men, one of whom looked like a railroad employe. As near as I can judge, there were 18 people in the coach, most of them being women and children, and nearly all were asleep. Myers and I sat in the middle of the car. When the crash came the car gave a great lurch and rolled over on its side. The water rushed in, and almost instantly the lights went out. I knew we were in the river, and the car seemed to plow through the water for some time after it was submerged.

"The car was tilted over on one side, and I managed to reach the fanlight overhead and cling to it until help came.

"I heard people in the back part of the car groaning, as if they were pinned fast. It was so dark that I could see no one, and I think the passengers must have been drowned like rats. After a while it seemed an age—I heard people on top of the car and an ax crash through the roof. Soon they had a hole cut in the roof and pulled me out through it. A man and a boy—father and son—were also rescued in the same way, but I know of no other occupants of the coach escaping. The car at this time was floating, but fast filling with water. We were put ashore in a row boat. I am sure that my friend Myers was drowned."

The first victim of the disaster found was lying on shore, dying. He was badly bruised about the head and body, and his right arm was cut off near the shoulder. The man was placed on a train and taken to Peekskill, but died on the way. The body was that of a middle-aged man, about six feet tall; weight about 180 pounds. He was finely developed, physically. His hair was dark and his mustache was red and stubby. The man wore a 16 collar and a 10 1-2 cuff. The one cuff-button was in the shape of a horseshoe, set with small white stones. There was nothing on the body by which to identify the man, and he was placed in a box and shipped to Cold Springs.

Five men were rescued from the top of a floating car a few minutes after the accident. They were put on a train and taken to Peekskill, about ten miles down the road. They were admitted to the Helping-Hand Hospital, where their wounds were dressed. Of the five, three were Chinamen, and they were frightfully injured. The Americans were: John E. Ryan of Jersey City and Clarence Morgan of Aurora, N. Y. The Chinamen were suffering from bad scalp wounds.

At 8 o'clock an express train left the scene with the man who had died on the track and about twenty-five injured persons. The dead man and five injured were left at Peekskill, while the train proceeded to New York with the rest of the injured.

New York, Oct. 24.—A number of the survivors of the wreck arrived in this city this morning, including some of the injured. Among the out-of-town people are the following:

Mr. and Mrs. B. Wereschagnit of Montreal.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Acton of White Plains.
W. S. Baldwin of Buffalo.
J. B. Littlefield of Buffalo.
Mrs. Anna M. Nixon, Evansville, Ind.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Houten, Paterson, N. J.
James Keegan of Buffalo.
Edward MacKelheim of Tonawanda, N. Y.

All are at the Murray Hill Hotel. Some of these, together with a number of residents of New York and Brooklyn, who are also at this hotel, are suffering from slight injuries and shock.

Toronto, Oct. 25. Lord Douglas of Hawick was in the wreck. He was coming to New York from Toronto with Mr. S. D. Wilkinson of London. When the crash came and the coaches were thrown into the water Lord Douglas, assisted by Mr. Wilkinson, managed after a great deal of difficulty to get out of the coach. It was much more difficult than it would otherwise have been, because of a lame leg which Lord Douglas suffered from, the result of a recent accident. Lord Douglas was taken to New York, and is now with friends at a private residence.

At 1 o'clock this morning the derricks succeeded in raising one of the heavy cars, and the workmen soon afterwards got out three bodies. One of these was identified as Truman Parsons, a member of the League of American Wheelmen, supposed to be of New York. The other two bodies were not identified.

Another Englishman, well known in Ontario, and who was a guest the Queen's Hotel for some days last week, was Mr. S. G. Wilkinson, London, Eng. He left for England on the same sleeper with Lord Douglas. He occupied lower berth No. 8. He represented the Bible House of London.

Mr. and Mrs. Glaser and daughter of New York were among the lucky passengers who escaped. They had been staying at the Rossin House for four weeks, and left for home on one of the ill-fated sleepers. Mr. Glaser, who represented the D. Appleton Publishing Company in Canada, telegraphed the Rossin last night that he and his wife and daughter escaped uninjured.

One happy man to-day will be Mr. C. A. Pipon, Toronto agent for the White Star Line. Mr. Pipon was to have left on the doomed train for New York, but delayed his trip until yesterday.

The Torontonian, however, who considers that he had a really miraculous escape is Mr. Harry P. Strickland, electrical contractor, of 35 Adelaide street east. He started for New York on Saturday, and was about to bear [illegible] fortunate express at Buffalo, when he was recalled to Toronto by a telegraph message.

J. E. Hill, brother of Mr. Robert Hill of the Queen's Hotel, left for New York at 5.30 on Saturday evening, and it is not known whether he escaped or not.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Among the Montrealers on the train were Messrs. H. S. Phelps, agent for the New York Central here, and M. P. Langelier of Montreal.

MULMUR PERJURY CASE.

The Magistrates Commit Three of the Accused After Hearing Mrs. Stephenson's Evidence.

Shelburne, Ont., Oct. 24.—On Saturday the perjury case against John Hamilton, Adam Loudon, James Sammons and Thomas Gallagher was continued here. Great interest was manifested by the people of the neighborhood.

Samuel McDowell, ex-Warden of Dufferin County; Frank Mulligan, David Thompson, George Lakling, Township Clerk of Mulmur, Robert Erskine and George Lee gave evidence, after which Mrs. Stephenson, the heroine of the forged order, was called and swore positively that Sammons swore as to the date of the signing of the order at the court in Orangeville, also as to seeing her sign it. A very stiff cross-examination failed to shake the witness in any single point. John Skedding, constable, said an interview with James Sammons, in which he admitted that he only saw Mrs. Stephenson in Hamilton's office once, and that was not in November, 1896, but in April, 1897. He also read a written statement made by Sammons and witnessed by his wife, in which Sammons denied ever having seen Mrs. Stephenson sign an order. He admitted that when in the office there was quite a jangle between Hamilton and Mrs. Stephenson.

Magistrate McCue, in giving the decision of the bench, stated that in their opinion Hamilton by his own sworn testimony, given at the preliminary examinations as to the presence of Small and others in his office on that evening, and the evidence of Small that he was in Shelburne from early morning until late at night, where there were good and substantial citizens who had sworn to his presence at the Robinson sale, the bench could not see how they could do otherwise than commit John Hamilton, and he, Adam Loudon and James Sammons were committed to stand their trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. The charge of perjury against Thomas Gallagher was dismissed.

SEAMEN'S SUFFERINGS.

An Awful Story of the Sea and the Dangers of Those Who Go Down in Ships.

London, Oct. 24.—Second Mate Obsen of the Norwegian barque Seladon, Captain Jaeger, from Newcastle, N. S. W., on July 13, 1897, for Honolulu, which was wrecked in the South Seas in August, 1896, has arrived in London, with a dozen survivors, and tells a terrible story of their experience. The Seladon struck the reefs off Starbuck Island on Aug. 7. The crew was obliged to take to the boats, and the vessel filled so rapidly that there was no time to save clothing, while they barely got a few provisions, the ship's compass and a chart. They forgot the sextant. Eight men manned each of the boats, and made for Malden Island, as there was no refuge at Starbuck Island. Failing to find Malden Island, they tried to find Christmas Island. After eleven days, the first mate's boat was capsized and the mate drowned. The party drifted without food for six days, and finally, on Sept. 6, they were cast on a coral island and their boat was smashed by a big wave. The island on which they were thrown proved to be Sophia Island, inhabited by ten people, and belonging to an American subject living in Samoa. They lived there for ten months on turtles, birds and bananas.

ARCHBISHOP CLEARY

Creates a Sensation in Kingston by His Latest Mandement.

Kingston, Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Archbishop Cleary has created a sensation here by his promulgation to-day of the mandate read from the pulpit of St. Mary's Cathedral, in which he says:

We hereby declare, with all the authority of the church vested in us as Archbishop of Kingston and your chief pastor, that any Catholic in our metropolitan city or diocese who shall hereafter presume to enter any non-Catholic edifice to assist at what is termed "a marriage ceremony" or "service for the dead," even though he should not take any active part in the performance, renders himself guilty of mortal sin by dishonoring the religion of his baptism and defying the laws of the holy church and giving public scandal before society; and we furthermore reserve to ourself alone the power to absolve from this heinous sin.

A BLAZING MOUNTAIN.

Flames Making Great Headway Near Georgeville, Que., and Visible for Many Miles Around.

Georgeville, Que., Oct. 23.—The whole southwest side of Orford Mountain, the highest in Eastern Canada, is in flames. It is well-wooded and there are a number of farms on its broad slopes, and even near the top. Forest fires have been raging in the vicinity for two days, but the fire at 8 o'clock to-night is making great headway, extending over half a mile in length, apparently working up the mountain side and can be seen over the country for miles around. It is plainly visible in Stanstead, Brome and Sherbrooke counties. Fortunately there is no wind. What the damage will be is not yet known.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The following Provincial appointments are announced: Charles Sears McKee of Bailliebro', to be an Associate Coroner for the united Counties of Northumberland and Durham. Frank Stewart Mearns of Toronto to be a notary public for Ontario. Jas. Cochrane of the Township of Derby is appointed bailiff of the Division Court of County Grey. Joseph E. Masters of Niagara is appointed bailiff of the Division Court of County Lincoln.

Windsor Fire Fiends.

Windsor, N.S., Oct. 23.—A warrant to search the house of John McIntyre, in jail at Kentville on the charge of firing his house, was issued [illegible], officers took possession of the house and made a thorough inspection of the rooms and their contents. When sufficient evidence was found to establish that the house was set on fire intentionally.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. HICKERSON, 938 Bloor Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It looks as if the three bye-elections in Rimouski, Drummond and Arthabasca, and Temiscouti, Quebec, would go by default to the Liberals. The elections are on Nov. 13, and so far the Opposition have no candidates in the field, while the candidates of the Liberals are in the field in all three ridings.

BOTH the Dominion and Ontario Governments are, says the Guelph Herald, very fortunate in having as Ministers of Agriculture the Hon. Sidney Fisher and the Hon. John Dryden. Since Mr. Fisher assumed office he has secured the removal of the quarantine on cattle between the States and Canada. He has established the cold storage system on a satisfactory basis, which will be of untold advantage to Canada in the transportation of our agricultural products to Great Britain. In other important respects he is looking after and promoting the agricultural interests throughout the Dominion. He was in Halifax the other day and delivered an address at the exhibition there. And this is what the Presbyterian Witness, a non-political paper, says about it: "It is well we we have now a Minister of Agriculture—a practical farmer, a member of the Government whose thought and skill and influence will be devoted to the promotion of the most important of all industries. Hon. Mr. Fisher is a practical farmer, and he is proving that his office is no sinecure. His remarks at the meeting on Monday were timely and worthy of attention."

THE CHEESE EXPORTING BUSINESS.

Kingston Aspires to be the Biggest Mite—in the Cheese—Claims to be the Hub of the Business.

A correspondent of the Kingston News thus refers to a proposal of Frontenac Cheese Board to ship cheese direct to the Old Country and thus do away with the middlemen:—The Frontenac Cheese Board passed a resolution on Thursday last that is liable to cause considerable talk until it is finally disposed of. The President, Mr. Geo. Lake, started the ball rolling, and the mover of the motion has been an advocate of the plan for years; the secender also confirmed the idea, and lastly, not one salesman objected. Therefore, it looks as though Kingston is coming to the front and will be known in England as the great Canadian cheese exporting point, and why shouldn't it be so? This will call for a large cold storage house that will accommodate at least 100,000 boxes of cheese in order that the western people may be taken into consideration, and then Kingston will be looked up to as as central cheese point, which neither Montreal nor Toronto can claim geographically to be." The remarks made at the Board were to the point, and ex-secretary Gallagher in a very clear manner, outlined the method by which the business could be done. The idea was to ship cheese direct from here to England to the order of some reliable bank, and send a salesman there for the season to dispose of them, the bank advancing ⅔ value here at time of shipment, which method will do away with considerable annoyance which is experienced at Montreal, besides the vast amount of profit that must be realized in Montreal to cover their natural expenses in connection with the cheese-exporting trade in the way it is now conducted. Again, I want to say that we Ontario people are only by our good quality of cheese helping to make a market for Quebec producers, as all are sold as Canadian produce.

MICHIPICOTEN DEPOSITS.

Montreal Gazette.

A bulletin of the Ontario Bureau of Mines contains some useful information as to the kind of men who should not rush to the Michipicoten gold country. The district is reported, geologically, to be of a character somewhat similar to that to which the Lake of the Woods gives its name, differing, however, in some respects, which make prospecting very hard work. The Lake of the Woods region contains some rich gold deposits, and at least one famous mine. Mr. Whitmot, who examined the country for the Government, believes that it will well pay prospecting, and that in a few years gold mining will be established there on a profitable basis. His report is encouraging for men who understand quartz mining; but not for those who expect to get rich with a pick and a pan. There appear to be no placer deposits.

DEATH LARGELY DUE TO HABIT.

A Scientist Explains How Thought May Determine Human Existence.

Dr. C. A. Stephens, a New England man, a graduate of the Boston University Medical School and a member of many learned bodies, built a laboratory several years ago at Norway Lake, near Norway, Me., and he spends almost all his time there in investigating the causes of old age and death, with the object of their alleviation and removal. Dr. Stephens published from his laboratory the close connection of all the cells in the brain by nerve fibre, enabling them to feel and act together about a year and a half before the discovery was announced by the great Spanish physiologist, Ramon y Cajal of Madrid.

Dr. Stephens says he is confident that the progress of brain science will enable mankind successfully to overcome decay and its climax, death. He points out that matter is indestructible and that the law of the universe is immortality. He believes that death at threescore and ten or thereabouts is largely a matter of belief and habit. Generation after generation is born into the world, expecting to die at a certain time, and it dies then. He very forcibly points out that if children were brought up with the idea of living forever this altered expectation would gradually but surely extend the life limit in the course of generations.

To prove that life length is largely a child of habit and environment he instances the elephant and the swan, whose ages run into the centuries, as compared with infusoria and moths, whose heyday of existence is but the fleeting moment. His studies have been particularly directed toward the microscopic examination of the brain cells of the old and infirm. He finds their nuclei dark and shrunken, just like the brain cells of the fatigued pigeons and of the honey bees, so graphically illustrated by Dr. Hodge, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

Dr. Stephens raises the serious enquiry as to whether the universal presence of microscopic "dirt" may not be a potent factor of old age and decay. He has found large quantities of foreign inorganic matter in old brain cells. He shows how this "dirt" is brought into the system by the inspired air (enclosuroses), through the cells of the lungs into the blood, and finds its final refuse heap in the cells themselves, where it increases in amount hourly, and escapes the metabolism constantly occurring in the minute tissues, the rejuvenation of organic material, and the constant birth of fresh physiological structures.

The vastly superior power of brain cells to resist decay suggests to Dr. Stephens the invincibility of thought life in its final victory over death's decay. This very suggestive experimentalist refers to the mental change which habit induces soon after each individual has reached the "prime of life." Up to that point there is energy and hope in all the tissues. After that point all the histological structures of the body lose heart and make no effort to stem the tide which sets for "the downward path to death."

The doctor declares that the achievement of modern special education, which enables the deaf to hear with their eyes, and tones up relaxed vocal chords, which brings it to pass that the blind see with their fingers, taken in connection with the great longevity of ancient races, as descried in the Old Testament, and as authenticated in monuments, shows that unusual length of life has been a fait accompli of history, and suggests that the determination of life length is possibly and practically within the domain of thought.

As humanity in its physiological expression is wholly a compromise with perfection, Dr. Stephens argues, better food selection and a more watchful outlook against the introduction of foreign and inorganic material into the system cannot help increasing the life potential of each unit of the race.

Dr. Stephens holds that what is known as "soul" is merely cell experience, the knowledge acquired by cells, collectively and individually, during years of hereditary transmission. This view is the same held by Sir William Thomson and Thomas A. Edison. He points out that father and child, death and life, generation after generation, are not the ideals of human society, but only its makeshifts. Immortal life is the real aim in view, and he believes it will be achieved in time.

The Lubrication Test.

Very few of the millions of people who carry watches realise to what a wonderful extent lubrication is developed, and what an extraordinary number of turns the balance wheel makes with one oiling. A Chestnut street watchmaker, whose knowledge of these wonderful pieces of mechanism is not exceeded by any man in this city, has made up an interesting table of comparison to show the perfection of lubrication in a watch.

A watch will run on one oiling from a year to a year and a half. Every minute the balance wheel turns on its axis 450 times and 27,000 times in an hour. Accepting a year as the time the ordinary watch will run with one oiling, he finds that if the driver of a locomotive was as well oiled as a balance wheel of a watch it ought to run sixty miles an hour day and night for 648 days, or well on to two years, with one oiling. In that time it would traverse a distance equal to nearly forty times the circumference of the earth.

In view of the fact that in reality few locomotives will run one day without re-oiling; he maintains that the watchmaker has developed his art to a far greater degree than the locomotive builder has yet been able to reach.—Philadelphia Record.

THE WORLD'S W.C.T.U.

Opening of the Great Convention in Toronto on Saturday.—Miss Willard's Address

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Even though the attendance was larger in the Pavilion on Saturday morning, and instead of the motto, "For God and Home and Native Land," was substituted, "For God and Home and Every Land," yet the closing session of the Dominion W.C.T.U. drifted so quietly into the opening of the World's Convention that many were unaware of the two distinct conferences.

Miss Frances Willard, the World's president, who has been known among her people across the line, in spite of their democracy, as the "uncrowned Queen," was given a standing welcome with ringing cheers as she arose to fulfil the duties of her office, calling the first business of the World's W.C.T.U. to order.

The President's Address.

Psalm cxlvi., known as the Crusade Psalm, was read responsively. "Give to the winds thy fears" made a theme for the vast chorus of female voices, and when it was ended a hush fell during a brief prayer spoken by Mrs. Thornley, president of Ontario W.C.T.U., and then the World's president arose to read her biennial address.

Miss Willard grew fervent on the subject of prohibition, which she believes will carry here. She rejoiced that the Polyglot petition had been sent over by Lady Henry.

In recounting the various items of Victorian reform, she stated that the incumbency of the present Archbishop of Canterbury has been the first time liquor could not be obtained at Lambeth.

The subject of purity was vigorously dealt with by Miss Willard, who deplored the treatment of the women of India and the Chinese girls, and condemned, though with apologies and many protestations of love, the measure advocated by Lady Henry Somerset for adoption in India.

Secretary's Report.

The honorary secretary's biennial report, read by Miss Agnes Slack, who spent many weeks in preparation thereof, was most encouraging and informed the audience of important items of the union's progress in every part of the world.

The largest auxiliary is the National W. C. T. U., which reported a gain of 15,886 new members last year. The total members of Australasia is 6809, and 1170 honorary members.

When the secretary reached the subheading Canada, a prolonged cheering greeted the report from our country. The Dominion has 9950 members.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to brief speeches in which everyone on the platform took part, besides many more.

The Convention sermon was preached in Massey Hall on Sunday by a woman, and it was essentially a woman's success. Miss Elizabeth W. Greenwood, Brooklyn, N.Y., superintendent World's and National Evangelistic Work, was the preacher. Her texts were:

Esther I., 13: Wise men which knew the time.

II Chronicles xxxii., 8: And the people rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah, king of Judah.

In the course of her sermon Miss Greenwood pleaded for an historical Christ in these words:

One leader alone has perfectly embodied these characteristics of true leadership—the Carpenter of Nazareth, the Son of Man. Would you be like Him pure, sincere, self-sacrificing? "Then," as Dr. Amory H. Bradford says, "study the words, imitate the example, fall in love with the person and spend all the time you possibly can in His presence."

The Most Prominent Are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

MORE FOR THEM TO DO

Gordon Highlanders to Have a Chance to Repeat

THEIR GALLANT DARGAI RIDGE WORK.

Important Discovery is That the Native Tribesmen Have Secured a Very Great Number of Martini-Henry Rifles and Cartridges Still Bloodier Mountain Looked For.

London, Oct. 24.—A despatch to The Times from the British headquarters at Khanga bar, dated Oct. 22, says:

"This morning General Lockhart addressed the Gordon Highlanders on parade and congratulated them on their gallant exploit in storming the Dargai Ridge, on the Samana Range, in the afternoon of Wednesday. He added that the records of the regiment showed many brave deeds in the past, by the side of which their last exploit might worthily take a place. There was more work ahead for them, continued the General, which, he was sure, they would as fearlessly and successfully carry through, when the time arrived. General Lockhart also thanked Colonel Mathias, the commander of the Gordon Highlanders, and the officers of that regiment for their gallant leadership. Colonel Mathias, Captain Unjacke and Lieutenant Meiklejohn were wounded. Only two privates were killed outright, though forty-nine were wounded."

The London correspondent of The Times cables as follows regarding the fighting in India:

"The Gordon Highlanders' praises are in everybody's mouth, and the Sikhs and the Goorkhas, who shared with them in the magnificent exploit of the Chagru-Kotal, share the laudation here as well. The sinister dimensions of the death roll take the English, however, by surprise. No such desperate resistance had been looked for from the tribes, at least by the civilian public; even military authorities are astonished to find that they are so rich in Martini-Henry rifles and ammunition.

"The native habit of sending guns from the arm racks at night is, of course, an old story, and these weapons are now turning up by the thousands in the hands of the tribesmen. But where they got the immense store of cartridges is a deep mystery, since the regulations sternly prohibit their possession by soldiers off duty, and there is no record of any magazine having been pillaged. The most plausible theory is that there has been a surreptitious sale of cartridges by merchants, perhaps Continental, perhaps English, who somehow managed to elude the vigilance of the Indian authorities. There is another idea that they may be the product of the Ameer's famous arms factory at Kabul. It is evident that General Sir William Lockhart's campaign will consume much more time, with far bloodier results, than anybody has looked for."

Bloody Work Close at Hand

Simla, Oct. 24.—According to despatches received to-night the tribesmen are collecting in great force on both sides of the Sempagha Pass, where the next serious fighting is expected to take place. They are removing their women to safe points.

Despatches from Khan Ki Valley report that the tribesmen poured a heavy fire into the camp last night, wounding a native officer and two men. Desultory firing is reported in various directions.

SCENTS A RUPTURE.

El Liberal of Madrid Fears There Will be Trouble With the States.

Madrid, Oct. 23.—El Liberal thinks a rupture is possible as a result of the negotiations which are about to open between Spain and the United States, and adds:

"We ought to avoid this rupture, so far as duty and honor permit, but though the Government should act in a spirit of moderation, the nation will under no circumstances authorize the renunciation of Spanish rights."

El Liberal asks for the publication of the note which the United States Minister delivered to the Spanish Government, and it also asks for a statement of the policy the Government intends to pursue towards the United States.

El Tempo publishes, with reserve, the announcement that the reply of the Spanish Government to the note of the United States, presented by General Stewart L. Woodford, the American Minister at Madrid, declares that if the United States does not stop the sailing of filibustering expeditions from American ports, Spain will re-establish the right to search vessels anchoring in Cuban waters.

What the Note Says.

Madrid, Oct. 24. The note prepared by Senor Gullon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in reply to the note recently presented to the Duke of Tetuan, the then Foreign Minister, by General Woodford, the American Minister, declares that Spain has done all in her power to end the war in Cuba, proof of which is given in the great sacrifices she has made, the number of troops sent to the island, and now the granting of wide reforms, which are fully described.

It declares that the Government cannot admit the pretensions of any foreign nation to interfere in Spanish affairs, and complains of the number of filibustering expeditions to Cuba from the United States, which, it declares, are the chief cause of the continuance of the war. It then proceeds to express the hope that respect for international rights in America will be better enforced in the future.

The note is described as being mild in tone, but energetic. In fact it shows the resolution of the new Government to enforce respect for Spanish rights. Instructions have been sent to Senor De Lome, the Spanish Minister at Washington, which include a warning that Spain will use her right to search American ships if mere filibustering expeditions start for Cuba.

CHAMBERLAIN GOES AHEAD.

The Colonial Secretary Will Attempt to Settle the Hinterland Difficulty.

London, Oct. 23. Though the diplomats regard the situation in the Lagos Hinterland as complicated and difficult to settle, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, is pursuing a forward policy.

The Marquis of Salisbury was content to negotiate a settlement of the question in Paris, but Mr. Chamberlain formed a plan to effectively occupy the territory in dispute while the diplomats were arguing, and applied for sixty British officers to organize a big force of Haussas for this service.

A SENSATION IN GERMANY.

Talk of Italy Going Out of the Triple Alliance and Joining Britain.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—An article in The Nuova Atologia, an influential Italian magazine, published by ex-Minister Ferraris, has caused a profound sensation in Germany. The article is a summary of a forthcoming book by Signor Chiala, the Italian Senator and historian. He advocates the formal withdrawal of Italy from the Dreibund at the expiration of the present term of that compact, and the forming of a new Zweibund between Italy and Great Britain.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Preliminary Trial of Mrs. Felix Villeneuve at Chelmsford Results in Sending Her For Trial.

Chelmsford, Ont., Oct. 23.—Felix Villeneuve was killed near here a few days ago, and suspicion was directed against his wife and a man named Arthur Chartrand, who was said to be intimate with the woman. The preliminary enquiry has resulted in a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death from wounds inflicted on the head with an ax, and that Louise Villeneuve, wife of deceased, was the perpetrator of the deed. The jury also stated that the immoral intimacy between Arthur Chartrand and the woman was the cause of the murder.

The evidence, while purely circumstantial, was very strong against Mrs. Villeneuve. According to her own statement, she had been working alone with her husband, helping him to put up a building. She swore that at 10 minutes to 2 in the afternoon she left her husband to go to the house, and that at 3 o'clock her 12-year-old son came to her and told her that her husband was dead. She rushed out to where he had been working and found him all covered with blood in a dying condition. No evidence was adduced to show that anyone besides Mrs. Villeneuve had been with the victim on the day of the murder.

Strong evidence was given as to the intimacy between Arthur Chartrand and Mrs. Villeneuve, one of the witnesses swearing that Chartrand had been heard to say that it was time Villeneuve was got out of the way.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Children's Jackets.

This is particularly interesting to the Children. They will be glad to know that we have not forgotten them in buying our stock. We have been as solicitous in selecting JACKETS for them as we were for their mothers. We have them in luxuriously soft and warm materials—yet as tough as buckskin—to stand the hard usage children know so well how to give their clothes.

Some of the styles are very taking. The RUSSIAN BLOUSE shape is as popular for girls as for ladies, and the briget colours and gold buttons are like a gleam of sunshine.

The double-breasted KERSEY REEFER FRONT, buttoned nigh at neck, and deep Sailor Collar, handsomely braided, and gold buttons, is a coat that will set the young miss wild to get it. Or perhaps she will prefer a handsome rough DIAGONAL CHEVIOT, high collar, fly front, lined with fancy taffeta. Or a RUSSIAN BLOUSE COAT in smooth black cheviot, blouse shape back and front, satin lined, finished with rows of stiching. Or if her taste points in the direction of a JACKET of CREAM, TAN, or RED KERSEY, lined with rich striped taffeta, double breasted, high neck, with two rows of fine pearl buttons, high turnover collar inlaid with velvet, seams all strapped, she can find it with us.

We can give her any assortment the most fastideous cap wish, and can show different patterns and styles until she gets almost bewildered by looking at so many beautiful coats.

Manufacturers' Committee.

The Manufacturers' Committe of the Board of Trade met on Saturday evening to consider some matters of importance which had been referred to them by the Board. The questions were discussed at some length and the committee will meet again before the Board assembles. Those present were Messrs. Robt. Fair, chairman; Peter Hamilton, J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., D. W. Dumble, T. E. Bradburn and T. F. Matthews.

THEIR FIRST COMMUNION.

Nearly One Hundred and Sixty Children Were Confirmed in St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday.

Yesterday morning at 9.15 o'clock nearly one hundred and sixty children assembled in the Convent Hall and marched in a body to St. Peter's Cathedral, where the holy rite of Confirmation was administered, followed by their first communion.

His Lordship Bishop O Connor officiated, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Casey and Rev. Father Scanlan. The Bishop afterwards preached to the children.

In the afternoon they again attended service at three o'clock for the renewal of their baptismal vow, when the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament took place at the same time.

There was very large congregations present at both services, and the little girls presented a very pretty appearance in their white dresses and confirmation veils.

MEDALS FOR VETERANS OF 1866 AND 1870.

GRANTED BY THE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT.

The Names of Peterborough Claimants—There are Quite a Large Number of Them.

After a wait of thirty long years, the veterans who stood to arms in 1866-70 have received at least, sentimental recognition, in the form of medals to be issued by the Imperial Government.

The number has in that time been sadly thinned by the grim marksman, whose bullet always finds its billet, but there are many left who will be proud of wearing a medal that represents the gratitude of the Empire for services willingly and loyally rendered.

It is believed that least 7,500 medals will be called for by the surviving veterans, scattered all over the world. How many Peterboroughians will ask for them it is difficult to ascertain. The formation of the Veterans' of 1866 Association last year, however, has afforded a gathering point for the Vets., as will be remembered by those who saw their very fine parade on Jubilee Day. The roll contains over 50 names, but there must be many more.

The EXAMINER has made an effort to ascertain the names of the Peterboroughnians who are entitled to claim the new medals. It has not been an easy task, but through the kindness of Mr. J. D. Collins, the Secretary of the V. A., the following list is presented as being complete as it is possible to obtain:

Peterborough Rifles—Lieut-Col H C Rogers, John Irwin, Edward Green, Peter Gifford, Wm Logan, R W Thompson, Lewis Spry, David Breeze, John Ghreen, E. Green.

Peterborough Infantry, No 1—H Rush, Richard Sanderson, W H Anthony, Geo S Kingdon, Major Wm. Langford, John Sawers, J I Davidson, Fred Mitchell.

Ashburnham Infantry—Geo Brown, J D Collins, Jesse Grey, Geo Stethem, Thos Brown, Matthew McCue, Jas Tighe.

Millbrook Infantry Co.—Fred'k McCarry, Hugh William Watson, George Rose.

Argyle Light Infantry—H. J. Holmes, R. M. Roy.

Port Hope Infantry—Matthew McElroy, James Burnett.

Cannington Infantry—James Nicholls.

Carleton Place Rifle Co.—Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell.

Queen's Own Rifles—A. P. Poussette, Peter Thompson, F. R. Yokome.

The following citizens of Lakefield are also entitled to medals:—

Lakefield Infantry—Alex. Bell, M. D., Henry T. Mellor, sergt.; John Todd, corp.; Wm. Leonard, Thos. Hill, Thos. F. Wallace, John Stuart, Andrew Wilson, Richard Hill.

PERSONAL

Miss Mabel Roy, Stewart street, left today to visit relatives in Belleville.

Mr. P. H. Green, photographer, of Cobourg, was renewing old acquaintances in town to-day.

Chas. Sears McKee, M. D., Bailliieboro, has been appointed associate corner for the united counties of Northumberland and Durham.

Mr. E. Wasson is at Warsaw spending a week with his parents prior to their departure to British Columbia and California, where they will spend the winter.

Conductor Wm. Pym, wife and nephew, of Haliburton, are in town spending a few days with friends. The former is on sick leave.

Contractor Sims of the T.V.C., Kirkfield, spent Sunday in town with his family who have recently taken up residence here on McDonel street.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says that Miss Alberta Garlick has returned home after a pleasant visit with friends in Lakefield and Peterborough.

Mr. Wm. Haskill, the genial conductor on the Lakefield branch, is still confined to his bed through the combined effects of an acute attack of rheumatism and a heavy fall sustained a few days ago.

The numerous friends of Mr. Thomas Brooks will regret to learn that his condition is about the same to-day as during the later part of last week. Dr. Cameron, of Toronto, had a consultation on Friday with Dr. Greer, Mr. Brooks' medical adviser. At four p. m. Mr. Brook's condition is reported to be much improved.

The Rev. Rural-Dean Allan, of Millbrook, well known here, is confined to his house, having had a broken needle run into his foot. He went up to Toronto and submitted to an X-rays test, and although the doctors thought they had located the needle, when they cut in it was not found.

The Minden Echo says that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hopkins of Carnarvon left on Thursday for their their home in Peterborough. Mr. Hopkins and family are highly respected in their former home, and Mr. Hopkins showed his loyalty to his old home by ordering the Echo before he left, which will make him no less a good citizen of Peterborough.

Dr. Burnham has just presented a medal for pupils taking the highest marks in the first form departmental examinations. The Collegiate Institute is also in possession of medals for the primary and junior and senior leaving examinations. The above mentioned presentation is but another instance of the great interest which Dr. Burnham takes in Peterborough's educational system.

Mr. O. B. Shortly leaves in the morning for Windsor, the headquarters of the firm of Evans & Dodge, makers of the E. & D. wheel. Mr. Shortly has accepted a position as travelling representative for the firm, but will remain in Windsor for a couple of weeks receiving instructions, etc. His trip will be from Toronto to North Bay to Ottawa to Kingston to Toronto, including the towns along the line. It will take fully three weeks to cover the ground in the first trip. The E. & D. firm by coming to Peterborough for a representative again demonstrates the fact that Peterborough turns out some hustling young business men. They will not be disappointed in "Or."

LACROSSE CLUB MEETING.

It is Decided to Hold a Smoking Concert and Also to Form a Hockey Club.

At a largely attended meeting of the Lacrosse Club last Saturday evening, with the secretary in the chair, it was decided to hold a smoking concert on a big scale within the next couple of weeks.

The club this year has made a strong bid for the patronage of those who like to see good clean amateur sport. No complaints can be made of any ringers seen in any of the games this season, and not a man played in a single match who was not born and raised in Peterborough.

Notwithstanding these facts, however, the club finds that at the close of the season the balance is on the wrong side of the ledger, and not wishing to have any of its creditors put to any loss, the aforesaid smoking concert is to be held and an effort made to provide such a programme as will fill the opera house. It is hoped by this means that sufficient funds will be raised to clear off the existing deficiency.

This year the members of the team were supplied with sticks and membership tickets free of cost and this fact is responsible for a large portion of indebtedness, as the sticks were all of the McBriarty make, costing three dollars each. An additional source of expense was the hiring of official referees and umpires for the league matches.

The programme for the concert is already partially drafted and will include solos by the best local male talent, sparring and wrestling matches, clog dancing, etc.

As the club has done much to advertise the town it is thought the citizens will have its interests sufficiently at heart to back it up in this effort to square itself at end of the season.

The concert will be held on Nov. 12th. Mr. W. H. Bradburn has made a special rate to the club.

After concluding this portion of the evening's business the members present discussed the idea of keeping the team together during the winter by the formation of a hockey club. The idea was enthusiastically received, and in all probability a couple of teams will be entered in the Ontario Hockey Association series, if arrangements can be made to procure the ring for practices three evenings ou of the week. The membership of the hockey club is not to be limited to the lacrosse boys and a number of others have already signified their intention of becoming members.

Bring in your Tickets and secure one of Grafton & Co's., Presents.

LIFE IN INDIA WITH THE HINDOOS.

OBSTACLES WHICH THE MISSIONARY HAS TO SURMOUNT.

Rev. Norman Russell Speaks Interestingly on the Subject After Many Years Residence in the East—The Odd Superstitions of the Hindoo Dilated Upon.

Rev. Norman Russell, B.A., a returned missionary from India, who was formerly chaplain of Her Majesty's forces there, addressed St. Paul's congregation yesterday morning and St. Andrew's in the evening, on behalf of the Foreign Mission Fund.

His description of life in the East was most graphic and he made a strong appeal for aid to carry on the work of the church in India as the doors were now open to the missionary there.

The population of India, he stated, was three hundred million. A number impossible to conceive in the mind. If placed in a row they would reach eight times around the globe, and if arranged in a procession four abreast they would take six years to pass a given point. The majority of them were living in poverty at present—and such poverty. The poorest man in Canada would be a prince to the with but a cloth around his loins and a handful of parched grain each day to keep the life in him. Millions of them during their whole lives have never known what it is to have their hunger thoroughly satisfied. They live in such a state of ignorance that it is estimated only about one in five hundred can write his own name.

Their superstition is something intense. If a native is starting out on a journey and a cat should cross the road in front of him he would immediately return to his hut and venture forth no more that day. As in their temporal affairs in this respect so is it in religious matters.

Out of their superstition develops such a character as cannot be easily understood by a stranger.

The Hindoo is an expert liar. The better he can lie the more highly is he esteemed by his fellowmen. Many of them live by being professional witnesses in the courts. For four annas (eight cents) a witness can be procured to swear to anything you tell him.

The native trickery is proverbial. A merchant can be taught nothing in roguery and deceit and considers it a matter of congratulation if he is especially adept at it. When he has been able to cheat several customers in the course of a day and make an extra dollar or two thereby he is very jubilant and considers that the gods have been very good to him.

A COMMON SIGHT

Is to see two women start to quarrel in one of the big bazaars and the vile epithets which they bestow on one another and all their female relatives are of a nature so vile that the mind of the most deceased woman in Canada could not begin to conceive such thoughts. In each of the native temples are rooms set apart for women, and there scores of them are kept to be used in religious rites so obscene and immoral that no respectable person can do more than hint at them.

At the beginning of the recent famine, when Christians were doing so much for the Hindoos, the temple authorities were on the ground before them and from the fathers and mothers bought up the most beautiful of their young maidens to be used in the temples, until in a couple of years both their physical and moral constitutions are wrecked.

All this is the result of many centuries of idolatrous worship.

The speaker then gave an interesting account of the different gods worshipped among the Hindoos, and the characteristics of each. In their hundreds of gods they have no one deity which is a God of infinite knowledge or power, and taking them collectively few good attributes can be picked out. But on the other hand idol worship promotes adultery and thieving, and as many of the deities are worshipped solely because they are supposed to have been able to go to further extremes than others along these lines. Nor are the priests or holy men any better than their gods, as they are the leaders in all immoralities. It is asceticism that makes the priest holy. He is a man probably who sleeps on a bed of nails, who has made great pilgrimages to the shrines, or who has crossed the country, prostrating himself full length at every step. Nothing is too good for him; he does not fare as the common native, who is only too proud to drink the water in which the holy man washes his feet.

Such are the people and the gods amongst whom the missionaries labour.

When a male child is born the mother takes it and passes it rapidly back and forth through a hole in the wall, large enough for a thief to enter, and will pray by the hour that he may be a good thief. A young maiden when seeking a husband endeavours to get the most expert thief in the tribe if possible.

Caste is another thing which keeps the country from being more rapidly christianized. The low caste Hindoo dare not for fear his shadow might cross the pathway of the Brahmin or high caste native, for if the shadow of one of the low caste fell across the food of a Brahmin he would refuse to eat it.

The natives plough with the plough used twenty centuries ago. They cannot be persuaded to adopt a more modern contrivance for any of their agricultural or other pursuits, saying that what was good enough for their forefathers is good enough for them. So with Christianity. They say that the faith of their forefathers for centuries will also do for them.

There are the great difficulties which the Christian missionary has to surmount—the awful chains of their idolatory, caste, superstition and reverence for custom.

The educated natives are the worst—unless they are converted. They were the leaders in every revolution, and are the obstructionists to the doing away with the awful treatment

METED OUT TO THE WIDOWS.

It is only the Gospel of Christ that can convert the Hindoo from his present state of living. England has surrounded them with every civilizing power, but no native will take advantage of the opportunities afforded him until he is converted. Once converted, however, and he is unequalled as a worker and will cheerfully give his life to the work of carrying the Word amongst his brethren. This fact still further increases the responsibility which rests on the Christian world in regard to the Hindoos. All that is needed now is money to equip the missionaries and keep up the missions already founded. In answer to prayer the doors have been thrown wide open, and now prayer should be made for the means to take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded.

Mr. Russell closed with a very stirring appeal for aid in order that the territory set apart for the Presbyterian church in Canada might be more fully occupied by missionaries and the great responsibility lessened.

YOUNG MISSIONARIES

Leaving Peterborough to Complete Their Training at Nyack, N.Y.

The meeting at the Christian Alliance hall was of a more than usually interesting nature last night. It partook of a farewell to Miss Minnie Davidson, Mr. Lou. Turnbull, eldest son of Mr. J. C. Turnbull, and Mr. Roy Zimmerman, eldest son of Pastor Zimmerman.

These young people have been connected with the Alliance for some time and left this morning for Nyack, N.Y., to enter the Christian and Missionary Alliance training institute, to fit themselves for work as missionaries in the foreign field.

Each one of the three gave a short address last night, and apparently the most happy and light-hearted were the three that were leaving home and friends to work for their Master.

"God Save the Queen."

SATURDAY SESSION.

At 9.30 the session opened with the President, Mr. Evans, in the chair.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Hamilton, B. A., the chairman called on Mr. O'Brien to take the subject of book-keeping.

After an interesting introduction he took up the work as he would take it up in his own class, and gave the teachers some valuable hints. He took up the different steps in logical order and made the subject very clear. At the close of the paper it was discussed by those present.

Mr. Parker, of Toronto Model School, then gave an able address on "How to develop the habit of self questioning." The goal of the teacher's ambition is to discover and conform to nature's method. How carefully such men as Pestalozzi and Froebel watched and studied the actions of children. Christ's method of teaching should be the study of every teacher, for no teacher ever taught as He taught. Curiosity is the mother of attention, and attention is the mother of memory. The Bible is the greatest of all psychologies. Every teacher should study the Bible to enrich his soul. This will enrich his mind, and he is then ready to enrich another's mind. Carefully study all methods which you adopt. As no two leaves are alike, no two minds are alike. Every teacher should be a close observer of nature. Every person has a special power which no one else ever had, or ever will have. The minds of God's creatures will be ever learning something new. Every teacher should realize that he has a work which no one else can do; and should believe in his or her mission.

As no two men see the same points in the same things, so we realize that no two minds are alike. Some men pass by what others notice. We may have the same kind of power as others, but not the same shade of power.

A pupil remembers information that he gets in answer to his own questions much better than information that is simply piled upon him.

The school should strengthen the habit of questioning. We should get beyond teaching for examinations.

If we do our duty to God we will do our duty to our pupils.

Allow pupils to ask questions, and train them to be self-questioners. Allow pupils to question the teacher at the close of the lesson and to question one another.

In geography have pupils point to places mentioned.

He also took up the subjects of grammar and arithmetic and brought out some very interesting points.

Mr. Potter may be sure of a hearty reception whenever he returns to a teachers' convention in Peterborough county as he has promised to do.

The discussion after the paper was carried on by Messrs. Kneiwasser, Brown, Matchett, Knight, etc.

The roll call by the secretary closed a very profitable and interesting session.

In the afternoon a nominating committee, composed of Messrs. Brown and Simpson and Miss Fitzgerald, was appointed to nominate officers.

The President, Mr. Evans, stated that in accordance with the resolution passed at the last convention, the next convention would be at Ashburnham.

Inspector Knight then took up the subject of "Geography," with a second class, having a class present to use in illustrating his methods.

He first questioned them about the earth, sun and moon, their relative sizes, etc. He also questioned them about the motions of the earth, moon and sun, the seasons, day and night.

His object was to show what he would teach a second book class from the map of the world, rather than how he would teach them.

He dealt with continents, oceans, islands, straits, peninsulas, bays, seas, etc.

It is well to associate interesting facts with the places mentioned.

A short discussion followed the presentation of the subject by Mr. Knight.

Inspector Brown reported for the nominating committee as follows, the report being seconded by Miss L. Fitzgerald:

President—Mr. M. W. Matchett.
Vice-President—Miss S. Hamilton.
Sec.-Treas—Mr. R. S. Simpson.
Management Committee — Messrs. T. Wallace, C. Munro, J. Middleton and Misses L. Stevenson and McKee.

The report was adopted.

A vote of thanks to Messrs. Parker, Knight, O'Brien and Walker was proposed by Inspector Brown and seconded by Mr. G. Hamblin. Needless to say, the convention heartily applauded the giving of this vote of thanks to the above mentioned gentlemen for their presence and assistance.

Replies were made by these gentlemen expressing the pleasure it had given them to be present.

A vote of thanks was also presented to all others who had assisted in making the concert and convention the success which they were.

A resolution was passed that the next convention be at Ashburnham, and that the conventions hereafter be held alternately at Ashburnham and Norwood.

The roll call and the singing of God Save the Queen brought to a close a very interesting and profitable convention.

Where Specialists Failed Dr. Chase's Cured Catarrh.

James Spence, Clachan, Ont., writes:—"I had been a sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years. It became chronic and I had given up hopes of ever being cured when advised by a friend to try Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I at once started and am pleased to state that three boxes effected a complete cure, and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from Catarrh."

The services will be: Celebration of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, instead of 8.30. Appropriate services will be preached morning and evening—in the morning by the rector and in the evening by Rev. H. Symonds. Children's service at 3.30 p.m. The musical portion of the services will be of an appropriate festival character.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew's will meet to-morrow evening and on Wednesday evening the girls of St. John's will hold a meeting after the service.

On Sunday Rev. W. L. Baynes Reid took a holiday from his parish and Rev. J. C. Davidson took the service in St. Marks, in the morning, and Rev. E. V. Stevenson the services at Allandale in the evening.

A series of short services for men will begin in St. John's church next Sunday at 4.30 p. m. The regular Bible class for men and women at 3 p. m.

CHURCH CHIMES.

St. Andrew's Boys' Brigade will meet on Friday night at 7.45.

A Mission Band will be organized on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at St. Andrew's.

An interesting service will be held in St. Andrew's on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when, besides a song service Mr. Spence will give an illustrated address on "The Temple." A free-will offering will be taken up for the work of the Women's Foreign Missionary society.

The music at the Charlotte street church was of an especially pleasing character last evening. Mr. Forbes' fine voice was heard to great advantage in the solo parts of "My God and Father," which was sung with a chorus. Mr. Skitch took the solos in "Nearer My God to Thee," which was also sung with a chorus and Miss Florence Hall's pleasing soprano was heard in the solos of the anthem "Jubilate Deo."

Warren Conlan is Coming Back to Peterborough.

The Warren Conlan Company will open their return engagement at Bradburn's opera house next Friday evening, Oct. 29, in Sheridan Knowles' famous classic success, "Virginius." By special request they will re-produce Shakespere's master pieces—on Saturday evening, "Othello." Saturday matinee, "The Merchant of Venice." "There was an excellent audience in numbers and representative quality at the Opera House last night to witness the first appearance here of Warren Conlan. He appeared in the title part of Sheridan Knowles "Virginius," and from his first entrance demonstrated power as a tragedian. He looked the part well, read his lines admirably, and acted the haughty Roman patrician to the life. He was at his best in the great forum scene, in which which his acting was most impressive. Mr. Conlan fulfilled all expectations."—Lowell, Mass., Journal.

Washing Day.

The drudgery of housekeeping for the workingman's wife comes on washing day, when there is no washing machine or wringer in the house. It's killing on women who are raising a family, especially at this season of the year when blankets and other heavy articles of the home must be cleaned for winter. Washing and wringing makes more aching arms and tired bodies than anything else a woman can do. Husbands might be a little more thoughtful. In hundreds of cases they could buy a new washer and wringer every year for what it costs to pay for doctor's bills and servants for their tired-out wives, whose health has been run down over the washboard and washtub. Take a hint, you men, and make time to see the two kinds of labour-saving washing machines made by G. Walter Green at his pump factory on Dickson's race. If you can't make time, ring up telephone No. 92, or address box 362, and have him send one over to your house on trial.

Mr. Jas. Barry, 28 Hunter Street E., Hamilton, Ont., says: "For the past five years I have had Bright's disease of the kidneys in its worst form. My kidneys were in such a frightful condition that they discharged blood.

"I was unable to work, and most of the time could not sleep. I became so excited and suffered such fearful pains in my back, that I was unable to do the least thing. I was in the hospital, where I was treated by several physicians, and I also took many kinds of medicine, but without relief until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Spackman's drug store last January.

"Since taking them I have been getting better rapidly. I can now work without inconvenience. They restored my strength, removed the pains from my back, made my kidneys healthy and strong, so that they are able to perform their work easily and well, thereby carrying off all the poisonous secretions which before used to mingle with my blood, and became diffused through my entire system.

"I am only too happy to give this testimony as to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, so that others may be benefited by their use as I have been." 289

PICKLES.

Some Tried Recipes That Will Generally Interest Housekeepers.

Homemade pickles are cheaper and in certain respects better than the commercial, which are usually put up in the vinegar made from acids.

Cucumber pickles are the "stand-by," and Marion Harland's new cook book gives the following recipe for pickled gherkins—as the small cucumbers are called:

Select cucumbers three inches or less in length. Lay them in alternate layers with salt in a large stone crock; let the top layer be of the salt, then pour on enough cold water to cover them and turn a weighted plate on top of them. Stir from the bottom every other day, and leave them in the brine ten days. Then pour off the brine and pick over the cucumbers, ejecting those that have softened. Soak the firm ones two days in fresh water, changing it once or twice.

To green the pickles line your porcelain kettle with grape leaves; arrange the pickles in layers, scattering a pinch of powdered alum over each. A heaping teaspoonful of alum will be sufficient for a large kettleful. Cover the pickles with cold water, spread a triple thickness of grape leaves over them, cover, and steam over a slow fire for six hours. The water must not boil. By this time the pickles should be well greened; then throw into very cold water. While they are turning firm and crisp in this, put a cup of sugar, three dozen whole cloves, three dozen pepper kernels, eighteen allspice berries and twelve blades of mace into four quarts of vinegar and boil five minutes. Drain the pickles, put into cans or jars, pour the scalding vinegar over them and cover. Keep in the cellar. They will do to use in two months. String beans may be pickled in this way.

For a sliced cucumber pickle, which is a novelty in many families, slice two dozen good-sized cucumbers, put in an agate kettle with vinegar to cover and boil an hour. Let them stand while you prepare a pickle made as follows: One cup sugar; one teaspoonful, each, of mace, allspice and cloves; one tablespoonful, each, of horseradish, cinnamon, ginger, celery seed, black pepper and tumeric, half a teaspoonful of cayenne. Put these into a gallon of cider vinegar, add the sliced cucumbers, simmer gently for two hours, then put into jars.

Cauliflower makes an excellent pickle. Cut a firm head into small clusters and boil three or four minutes in scalding brine. Drain them, put into a jar and cover with cold vinegar, let stand two days, turn this off and then cover with a spiced vinegar prepared by this formula: One gallon vingar; one cup sugar; one tablespoonful, each, of celery seed, coriander seed, mustard seed and whole white pepper, sliced. Boil five minutes and pour over the cauliflower.

For English chow-chow is prepared by this rule: Cut one cauliflower into clusters, peel half a pint of small onions, slice six green tomatoes, and "string" half a pint of string beans; add a pint of small cucumbers, sliced, and four small red peppers. Arrange the vegetables in layers with salt in a large stone jar, using plenty of salt. Pour on cold water enough to cover and put a weighted plate over them to keep them under the brine. Let stand three days, drain off the brine, wash off the pickles with cold water and let them stand twenty-four hours in fresh water. Spice a gallon of vinegar as follows: One teaspoonful each of whole black pepper, celery seed, white mustard seed, horseradish, mace and whole cloves; two teaspoonfuls of tumeric, one and a half cups of sugar (brown); three tablespoonfuls of ground mustard. Bring to a boil, drop in the pickle, cook five minutes, skim out into jars, and cover with the scalding vinegar. Let stand forty-eight hours. Drain off the vinegar, put on to heat again and add a tablespoonful of curry powder. When the vinegar boils pour it on the pickles again and when cold put them into small jars or bottles and seal. Ready for use in two or three weeks.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Kinghorn, James Williamson, Thomas Hering. The railways were represented by Messrs. William Wainwright, Assistant General Manager of the Grand Trunk; S. Coulson, Ottawa & New York Railway; A. C. Stonegrave, Central Vermont; A. Lalonde, Boston & Maine; H. S. Phibbs, New York Central; L. A. Vallee, Provincial Inspector of Railways; T. Crockett, Manager Temiscouata Railway; T. T. Blagdon, I. C. R.; W. H. Clive, Montreal Agent I.C.R.; A. H. Harris, General Freight Agent G.T.R.; G. B. Reeve, General Traffic Manager G.T.R.; D. O. Pease, District Passenger Agent G. T. R., and Morrison of the United Counties Railway. The Drummond County Railway people felt a little sore that the Senators who had so roundly abused them and demanded an investigation had not accepted the invitation to see for themselves the character of the road. A special train conveying the guests left the Bonaventure Station at 9 o'clock over the G.T.R., and reached St. Rosalie, where the Drummond County road begins, at 10.30 o'clock. It was not intended to give a rapid run over the new road. A speed test with Mr. Johnson, the Government Engineer, took place about a month ago, when the distance from Forestdale to Hyacinthe, 68 miles, was covered in 90 minutes, including three stops, and the last 27 miles was covered in 30 minutes. This was over the old portion of the road, which has all been constructed for five years and over. Since then a section of three miles east of Drummondville has been abandoned owing to the grade, and a straight line with easier grades built. The rails were laid on it only a week ago, and it has not yet been ballasted, so that it was necessary to proceed cautiously over it. The remaining portions of the older part of the road seemed to be comparatively straight, with easy grades and well ballasted. It conforms in all respects to the ordinary Government standard, but if the Dominion Government finally concludes to carry out what is now only a nine months' experiment, and make the road the intercolonial highway to Montreal some changes will be made. The rails, for example, which are 56 pounds, will be replaced by 72 pound rails, and the bridge at Drummondville will be raised at a cost of $30,000 to conform to the Government standard grades. At Drummondville the people turned out in force, headed by a brass band, and a short stop was made. Everyone was surprised at the excellence of the new portion of the road, the stretch of 42 miles from Moosepark to Chaudiere Junction. This was all built during the past summer, laid with 72-pound rails and made to conform in other respects with the high standard of the Intercolonial. There also seems to be a good prospect of a paying local traffic. Drummondville is a thriving village, and the country round about is fine farming land. There are other stretches of first-class farming country traversed by the old section of the road. The new section from Moosepark to Chaudiere Junction, runs for a long way through an almost virgin forest, a great part of which is owned by Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere. The clearings here and there in it indicated good agricultural possibilities. Chaudiere Junction was reached at 4 p. m. As it was getting late the company decided to send the guests home over the Grand Trunk by way of Richmond, which for the present, owing to the reasons mentioned, is the faster route, and Montreal was reached at 10.30 o'clock.

It was talked on the street this morning that there was likely to be opposition in the cotton manufacturing business. It was rumored that a number of rich Montrealers are about to launch out with a new cotton factory, in direct opposition to the cotton companies now in the business.

R. A. B. Hart, real estate agent, has obtained a verdict in the Superior Court against Albert Shorey for $5000 for the alienation of his wife's affection. The trial was a short one, having begun only yesterday morning. All the parties are well known in business and social life here. Mrs. Hart is considerably older than Shorey, who has hardly more than entered man's estate. A great sensation was created by their elopement over a year ago, since which time they have been living together in the United States. Mr. Hart claimed $50,000.

William C. Morrison, a member of the editorial staff of The Star, died yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness, at the early age of 30. He was prominent in Oddfellowship circles, and for some time edited a local I. O. O. F. journal.

The confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to its unequalled record of wonderful cures.

Centre Grey Nomination.

Markdale, Oct. 22. The Liberal convention for the centre riding of Grey unanimously nominated Mr. John Boland of Artemesia to carry the standard to victory in the coming Ontario elections.

Mr. John Boland, the candidate, is a native of the centre riding of the County of Grey, having been born on the farm on which he now resides about 45 years ago. He is a practical, progressive and successful farmer, and very popular among those with whom he comes in contact. He has served in the municipal Council of the Township of Artemesia, both as councillor and reeve, for a number of years, and is at present reeve of the township. As a representative of the agricultural interests of the province, Mr. Boland's influence must have a beneficial effect in all matters pertaining to agriculture.

Lord Aberdeen a Princeton LL.D.

Princeton, N.J., Oct. 22.—The 151st birthday of Princeton University was celebrated here to-day. A throng of visitors was on hand, and more than usual interest was manifested in this year's commemoration on account of the presence of Grover Cleveland and Lord Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada. Mr. Grover Cleveland read an address. At the conclusion of the ex-President's speech, the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Lord Aberdeen, who then addressed the assemblage.

Good News From Missouri

Robert Cornwell, a Barton County (Mo.) farmer, living near Golden City, after numerous experiments, thinks he has succeeded in developing a potato that will grow without vines. They grow entirely underground, and will do away with the fear of potato bugs, which cost so much to destroy each season, not to mention the damage they do. A field planted with the vineless potato may be worked with the ordinary harrow. Should the new potato prove to be a good producer, as Mr. Cornwell hopes, it is likely to supersede the present variety.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

The mystery of womanhood is full of deep unanswerable enigmas. Why should women be compelled to suffer simply because they are women? Why is it that the source of their highest joys is at the same time the cause of their greatest wretchedness? The very attributes which make it possible for women to be happy wives and mothers also render them liable to the utmost physical misery and pain.

The sufferings of body and mind caused by some weakness of the distinctly feminine organs are so almost universal among women that the question might well be asked: "Is this Nature's punishment for the crime of being a woman?"

The true answer is No! These sufferings are neither natural nor necessary. They would not exist if the organism was healthy. No woman ought to endure such troubles. There is no need of it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a perfect and positive cure for feminine weakness and disease.

It gives health and strength to the special organs and nerve-centres, heals inflammation; stops weakening drains; promotes functional regularity, and restores the normal, vigorous and painless condition which Nature intended.

It is the only medicine of its kind invented by an educated and experienced physician. It is the only medicine which makes baby's coming safe and comparatively painless.

Any woman who would like to know more about this medicine and about her own physicial make-up should send at once 21 cent stamps to Dr. R V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of customs and mailing only on an absolutely free copy of his thousand page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," or, 50 stamps for cloth covered.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

GOD'S SUN.

Folks complain uv the heat—I don't—
I like her to kiss an' burn;
See that wheat out yonder
The a golden color turn?
Uv corse it hatches tater bugs,
That's es true es born,
Somebody sed, "Halleluger!"
That 'was thet field uv corn!

If mother hedn't taught me
Thet ther wus a good great God
Who planted the big ole hickories
An' sowed grass seed in the sod;
Who tied the seasons together
An' made the universe one—
See here:—I'd been a 'dolator—
An' I'd a worshipped the sun.

Loog at the corn a-growin',
The turmots all humpin' along;
The waves uv the wheat fields flowin'
Air singin' a grand sweet song.
I'm glad that mother taught me
At her knee when day wus done
That God is the only God—er else
I'd a shorely worshipped the sun!

I'm outen the fields at sun up,
I'm thar when the sun goes down;
The brassy blue sky above me
Never hath worn a frown.
Yet I've a vice—tain't drinkin'
Er swearin', er lookin' fer fun;
I feel sometimes like kneelin'
An' worshippin' thet grand old sun!

Fer out uv the sun comes apples
An' milk an' mutton an' wheat.
An' the clover an' grass thet carpets the yearth
Beneath our ignorant feet.
A tenth uv everything I've got
When the harvest time is done
I'd willingly give on altars high
A sacrifice toe the sun!

Folks cumplain uv the heat—I don't;
I like to hear her burn an' kiss;
The gold of God is ripenin'
On a summer day like this;
I never seen God—but frequent
I've looked on the things He's done,
An' I reckon He ain't fur off
From thet beautiful summer sun!

PAINTS FOR IRON WORK.

Results of Interesting Experiments Conducted by Prof. Spennrath.

Prof. Spennrath has been collecting some useful facts as to modern experience in the painting of iron work. He concludes that none of the metallic oxides commonly used combine chemically with linseed oil. The drying process depends exclusively upon an absorption of oxygen by the oil, which is facilitated by the presence of the pigment in a mechanical way. The value of the different pigments used varies. Thus, zinc white, when used for outside work, rapidly swells to double its previous volume, owing to the absorption of carbolic acid gas and water. Sulphurated hydrogen will cause red or white lead to act in a similar way. In order to test the relative durability of various paints, sheets of zinc were coated with a number of different kinds. The zinc was then dissolved by acid, leaving a film of paint. All these films, it was found, could be destroyed by the action of diluted nitric or hydrochloric acids, the vapors of sulphuric and acetic acids acting similarly. Alkaline fluids and gases also destroyed the paints rapidly. Pure water was found to be more injurious than salt water; the destructive action of sea water is therefore to be attributed mainly to the mechanical effects of wash. Hot water acted more rapidly than cold. The most important discovery made by Prof. Spennrath was, however, the great influence of temperature. Films similar to those already mentioned completely lost their elasticity and became brittle when exposed to a temperature of 203 degrees Fahrenheit. There was at the same time much contraction. Similar effects were produced by prolonged exposure to much lower temperatures. Blistering is found to result from the inner coat of paint being so thick that it has not hardened thoroughly before the second coat is applied.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complication of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

FLOORS ON THE FARM

EXPLICIT DIRECTIONS TO MAKE ONE OF PORTLAND CEMENT.

The Tools Required Are Few and Easily Handled The Way to Go About the Job Provisions For Drainage—The Cement to Use.

The tools needed aside from a shovel, hoe, iron rake and some others usually found on a farm, are a good plasterer's trowel, a straight edge or board of sufficient length to reach entirely across the floor or portion of floor to be laid, a bucket or box to give with the aid of the straight edge a proper slope to the floor in the right direction, and a hand float made of a large piece of hard wood three to three and one-half feet in length sawed off square and provided with a handle, made by boring an inch hole through the upper end and in it driving a round piece of wood about six inches long. A better hand float is made by using a piece of scantling or plank with a piece of hard wood pointed right or ten inches square spiked across the end and provided with a handle as above.

If the floor is to be subject to severe tracks, provision must be made to drainage after a foundation of from four to eight inches of stone and gravel should be laid before the concrete is applied, and under any circumstances two or three inches of sand and gravel raked smooth is an advantage and adds greatly to the durability of the floor. The thickness to lay, how it has to concrete and dust, or smooth upper coat, should be determined so that the amount of material needed may be ascertained. The best stable floor requires from two and one-half to three inches of concrete and a top coat of from one-half to three-fourths of an inch in thickness. This makes a strong, durable floor and one in which the concrete and cement layers are not liable to break up with ordinary use. Of the above thickness one barrel of Portland cement will lay seven or eight square yards and will require about seven times as much sand and gravel as cement.

Use if possible the best Portland cement and if that is not to be had tested American. For the concrete use gravel in which the mixture with the pebbles is clear, sharp sand. Let the sand for the top coat be the clearest and sharpest that can be procured, as the presence of earthy materials tends to lessen the durability of the floor. In mixing the concrete, add to seven parts of fine gravel from which all the stones more than two or two and a half inches in diameter have been removed, one part of Portland cement and thoroughly mix by shoveling and raking together. This mixing cannot be too carefully done as the uniform texture of the concrete depends upon its thoroughness. Add enough water to moisten, not wet the mass, while the latter part of the mixing is going on, bearing in mind that the concrete is of the right consistency when if pressed in the hands it will pack into a mass without any excess of moisture showing. When the concrete reaches this state it is ready to be laid. For the top coat add to three parts of clear, sharp, sifted sand, one part of Portland cement, mix and add water sufficient to make a good mortar or plaster such as would be used in plastering a cistern. This should be thin enough to spread evenly and smoothly but not so thin that it will run. No more of either coat should be mixed than can be used within an hour or so and it is better to have it used inside of the hour after it is mixed.

If the whole floor is to be laid at once, have permanent guides set at the right height to give the proper thickness of floor or that of the concrete plus the top coat so that the straight edge may rest on them and thus show where the floor has been laid to the proper thickness. If the area to be laid is large, it is better to have a movable guide which may be set at any place and limit portion of floor to fill with concrete to the necessary depth, raking level and beating firm and close with the mash. Be sure that it is all evenly firmed and closely forced together and comes within three-fourths or half an inch of the straight edge. Now mix the top coat and put in place, regulating the depth by drawing the straight edge along the guides and pushing the extra cement before it. Allow the cement to become slightly dryer on the top than when just laid, then trowel smooth.

If desirable to have the floor in blocks instead of in one solid slab, it can be readily done by cutting a line through the concrete where wanted with an old ax and filling it with dry sand and when the top coat is troweled smooth cutting it through to the sand with the corner of the trowel.

The above directions are for Portland cement. If American is used the amount of sand and gravel will probably need to be not more than one-half or one-third as much as that given.

Incrustation on Aluminum.

Although pure aluminum is well known to retain its lustre and not to corrode, even in moist air, much of the metal now obtainable becomes soon covered with spots of a white incrustation, even when in a moderately dry atmosphere; a matter easy to understand when looked at by the light of M. Moissan's statement that commercial aluminum often contains from 0.1 to 0.4 per cent. of sodium. This sodium, instead of being equally distributed, is often so local that the highly contaminated parts form an electric couple with the purer aluminum, and aluminate of sodium is probably first formed, this being subsequently decomposed by moisture with the liberation of alumina, while the alkali acts as a virtual carrier of oxygen to fresh portions. The evil of the presence of sodium being once recognized there should be no difficulty in eliminating it. Carbonaceous particles appear also to form "couples" in aluminum.

To Bore Glass

Strong glass plates are bored through by means of rotating brass tubes of the necessary diameter, which are filled with water during boring. To the water there is added finely-pulverized emery. The boring cylinder is put into motion by means of a drill or bow drill. Weaker glass can be provided with holes in an easier manner by pressing a disk of wet clay upon the glass and making a hole through the clay of the width desired, so that the glass is laid bare here. Then molten lead is poured into the hole and lead and glass drop down at once. This method is based upon the quick, local heating of the glass, whereby it obtains a circular crack, the outline of which corresponds to the outline of the hole made in the clay. The cutting of glass tubes, cylinders, etc., in the factories is based upon the same principle, says a Pittsburg paper called China, Glass and Lamps.

CURLIANA.

The Campbellford curlers have elected the following officers:

President—Chas. Smith.
Vice-President—T. S. Tait.
Secretary-Treasurer—D. H. Douglas.
Committee of Management—R. Dinwoodie, J. R. McCrea and E. W. Gaudrie.
Chaplain—Rev. R. Laird.
Patron—Dr. Macoun.
Patroness—Mrs. Macoun.
Hon. members—D. Guthrie, Montreal; Robt. Weddell, Trenton; G. G. Eakins, Toronto; Rev. D. J. Casey, Peterborough; H. McMechan, Marmora; and John Graham, Millage.

To the Sporting Editor:

SIR,—I have so many inquiries about this matter, that I will thank you to give me space to place my views before my fellow curlers.

The movement is based upon the following claims, viz.: No. 1—That heavy stones, approaching the 50-pound limit, for the leader and the second player in a rink are greatly to the advantage of the party using them.

No. 2—That unusually strong men can use those heavy stones, that weak men cn't use them, and that their use destroys the equality that specially characterizes the game of curling.

No. 3—That the Royal Curling Club of Scotland has reduced the weight limit from 50 to 45 pounds, and that we in Ontario may well follow example.

No. 4—That the number of clubs in Ontario which already possesses such stones is smaller than the number of those who have not yet got them, and that it would be less of a hardship to compel those who have got them to discard them than to permit others to procure them, if they see fit.

Claim No. 1 is admitted. Claim No. 2 is denied, and we all know of men weighing from 120 to 150 pounds, and not specially muscular, who regularly play 50 pound stones. Last season I saw a man over 70 years of age playing a pair of 50 pounders, apparently with ease, and no one thought it unusual in any way. Claim No. 3 is slightly in error. The limit set by the R. C.C.C. last year is 44 not 45 pounds, and I would say that it will be time enough to follow the example set in Scotland when we, like the curlers of Scotland, are constrained for lack of better accommodation to play our matches on "rough out-of-doors ice," and that in many cases more or less covered by water. In this claim there is no argument affecting Canada. In regard to claim 4, I think the mover is also in error. I am of the opinion that nearly all the prominent clubs in Ontario have two or more pairs of heavy stones, and I think it will be admitted that I have a fair opportunity of knowing. The estimate between degrees of hardships very funny. When I was a lad at school I read of an old rascal with a name something like Procrustes, who fitted his captives taken in war to an iron bed. When they were too long he cut off, and when they were too short he drew them out until they fitted, and in this way made equality. The change in stones now asked for proposes to cut down the big fellows and leave the little ones as they are. This is not quite fair to the smaller men.

In regard to the general question, I would say that the special demand for heavy stones arose about ten years ago. The club first moving in the matter was and is one of the most prominent in Central Ontario, west of Toronto, both in regard to numbers and skill, and the movement has extended throughout the Dominion, finding more favour with the rising generation of curlers than with that which is descending the slope towards sunset.

I have always understood that the equality among curlers referred only to their manhood, stripped of all extraneous additions, such as rank, wealth or gold ring and gay clothing, and that their fitness as curlers was the only recognized title to distinction; that each man could select, within a limit of 00 years ago, such weight of stones as would enable him to be at his best in the game, whether he might find that weight 30, 40 or 50 pounds, and the proposal now made is that a curler whose fitting weight of stones is 50 pounds must not be allowed to use such, but must play with stones of less weight by five pounds than he can do his best with, while others are to be allowed to use such weight as they can use with best advantage.

If one looks a little closer into the matter he will find that it is not really the heavy stone, but its immobility after it comes to "at rest" that is the bete noir to be removed. Now most of us know that by a special modification of the "sole" a 38-pound stone can be given as much vis inertia as a 50-pound stone of the ordinary style, and thus the reduction of weigh would be futile as specially prepared stones for "leading" would be introduced. Another consideration must not be overlooked. The curlers of Ontario may in competition for the Governor-General's annual prizes meet curlers from the Maratime Provinces, from Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, and as all of them use stones up to the 50-pound limit would we not seriously endanger our chance of winning in such a contest by making the change proposed? Each party would in honour be bound to play according to its own by-laws, and Ontario would be handicapped by her own act.

We in Canada have the finest winter climate in the world. We have better facilities for the grand old game of curling than are to be found elsewhere. We do more curling, many times over, than all the world besides. The same rules of the game obtain in the Maritime Provinces in Ontario, in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, and why should we in Ontario lightly seek to separate ourselves from our fellow-curlers in the Dominion by tinkering with fundamental regulations which are working no injustice to anyone—why?

Yours truly,
J. S. RUSSELL.

As to Hose.

It seems very queer, to think of wearing white silk stockings for other than evening wear. That is what we are coming to; and whoever else objects, the laundress certainly will not. Clocks, too, are again in favor, and very pretty some of the are, pretty enough to please anybody. The designs are much more elaborate than those we used to wear, and they are to be had in white and colors on black and also in combinations of colors. Ribbed effects in black, alternated with colors and in some cases combined with embroidery, are also to be had.

In fact all the new hosiery is lovely. Scotch plaids in lisle and silk mixtures being especially attractive. Then there are some with wide silk stripes. Plain boot patterns with artistically combined colors for the uppers are also very desirable. Another of the new patterns shows medallions filled with flowers embroidered all over the stocking.

Self-Deception in Dress.

Dress remains one of the topics most interesting to women. Sometimes a woman will deny this most vehemently, and point out that she dresses most plainly and according to some system following physical-culture rules. Yet, though she may forswear tight fits and belts of all kinds, and use the shoulders to support her skirts instead of the waist, she will still give fully as much time and attention to making herself comfortable as her unreformed sister gives to making herself lovely in dainty, fluffy gowns. Each in her way loves to discuss the lines of the waist, whether it be short or long, the shape of the skirts, and the color and texture of the goods. So, notwithstanding the protests of reformers, dress continues to be an interesting topic with all sorts and conditions of women.

Baby Beauty.

Y. always think of a pretty baby as plump and chubby. Scott's Emulsion gives just this plumpness; not too fat, just enough for dimples to come. Babies like it, too.

RECIPROCAL TARIFF.

Regulations as Just Amended and Consolidated

BY CANADA'S MINISTER OF CUSTOMS.

How the Entry of Goods Under the New Conditions Must Be Gone About—What the Reciprocal Tariff Does Not Apply to The Mc Pic System.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—(Special). Hon. Wm. Paterson, Minister of Customs, has consolidated and amended the regulations respecting the entry of goods under the Canadian reciprocal tariff of 1897. Persons making entry of goods under the Canadian reciprocal tariff of 1897 are required to furnish a separate invoice of the articles entitled to such entry, with a declaration annexed thereto, signed by the exporter or his agent in the presence of a subscribing witness. If invoices are made out at lower prices for goods exported directly to Canada than the fair market value at the same time and place for such goods when sold for home consumption in the country whence so exported, in all such cases the invoices are also to show clearly, in a special column, or by addition thereto, such fair market value as aforesaid for the goods described therein. The exporter's declaration as to the origin of the goods in all cases, except as hereinafter mentioned, to be produced and united with the invoice, and its production is to be noted by customs officers in Canada on the entry form, otherwise the general rates of duty will be collected, without reduction, until the exporter's declaration as aforesaid is furnished. Customs entries under the reciprocal tariff should be taken separately on the usual form. The declaration of the importer, or his agent, as to the origin of the goods will be accepted in lieu of the exporter's declaration in the case of articles which have been entered for warehouse (inbond) in Canada prior to issue of these instructions, and as to goods valued at less than $10 for the whole importation, when hereafter offered for entry, subject, however, in all such cases, to the approval of the collector, after examination of the goods by a customs officer. Articles from all the countries entitled to the benefits of the reciprocal tariff may be entered on the same invoices, and the origin of all products entered on such invoice may be attested to in one declaration, on the form prescribed, the names of the countries (if more than one), being written in succession in the blank space reserved for origin of products. Importers claiming entry of goods under the reciprocal tariff are required to file with customs collectors in Canada a certificate of the United States customs entry for immediate transportation, or a bill of lading, showing through transit to destination, when such goods are carried in transit through the United States and imported into Canada. Note particularly that the reciprocal tariff does not apply to the following articles, viz.: Ales, beers, wines and liquors, sugar, molasses, syrups of all kinds the product of the sugar cane or beet root, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. Only articles which are the growth, product or manufacture of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the other countries entitled to the benefits of the reciprocal clause, when imported direct from any of the said countries and entered for duty or taken out of warehouse for consumption in Canada, shall be subject to the reduction of duty provided for in the reciprocal tariff. Until the 31st day of July, 1898, the products of all countries mentioned, when imported from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland or any of the countries mentioned, and entered for duty or taken out of warehouse for consumption in Canada since the 23rd day of May, 1897, shall be subject to the reduction of duty provided for in the reciprocal tariff. The excess of duty paid on products imported as aforesaid from the countries to which the reciprocal tariff applies will be refunded if the claim therefor, with satisfactory proof of the origin and value of such products was made in the usual form through the collector of customs at the port where such duty was paid. Nothing in the foregoing instructions shall be held as affecting the right to enter articles under the "French Treaty Act, 1894," but any articles entered at a reduced rate under the said treaty act shall not be entitled to a further reduction of duty under the provisions of the reciprocal tariff.

The Metric System.

The Minister of Inland Revenue, Sir Henri Joly, is a great advocate of the metric system, which, according to the statutes now in force, it is allowable to use in place of that now generally followed. Sir Henri, however, believes that the metric system will eventually be universally adopted, and in order that the youth of the country may be made familiar with it he is getting from France a number of the charts containing the metre and various plans which are used for practical instruction in that country. These will be forwarded to the heads of the Normals Schools, to whom the Minister has also addressed a letter pointing out the merits of the system on account of its simplicity, and its application, single standard, to all measures of length, capacity, weight and surface.

HON. C. FITZPATRICK

Dined on Saturday Night by Barristers, Students and Chasers of the Pigskin.

Toronto, Oct. 25. The dinner given on Saturday [illegible] Hon. C. Fitzpatrick, Q. C., M. P., Solicitor-General of Canada, was one of the most successful of the [illegible] in the Rossin House. Benchers of the Law Society, Q.C.'s, barristers and pleasure chasers of Queen's and Osgoode were on hand. Crown Attorney Curry ably presided, and made some witty observations. Mr. William Lount, Q.C., M.P., proposed "Our Guest" in a witty loyal speech, and the Solicitor-General's reception showed that he is the pride of the students of Queen's and Osgoode Hall. It was some minutes before Mr. Fitzpatrick could proceed. He said he was delighted to be present at the day's game and was glad to see the law students back in the game. He had pointed the pigskin before himself, and Rugby was a grand old game. Whether Osgoode or Queen's men, they were all Canadians. He wished that in Ottawa men would adopt the principles of the players of both teams, Queen's and Osgoode, that is, "never to strike below the belt." He would always take a delight in being with the law students, and would visit the boys in the west whenever opportunity presented itself. It would not be the last time he would be with them. He congratulated both teams on the clean game they had put up.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

ACCIDENT FROM THE WATER'S ACTION

Sleeping Car Porter Paterson's Story—He Smashed the Windows to Let the Passengers Out—The Latest List of Killed and Injured Continuing the Search.

Garrison, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The grey dawn twenty-four hours after the frightful happening of yesterday broke upon a scene of greater litter and property destruction than yesterday's sun and last night's torchlight displayed. The weary gangs of wreckers were relieved early this morning by fresh ones, and the work of getting the chains from the derricks upon the submerged cars was vigorously prosecuted. As the wreckage was pulled from the bottom of the river and placed on the shore it added to the picturesque though distressing sight. When the wreckers got sufficient tackle on the sleeping car Glen Alpine, to drag her up, there was much excitement, and speculation, as it was believed that there must surely be some bodies in this car, the most deeply submerged of the lot. When the car had been placed on the scow and the water had been run out of it a careful searching party went through, and, to the relief of the railroad officials and everybody near not a body was discovered.

Just to the rear of the Glen Alpine was the car Hermes, which, in the plunge, left its trucks on the track and landed flat on the bottom, in the river, but only in about three feet of water.

The porter of this car, William Patterson, a cool-headed and collected man, tells the most graphic story of the wreck and one which will probably be found to be the most lucid explanation of how so many sleeping people were miraculously saved from a fearful death. He related the story to Colonel Ashley W. Cole, the President of the State Railroad Commission, who is making an investigation. He said:

"Just before the accident I was awakened from a doze by the slowing up of the train, and I got up, thinking we were nearing Peekskill. I looked out of the window, and just as I did so there came a crash and a leap of the car towards the river. I was thrown to the floor, but, getting up in a minute, I seized a hammer and rushed outside, broke all the windows on the shore side, and in a few minutes got twelve passengers out. I am positive that everyone escaped, because there was only a foot or so of water in the car at the time. When all my passengers were out we began to look for others.

"The car Hermes was just ahead of mine and had plunged into deeper water, so that the end was completely submerged, while the other was up against the end of ours. I saw the people hurrying out of the high end, and I am quite positive that before the car settled into deep water we got everybody out. Some of the people were scantily dressed, because their clothes could not be found in the dark. They hurried away to the other cars and I think went to New York.

"After we had reached all the sleeping car passengers, we saw some people from the combination car swimming in the river and we helped them out. I am afraid that some people got out of the other cars all right, but were drowned because of the cold water cramping them."

Col. Cole said this morning that the bank may have given away and that it was equally as possible that a driving rod on the engine had broken, and, knocking it off the track, had occasioned the disaster. The wreckers began work very early, in order to recover the bodies known to be in the river. If there are any more bodies in the wreck or river, they are believed to be in the day coach, which lies in water up to its roof off the King's dock. The diver who took six bodies out of this car last evening said he could find no more, but there is a great difference of opinion among the railroad men as to whether this is so. A good many believe that more bodies will be found in this car when it is raised, as passengers who escaped from it yesterday believe that at least twenty persons perished in the day coach.

When daylight came a force of men were put to work removing the equipments from the sleeping cars and at the same time all of the available trackmen were laboring on the roadbed, in order to get both tracks in operation.

Roadmaster Otis, who is one of the most expert track builders in this country, was reticent about giving his opinion as to the technical causes of the sinking of the roadbed, but he told a representative of the Associated Press that it was due primarily to some almost unaccountable action of the water on the embankment. The sand and gravel had been washed out, leaving a crust under the track, which collapsed as soon as the weight of the train was on it. Mr. Otis could not understand why the retaining wall of solid masonry gave way as it did.

Perhaps the most marvelous of all things connected with this accident is that so many escaped and that only nineteen, so far as is known, perished. Those known to have died, penned in where they slept or drowned while they struggled to reach the shore, are:

Thomas Reilly, St. Louis, Mo.; E. A. Green, Chicago; W. H. G. Myers, Passaic, N.J.; Guisepppe Paduano, New York; W. S. Becker, Newark, N.Y.; Samuel Williams, Buffalo, N.Y.; A. G. McKay, private secretary to General Superintendent Vanetten; John Foyle, engineer, East Albany; John O. Tompkins, fireman, East Albany; two unidentified women; Wong Gim, Hop Sing and six other Chinamen not yet identified.

T. Parsons, who was thought to be dead, escaped with only a few bruises.

The bodies of McKay, Engineer Foyle and Fireman Tompkins have not yet been recovered. The coroner's jury will meet on Tuesday night to conduct an investigation. In the meantime the railroad commissioners and officials of the New York Central Railroad are also investigating into the cause of the disaster.

At nightfall, but for a few burning embers and the twisted rails, it would be difficult to detect any signs of the wreck.

Division Superintendent McCoy decided that none of the cars would ever be fit for use again, and that, with the exception of the cushions, there was nothing worth saving. The torch was applied to the day coach and combination smoking car and baggage car. The sleeping coach Hermes was lifted to a transport, towed down the river and deposited on the bank, where it was destroyed by fire. The last couch of the ill-fated train, the Niobe, was gotten out of the water and also burned. The express car is around the little knoll of the mountain, 300 yards below. No attempt will be made to raise it till to-morrow.

The list of dead made up to-night stands at 19, and there is little doubt but that this is the total list. One of the women, reported unidentified last night, is now known to be Mrs. Robert Lindsman of Utica. The bodies of one woman and four Chinamen have yet to be identified. The injured are reported as doing well and all will recover.

MISS MAUD GONNE,

Ireland's Joan of Arc, Predicts That 1,000,000 Irishmen Will Visit Erin Next Year.

New York, Oct. 25.—Miss Maude Gonne, the young woman who has devoted her fortune and talents to the cause of Ireland, arrived Saturday from Liverpool on the Cunard Liner Campania. She is the proprietress and editress of L'Irlandie Libre, an Irish patriotic paper, published in Paris, and she has already done so much in the interest of her native land that she is referred to by her sympathizers as "The Irish Joan of Arc."

The main object of Miss Gonne's visit to this country is to create an interest in the centennial celebration of "the Days of '98," to be held next year in Ireland, on the anniversary of the Battle of Castlebar.

Miss Gonne, tall and lithe, and with a typical Irish face and voice, is about 20 years of age, and is the daughter of a colonel in the British army. She was born in Dublin, and after becoming impressed with what she considered the injustice and cruelty of many cases of eviction in her native country she began her work for the Irish cause. She labored among evicted tenants for years, but after the Parnellite rupture she removed to France and began to publish a paper in the interests of Home Rule.

MISS MAUD GONNE.

Miss Gonne will remain here one week, and will probably lecture in Brooklyn, as well as in this city. She will make a tour of the United States as far as the Pacific coast, lecturing in the principal cities. She will return to New York about the second week in December, and will sail for France after the holidays.

Miss Gonne thinks that fully 1,000,000 Irishmen in this country will attend the 1898 celebration. She believes in the doctrines set forth by Henry George in his book entitled: "Progress and Poverty." She has a comfortable income, and will pay her own expenses on her present tour.

Julia Klee's Death.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Provincial Constable Richard Griffin of Fort Erie arrived in the city last night, bringing with him for analysis the stomach of an unmarried woman, named Julia Klee, who died at Stone bridge, a village near Port Colborne, on the 12th of June last, under alleged suspicious circumstances. The body was exhumed yesterday and an inquest opened by Coroner Cummings of Welland, but pending the report of the analysists the proceedings were purely informal. The action taken is to clear up the suspicious talked of by the neighbors.

YUKON EXPEDITION.

Messrs. Sifton and Walsh Return to Skagway.

WOOD RAIL HORSE TRAIN PROJECTED

Notes of the Minister's Trip Preparations to Forward Another Party Defects of the White Pass Arrangements to Get the Supplies Through —Weather Unfavorable

Skagway, Oct. 20, via Victoria, B.C., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Messrs. Sifton and Walsh returned on the 19th from the interior, which they penetrated 140 miles, having been away ten days. They had splendid weather. They went in by Chilkoot Pass to Lake Linderman, arranged there with a boss packer named Scott to bring the supplies from Sheep Camp over the summit, went on over Lake Bennett to Tagish, arranging en route for the passing on of supplies, and sent on a post to White Horse Rapids. Mr. Norwood was sent back to Lake Linderman to take charge of affairs there and relieve Mr. Hurdman, who had to return to Sheep Camp sick, but the news has just arrived that Mr. Hurdman is now better. Hon. Mr. Sifton found that no buildings had yet been roofed in Tagish, where Inspector Strickland has fifteen Mounted Police. After overhauling matters at Tagish the Minister and Major Walsh returned by way of Lake Bennett and the White Pass to Skaguay. They were tired, but in first-class condition and good spirits, having made the trip without a single accident. Mr. Ogilvie, who accompanied them, was of great assistance. They found it impossible to ride over the White Pass except for about three miles. Mr. Sifton says he knows no man of whom he thinks so little that he would send him over the White Pass. He also says it is not a pass at all, but a bad trail over four or five mountains. As a matter of fact the trail does not go through the pass owing to boulders, and Mr. Sifton's party found this out. Neither Mr. Sifton, Major Walsh nor Mr. Ogilvie has any use for the White Pass after their experience in it. A company is now starting to build a wooden rail horse train over the White Pass. A good many people are leaving Skaguay for Dyea, where locations are being speculated in. Messrs. Sifton and Walsh found the Dyea trail very good. All the expedition's supplies were put over in record time.

The Seattle left fifteen of her passengers at Wrangel to go in over the Stickeen route, and landed a party of engineers and surveyors at Pyramid Harbor. They are under a man named Blake, who proposes to build a railway over the Chilkoot Pass. One passenger brought 57 head of cattle to send in over the Dalton trail, but on reaching Chilkoot Inlet received a report that it was useless to attempt it, and he brought the cattle here and will send them over the summit and float the dead meat down to Dawson as soon as practicable. At Tagish Mr. Sifton collared $20,000 in gold, it being customs duties paid, and brought it back here, where it was badly needed.

It is almost impossible to get any large sum of cash here or at Juneau.

Mr. McIlree, Commissioner of the Mounted Police, returns home on the Quadra at his own request. Inspector Wood will be placed in charge here.

The weather is mild and fine.

IN MASSEY HALL

The Voices of 700 Children Were Raised for Temperance Yesterday's W.C.T.U. Doings.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—At the morning session of the World's convention W.C.T.U. the anticipated letter from Lady Henry Somerset was read, and although it breathed a loving spirit to the working comrades in Toronto, created on exciting time. Following the reading of this letter was read one from Mrs. Josephine Butler, which was unsparing in condemning Lady Henry for her stand on the Indian question. The remainder of the morning session was spent in honor of the "promoted comrades," under which head the life work of Mrs. Letitia Youmans was reviewed by Mrs. (Judge) Foster of Quebec.

The afternoon session was largely devoted to reports, which were cut short by the ten minute bell. Among the noted addresses delivered were those of Madame Barnikat of Syria, and Mrs. Alden, editor of the Woman's Department of The New York Tribune. Its title was, "Good Humor Among Women in Temperance Work," and it was an address long to be remembered and much to be profited by. In the evening there was not an available seat vacant in Massey Hall, and hundreds were turned away. The scene was one of rare beauty inside, as it was children's night, and 700 of them on the platform sang with perfect blending under the training of Mr. A. Cringan. The decorations were in keeping with the work and the program was composed of singing temperance songs, including one composed by Miss Willard, "The Saloons Must Go." During the evening Miss Luke of Ireland gave an address, and patriotic greetings from all lands concluded the evening's entertainment.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Mother's Heroic Attempt to Rescue Her Girls From Burning.

Tweed, Ont., Oct. 25.—At the village of Bridgewater, five miles north of here, Beatrice and Ethel Eager, aged 6 and 9 years respectively, while sound asleep at an early hour on Saturday morning were burned to death.

The children were visiting an aunt in Bridgewater, who put them to bed about 9 o'clock, and then locked the house, and retired to spend the night at the bedside of a sick neighbor.

At 2 o'clock the house was discovered on fire and Mrs. Eager was one of the first to arrive on the scene. She burst open the door to rescue the children, but the flames rushed past her, and in an instant the upstairs was a seething furnace. Her two boys slept in the first room, but before Mrs. Eager had reached the room one of them had leaped from the window. Seizing the other she threw him through the open window, and then made a mad rush to rescue the girls, who were sound asleep.

Stunned, burned and blinded, she fell to the floor, and groped her way to the window and threw herself to the ground, where willing hands came to her rescue and tore the burning clothes from her body.

All efforts to save the children were useless, and in another instant the roof fell in, burying the bodies of the unfortunate children in the burning embers.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am

A DISCREDITED PROPHET.

The Brantford Expositor very patly reprints the following paragraph from one of Sir Charles Tupper's speeches on the eve of the Dominion elections:

"In conclusion, I ask you to rejoice with me in viewing the high credit which Canada enjoys in the great money markets of the world. Our securities stand at the highest premium, as a result of prudent methods of administration and the confidence in our national stability. It is of the first importance that this faith in our standing and prospects should not be disturbed by exposing the country to the revolutionary policy of the Liberal party. Our credit is the measure of the financial burdens we bear, and and the foreign markets are the most sensitive to change. It seems to me, therefore, you will realise the part of discretion and keep the control of public affairs in the hands of the party which has done so much for the development of our great resources, and whose adherence to the sound principles followed by the late Sir John Macdonald is capable of bringing about still better results."

This, in connection with the great success of Mr. Fielding's loan in England, is decidedly amusing. How Sir Charles' prophetic soul must have been rasped when he heard that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Finance Minister had secured subscriptions to twice the amount required for a Canadian loan at 2.73 per cent., when the very lowest rate at which a loan could be floated by Sir Charles Tupper's Government was 316. Sir Charles is as much of a failure as a prophet as a statesman. Canada's credit with the mother country never stood so high, Canada's relations were never so close as they are under what Sir Charles Tupper was pleased to call the "revolutionary policy of the Liberal party. Compared to his own the present government's policy is indeed revolutionary—practical statemanship has given place to grand ideas that were never carried out, for "good intentions that pave the Hadean bathos into which Sir Charles and his colleagues have sunk.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S favourite cook is dead. He has cooked for his royal mistress for fifty years. The fact that Her Majesty has survived half a century under his culinary management is a grand tribute to the excellence of his cooking, or to the integrity of the Queen's digestive organs.

A Philadelphia paper has made an interesting discovery—that there exisits an Independence League in Canada whose object is to "free this country from British tuttlage." The enterprising American journal has found a last year's mare's nest. The present is a very unwholesome period for "Independence leagues." Canada is contented, prosperous and quite satisfied with its British connection. We have just taken an extra turn of the hawser around the capstan of the good ship Britannia. All such fads as "annexation," independence, etc., are buried fathoms deep, and the sepulchre is shut and sealed. Our good Yankee cousins have enough to attend to at home without meddling with the affairs of Canadians, who feel quite competent to look after themselves.

THE Montreal Star is following in the wake of the Mail and Empire in the endeavour to create political capital over the Ontario limit situation. It republishes a couple of fake telegrams, sent to the Mail and Empire, to the effect that the Michigan lumbermen are beginning to accept the Dingley tariff on lumber, on the ground that Ontario will take no action. Ontario is taking action. The question is being considered, but it is not one that can be decided in a moment. Action to be of permanent and proper effect must be well considered and be taken with decent reference to all the interests involved. The Ontario Government has as much interest in the lumber resources of Ontario as the Mail and Empire, and will take such action as will insure to this province the largest amount of benefit from lumber operations. If the Mail and Empire could invent a solution of the difficulty of dealing with our lumber question as easily as it invents yarns about it, it might be regarded with some degree of respect.

THIS has been a notable year in Canada, says the Montreal Herald. These events may be red-lettered in the calendar:

Tariff revised.
Treaties denounced.
Preferential trade established.
Enlarged exports.
High cheese price.
Cold storage system a success.
Fast steamship line.
Intercolonial extension to Montreal.
Good wheat crop in the Northwest.
Crow's Nest Pass railway being built.
Reduction of C. P. R. freight rates.
Canals being rapidly completed.
Increased railway earnings.
Dollar wheat.
Klondike gold strike.
Yukon district organized.
Expedition to examine Hudson's Bay.
Territories' new constitution.
Post office department re-organized.
Militia department re-organized.

DAIRYING THE SOURCE OF WEALTH.

Promising Future of the Stock Export Trade—Both Live Stock and Chilled Meats Enter Into the Question.

The present popularity of wheat, following upon the high prices ruling this season should not blind the agriculturist to the fact that in the dairying and stock raising departments the country has its greatest source of wealth. Cheese, butter, bacon and live stock form a vastly greater portion of the exports of Canada than cereals and all other products of the farm and orchard combined. In the quarter ending September the value of animals and their products exported totals $15,441,857, an increase of over four millions as compared with the like period in 1896. All other agricultural products exported were valued at $9 213,525. The export of animals on the hoof, after declining steadily for some time, is again increasing at a very rapid pace. The removal of the quarantine regulations between the Dominion and the United States has resulted in a huge export of stockers for fattening in the States at prices decidedly remunerative to our farmers. It is not too much to say that Ontario, at all events, has profited to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars by this trade during the season, and has got rid of a class of cattle that would otherwise have been unprofitable to the breeders. The movement of ranch cattle from the west to the seaboard for export to Great Britain has been very large, all previous records having been broken. In Toronto an enterprising citizen, Mr. Harris, has erected an abattoir at the western market with the intention of beginning a chilled meat industry. The exports to the motherland may be upon a small scale at first, but there are those who predict that within a few years Toronto will be one of the greatest centres of the dead meat and pork-packing industry on the continent. Already there is a record of over five thousand hogs received and disposed of at the western yards within 24 hours, while the cattle entered for the first nine months of 1897 numbered more than the total receipts for 1896.

These facts give some indication of the importance of the live stock trade. How is it that in the talk of improvement of transportation we hear so little of the needs of the live stock shipper? Experienced live stock exporters say that at no other cattle-exporting harbour on the Atlantic seaboard is the accommodation so poor as at Montreal. The stock yard is at one point, the abbatoir at another, the docks at still another. The difficulties attendant upon this condition of affairs are very great, and it is estimated that from $1.50 to $2 per head could be added to the value of all cattle shipped from Montreal were provision made for a great union stock yard fronting on the river and so arranged that animals could be shipped to the steamer from the yard or from the cars on which they arrive from the west. An abattoir attached to this yard for the slaughter of injured cattle and general purposes would also be a very great benefit to the trade. In arranging for the improvement of the port of Montreal, the Government and the Harbour Commissioners would do well to remember that animals and their products must form a large proportion of the shipments. For cheese and butter and eggs and meat and poultry the refrigerator system is sufficient; for cattle and sheep on the hoof there is need for a great shipping market with every convenience found at the best Atlantic ports. Every dollar of reduction in the cost of handling live animals for export at Montreal is a dollar saved for the stock-raiser of Ontario and the west.

An Old Friend Still on the Fashion Roll.

A Prominent Member of the Diamond Dye Family.

Some colours come to the front, and after a season are voted as out of fashion and are soon forgotten. We are glad to note that Navy Blue will still be popular with the ladies in dress fabrics this year. In the largest centres of fashion dry goods men are now showing Navy colours in great profusion.

Seeing that dame fashion directs the wearing of Navy Blue, there is no necessity for spending dollars for new dress materials when you can produce the best shades of Navy with the popular Diamond Dyes. Two or three packets of Diamond Fast Navy Blue will re-colour any wool dress and make it equal to new. Take your drab, gray, light blue or cream dress, and procure Diamond Dye Navy Blue from your dealer, and an outside cost of thirty cents you can transform it to a creation worth from five to ten dollars. This wonderful work of economy can only be done by the tested and well-tried Diamond Dyes, warranted to give full and satisfactory results.

HOME RULE FOR CUBA

This Is Now the Attitude of the Spanish Government,

THE SELF-GOVERNING PROPOSALS.

The Position Is Now Declared to be by Madrid Newspapers Sober and Dignified A Movement for Naval Strengthening—United States and Spain.

London, Oct. 25.—The Madrid correspondent of The Daily Mail says: The Spanish press unanimously supports the attitude of the Government, which it calls eminently sober and dignified; but the impression is that the controversy with the United States has reached a critical stage which may be the prelude to a rupture. I spoke with three members of the Cabinet Sunday, who, in almost identical words, contended that Spain has the right, after her tremendous sacrifices in Cuba, to demand the observance of international neutrality by other nations. One of them added: "The Gordian knot is the United States, without whose help the rebellion would long ago have been suppressed. We do not want war, but every European nation will approve our defence of our international rights."

The Spanish naval forces in the Caribbean Sea will be strengthened on the pretext of a necessity for increased vigilance on the Cuban coast. General Weyler has cabled a denial of the report that Mr. Hughes, the correspondent of Black and White, was robbed. He says Hughes died of syncope and appeals to the testimony of the British Consul at Havana for proof of his statement.

Making Trouble for Blanco.

Madrid, Oct 25.—It is reported here that the Spanish Government has cabled to General Weyler, the retiring Captain-General of Cuba, instructing him to await the arrival of his successor, Marshal Blanco, before embarking on his return to Spain.

A despatch just received here from Havana has caused considerable stir in political circles. It declares that the opponents of autonomy are seeking to create difficulties for Marshal Blanco, who succeeds General Weyler as Captain-General of Cuba, adding that the situation in that island is the same as it was six months ago. The despatch further says that the military operations of the Spaniards are suspended; that the troops are solely employed in guarding the railroads, and that it is estimated that 40,000 soldiers are on the sick list. Finally, the despatch asserts that the financial situation in Cuba is frightful; that commerce is paralyzed and that the Autonomist Committee is not in accord with the members of the autonomist party.

Cuba Will Have Home Rule.

London, Oct. 25.—The Madrid correspondent of The Standard says: "A member of the Cabinet assured me that the Government intends to give Cuba complete local government, with universal suffrage to elect municipal and provincial councils and an insular parliament. The latter will be composed of upper and lower chambers, having entire control of taxation and tariff. The responsible Government will be composed of five Ministers, whose councils will be presided over by the Governor-General.

Senators and Deputies for Cuba will continue to sit in the Spanish Cortes, and the Imperial Government will still control the army, navy, police tribunals and foreign affairs of the colony, exactly as the program of the authorities demanded. The Government has received promises of support of both the autonomists in Cuba and of those residing in France and the United States, and expects no opposition from the other colonial parties. The same Minister says that the Government does not believe the Spanish note will cause friction with the United States, because it is couched in a friendly tone and virtually shows that Spain is doing what the United States has repeatedly advised.

General Castillo Has Been Killed.

Havana, Oct. 25.—Private despatches received here confirm the report that General Castillo, the well-known insurgent leader, has been killed in an engagement with the Spanish troops. It is further stated that his body was carried to La Chorera, four miles distant from this city, where it was interred.

Butchered by the Dervishes

Cairo, Oct. 25.—A column of troops commanded by General Hunter, it is announced in a despatch from Berber, on the Nile, has started to drive Osman Digna, the great dervish general, from the Atbara River. But, the despatch adds, it is feared Osman Digna will not wait for the Anglo-Egyptian troops to attack him.

Details just obtained of the revenge of the dervishes upon the Jaalin tribe, caused by their refusal to join the forces of the Khalifa against the British, show it to have been terrible in the extreme. The left bank of the river between Berber and Metmmeh was practically depopulated. The dervishes butchered every male member of the offending tribe and took the pretty women to their harems, after sending 150 selected virgins to the Khalifa. The dervishes, in addition, threw many women and children into the river.

Another Polar Expedition.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The Christiania correspondent of The Lokal Anzeiger says that Captain Sverdrup is making preparations to go on a North Polar expedition. The Norwegian Government will allow him to use the Fram, the vessel used by the Nansen expedition, and will give him 20,000 kroner to enable him to refit her. Sverdrup will take 16 men and 400 dogs with him. The expedition will be provisioned for four years.

Dr. Albert Ham St. James' New Organist

London, Oct. 25.—(Telegram Cable.)—The selection of organist for St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, to succeed the late Dr. Stocks Hammond has fallen upon Dr. Albert Ham of Taunton.

Dr. Ham came first into prominence when suborganist of St. John's Church, Bathwick. He was afterwards appointed to the Church of All-Saints' at Bath, and from there to Bluinster Parish Church at Bath. His next was his most recent appointment, St. John's Church, Taunton, at the organ of which he presided over for five years. He sails for Canada on the 4th of next month.

Tarante River Overflowed.

Rome, Oct. 25.—The River Tarante, in Central Italy, which enters the Adriatic east of Ascoli, has overflowed, flooding the plain of Ascoli. At Chiaruvalle a bridge has been swept away; several persons have been drowned at Forli, and near Meldola a house collapsed, burying nine persons in the ruins. Floods are reported in various other localities.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR

Denounced by Mr. Gladstone as the Worst Sovereign on Eastern Affairs.

London, Oct. 25.—Mr. Gladstone, in the course of a letter to a Viennese author, which has just been published here, laments the megalomania which has led Italy to strain her resources to go beyond the European province marked out for her during her national infancy, and which may perhaps endanger her dearly bought institutions.

Referring to the condition of affairs in the east, Mr. Gladstone says: "My views on the conduct of the European Governments on the Eastern question are very strong. They seem to me to be covered with indelible disgrace. The German Emperor is the first and worst among them."

Tolstoi's Condition Critical.

Odessa, Oct. 25.—The condition of Count Tolstoi, the noted Russian writer, is critical. It was announced a few days ago that it would be necessary for him to undergo an operation, but it would be risky to perform it now, owing to his weakness. His disease is gravely complicated, owing to his obstinacy in refusing to see a physician earlier.

Monument to Maupassant.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The monument erected to the memory of Guy de Maupassant, the noted French novelist, who died some time ago in an insane asylum, was unveiled in the Parc Moreau Sunday before a distinguished assemblage. M. Zola made the principal speech.

CONTRACTOR REID

Of Newfoundland R. R. Has Reached Montreal—Important Avenue of Commerce About Finished.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Mr. Robert S. Reid, who is about completing the Newfoundland Railway, has arrived in the city, having come to North Sydney from Placentia by the steamer Bruce, which makes the trip between those two points in about 20 hours. The Bruce will not be put on between the west coast of Newfoundland and Sydney before next spring, as some bridges yet remain to be completed. Mr. Reid has till next fall to complete his contract with the Newfoundland Government, but by May or June it is likely that trains will be regularly running across the island. As soon as this is done a second steamer will connect at the west coast with the Atlantic and Lake Superior and Pampobine, on the Baie des Chaleurs. It is likewise understood that Mr. Reid has received an additional contract to build branch lines to the extent of 50 miles.

The first rail of the Baie des Chaleurs extension of the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway has been laid at New Carlisle, and the grading of the road between that point and the present terminus, 80 miles below Metapedia, is well advanced. Hon. Thomas Duffy, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. George W. Stephens have been over the road and they have declared that the country traversed by this much-maligned railway has been such a revelation to them that the desired aid to the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway will be forthcoming. It is also stated that the present Quebec Government will confirm the spirit, if not the letter, of the agreement reached between the railway in question and the Atlantic and Lake Superior. To-morrow work will also be begun upon the section between Chaudiere and Sorel, and it is expected that 20 miles will be completed this fall.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

Prevention at The Right Time.

When the First Symptoms of Trouble Are Experienced,

It is Wise to Use Paine's Celery Compound.

If people gave more attention to the prevention of disease there would be less suffering in our midst.

When the first signs of depressed nerve force are apparent, such as sleeplessness, headache, languor, gloomy feelings and despondency, Paine's Celery Compound should be used to feed and build up the nervous system and purify the blood. Weeks and months of sickness and suffering can be avoided if nature's medicine is taken at the right time. No disappointments; no long and weary waiting for a change of health. The promised blessings come truly and surely.

Try Paine's Celery Compound, dear reader, if your health is not what it should be.

Read the testimony of Mrs. J. B. Orr, of Lennoxville, P.Q.

"I have at various times remarked to my husband that it would be no more than justice to you, as proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound, for me to send you a brief letter, giving a few facts regarding my experience with the great and popular remedy of the day. I have been a very great sufferer from dyspepsia for ten years. At times for the space of several weeks, I would suffer most intensely, notwithstanding great care in dieting and the best medical help I could obtain. These especially severe attacks were always attended with very violent headaches, and followed with nervousness and sleeplessness. Different physicians had exhausted their skill in trying to effect a cure. Finally upon the advice of a friend I decided to venture an experiment with Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle did me much good, and by the time I had used three bottles I was perfectly restored. On one or two occasions since I have thought it wise to use a single bottle of the Compound, which always removes any trace of the old trouble that may be cropping up. It affords me much pleasure to be able to tell my friends of the good health I now enjoy. I am free from nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, headache and all the sufferings that arise from these distressing troubles. You are at liberty to use this letter in your good work."

A Strong Claimant.

The Lindsay Post says: Lt.-Col. Montizambert, R. C. A., Kingston, was in town on Saturday afternoon, and inspected the arms and accoutrements of the local companies of the 45th Battalion, everything being found satisfactory. Col. Montizambert was met by several members of the town council and escorted to the town hall, which he declared would answer admirably for the proposed military school, but said that the latter was not a certainty, as Peterborough was a strong claimant.

Rugby Up-to-Date.

The football post of the Montreal Herald has grouned out the following:

They hammered, they butted,
With energy rare,
They grasped and they struggled
At everyone's hair.
They ripped up the scrimmage,
And fought with their might,
They jumped on the half-backs
And didn't heed flight.
They scooped, they tackled,
Maimed many a limb,
They easily out-distanced
Fitzsimmons and Jim.
They wheeped, and they hollered,
But, sad to tell, all
Their efforts were fruitless
To punish the ball.

PLAN AT SAILSBURY'S.

TOBACCO SEIZED.

It Was Removed From the Original Package in Violation of the Excise Regulations.

Inspector Floody, of the Inland Revenue Department, was in town to day, and when walking up George street this morning spied in Talbot Bros' window a package of tobacco removed from the caddy.

As the excise regulations require that no tobacco be removed from the caddy, a seizure of tobacco was necessitated.

The Canadian excise charges are 35 cents a pound on tobacco, whilst those of the United States are only six cents. A clear profit of 29 cents is thus gained on smuggled goods, and the only way to prevent the sale of the latter is to insist on all tobaccos remaining in the original package until sold, and to impose a heavy penalty for replacing other tobaccos in the caddy than those which originally came in it.

Of course Talbot Bros. are not suspected of smuggling the tobacco seized, but their action in removing the goods from the caddy renders them liable to a fine, no matter how innocently it was done. The case, however, will doubtless be amicably arranged, but the seizure will prove a warning to local dealers.

MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

Its Reconstruction was Considered Last Night—The House of Refuge Question.

Warden Anderson and Mr. John Burnham, of the County Council, and Mr. John Belcher, County Engineer, were in attendance at the meeting of the Town Council in committee of the whole last night.

The matter of the reconstruction of the Mud Lake bridge was up for discussion.

It appeared to be the consensus of opinion that the County should prepare the plans and specifications for the work and submit an estimate of the cost. It was also thought that an idea should be given of what Ennismore would do in the matter.

It was realized by the members how anxious the business men were to have the communication with Ennismore and the northern townships whose residents use this bridge, continued uninterrupted and the advisability of submitting a bylaw to the people was favourably considered.

The question of the erection of a House of Refuge was also taken up, but the information already acquired is not considered sufficient and the clerk was instructed to endeavour to secure more from those counties which are experimenting in the matter.

PETERBOROUGH SCHOOL OF COOKERY.

Cooking as it Should be Done—A Brief Disquisition on the Necessity of Good Cooking.

A free lecture and demonstration lesson will be given in the Y.M.C.A. rooms on Friday evening, 29 h inst., at 8 o'clock, by Miss L. Burnham, graduate and gold medalist of I. S. C. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public, men and women, to be present.

"We sing the glory of the kitchen, that holds cookery a trade from Adam."

The most enlightened nations of the world have always been its best cooks. The famous restaurants of London, Paris and Vienna, have had a reputation that seemed to form part of history itself. In later years in the United States so much attention has been given to the culinary art that the modern American table comes very near perfection. What is more fascinating, what adds more to a family's general well-being than a well-cooked, well-served breakfast or dinner?

It ought to be considered just as discreditable for a woman to be a bad cook as it is for a man not to be able to make a decent living. And then, many men do not marry to-day. Is it possible that one reason is that they are so well served out-of doors at their clubs and hotels and restaurants? Indifferent cooking is certainly responsible for much more than discomfort and suffering. Half the necessities of life involve only care and knowledge to secure them, without a dollar of expense. Good cooking makes money.

OBITUARY.

Sudden Death of Mr. Geo. Helm, of Port Hope.

(Port Hope Guide.)

Mr. Geo. Helm, one of the most respected citizens of Port Hope, was suddenly called away to join the great company that have passed on before. He had not been in rugged health for some time past. Yesterday he took his dinner at noon as usual, but before one o'clock was dead. The cause of death, his physician says, was heart failure. Mr. Helm was one of a family of nine, now living, four brothers and five sisters. Mr. John Helm, town, is a brother. This is the first death in the family for seventy-five years; a brother died in 1822. Mr. Helm died in Colborne in 1820, and has resided in Port Hope for the last fifty years. He leaves a family of four sons and four daughters with the bereaved widow to mourn the loss of a devoted father and husband. Most of the children are in the United States, and nearly all in prosperous circumstances. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at two o'clock to the Union Cemetery.

The deceased was a brother of Mr. Wm. Helm, Peterborough, and an uncle of Mrs. Thos. Bradburn.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Miss Rhe Nethercut and Mr. Harry Donnelly This Afternoon.

A quiet but exceedingly pretty wedding took place this afternoon at two o'clock at the residence of Mrs. H. C. Hall, Waterford street, when her niece, Miss Rhe Nethercut, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Donnelly, foreman of the pressroom department of the EXAMINER.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church. The bride, who looked most attractive in a white organdie gown, trimmed with ribbon and lace, was assisted by Miss Edith Simmons, of Toronto, who was attired in cream organdie, with garniture of lace and ribbons.

The groomsman was Mr. Will Bletcher.

At the conclusion of the wedding dejeuner, which was served immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly left on the C.P.R. express for the west, being accompanied to the station by a number of their friends. On their return they will take up residence at No. 313 Bethune street.

Amongst the many handsome gifts received was a dinner set of a hundred and twenty five pieces from the members of the EXAMINER staff, accompanied by the following address:

Mr. Harry Donnelly.

DEAR SIR,—Your friends in connection with the several departments of the EXAMINER Office, wish to present in this manner their congratulations on the happy occasion of your marriage, and though it is done in this formal manner, their congratulations and good wishes are none the less from the heart.

During your five years connection with the EXAMINER Office you have not only proved yourself a painstaking and capable head of your department, but an obliging and courteous associate.

It gives us great pleasure to wish you every success in the matrimonial estate you are about to enter upon.

As an expression of our good will we ask your acceptance of this little gift, coupled with the hope that life will always hold such a measure of prosperity as to provide ample materials for its use.

We wish you and your wife the largest degree of wedded happiness.

Signed on behalf of the staff,

J. R. STRATTON,
F. J. JAMESON,
F. R. YOKOME
W. MENZIES,
WM. COWIE,
A. MARTIN,
BERT D. JONES.

The address was read to Mr. Donnelly in the presence of the EXAMINER staff on Monday evening, when the presentation was made. Mr. Donnelly suitably expressed his thanks, and also those of the bride, for the manner in which the staff had remembered him.

TRIO OF ACCIDENTS.

Three Ashburnham Citizens Receive Ugly Wounds while at Work.

A quantity of old boiler iron, etc., at the gas works has been sold for scrap, and is being taken to pieces.

Whilst a gang of men were engaged in knocking out the rivets yesterday, a cold chisel suddenly flew from the hands, catching Wm. Gibbs just over the eye, inflicting a painful wound which bled profusely. If the chisel had struck a little lower down it might have destroyed an eye, or half an inch further back would have inflicted a wound which might have proven fatal.

Shortly afterwards the flying head of a rivet almost laid Micky Collins out, inflicting a bad cut.

Fred Whatley had his hand seriously cut through it being caught in a band saw at Mr. Sam Bickle's cheese box factory yesterday. He will have to lay off work for some time.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

An All Day Session—Seven Cases Taken up by Magistrate Edmison.

A resident of North Monaghan was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Edmison to-day, for ill-treating a boy who was working for him. He was also ordered to pay the lad $15 back wages which were due.

James Devlin, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly in Ashburnham on the night of Oct. 18th, was also fined $5 and costs.

Messrs. Geo. Stevens, Mark Spencely, Jos. Spencely, Geo Crouter and Peter Mape are all in the County Court to-day charged with using insulting and abusive language towards Mr. Jas. Bogue on Oct. 18th. The case is an intricate one, and the whole afternoon was occupied in taking evidence. It was still before court at four o'clock.

The Most Prominent Are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

THE ROSE, SHAMROCK AND THISTLE.

The Y. M. C. A. Organizes for a Membership Contest.

To-day is the beginning of a membership contest among the members of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Last evening the parlour presented an animated appearance, when a meeting was held to organize the campaign which will close on the evening of Dec. 3rd.

There was a large attendance of young men, and all exhibited a deep interest in the Association and in the plan submitted to boom the membership.

After a few preliminary explanations by the General Secretary, organization was begun. Mr. James Connal will lead those who champion the "Thistle," Mr. Evy Hall the "Shamrock," and Mr. A. H. Froude the "Rose."

The contest, it will be seen, will be along national lines and the leaders and followers will wear emblems representing England, Ireland and Scotland.

Every dollar reported at the office counts a point and the side securing the most before Dec. 3rd comes in as a winner.

The losing side securing the second largest number of points provides a programme at the finale, whilst the lowest provides the supper. Both the supper and entertainment to be in keeping with the character of the winning side, consequently all sides are confident. The Shamrocks are counting big on stews, while the Thistles are sure of a good haggis, and the Rose section anticipate plum pudding and roast beef.

Flags displayed on the Association building will indicate what side leads for the day, and this will be determined by the report up to 10 p.m. on the preceding evening.

The following are the sides:

Rose—A H Froude, H Goodwin, A Brooksbank, E Parsons, T H Martin, H Conway, W Pedlar, R Dixon, B Anderson and H D Kennedy.

Shamrock—Evy Hall, B Belleghem, R Irwin, H Goldey, F H Pope, C H Bradburn, W Wilson, Harry Halpin and C Graham.

Thistle—J Connal, A McCallum, S Hall, H McBain, W Beaton, Geo Hartman, C Chalmers, J Watt, G S Bell, R Wilson.

BOUNDARY FALLS MINING COMPANY.

Good Reports for Peterborough Investors—A Promising Fissure Vein Opened—Ore Said to Assay $172.00 to the Ton.

The following from the News Advertiser of Vancouver, B.C., of Oct. 16th, will be of interest to several Peterborough persons who are concerned in the Boundary Falls mining property:—

In the mining column in yesterday's News-Advertiser, brief mention was made of the work being done on the Boundary Falls claim near Greenwood City, which is owned by residents in this city and Peterborough, Ont. News has just been received here that a true fissure vein has been uncovered, the ore being remarkably rich.

The ore is free milling to the extent of over 50 per cent., and the mine promises to prove one of the richest in the district.

On the surface only low assays were obtained, but, being convinced that they had a rich property, the owners started sinking a shaft, and at a depth of fifteen feet, they encountered ore assaying $100 per ton. Then the lead was lost, but at 65 feet a true fissure vein was discovered through perfectly formed walls. The vein is eight feet wide, and free gold is plainly visible. An assay of ore taken from all across the vein gave a return of $172 to the ton, the sample going 8 oz. 8 dwt. gold and 8 oz. 12 dwt. silver.

Samples of the ore are expected here shortly, and in consequence of the good showing, a machinery plant will shortly be installed. The mine is under the management of Mr. James Punch, ex-M.P.P., who has had many years experience in mining. So far no stock in the concern has been issued to the public, the owners having decided to thoroughly prospect their property first and ascertain if it was valuable, of which there is not now the slightest doubt.

BLIND RIVER LIMITS.

The Outfit is the Most Complete Mr. T. Cavanagh Ever Saw.

Mr. T. Cavanagh has just returned from the Blind River timber limits, where he took seventy-five men from Ottawa to the Eddy Jerdon Lumber Co.

Mr. Cavanagh was much pleased with the way that the Blind River Limits are worked. The company has steamers on two of the lakes and four span of horses to facilitate the portaging between the two lakes. There are four shanties, and the outfit is the most complete that Mr. Cavanagh, one of the oldest lumbermen in the Province, ever saw.

Horsemen. Take a Pointer.

The approaching cold, wet weather, should not find you unprepared to protect your horses. Kingscote makes all kinds of waterproof horse covers, lap covers, hoods, etc. They are strictly waterproof, and when Kingscote says "waterproof" he means it. Leave your orders early if to be made specially. A good stock kept on hand. Hunters requiring tents, waterproof covers, etc., can be fitted out by Kingscote to their entire satisfaction at 344 Water street.

HINTS TO HUNTERS.

How to Cut Deer Heads, etc., for Setting Up.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—You will oblige many of your readers by inserting the following lines. Hunters ask for instructions as how to cut off a buck's head and take care of it.

First, a long neck with the head looks best. Therefore, cut the full length of neck, from the brisket in front to top of shoulder at the back. Now you can cut up the back of the neck to the top of the head. Be sure not to cut up the front, as it makes a seam usually; it can be sewn up but is better the other way. Rub in lots of salt. If you put the flesh sides of the skin together they will sweat very soon and the hair will come off, so be sure and use lots of salt. If you cannot get in for a month and there is no frost you had better take the skin off entirely. To do this cut from the back of neck across to each horn, skin down to the ears, cut through at the base, skin down to the eyes. Be careful around them. Go on down to the lips. Leave them on—the bare part I mean. Skin around the nose, and off it is. Rub on lots of salt and you are all right.

What about birds? Well, if you can send them in soon. Fill the mouth with salt, push some down the throat and hang up by the beak. If you hang it up by the feet, the blood and moisture will run down into the head and the feathers will come off around the beak and face. If you can not send or come in you can take off the bird skin as follows:—Cut from the breast bone down to the vent, skin each side till you come to the legs, take hold of the foot and push up the leg, cut it off at the bend, also the tail, skin on to the wing, break them close to body and cut through, skin on down the neck and persevere till you pass the skin over the head, dig out the eyes, rub on salt, return the skull into skin and put a little dry grass into neck and body.

Yours, etc.,
E. ELCOME,
Taxidermist

Crandella, which was placed in dry dock at Bobcaygeon, soon after the close of the excursion season to have the hull resheated. The work is now well under way, but Capt. It was at first hoped that the work would be completed before the close of navigation, but this is now considered unlikely. The Crandella will next season be a better boat than ever.

Warren Conlan's Return.

Manager Bradburn, influenced by many of the leading citizens of Peterborough, has succeeded in securing the Warren Conlan Company for a return engagement at his house for two nights and one matinee, Oct. 29th and 30th. On Friday evening they will present Sheridan Knowles' classic success, "Virginius;" Saturday night, "Othello," and Saturday matinee, by special request, "The Merchant of Venice" will be repeated. There is no company travelling to-day more worthy of special mention than Warren Conlan and his excellent support. Mr. Conlan as a tragedian has few if any rivals, for he certainly ranks with the best, possessing a good physique and a powerful voice, two essential qualities for a successful presentation of strong tragedy. Classic plays at modern prices should test the capacity of the opera house at every performance, especially when they are presented in the able manner of which the company is capable. Don't forget the matinee for children. Matinee prices, adults. 25c, children, 15c; evening prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50c. Seats are now on sale.

THE LEGISLATURE MEETS NOVEMBER 30.

It is given out that the Ontario Legislature will meet for the despatch of public business on Tuesday, November 30th. The summoning of the Legislature at this early date is justified, among other grounds, by the necessity that exists for promptly dealing with the timber question which events have advanced into considerable prominence. The government doubtless feels that the subject should receive early attention, and the opening of the Legislature affords them an opportunity of taking the House into their confidence and also an opportunity of a thorough discussion and a deliberate consideration of a subject which presents considerable difficulties in the way of arriving at a policy that will be in the best interests of the Province. The Government is prepared to do its duty, and it is probable that the House will give its best assistance and advice. The Opposition have also a duty to perform. On the floor of the House they will have to forego the diffusive and vague denunciations that have characterized the platform utterances of Mr. Whitney and his co-orators; and if they are patriotically anxious for the promotion of the best interests of the Province, they will co-operate with the Government and House in dealing, not only with the matter in question, but with all other matters, in a worthy spirit. The fact that our timber interests are, to a certain extent, menaced from without, and by foreign action, should lead both sides of the House to present a solid front and unite upon a policy that will demonstrate to the world that it is the determination of the Government of Ontario, and of the Legislature of Ontario, while keeping with as to contracts entered into, to see that the interests of this Province have the best consideration, first, last and always—that this Province shall get the fullest possible degree of benefit in every respect from the administration of her great forest resources. Of course the session will be a busy and a lively one. In addition to the consideration of public questions the Opposition will be anxious to build a platform on which to stand during the election campaign that will, doubtless, in due course follow the session, a platform to replace the airy wordbuilt structure that has been evolved during the Opposition missionary campaign of summer and autumn. Mr. Whitney and his co-workers have in that campaign fairly coruscated with glittering generalities. A session means that they will have to "get down to hard pan" and place something definite in their political code—as the lawyers say—"file a bill of particulars." But whatever line of action the Opposition decides upon the government are prepared to meet them. An honest and capable administration of public affairs, courts rather than avoids criticism.

SIGMA'S WEEKLY LETTER.

Two or three teachers have told me this week that I was mistaken in my ideas of the human voice. They say that there is a special exercise in the schools for the purpose of strengthening the children's voices and to teach them to speak up loudly. Therein lies the mistake. We are getting too near our Yankee friends who are now branded as inhabitants of the country of disagreeable voices. Our youth should be taught to love, reverence and guard our spoken language. The home, school, college, platform and pulpit should not be permitted to fill the land with nerve-trying voices and language bereft of its beauty and power.

Poets and prose writers through all the ages have sounded the praises of the speaking voice, delighting in its power, beauty and sweetness. The artistic, susceptible nature of the ancient Greeks taught them to cultivate and cherish the spoken language and to estimate its power beyond that of written language. The speaking voice was framed and guarded from earliest infancy.

Physiology teaches us the sensitiveness of the nervous system, and physicians say that our systems are becoming supersensitive. Consider, then, the unnecessary amount of wear and tear upon that system when each sound-wave set in motion by the voice causes an unpleasant sensation on the part of the hearer. Tone, properly emitted, is healthful and strengthening to the physical nature of the tone-producer.

Unused faculties in time lose their power of action. Our minds are losing the power to acquire knowledge through the ear. Eliminate all pleasure and delight from hearing speech and the mind as a receptive organ is dulled and turns to the more pleasurable means of acquiring knowledge, through the eye. Oral reading the means of conveying to another thought and sensation, written or printed, may almost be termed a lost art, so completely has the pleasure to the hearer disappeared.

When the pupils in our schools are taught the value of good speech and how to acquire the same, the scope and power of the human voice, and to read aloud understandingly, then we may look for a change in the home circle. Fathers and mothers will know how to train and guide the voice and speech at home; the student will know when he is being correctly guided; the lecturer will not stand before his audience and be forced to apologize for lack of power to make his voice heard; and the minister will be relieved of the burden of inattention during the reading of the Bible and other religious exercises.

THE TRIGGER.

The Toronto Star says: "For some years United States hunters have been in the habit of going north and killing without a license. This year two old offenders set out in the same old way. It is against the law for a United Statser to kill any kind of a bird or any kind of game without a license and the fines are severe. For three weeks these men were pursued, and not until three weeks ago did Warden Huntingdon come up with them. They were fined $67.50 and their arms were confiscated.

His Mean Way Out of It.

"Oh," said the two months' bride to the girl friend who had called, "Charlie did the meanest thing last night, I wouldn't have believed it of him."

"Do tell me what it was," asked the girl friend.

"Well, you know we were having some parlor amusements, or thinking about having some, when it happened. It was just after dinner. Charlie had been reading some supposedly funny paragraphs in the evening paper. They were so poor they actually made me faint. Finally I told him that I could do better than that myself."

"What, at making jokes?" interrupted the girl friend.

"Why, yes, of course."

"Well, what happened?"

"Why, of course, he was sure I couldn't."

"Just like a man."

"But he was mistaken."

"Do tell me all about it."

"Well, he wagered me a three-pound box of candy and all the soda water I could drink that I couldn't make a joke."

"And you did it right away."

"Yes, it didn't take me five minutes."

"What was the joke?"

"Well, you know we had that lovely blue china set that he bought last week on the table and—"

"It is lovely."

"And I just took my inspiration from that."

"You know the teapot has a shepherd in blue upon it."

"Yes."

"Well, my joke was the supposed conversation between two fashionable girls on the milk pitcher of the chocolate brown set that mamma gave us. It ran: 'Why, don't you associate with that gentleman over there?' and the reply was, 'He's not in our set.' Well, I had the teapot in my hand when I made the joke, and just as I told it I let the teapot fall. Now comes the mean part. Charlie used such a mean subterfuge. He repeated the joke, then looked at the pieces of the teapot on the floor and then, as I demanded the fulfilment of my wager said, "That's no joke, that's a fact."

The Thermometer Stories.

To people who are fortunately unfamiliar with sickness the thermometers used in taking the temperature of patients are always a source of considerable interest. A professional nurse whose experience has led her to numerous localities, and brought her in contact with many phases of life, tells two little stories which illustrate the foregoing statement.

In one of the local hospitals she had a male patient who was threatened with a run of fever. As she approached his bedside one morning he querulously complained of a lack of nourishment.

"I didn't get enough to eat," he said. "I feel most starved."

"Well, well," she said soothingly, "we will see about that. Here," she added, "let me put this in your mouth."

She inserted the thermometer between the teeth and turned away a moment. When she looked back he was working the bulb around between his jaws at a great rate

"Hold on," she cried, "you will break the thermometer."

He drew in his cheeks and apparently gave a mighty pull on the little instrument, and then she removed it.

"Say," he grumbled, "there's no use giving me that. I couldn't suck a blame thing out of it."

Another patient, a woman, begged of the nurse for a drink.

"Wait," said the nurse, and thrust the thermometer in her mouth.

The patient lay back on her pillow and placidly closed her eyes. A satisfied expression slowly stole over her face. When the time was up the nurse withdrew the tube.

"Why," said the patient with a sigh of gratification, "what a lot of good a little thing like that will do you!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BE WISE.

Try a Proved Medicine on the first DANGER SIGNAL.

On the first hint of heart or nerve trouble try a proved medicine, one that has cured others, and will cure you. Don't wait for the second danger signal, but take the right remedy in time.

Mrs. E. James, 36 Arcade St., Montreal, Que., says, "For several years I have been troubled with my heart and nerves. My heart would palpitate terribly, and when it did so, I could not go up-stairs without resting. I would have severe attacks of despondency, and got so bad at last, that for two weeks I could not go up-stairs to my room. My blood became weak and impoverished, due to an attack of la grippe. I would have a dull heavy pain in my heart, together with terrible headaches, and took remedy after remedy, but without avail

"Then I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and started taking them. From the very first I gained rapidly, and am now better than I have been for years. My heart and nerves are all right, and my whole system thoroughly toned and invigorated, the distressing symptoms from which I suffered having completely left me. I cannot too highly recommend these wonderful pills as they have made a perfect cure in my case." 220

THEY NEVER QUARREL.

A Family Dialogue That Reiterates This Lovely Sentiment.

She—Tom, dear, the people across the hall had an awful quarrel to-day.

He—You don't say so.

She—Yes, indeed. I heard it all.

He—You couldn't help it, I suppose.

She—No, the door happened to be open.

He—Well, I declare! I thought they were such a loving couple.

She—Oh, it was simply awful!

He—Now, isn't that disgraceful.

She—And to have all the neighbors hear it!

He—I wouldn't have believed it.

She—I don't see how they'll ever be able to hold up their heads again.

He—The idea that in the enlightened age a man and his wife couldn't get along peaceably together.

She—I should say so, too. Why, do you know, it's over a year since we had a quarrel.

He—Why, my dear, we never had one. What do you mean?

She—Well, even a misunderstanding, then. I mean the time I bought a seal-skin sacque with the money you left to pay the gas bill.

He—Why, darling, that was no quarrel. How did you ever get such an idea into your head? We could not quarrel if we tried, and I'm sure we shall never try.

She—Of course we shall not.

He—But I'm certain that thing you referred to was not a year ago.

She—Of course it was. Now, just think a moment.

He—But I don't have to think. I have the date and all the circumstances clearly in my mind.

She—But I'm just sure that I'm right.

He—Then you persist in saying that I'm mistaken?

She—Why, of course you are. Everyone is apt to forget things once in a while.

He—Well, you needn't flatter yourself so much. You must think my memory is going like my money. I've got a little sense left. I never saw a woman who wasn't wrong on dates. They're built that way. They can't help it.

She (beginning to cry)—I think you're real mean, and as cross as an ogre.

He—Well, bawling about it isn't going to help matters.

She—You're a beast!

He—Take care what you say. You may go too far!

She—I don't care. I hate—I hate you!

He—It's the same with me. I only married you to please my grandmother.

She—Oh, I shall die! You're a cruel beast! Will somebody take me away!

He—Well, you'll have the Fire Department here to do it if you don't stop screaming.

She—Did I scream?

He—I should say so.

She—I wonder if anyone heard me?

He—I don't know.

She—But you were cruel.

He—Perhaps it was my fault.

She—You dear, good boy, and now I'm going to forgive you. Where do you want to be kissed?

He—Right under my mustache—Mm—mm—m!

She—There now.

He—Darling!

She—And we haven't quarreled for over a year, have we?

He—No, indeed, dearest, sweetest!

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

CAUSES OF SUCCESS.

A CHIEF ONE A REAL FONDNESS FOR HIS RURAL CALLING.

Another, in Mr. John I. Hobson's Case, Was That He Never Imagined That He Knew It All—With a Desire to Excel, the Combination Was Unbeatable.

Mr. John I. Hobson, late of Mosboro,' now of Guelph, the president of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' association, is one of the most successful and best-known farmers in Canada. He has won his eminence by his energy, his industry and his ability. He has been a farmer all his life, having been born on the farm at Mosboro', which he has only recently retired from. He is one of a family of two. His brother, Mr. Joseph Hobson, is the well-known Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, and the builder of that magnificent triumph of engineering science, the railway tunnel under the St. Clair River, at Sarnia.

Mr. Hobson's father was one of our earliest pioneers. He came to this country when he was but a young man, and settled on the farm at Mosboro', lately occupied by Mr. Hobson, when it was but a wilderness. He was a man of strong character and sterling worth, qualities which were descended to his sons.

MR. JOHN I. HOBSON, GUELPH.

Mr. Hobson's formal education was only that of the common school, and this was acquired in a little log schoolhouse, which is still standing, situated near his old home. But ever since he left school he has been a diligent reader and student. He attributes no small share of his success to the fact that he has never thought his education completed; that he has always been anxious to acquire more information, to find out newer and better methods, and to extend his knowledge in every direction that would lead to practical results.

Another element contributing to his success Mr. Hobson considers to be the fact that he has always had a real fondness for his calling and that he has always had an intense desire to excel in it. This led him from the first to be quick in adopting methods that promised success, when others would be slow in doing so. For example, he was one of our most successful Shorthorn breeders, having gone into the business as soon as he saw that stock raising was destined to play an important part in Canadian agricultural industry.

Mr. Hobson has now to some extent retired from farming, because of the death of his only son, not long ago. However, he still keeps in his own hands a farm of 150 acres; but he has disposed of the old homestead. He is now enjoying, in a quiet way, the fruits of his years of industry and enterprise. He has just returned from a two-months' trip to the Northwest and British Columbia; and before this notice will be read by our readers he will be away on a tour of some months in Britain. Mrs. Hobson is his companion on these journeys.

Mr. Hobson has always taken a warm interest in public affairs, especially in municipal matters. He has occupied almost every municipal office that it was possible for his fellow-citizens to bestow upon him, and he retired from municipal life only in 1893, after having occupied the Warden's chair for the County of Wellington for that year.

Mr. Hobson has taken a special interest in agricultural insurance. He was one of the earliest promoters of farmers' local insurance companies in this country, and has been President of the Guelph Township Mutual Insurance Company for over twenty years. He is also vice-president of the Wellington Mutual Insurance Company. As an instance of the esteem in which he is held in insurance circles, it may be stated that last year he was elected president of the Provincial Mutual Underwriters' Association, which position he now holds.

Mr. Hobson's interest in the organized efforts made by our agricultural industry is well known. For many years he has been chairman of the Advisory Board of the Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental Farm. He has been president of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association for some time, and has been its vice-president. He is now the president of the Provincial Winter Show Association, and vice-president of the Dominion Shorthorn Association.

Mr. Hobson has just contributed a series of interesting letters to The Guelph Mercury, giving his impressions of the prospects of agriculture in the provinces and territories of our great Northwest. He thinks that farmers in the Northwest, and in Manitoba especially, are destined very shortly to be exceedingly prosperous. He predicts that stock raising and fattening will be a leading feature in the development of the country, and he believes that, even to-day, in no part of the Dominion are farmers more prosperous than they are in these new districts. The development of our mines in Western Ontario and British Columbia is already having a great effect on the agricultural interests of the interlying districts. He mentions, as an evidence of the truth of this statement, the fact that on the ranches the price of fat cattle has gone up $5 a head. He mentions another interesting fact, namely, that so great is the demand for beef in the western mining country that one dealer has contracted to have delivered to him for the next twelve months no less than 800 fat cattle per month.—Farming.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Many a man who would be startled at the bare thought of sitting down and deliberately drinking a dose of poison, allows himself, to be regularly and systematically poisoned day after day by accumulations of bile in the blood.

When the liver fails to do its regular work of filtering this bilious poison out of the circulation, it goes on poisoning the entire constitution just as surely as if a man was drinking prussic acid.

Every part of the body is polluted. The digestive juices are suppressed and weakened. The kidneys and skin are clogged with impurities and the lungs and bronchial tubes overloaded with morbid secretion which eat away the delicate tissue, and bring about bronchitis and consumption.

All the diseases caused by this subtle process of bilious poisoning are cured by the marvelous alterative action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It directly increases the liver's natural excretive and purifying powers; gives the digestive and blood-making organs power to manufacture an abundance of red, rich, healthy blood.

It drives out all impurities, and vitalizes the circulation with the life-giving elements which restore perfect nutrition, solid muscular power, and healthy nerve-force.

"In August 1895, I was taken down in bed with a burning and severe pains in my stomach and under my shoulders, and dizziness in my head," writes Ira D. Herring, Esq., of Needmore, Levy Co., Fla. "My home physician was called and he said my symptoms were more like consumption than anything else. I lingered in this way seven months trying different kinds of medicine. Nothing that I ate would digest, and I had great distress in my stomach. I was persuaded to try some of Dr. Pierce's remedies or to see what he thought of my case. I wrote him and received an answer stating that my suffering was from indigestion and torpid liver, and advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first bottle gave pleasing results. I have taken four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three small vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am able to do my work and eat what I could not before I took these medicines."

WOMAN PROPOSES.

A Tale of Real Life of Most Pathetic Interest and Telling.

Unlike a certain character in one of Marryat's novels who had been a prince in his own country, the sergeant had been a scoundrel. The day had been very hot and through the middle of it the men, half stripped, had laid around the quarters cursing the room orderly because the supply of iced water had run out, and it was sultry even at dusk.

The sergeant had changed his uniform for a suit of stable clothes, in the name of coolness, and was lying out on the grass in front of the quarters, smoking and listening to the regimental band playing in the center of the parade ground.

In the beginning the band had struck up a "clog" and had been noisily applauded by howls and whistles and stamping of feet from the enlisted men, and by clapping of hands from the officer's line. Then the German in the band leader peeped out and made him give a selection from Wagner, and growls and uncomplimentary remarks ran along the enlisted men's porches. However, at the end of it a select party of the rank in front of the major's house, who knew good music when they heard it, clapped in applause, and the file, coming to the conclusion that, after all, there must have been something good in what they had misnamed a series of badly executed catcalls, joined in the applause enthusiastically, whereupon the fat, square old band leader had delightfully made the band play the piece over again, and there had been no applause after the second rendering of Wagner—only undertone observations.

The hack drove past, but the sergeant was dreamily watching the lights on the band-stand twinkling through the trees and did not turn his head. Hacks often drove up to the barracks, especially after "taps," though generally then they stopped behind the quarters, and bands of more or less riotous soldiery got out of them. But this hack drove up opposite the orderly room door, and drew up there, and a lady got out of it. The sergeant heard her voice as she inquired:

"Is Sergt. Robert Brown in this troop?" and he jumped to his feet with an oath, and stood leaning against a tree, biting at the stem of his pipe savagely. Then the voice again: "Thanks. I will not trouble you. Over there?" and she came toward him.

So far as the woman was concerned there was only one enlisted man in the United States army; so far as the sergeant was concerned there was only one woman coming. Her hands were outstretched, but he put his behind his back.

"Madge Vanness," he said, bitterly, "cannot a man rest quietly in his grave?"

"Jack Trevor," she began.

And old Stokes, the trumpeter, from a point of vantage on the upper porch, growled: "There! Ain't I bin tellin' ye all long? I knowed his name wasn't Brown an more 'n mine is. He's one o' them bloated English a-ristocrats."

"Jack Trevor," went on the woman, "I want proof that you are a dead man."

The sergeant laughed.

"Proof? You can find my epitaph written in unpaid bills over the face of half a dozen counties. Isn't that enough?"

"Don't be a fool," said the woman, curtly. "Granted you are dead, and you are not. Why don't you resurrect yourself, why don't you work?"

"Work? I am working. I'm drilling recruits, and that's hard enough. It's no good, Madge," obstinately. "You had better have stayed away. I'm happy enough."

The woman flushed dangerously.

"John Trevor, I have come 5000 miles all alone, to find you, and you tell me you are happy, and that I had better not have come!"

"Well," bitterly, "what would you have me say? Ask you to marry me?"

"Yes," frankly.

The sergeant laughed again.

"Lord, I can imagine it. The dishonorable sergeant, and the Honorable Mrs. Brown—"

"Rather the Honorable!" broke in the woman.

"Carried on the troop returns and drawing their monthly rations, one pound of bread per day, one pound of fresh meat, including bone, don't forget the bone, an ounce and a fraction of coffee, etc., etc., and living in a tumble-down wooden hovel, and you taking in the troop washing at a dollar and a half a month per man, and baking pies, which I should peddle to the men in quarters on credit until pay day. Oh, the prospect is fine." Then with another laugh, "And twice a week you would go for an airing around the post sidewalks, pushing the perambulator, maybe a double one. One of the fellows in the troop has a double one. And once a week you will wear your Sunday clothes, a nightmare of a bonnet and a tight, shiny black dress with tremendous sleeves, and go to church. Don't you like the picture?" sneeringly. "Of course, you'd be very happy, and I should be very contented. It goes without saying. No, I don't think you've thought much about the bargain or you wouldn't make this offer."

"John Trevor," she said, "since I left New York I have not allowed myself to sleep because of thinking of this thing. Now you tell me I haven't thought of it!"

The sergeant smiled grimly. He had been in the habit of taking to his bunk and resolutely closing his eyes to keep from thinking.

Then the woman, pleadingly: "Jack, you know this thing would not be as you say. We should not have to stay here. I have something, if you have not."

"Yes, that would be better still, I'm the class of man that should marry an heiress; without a penny, without even a character."

"When God placed you in the world, dear," said the woman, gently, "He gave you a strong man's heritage, health and strength and the whole world to live in. Won't you come? Let us go away together somewhere and make a home."

The sergeant shook his head sorrowfully.

"No, Madge," he said. "I won't do it, for your sake, not for mine. If I worked my fingers to the bone, could I ever pay those men I ran away from when the Grey broke his neck and my fortune at that water jump?"

The woman smiled to herself in the darkness.

"Jack, didn't you ever hear how much your horses brought when they were sold?"

"No. I've heard nothing, seen no man, seen nothing, not even a line, as to the old life. Let's see, there were ten of them, without the Grey. Probably they made five thousand dollars."

The smile was still on the woman's lips.

"Yes," she said, quietly, "$5000 each. And they paid all your debts. You owe no man anything."

"Five thousand dollars each!" the sergeant gasped. "What fool bought them?"

"I bought them. I sent Walters, the horse dealer, up to the sale with orders to start the bidding for each at $5000. It nearly spoiled Walters' reputation, but it saved yours. So now, you see," unsteadily, "I'm not such an heiress after all."

She had stepped back into the light of the only lamp on the company parade, and taken her hat off.

"Come, Jack," softly; "yes, dear, come."

She was holding out her hands again and the light showed the tears in her eyes. The band was playing "In Old Madrid."

Longingly through the dusk came the music to the lines:

Come, my love, the stars are shining,
Time is flying, love is sighing;
Come, for thee a heart is pining,
Here alone I wait for thee.

The sergeant turned and shouted over to the first sergeant, and his voice was joyous:

"Say, Sanders, can you put me on check pass?"

Overhead old Stokes was saying:

"I tell ye that woman's ez full uv tricks er a dog's full uv fleas. Did ye see her step back in the light an' take her hat off an' show she wuz cryin'? That wuz nothin' but a cran' stan' play. Nothin'. She knowed it 'ud fetch him, an' it did."—F. E. Clayton in The Lotus.

THE WEAK MADE STRONG.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

An Orchard "If."

If there were only a larger proportion of sweet in summer apples, they would be much the best for making into vinegar, as the warm weather at this time of the year causes violent fermentation, which soon gets into the vinegar stage. But it is found that though the fermentation is rapid because of the temperature, the vinegar resulting therefrom is thin and poor. There is a decided advantage in adding some sugar after the cider has passed the alcoholic stage of fermentation. It will increase the sourness of the vinegar, while there will still be the same apple aroma and flavor which makes apple cider vinegar the best that can be produced from anything. The fall apples, even those called "sour," have more sweetness in them than have the sweet summer apples. The russet apple makes a very rich cider, but it does not ripen until all the warm weather has passed, so it keeps in the alcoholic stage all winter, and is very apt during that time to be drunk by cider-thirsty people. The advantage of making cider from summer apples is that hot weather brings it so soon to the vinegar stage that comparatively little of it will be drunk as cider.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The G. T. R. has decided to abandon the "double-header" system of moving heavy freight trains, because it involves so many accidents, and now when two engines are required, one will pull and the second push from behind.

During the year ending June 30, the G. T. R. carried 2,948,309 passengers, compared with 3,232,095 in the corresponding half year of 1896, a decrease of 290,760. For the same period the passenger receipts showed a decrease of £4,315, or 0.92 per cent. The volume of freight and livestock amounted to 4,049,878 tons, against 4,061,625 tons in 1896, a decrease of 12,047 tons, or 0.3 per cent. The receipts from this traffic, however, were £1,156,843, against £1,139,911, an increase of £17,032, or 1 49 per cent. The working expenses were 67.49 per cent. of the gross receipts, against 71.34 per cent., a decrease of 3 85 per cent.

One of the I. B. & O. R.R. engines broke down Friday and it will cost a considerable sum to repair the damage.

This division is suffering from a great scarcity of cars at present, the shippers being seriously delayed. It is said that fully 300 cars would be needed to supply the demand along the various lines.

The first train-load of a large quantity of square timber and lumber to be shipped from Waubaushene to Belleville during the next few weeks, arrived Saturday in charge of Conductor George Jobbitt.

The Grand Trunk station at Orillia has been removed to the "Diamond," some distance from town. The services of two operators will be dispensed with.

When Supt. Tiffin visited Haliburton on Tuesday evening with the pay-car he was interviewed by a deputation of leading citizens, relative to the rumoured change in the train service. He assured them that no action was at present contemplated and they went away happy.

Few have any idea of the present congested condition of the G. T. R. yards in Lindsay. As many as 400 loaded and empty cars have been held up there frequently, and trains have had to be made up at Victoria Junction, a mile distant, on the "D. Y." line leading to the piling grounds at the lower wharf.

By its acquisition the other day of the full control of the Central Vermont, the Grand Trunk secured more than a railroad to New London, Conn., and intervening points. It also acquires the Providence Steamship Line, owned by the Central Vermont, running between New London and New York, and thereby secured for the Grand Trunk system a through line of its own all the way from Chicago, via Montreal, to New York. The Grand Trunk now has, moreover, two distinct ways of reaching Boston. It connects at White River Junction with the Boston and Maine, and at Bellow's Falls with the Fitchburg Railroad.

HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Job Coon's elaborate dwelling house is nearing completion. Much credit is due to Mr. Archer, the contractor, for the excellent workmanship.

Mr. Fireman Haig, yardsman, met with a painful accident by having the ends of two fingers taken off last week while coupling cars in the yard.

The C.P.R. employees here state that at no time in the history of the road have they been as busy as they are at present.

A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday last, when Miss Henderson, of Kemptville, niece of Rev. McQuade, and Mr. Mackie, operator on the C.P.R., were united in marriage. We wish the young couple a long and happy life.

Mr. Dasronian, an Armenian, gave a lecture in the Presbyterian church last Thursday night, which was largely attended, although the weather was unfavourable. By the aid of views he pictured Armenian life very vividly. The life of an Armenian is a hard one, having no voice in the government of his country and held in oppression by the cruel Turks. They are not allowed to use modern improvements, using the sickle and other implements which were old years ago. The poor Armenians are plundered and robbed by the unmerciful Turks, and they cannot help themselves. Mr. Dasronian intends returning to Armenia as a British subject.

The At Home held in the Presbyterian church on Monday night of this week was a decided success both financially and socially.

Mr. A Mathieson is putting up a beautiful residence beside the Methodist parsonage, which will be occupied by Dr. Fowler.

The I O.O.F. No. 286 Havelock is progressing favourably, having three initiations recently.

The teachers of Peterborough county and Campbellford football teams had a match in Norwood last Friday evening, which resulted in a tie. The next day the teachers went over to Campbellford and defeated the Campbellford team one goal to nothing.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On the 20th inst Mr. Geo. Hull, son of Mr. Thos. Hull, was united in marriage to Eliza Leason, daughter of Mr. Windfield Leason, all of Stony Lake. The bride and groom and a number of their friends left the head of Stony Lake on board the steamer Idle Hour for Lakefield at 7 o'clock a.m., and after being married in Lakefield they returned the same evening to the home of Mr. Thomas Hull, where the wedding supper was partaken of. Quite a number of invited guests were in waiting for the return of the wedding party. The evening and night were spent in dancing and other amusements. Many prominent people round the head of Stony Lake had been invited.

Salmon fishing is now in full swing and Inspector Batton is on the scout here and there and everywhere. No law breaker will escape him if he knows it.

Mr. Jas. Miles is now giving his new house the finishing touch with the painter's brush.

Stinging Corns.

Next to a stinging conscience, makes life a misery. The stinging pain of a corn may be speedily and painlessly removed by the use of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Twenty-four hours after Putnam's is applied the corn may be removed.

Heads That Ache.

Heads that ache can be made bright, clear and free from pain by using Burdock Blood Bitters, the true natural cure for headache from whatever cause arising. "Headache and pain in the back afflicted me for a long time, but now I am free from them, thanks to the use of one bottle and a half of B.B.B." Miss J. McALLISTER, Almonte, Ont.

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubled for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Ontario House Called for Despatch of Business for Nov 30 Next.

Toronto, Oct. 26. The Ontario Legislature has been called to meet on November 30.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES

Buys the Residence of Sir John Carling at Ottawa—Trouble Between Baptists and Roman Catholics.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Owing to the absence of McCraig, engineer of the freight train, who is still confined to his room, the inquest was again adjourned to-night until Wednesday of next week. No evidence was taken to-night.

Recent trouble at Rockland, a short distance from Ottawa, between the Baptists and Roman Catholics, has culminated in criminal proceedings and a magisterial enquiry will take place. The Baptists have preferred a charge of disturbing a religious service against the Roman Catholics, whom, they allege, disturbed the Rev. Mr. Cote while preaching to the Baptist congregation.

Mr. W. C. Edwards, M. P., to-day stated that there is now no further danger to be anticipated from bush fires. Mr. Edwards says he drove through much of the damaged territory and also to places where bush fires have been smouldering, but he is certain no danger can result.

Sir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has purchased the substantial, commodious and handsome residence of Sir John Carling, on the corner of Metcalfe and Somerset-streets, for about $11,000.

The report telegraphed here that a release was signed for Greenway is incorrect. No petition has been received by the Department of Justice.

52 NEW CASES.

Yellow Fever Has Its Biggest Day Yesterday—The Details.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 25.—Numerically this has been the biggest day yet of the fever situation here. At 7 o'clock to-night the score of the Board of Health shows a total of 52 new cases, and there had been deaths to the number of 11. Heretofore the highest number of deaths in a single day has been nine. Unfortunately there continues to be concealment of cases here. Fatalities occur because medical attention is not called in, and the masses for the time being are in a revolutionary mood because of the enforcement of the house quarantine, and are resorting to every means in their power to put obstacles in the way of constituted authorities. It is generally agreed here that the house quarantine is not accomplishing the results expected.

Bank Sued for $50,000.

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 25.—Mr. E. G. Porter, acting for W. H. Ponton, to-day issued a writ on behalf of his client claiming $50,000 damages for false arrest, imprisonment and dismissal.

Donald and Christopher Henderson of Madoc were to-day charged in the Police Court with running an illicit still in that township. The prisoners were found guilty and sentence reserved.

Seizure of Canadian Hides.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 25.—Two car loads of hides that had been smuggled into the United States from Canada have been seized by Special Treasury Agent Brown of Boston. The cars are now in Government keeping in the Boston & Maine freight yards. This is the first seizure of hides since the new tariff law went into effect. There were in the two cars 3830 salted hides. The customs officers do not wish the consignees name made public, as they attach no blame to him. The hides were shipped from Champlain, N.Y., to Boston, having been smuggled across the Canadian border to Champlain and sold in Boston, to be delivered to the purchaser, freight and duty paid, at the rate of 9 and 10 cents a pound. The duty is 15 cents ad valorem.

Conspiracy to Murder Sheriff Martin.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 25.—An alleged conspiracy to murder Sheriff Martin, who led the deputies who fired upon and killed a score of strikers at Lattimer, on Sept. 10, has been discovered by the arrest of John Sepiak, who was wounded in the riot. The complainant was the sheriff's son, William, who says he overheard Sepiak threaten to kill his father. On Sepiak was found a razor wrapped in a printed circular describing the shooting and calling for vengeance. From talk overheard, it is said that the prisoner is one of a gang of 15 detailed by the foreigners to murder the sheriff.

A Holocaust at Oil City, Pa.

Oil City, Pa., Oct. 25.—Three persons were burned to death and seven more were severely injured in a fire that yesterday destroyed the Hotel Brooklyn at Kelletville, 25 miles south of Oil City. When the fire was discovered 17 persons were asleep in the hotel. Six men on the second floor and five on the third saved themselves by jumping from the windows to the ground below.

Washed by Tremendous Waves.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Long Island coast for a distance of six miles, between Far Rockaway and Rockaway Beach, was more or less damaged by the tide to-day, which was the highest in some years. The Edgemore Hotel property was damaged to the extent of $25,000.

Parmelee's Pills possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O Ont., writes: "I have tried Parmelee's Pills, and find them an excellent medicine, and one of that will sell well."

CANADA'S CHANCE.

To be a Big Business With the Orient—Japan Wants Our Lumber, Wheat and Flour.

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—George Anderson of Toronto, the returning Commissioner of Trade to Japan, says that as a result of his investigations he is fully satisfied that a large amount of business can be done with Japan by Canadian people in many lines. The outlook for trade was exceedingly bright and promising, as far as Canada was concerned. In his report there would not be a gloomy word, for he had found everything favorable. He considered that if the business men and manufacturers of Canada take advantage of the markets open to them in the East the business done will develop to enormous proportions.

Japan wants lumber, which British Columbia might easily supply. The Northwest Territories and Manitoba can send flour and grain a great deal easier than that which is now being supplied by Oregon and California. Flour and grain that have already been sent from Canada have been found very satisfactory, but the Japanese are not as well acquainted with Canadian flour and grain as they might be and should be.

Where Specialists Failed Dr. Chase's Cured Catarrh.

James Spence, Clachan, Ont., writes:—"I had been a sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years. It became chronic and I had given up hopes of ever being cured when advised by a friend to try Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I at once started and am pleased to state that three boxes effected a complete cure, and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from Catarrh."

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

TRADE MARK.

Robson Brown, of Valetta, July 28th, 1891, says:—

"I am sorry under the circumstances to write to you, but I feel it my duty, as I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for years, took dollars' worth of medicine and pills, but got no relief till I commenced taking your Sloan's Indian Tonic. I think I have taken 8 or 10 bottles in all, and I feel as if I have got a new lease of life, I feel so much better. I was in the habit of keeping a bottle in the house so when costive I would take a dose or two with instant relief. Now I am troubled with costive spells very often, and it was the only medicine that gave me instant relief. It seems as if I have lost my best friend. Now I would like to hear from you by return mail, as I would like to have a bottle as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Palmer, of Ridgetown, Ont., says: I was afflicted for a number of years with Erysipelas and Neuralgia in my face, and one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me entirely, and I would recommend it to others, either for Erysipelas or Neuralgia.

Mrs. Henry Hale, of Blenheim, Ont., says: Sloan's Indian Tonic cured me of Malarial Fever and Chills and Neuralgia. When I was down sick in bed I purchased a bottle of the Tonic and it cured me entirely, and I have not been troubled with Fever or Neuralgia since.

VILLENEUVE MURDER

The Magisterial Inquiry at Chelmsford Yesterday.

A YOUNG BOY'S CLEAR CUT EVIDENCE

His Father Killed in Broad Daylight He Me Was Harrowing Near by—Mrs. Villeneuve Was Putting a Baby to Sleep in the House Only a Few Feet Away.

Chelmsford, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The Magisterial enquiry into the charge against Louise Le Coup Villeneuve, Arthur Chartrand and Phileas Chartrand of murdering Felix Amyot Villeneuve, husband of the female prisoner, opened to-day in this village before Police Magistrate W. A. Quibell of Sudbury. The tragedy occurred on the Villeneuve farm on the afternoon of Tuesday last, the 19th inst., and from the details given by witnesses to-day it will be seen that, whoever may be adjudged guilty of the awful crime, it was one of the most unprovoked and atrocious character.

The Villeneuve homestead occupies the fourth west quarter of lot two on the Sixth Concession of the Township of Rayside, about nine miles northwest of the Town of Sudbury, and seven miles east of this village. Some seven years ago Felix Villeneuve and his wife, Louise, with their one child, a bonnie little, flaxen haired baby boy of 5, came up from Lower Canada and settled thereon, and steadily from that time the couple have worked to build themselves a home and rear their little family, which as the years passed was increased by three more little ones. Fortune smiled upon their labors and they prospered; the little farm made good returns for the labor bestowed upon it, and the future looked bright and hopeful. But an awful change has come, trouble of the blackest kind imaginable has swooped down upon them, for today the father lies in his grave, battered beyond recognition by a murderer's hand. The mother is charged with the crime, and that baby boy, now a bright and exceptionally intelligent lad of 12, is the principal Crown witness, whose testimony may materially assist in consigning his own mother to the gallows and a felon's grave.

The mother, according to the child's story to-day, under oath, ran out to her husband, and, finding he was still breathing, told the boy to go for help, but in a few moments the stricken man was dead. Neighbors quickly gathered, but no elucidation of the mystery could be suggested.

The spot where the man was so foully done to death was only 200 feet from the public highway, and in full view of it. A neighbor's log house stands just across the road, another on the next lot east, while between the road and the fatal spot is the Villeneuve house, and yet not a living creature, friend or foe, neighbor or stranger, was seen by human eye to enter those premises during these fateful moments. The only person that can be found that was anywhere in the vicinity was the wife, and suspicion fell upon her. She was not immediately arrested, but at the inquest held last week she testified in a manner which increased that suspicion in the eyes of the jury to the degree that a verdict of wilful murder was returned against her, and she was placed under arrest. About three-quarters of a mile east of the Villeneuve farm live three brothers, Delpoise, Arthur and Phileas Chartrand. They were neighborly with the Villeneuves, and often, as the evidence to-day showed, helped one another as occasion required. But recently scandal had linked the names of Arthur Chartrand and Mrs. Villeneuve, and much trouble had resulted in the once happy home. As a result, and also because rumor gave tongue to certain alleged threats the two younger men were said to have made against deceased, they too have been arrested, but it is only fair to state that so far nothing whatever of importance has been brought out against either of them, and there does not appear to be much expectation, or, indeed, serious desire on the part of the Crown to put them on trial in the higher court.

The woman, who is about 33 years of age, with dark hair and eyes, clear complexion and withal a by no means unpleasing face, is not one that would be picked out as a hardened criminal and it is to be hoped she may be able to clear herself of the awful web of circumstantial evidence the Crown is slowly weaving around her.

Dr. Robert Hugh Arthur, who made the postmortem on the deceased on the 22nd inst., found the head crushed in and the skull cut and battered. There were eight to twelve wounds on the scalp in different directions. They were clean-cut wounds, not only through the scalp, but penetrated the skull also, and from these the brain protruded. I have no hesitation in saying they were inflicted with an axe, hatchet or cleaver, or similar sharp instrument. No other kind of instrument could have done it. A good deal of force would have been needed to wield the instrument with such effect.

Emile Villeneuve, the 12-year-old son of the murdered man, and the female prisoner, deposed through an interpreter: I last saw my father alive last Tuesday about 12 o'clock in the building which he was working on and which was not finished. It was a log pig pen; the roof was not all on. He was working inside when I left him to harrow the field. The harrow was about four acres away from the hogpen. I had made one turn and the harrow was broken, so I went to see my father about it. I went to the hogpen and saw my father lying down, the head covered with blood and two logs on his head. They were logs from the building. The axe was on his head and the logs alongside. I went to tell my mother. I called her out and she told me to go and get some water. When I went into the house mother was rocking the baby and singing to get it to sleep. The first words I told her was that father was lying down with two logs on his head and the axe in his skull. She ran out and then told me to get the water. I was afraid and she went back to the house with me. We got the water and then went for help. When I left the hogpen first to go into the field father and mother were there together, and mother started to go to the house as I left. It was half an hour after this that I returned to the hogpen and found father. Father and mother have not quarreled since she had him arrested last spring. I do not know what they quarreled about. Arthur Chartrand visited our place quite a bit and some times when he came drunk they quarreled and fought, but since last spring they had not had even cross words. While I was out in the field I did not hear any noise from the hog pen except somebody chopping. Mother wore a check apron that morning. The apron produced looks like the one.

Continuing, the lad said Arthur Chartrand only slept at their house once, that was during a hay-pressing bee; on that occasion he slept with witness. There were two bedrooms and a kitchen in their house. Chartrand would visit them three or four times a week. His mother washed Chartrand's clothes and his father did not like it, but his mother wanted the money.

John Hamm, a neighboring farmer, deposed to an incident which occurred a month ago in which Arthur Chartrand said deceased would remember him if he put his hand on him, adding: "I ought to kill him," and then: "I ought not to say that word; it was not in my mind, I was only vexed." On another occasion Arthur Chartrand had declared that it was Mrs. Villeneuve's fault that he went there, and that he was not going any more.

To Mr. Fowler—Witness never heard Chartrand speak against Villeneuve except on the occasion sworn to above.

It had been the original intention to conclude the investigation and arrive at a decision before adjournment, but at this stage it was seen that this was impossible, and the court accordingly adjourned until to-morrow morning.

A NOTABLE BANQUET.

Hon. Mr. Fielding, Ambassador Hay, Mr. Gilbert Parker, the Guests—Conciliatory Speeches.

London, Oct. 26.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance, United States Ambassador Hay and Mr. Gilbert Parker, the novelist, were guests at a banquet of prominent literary and newspaper people, given this evening at the White Friars' Club. Mr. Poultney Bigelow presided.

After dinner the chairman, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Parker, with others, made speeches full of friendly allusions to the United States and to the American Ambassador, whom, in the words of the chairman, they were "glad to welcome, not only as Ambassador, but as a brother journalist."

Col. Hay, responding to a toast to his health, in a very happy speech said:

"Of course we cannot discuss politics here, but without violating any confidence I may say that I bear no message from my Government but one which would be acceptable to every English gentleman, and there is no reason, so far as I can see, why the friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States should ever be disturbed."

Mr. Fielding, in the course of his remarks, dwelt upon the "neighborly relations that the people of Canada wish to maintain with the United States." Continuing, he said:

"Col. Hay and I have been sitting side by side this evening and have eaten our fish in harmony, quite without reference to the question whether they were caught within the three-mile limit. I hope this fact may be taken as a happy augury of the relations between the Dominion and the United States."

300 MEN OUT OF WORK

By the Total Destruction by Fire of the Verity Plow Works at Brantford.

Brantford, Oct. 26.—Shortly after 5 this evening a fire broke out in the Verity Company's plow works. The fire originated in the paint or varnish room, and from the inflammable nature of the surroundings it spread rapidly. The firemen responded quickly and sent back different times for more hose, but by 6 o'clock the fire had got beyond control, and the establishment will probably prove a total loss. A portion of the roof fell, and one of the firemen, Thomas Allan, was struck by it. His injuries are serious. Two other firemen are said to have been hurt.

At present the loss cannot be ascertained. It is understood there is over $30,000 insurance, distributed among different companies, the names of which cannot be obtained.

The fire will throw about 300 men out of employment, there being a day and night gang at work for some time past.

Lockjaw Killed Him.

N.Y.C. WRECK PATHOS

Mrs. Reilly from London, Eng., Identifies Her Dead Husband.

THE WIDOW'S PITIABLE GRIEF.

Two More Dead Men Found by the N.Y. Central Wreckers Yesterday Fireman Tompkins' Body Recovered A Gruesome Sight The Death Roll Now Totals 21.

Garrison, N. Y., Oct. 27.—A pathetic scene was enacted in Keeley's undertaking rooms in Cold Springs yesterday, when the body of Thomas Reilly of St. Louis was identified by his widow, who had come all the way from London with Reilly's mother, and whom he was journeying to meet when death overtook him.

Ellen Reilly sailed on the St. Paul on Oct. 16, arriving in New York last Saturday. She had arranged for Reilly to meet her and his mother in New York, and when he did not appear at the steamer the women went to an hotel in that city. A clerk at the hotel read in the newspapers yesterday that Reilly was among the victims of the disaster. The mother and wife were not informed of Reilly's death, but were told that he was badly injured, and they went to Cold Spring this morning. When Mrs. Reilly found that her husband, whom she had crossed the Atlantic to meet, was dead her grief was pitiable.

Two More Dead Men Found.

Garrison, N.Y., Oct. 26.—The event of this, the second day after the Central Railroad accident, was the raising of the day coach of the ill-fated train, the finding of an additional body there and the raising of the engine, with the body of the fireman, John Q. Tompkins, tightly wedged between two masses of iron in front.

When the car had been elevated and the water drained out of it those watching the operation saw at one of the windows a human hand badly blurred and just beyond the feet sticking out from under one of the seat tops. The wreckers tore aside the debris and soon had the body out. A search was made and the entire furniture of the car was removed so that anything within could be easily reached. To the relief of the searchers no more bodies were found.

The body of a man about 75 was found in the wrecked day coach at 3.15 o'clock. The body is badly decomposed. The dead man had a black mustache, was dressed in blue clothes and was about 5 feet 10 inches in height. He had evidently been crushed to death while he slept. This makes the list of dead 20.

The heavy engine was dragged out of the water to-night just before darkness closed in, and President Chauncey M. Depew and the three railroad commissioners saw the operation. When it was brought to the surface the front trucks were missing and the front of the boiler and the guards were smashed into an unrecognizable mass.

As the great machine came in sight one of the men on the lighter saw clothes dangling from the front, and when the lanterns could be brought to bear it was found that the rags covered up a human body, that of Fireman Tompkins. The body was wedged in front of the boiler, where the engine number plate is, and had to be dragged out. It was taken to a train at once and sent up to Cold Spring to the coroner's office. Tompkins was dressed in his working suit.

CAN'T FIND MUCH FAULT.

Ex-Finance Minister Foster Says That Mr. Fielding's Loan is "a Pretty Good Loan."

Montreal, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Hon. George E. Foster, while in the city today, was interviewed regarding the Fielding loan. "It is a pretty good loan," said the ex-Finance Minister, "and I do not see that we can find much fault with it."

Lieut. George Kenny, son of Thomas E. Kenny of Halifax, is serving with his regiment, the 2nd Battalion Royal Inniskillen Fusiliers, in the Peshawur column of the Tirah expeditionary force, commanded by General Sir William Lockhart.

Mr. James N. Greenshields denies the statement that the Intercolonial will not take possession of the Drummond Counties road the first of November; yet few here can see how it is going to be done.

LIBERAL TRIUMPHS.

Address by Hon. G. W. Ross at the Opening of the Laurier Club in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The opening meeting of the Laurier Club, held in its new quarters at the corner of College street and Brunswick avenue last evening, was in every way a success. The large hall was crowded with members of the club and their friends. Mr. G. C. Campbell, president of the club, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Hon. Wm. Mulock, Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. Dr. Dewart, R. C. Clute, Q.C., W. J. Hill, Dr. John Ferguson, Geo. McMurrich, Frank Denton and J. C. Walsh.

Mr. Campbell briefly outlined the work of the club during the past season before calling on Hon. Mr. Ross. Mr. Campbell's inaugural address will be delivered at next week's meeting.

Hon. G. W. Ross spoke for more than an hour on questions of interest to Liberals, and the address was listened to with the most earnest attention throughout.

Burning of the Assyria

New York, Oct. 25.—Captain Dernier of the British barque Assyria, owned by Taylor Bros. of St. John, N.B., arrived here yesterday from Bahia, on the steamship Melbourne, and told how his vessel was burned in the harbor of Bahia, on Sept. 25. The Assyria sailed from Greenock on Aug. 5 for Rio Janeiro with a cargo of coal. Fire was discovered in the hold on Dec. 17. The crew were unable to subdue it, and Captain Dernier decided to bear up for Bahia. The barque arrived in the harbor at 3 p.m. on Sept. 25. The barque then drifted seaward before a strong off-shore wind, all aflame. She measured 1096 tons.

Richard Baycroft Died.

Sudbury, Oct. 25.—Richard Baycroft, 16 years of age, of Copper Cliff, who was badly burned about the face and arms by an explosion of chemicals three weeks ago, died of blood poisoning. He was the son of Mr. Thomas Baycroft, a well-known farmer of this district.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

Severe Pains in the Head

EDITORIAL NOTES.

CONSERVATIVE journals cannot deny that Canada is thriving like a green bay tree under Liberal rule, but they say the credit of our good credit is due to the Conservatives. Yes; due to the Conservatives being put out of the way.

THE Dominion Government has taken active measures to protect the islands in the St. Lawrence under its control from injury, and to prevent the destruction of the timber and shrubbery. This is in striking contrast to the action of the late Conservative Government in alienating this beautiful national park by distributing the islands in job lots among their political friends.

"Here is this man, Hardy," says the Toronto Telegram, "going round the country and talking and talking and talking in a manner calculated to make people doubt the veracity of the Conservative papers which have been announcing that he, Hardy, has been so utterly demolished by Mr. Whitney that his feeble form is merely temporarily held together by an unusually strong suit of store clothes."

WHEN Mr. Fielding was asked in London as to whether Canada would give a preference to British goods alone when the treaty hindrances were removed, he replied: "I have no doubt that the matter will come out all right in a way that will be satisfactory to the British public. We entered upon our policy with the desire to give a preference to British goods and we are not likely to depart from it." This is a very emphatical denial, remarks the Montreal Herald, of the assertion so frequently made that the Fielding tariff was devised for the benefit of the whole world. It was primarily intended to benefit Canada, but in the second place Parliament intended to give a distinct preference to British goods and it is evidently in Mr. Fielding's mind to maintain that preference.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Threshing is now going on briskly in this locality, and grain is turning out well with the single exception of wheat, which will not come up to the average. Straw will be plentiful here this winter.

Potatoes are a fairly good crop. A few complain of the rot, but the crop is expected to be slightly above the average, and of a grand size, so that there is no reason to complain, even if there are a few rotten ones.

Mr. Thos. Walters of Lindsay has had a gang of men at work on the Squaw River dams for the past two weeks. This work was in charge of John Pearson, and a very good job has been done. The men employed all reside in the neighbourhood of the work, which is quite a help to the residents here.

Another gang was also sent to take boulders out of the river bed at the mouth, which have been a great hindrance to driving logs. When this job is completed the river will be in a very good good shape for the floating of the settlers' logs to the lake, and buyers need not be afraid of driving as in the past. The Government has been very mindful of the public good here, thanks to the efforts of our able representative, Mr. Stratton.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The weather proves very favourable to the farmers for ploughing.

There were many people wise enough to sell their grain at Peterborough some time ago, and are now rejoicing.

Dr. Thornton is working up a splendid practice without interfering with the other doctors.

Dr. Thompson is busy night and day—going south of here to the borders of Millbrook.

The Victoria County ploughing match to come off at Downeyville on Thursday, Oct. 29th, promises to attract a very large number of competitors and spectators.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church on last Sunday were of an interesting nature. The sermons by the Rev. J. A. Morrison, of Toronto, morning and evening, were most profitable. Rev. Norman Russell, a missionary, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Potter, of Peterborough, conducted the afternoon services, and they proved an intellectual treat

CAPITAL NOTES.

The Sealing Conference—Hardships of the Fire sufferers—Exportation of Natural Gas from Elgin

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Hon. Sydney Fisher was interviewed yesterday in regard to the report that tuberculosis had broken out on the Experimental Farm.

"Some days ago, said the Minister of Agriculture, "one of the animals was sick, and by mistake the wrong medicine was given it. The result was that the animal died. On examination it was discovered that the animal was suffering from tuberculosis.

"Professor Saunders had the whole herd tested, and has found that the tuberculosis existed to a considerable extent. He immediately took steps to have the animals that were affected with the disease separated from those that were not.

"In a very short time," concluded the Minister, "a full statement will be prepared and given to the public."

It is understood that Sir Louis Davies is in communication with the Imperial authorities regarding the date of the renewal of the sealing conference, which will be continued at Washington some time after the 10th of November. Sir Louis Davies will attend, and it is possible that the Premier will also be present.

Ex-Chief of Police Young, who is the chief enumerator of the sufferers by fire in Russell and Prescott counties, states that the suffering was intense. Mr. Young says that in the back portions of Cambridge township the hardships that are being endured are pitiful. He tells the story of a family named Bertram. He says there is a wife, a little boy, a little girl and the father. The four have lived on buckwheat and potatoes ever since the fire. The father has a portion of a suit, the little girl has nothing but her undergarments, and the wife wears a shawl instead of a waist. None of the family have boots or shoes or any blankets to keep them warm at night. They have crawled into an old log barn and tried to patch up the holes with mud. At night the two children huddle between the parents, as they try to sleep upon the ground. Mr. Young says this is only one sample of the suffering that is being endured in the back part of the township. There is a very strong feeling throughout the burned district that hunting should be prohibited through there this year. The deer and other animals have no place to hide, and the unfortunate settlers fear that their food supply will be totally destroyed. Mr. Young returned to Casselman this morning to continue the taking of the census.

A large delegation, headed by Mr. Lister, M.P., Mr. Fraser, M.P., Mr. Cowan, M.P., and Mr. McGregor, M.P., waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier to-day, and asked that the amount of natural gas which is now being pumped over from Essex county to the United States side be either prohibited altogether or restricted.

After hearing the speeches, the Premier, who was accompanied by Sir Louis Davies, Hon. R. W. Scott and Hon. J. I. Tarte, informed the deputation that the Government would fully examine into the question, and when in the possession of all the facts would decide on the action to be taken.

BAPTINGER TO FIGHT EXTRADITION

The Man Arrested in Detroit is Charged With Falsifying Pay Sheets.

Detroit, Oct. 27.—Gottlieb Bonfinger, an ex-employe of Messrs. J. & J. Livingston, Berlin, has been arrested by Ontario Detective John Murray in Detroit, on a charge of wholesale stealing from his old employers. It is claimed by the Crown that Bonfinger secured large sums by making excessive pay sheets for the various mills of the Livingston firm, and pocketed the balance. The prisoner will fight extradition. When arrested he was employed at the Detroit Custom House and was soon to be a witness in a suit pending between the United States Government and the Livingstons over customs matters. Charles R. Whitney, United States District Attorney, will defend Bonfinger in the extradition proceedings and Colonel Atkinson will prosecute.

Luetgert's Wife Said to Have Been Seen.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—"Within twenty-four hours we have received information that may make another trial of Luetgert unnecessary," said Attorney Albert Phalen to-day. "I will not reveal the name of my informant, nor the location of the city in which he lives at present, but it is within two hundred miles of Chicago, and the man is an official of the place. He is positive—absolutely positive—that he has seen Mrs. Luetgert within a few days."

It is believed that the information came from Davenport, Iowa, 185 miles west of Chicago. Soon after Mrs. Luetgert's disappearance a report reached Chicago that she was seen in Davenport and also in Rock Island, Ill., across the river, but investigation proved the report untrue.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubled for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

SUCCESSFUL SHIPMENTS of Canadian Fruit to Great Britain—The Later Trials Were Completely Satisfactory.

Toronto, Oct. 27. Reports received of the later trial shipments of fruit made by direction of the Minister of Agriculture show that they arrived in Great Britain in a satisfactory condition. Of the 236 cases shipped per SS. Numidian to Liverpool, the report says that the fruit arrived in good condition, except the grapes, which were fairly sound, but inclined to drop from the stems.

The report on the 786 boxes of fruit by the Huron to London says that the fruit arrived in good condition, with the exception of the grapes, which, although apparently in sound condition, dropped from the stems. The report further says that the pears were in very nice condition, Crawford peaches a little soft, the tomatoes in fine condition, the only objection to the tomatoes being that they were too large. A medium size variety takes better in the British market.

The following in connection with the last-named shipment appeared in The Standard of London:

"A consignment of Canadian fruit was sold at Covent Garden yesterday by Messrs. Garcia, Jacobs & Co. The fruit, consisting of some 800 packages, was sent from Montreal to Liverpool in the Huron, under the direction of the Canadian Government, who are actively establishing a supply for the English market. Previous consignments have not turned out wholly successful, but the present one proved completely satisfactory, with the exception of the grapes, which were of too soft varieties to withstand the transit, even in a refrigerator, while their quality makes it improbable that they can compete with Portuguese growths. The pears were found to be of the same varieties as are grown in England and France, and of a quality that will suit the English trade. The opinion was generally expressed at Covent Garden that Canadian pears and plums will be able to compete in our markets with Continental supplies. The peaches, though not as large as the English hothouse specimens, are of sufficiently good quality to secure a large trade. The tomatoes were of exceptionally fine quality, and if defects in regard to size are remedied they will undoubtedly surpass those of French growth. All the fruit, excepting the grapes, commanded good prices, and the buyers expressed satisfaction at the appearance of another source of supply."

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattrass; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

BRITAIN AND FRANCE

Are Both Sending Troops to the Hinterland.

MAY BE LOCKED IN DEADLY STRIFE.

The Startling News From West Africa—Both Nations Are Giving More Than the Retort Courteous—Another Brush in India—Col. Hadow and Eight Others Wounded.

Paris, Oct. 26. — The Journal says grave news has reached St. Louis from the Dahomey Hinterland, to the effect that complications are imminent at Nikki and elsewhere in Borgu, of which territory Nikki is the capital, and which, it is claimed in England, belongs to Great Britain by virtue of a treaty concluded with the King of Borgu prior to the treaties made with that monarch by representatives of France.

It is added that on receipt of the news referred to, M. Lebon, the Minister for the Colonies, who is now looking after France's interests in Senegambia, immediately despatched reinforcements to Dahomey.

British Troops on the Move.

Lagos, West Coast of Africa, Oct. 26. —A detachment of the West India regiment stationed here has started for the frontier of Hinterland.

A French Idea of It.

Paris, Oct. 26.—A semi-official statement regarding the reported trouble in West Africa was issued this evening. It says:

"The news from West Africa foreshadows great difficulties at Nikki and in Borgu. The Niger Company (British) is sending officers there to incite rebellion and distribute arms to the natives. In view of this situation French troops have been despatched to that district from Senegal, as a preventive measure. Moreover, the British negotiators for a settlement of the Niger question have been in Paris for over a week, and everything points to Great Britain seeking to let the matter drag. Seemingly she does not intend to discuss the question, but means will undoubtedly be found to foil these tactics."

A Pointer to the French.

London, Oct. 26.—Replying to the semi-official statement concerning the dangerous state of affairs in West Africa, issued in Paris this evening, the British Colonial Office officials to-night declared that there does not seem to be any reasonable fear of complications at Nikki, "provided the French Government behaves reasonably."

"But," it was added at the Colonial Office, "Great Britain has taken the determination to police more effectually her territories, and if the French persist in trespassing complications will naturally ensue."

RIMADEN CAPTURED.

A British Success in India at a Cost of Nine Men Wounded.

Simla, Oct. 26.—Official advices received here to-day from Kharappa announce that a large foraging party of British troops yesterday captured the village of Rimadan and secured a quantity of supplies. On retiring the troops were hotly followed by the enemy to within a mile of the British camp. On the British side nine men, including Col. Hadow, were wounded. The confidence of the insurgent tribesmen is increasing, and they are offering a determined front in all directions. The British officers say the tribesmen excel in guerilla warfare and are wonderful skirmishers. The enemy are fully supplied with ammunition, and large reinforcements are joining the insurgent camps.

A despatch from Semphaga gives the official list of the killed and wounded at the storming of Dargai Ridge as being 195, of which number 37 were killed.

During the recent attack upon the tribesmen who had occupied the Dargai Ridge one of the pipers belonging to the Gordon Highlanders, who were leading the attack, was shot through both ankles, rendering it impossible for him to walk.

His wounds did not, however, diminish his ardor, and, sitting amid a hail of bullets, he continued his piping as unconcernedly as though he was on parade. This is only one instance of the coolness and bravery displayed by the Highlanders which have called forth the encomiums of the commanders.

Twenty Thousand Rebels Massed.

It is estimated that the tribesmen have massed 20,000 men at Sempagha Pass, where they are busy making rifle pits in the Sangaras and strengthening their defences.

Meanwhile, it is bad news that the tribesmen have begun to operate on the British lines of communication. The fear is that, finding this the most successful means of delaying the British advance, they will detach still larger bodies to attack the British convoys and cut up the escorts.

This (Tuesday) evening the tribesmen harassed the British camp near Khargahar by a constant, well-directed fire for several hours. Nearly thirty non-commissioned officers and men were slightly wounded. A telegraph wire was cut close to the camp.

A picturesque, but unfortunate incident occurred on the Shinwari side of the Samana Range. A party of Gurkhas, sent out under Lieut. Millard, had crept close up on a large body of the enemy. Just at this moment, through some mistake, magnesium star shells were fired from the British camp and revealed the whole situation, enabling the enemy to escape unhurt.

Russia's Readiness for War.

London, Oct. 26. The Odessa correspondent of The Daily Mail, commenting on the "immense growth of the Russian navy in recent years, especially in transport vessels," says: "Russia could quickly pour hundreds of thousands of troops and the material of war into India by way of the Black Sea and the trans-Caucasian and Daghestan Railways. England would be at an enormous disadvantage if involved in a war with Russia, while the Russians boast that in the event of a crisis the Ameer of Afghanistan would be on their side."

Employers Agree to a Conference.

London, Oct. 26. The Federated Employers, at a meeting held at Manchester, are understood to have agreed to a conference with the representatives of the striking engineers, on the lines suggested by Mr. T. C. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, provided the eight hours' demand is withdrawn, and that this question is not raised at the conference.

The Langtry Inquest.

London, Oct. 26.—The coroner's inquest in the case of Edward Langtry, husband of Lily Langtry, the actress, who died in the hospital for the insane at Chester on Oct. 15, was concluded yesterday. The jury returned a verdict that Mr. Langtry's death was due to an effusion of blood upon the brain, caused by an accidental fall.

Fenian Daly is Out of It.

Dublin, Oct. 26.—According to a despatch from Limerick, Mr. John Daly is no longer eligible for election to the mayoralty of that city, the revision court having struck his name off the list of burgesses for the current year, on the ground that he has not occupied a residence at Limerick for a year prior to Aug. 31.

Another Canadian Knight.

London, Oct. 26.—The Hon. T. W. Taylor, Chief Justice of Manitoba, has been knighted.

WORLD'S W.C.T.U.

The Convention Closes in Good Shape After a Rather Exciting Day—Closing Scenes.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—"Throw Out the Life Line," sounding from a thousand voices, closed the devotional exercises that began the day's work yesterday in the World's W.C.T.U. Convention. Until Miss Willard arrived, Miss Slack occupied the chair.

Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army was listened to with the greatest interest throughout an earnest address, whose keynote was the never-dying influence of a good woman's life.

Miss Willard spoke words of great praise concerning the good work of Miss Booth, and the whole Booth family, telling the people she was heart and soul with them.

The balance of the morning's session was taken up with reading reports and disposing of the same.

A Batch of Resolutions.

The following resolutions were passed: Regarding labor, favoring the eight hour law, opposing strikes, favoring Sunday as a day of rest, and urging wage earners to unite against the liquor traffic.

Favoring evangelistic training schools and asking that they be recognized as one of the affiliated institutions.

Regretting sincerely the absence of Lady Somerset, and that assurances of sympathy be sent Lady Windeyer, the delegate from New South Wales, who was prevented in England from attending.

They also expressed their sense of loss and feelings of sorrow in the death of General Neal Dow, Margaret Parker, founder of the British Woman's Association; Mrs. Youmans, founder of the Dominion W. C. T. U.; Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson and other temperance reformers. It was also resolved to extend the sympathy of the body to Mrs. Dow.

It was resolved that all efforts be used to get the young women to enter the work, and that all members should wear the white ribbon at all times, and in a more uniform position than at present.

The various white ribbon papers and organs of the various departments of the work were urged to use all efforts to spread the work and to educate the people.

Sympathy was expressed with the Armenians, and it was hoped the European countries would take steps to stop the massacres.

Resolutions, denouncing lynching, liquor on ships and gambling were passed. The increasing danger of progressive card parties was also pointed out.

Each auxiliary of the World's Union was asked to establish the department of evangelistic work in all its branches. The church was recognized in the work and co-operation was asked.

Total abstinence, confirmed by science, was proclaimed as the corner-stone of the organization. Total prohibition was declared the goal of the ultimate work, and all nations should be hailed as allies. All influences were to be brought to bear on the ballot of the country. All license of the social evil was opposed, and every effort urged to promote purity.

Resolutions denouncing and opposing the use of narcotics and the cultivation of the poppy and tobacco plants by the British Government in India.

Equality between the sexes, all efforts to procure a common ballot box were recognized and urged.

It was resolved to send Jubilee greetings to Queen Victoria and to ask her to use her influence in obtaining political freedom for all the women in her Empire.

War was denounced, the press thanked and regret expressed that the President of the United States had refused to ratify the Anglo-American treaty.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The expected happened, and its advent was at the afternoon session.

Following devotions came several items of comparatively minor importance. First, there was the introduction of Rev. Dwight L. Williams, the "Crusade Poet," then followed the reception of the photo of the Polyglot petition sent by Lady Henry Somerset to the Dominion W.C.T.U., and consequent words of thanks by Mrs. Rutherford, on behalf of the Canadian Union.

Then came the crash. The fuse leading to the centre of discord was the announcement that there would be a general discussion, led by Mrs. Rounds, and open to all convention members, upon that innocent-appearing topic, "How May We Advance the White Ribbon Cause in All Countries?"

When Dr. Amelia Yeomans of Winnipeg arose. She said:

"We are fond of calling ourselves an army, a White Ribbon army, enrolled under the banner of the Prince of Peace, who was manifested to destroy the works of the Devil, and who came not to bring peace upon earth, but a sword, because ever and always does the spirit compromise with the best Christian soldier.

"How may our work be promoted?

"By faithfulness in recognizing and placing before the world as our exponents, in the person of our chief officers, only such women as are absolutely in sympatay, internally and externally, in thought and in action, with the principle which we have proclaimed to the world as the mainspring of all our work, that of undying opposition to the licensing or legal regulation of sin.

"I say this in love, the tenderest love, and in loyalty to our beloved cause."

In the Executive yesterday morning the World's general officers were re-elected: Lady Henry Somerset, vice-president; Miss Willard, president; Miss Slack, secretary; Miss Gordon, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Sanderson, treasurer."

Delegate after delegate followed in similar strain against Lady Somerset's election, and many United States delegates spoke bitterly, thinking themselves not fairly dealt with, and insinuating that it was the British weight in the end which re-elected poor Lady Henry!

However, the chair, with Miss Slack's assistance, showed them that more United States delegates had attended the Executive than all the Britishers put together, including the Australian colonies—United States 19, British 14.

With her usual tact, Miss Willard suggested changing the subject, and, after a motion of adjournment, moved by Mrs. Audill of New South Wales, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung with joined hands of many nations, and Sister Lily of London, Eng., pronounced the benediction.

A huge "White Ribbon Love Feast" was held in Massey Hall as a wind up to the convention last night. It was an exhilarating climax.

The World's President, Miss Frances E. Willard, took charge of the meeting, and promised that she would restrict each of the speakers to exactly one minute. Excepting in a few unavoidable cases, she kept her word. The result was that in a little over two hours time there were heard some 60 odd pithy little sentiments, all heartily received from as many Unionites.

It fell to the lot of Mrs. Kirk of Australia to publicly thank in a resolution, which was unanimously adopted by the convention, the Toronto public, press, City Council, school trustees, musical directors and choir, the pages, chorus of children, and any others whose kindness had contributed to the convention's success.

The Most Prominent Are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

How to Cure all Skin Diseases."

SUN LIFE	1,301.221	1,650.484	349 263	Increase of all other Canadian Companies Combined. $295.178.
TOTALS	$6,297.929	$6,942.370	$644,441

From the above it will be seen that the Sun Life's increase was more than that of all the other Company's combined. These figures are taken from the Official Report of the Government Superintendent of Insurance, and cannot, therefore, be disputed.

A Windfall.

This morning a gentleman waited upon Rev. S. J. Shorey, and without preliminary, handed him the sum of $50, which he said was the amount subscribed to the building fund of the George street Methodist church at the time of its erection, about twenty-five years ago. The gentleman stated that he had been living in a distant part of the province, and had never been asked for his subscription. Without analysing motives, it is a pleasure to record an honest action, even if long delayed. The labourer that came at the eleventh hour received the same reward as those who had been earlier in the field.

AN OCTOBER WEDDING.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Minnie Linton and Mr. E. A. Tanner.

An exceedingly happy and popular event and one which created a decided forore of excitement in society circles in Lakefield and Orono, took place in the Presbyterian church, Orono, on Tuesday, Oct. 26th, Rev. J. A. McKeen, B.A., officiating, when Miss Minnie Linton, second daughter of Jas. Linton, Esq., banker of Orono and Lakefield, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. E. A. Turner, chemist, of Lakefield.

The weather was simply ideal, and such as gladdens the heart of every bride and groom who are fortunate enough to be so favoured.

Exactly at 5 30 p.m. the bridal party filed up the aisle of the church, which had been tastefully decorated with flowers, etc.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and looked very charming in a gown of ivory white satin with pearl trimmings, wearing a veil and orange blossoms and carrying a large bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Colville, of Orono, was attired in a pretty costume of buttercup satin.

Mr. Tanner was ably assisted by his brother, Mr. F. W. Tanner, of Toronto.

Little Miss Mary McKean and Master Willie Cox acted as maid of honour and page, respectively.

After the ceremony the invited guests proceeded to the residence of the bride's father, where they sat down to an excellent breakfast, prepared by Harry Webb, of Toronto. The table flowers and bouquets were supplied from Dunlop's rosary.

Numerous valuable and useful gifts were presented to the happy couple, who left at 8 30 p.m. for Bowmanville, where they took the train for the east, followed by the best wishes of many friends.

Among the presents were a lovely silver soup toureen from Hon. Senator and Mrs. Cox, of Toronto, a beautiful silver tea service from Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cox, of Peterborough, and a handsome silver chafing dish from Mr. and Mrs. James Edward, of Montreal, and many others too numerous to mention.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Miss Mullen, of Brantford, and Mr. Arthur Mitchell, of Town.

The wedding took place in Brantford today of Mr. Arthur C. Mitchell, of town, son of Mr. Joseph Mitchell, and Miss Sarah Mullen.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs J. T. Wallace, No. 18, Chestnut avenue, at twelve o'clock, and after the serving of an elaborate wedding dejeuner, the young couple boarded the express for the east.

The bride was assisted by her sister and Mr. Joseph E. Mitchell, of Toronto, was groomsman.

On their arrival in Peterborough Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will take up their residence on Crescent street.

Arthur is one of Peterborough's most deservedly popular young men and his numerous friends will unite in extending congratulations to him.

FLED ON A BIKE.

But as the Wheel Wasn't his Own it Will Likely Cost him Dear.

Constable Adams left this morning for Coboconk where he will have delivered into his custody Thomas Cooper, charged with the theft of a bicycle on September 25th last, from Mr. W. J. Coughlin, Hunter street.

On the evening of the theft Mr. Coughlin left the bicycle, it seems, outside his place of business on Hunter street and on coming out to look for it several hours later found that it was gone. He inquired around about the wheel next day and heard that Cooper, who had been working for him, had been seen riding it. He said nothing of the matter for a week or so, hoping the boy would return it, but when he learned that the boy had left town that night he laid an information against him.

Cooper, it seems, has an uncle back in the timber limits near Norland and the Chief traced him to the vicinity and then left the matter in the hands of Constable Adair, of Norland, who arrested him yesterday in the limits about ten miles north of the village.

The prisoner will probably be given a hearing in the morning.

PERSONAL.

Father Murtagh, of Marmora, spent the day in town with the clergy of St. Peter's.

Mr. J. S. Knapman has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to take a short walk in the mornings. His friends are delighted to see him about again.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bradburn were in Port Hope yesterday attending the funeral of the latter's uncle, Mr. Geo. Helm, of that place.

Mr. Russell Carman, son of Mr. T. S. Carman, proprietor of the Belleville Ontario, is in town to-day with the Trinity University football team.

Mrs. James Holmes, of North Dakota has returned home for a visit after an absence of nearly nine years, and is the guest of her brother, Robert Laing, 502 Water street.

Mrs. Tate, of Lakefield, who has a large collection of curios, is sending the same to the Art Loan Exhibition, to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Conductor Jack Britton, of the Port Hope mixed, and his brakesman, Mr. Walter Mercer, returned yesterday from a three days' duck shooting. They camped at Ball Point, and had very fair success.

Mr. Edward Conroy, father of Mr. David Conroy, is seriously ill at his residence, Elizabeth street, Ashburnham. Mr. Conroy is over 80 years of age and his recovery is doubtful.

Mr. John Grant, Communication Road, Smith, is seriously ill with an affection of the brain. Dr. Burnham, of Toronto, with his local medical attendant, Dr. Caldwell, performed an operation on Monday morning, but hold out little hope of his recovery. He has been unconscious for some days.

Cause of Pain From Corns.

The pain caused by a corn is due to the inflammation of the flesh around the hardened skin or corn. A little "Quickcure" spread on the corn and covered with thin paper reduces the inflammation and stops the pain. Try it. It also relieves bunions, etc.

Friday and Saturday Attraction.

Manager Bradburn, influenced by many of the leading citizens of Peterborough, has succeeded in securing the Warren Conlan Company for a return engagement at his house for two nights and one matinee, Oct. 29th and 30th. On Friday evening they will present Sheridan Knowles' classic success, "Virginius;" Saturday night, "Othello," and Saturday matinee, by special request, "The Merchant of Venice" will be repeated. There is no company travelling to-day more worthy of special mention than Warren Conlan and his excellent support. Mr. Conlan as a tragedian has few if any rivals, for he certainly ranks with the best, possessing a good physique and a powerful voice, two essential qualities for a successful presentation of strong tragedy. Classic plays at modern prices should test the capacity of the opera house at every performance, especially when they are presented in the able manner of which the company is capable. Don't forget the matinee for children. Matinee prices, adults, 25c, children, 15c; evening prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50c. Seats are now on sale.

THE BERNHARD WALTHER CONCERT.

A Grand Audience and Highly Appreciated Programme.

The confidence in Mr. Hoover's well-known ability in concert management was demonstrated by a fine audience at the Bernhard Walther concert last night. The house was well filled with an audience representative of the best musical culture of the town. The stage was arranged with excellent taste and never before presented so attractive an appearance. The judicious disposition of splendid palms and other foliage made a setting of rare beauty. A conspicuous feature of the stage decoration or rather the central figure in beauty and interest was the magnificent Heintzman concert grand piano. The mahogany case, enriched with exquisite marquetrie, in artistic beauty of design and detail, worthy of Andree Boule, elicited the greatest admiration and this outward beauty was fortunately equalled by the splendid tone quality of the instrument.

The first number on the programme gave great promise of an enjoyable evening. It was a pianoforte solo, Liszt's Twelfth Rhapsodie Hongroise, which received a most artistic and finished interpretation at the strong and facile hand of Signor Giuseppe Dinelli. Its bristling technical difficulties melted into magnificent music under his easy and graceful manipulation. His playing of this selection was, by good judges, considered the gem of the evening. Signor Dinelli was no less successful in his second number, a double one, Paderewski's "Nocturne" and Godard's "Danse Moderne." His performance of these, though not demanding so much artistic work and feeling, caught the popular fancy, and the performer was compelled to respond to an insistent recall. This is in itself a great compliment. In Peterborough, as well as other places, the piano numbers on a programme are generally put down as makeweights, and it is very rarely that a performer is given the honour of a recall.

Mr. W. Graham Hodson, the tenor of the company, did his best work in his opening number—"Mona," by Stephen Adams. It suits the capacity of his voice, and he gave so pleasing an interpretation of it that he was heartily encored. He responded by gracefully singing "Mary of Argyle," which is better suited to his style and capabilities that the more difficult second selection, from Flotow's "Martha," or his third number, "Babylon," by Watson. A good voice with Mr. Hodson is marred by an enunciation that sometimes fails to convey to the hearer an idea of the language he is singing in. It is but justice to say that Mr. Hodgson was suffering from an accident which prevents him from taking a full inspiration.

Mr. Bernhard Walther's first violin number was the rather difficult Romance et Rondo, of Wieniawski; he hardly achieved the breadth of tone and treatment the composition demanded; but he reached his true sphere in the less exacting "Adagio Pathetique," of Godard, whose dreamy melody received a very sympathetic interpretation. He was rewarded with a warm recall and played "The Last Rose of Summer" in a very pleasing manner. Mons. Walther opened the second part of the programme with a double number, a [serenade and a mazourka, by Pierne and Wieniawski, respectively, and was recalled. His closing selection, a fantaisie on Scotch airs was arranged by himself. His imitation of the bagpipes was a very clever performance, and several airs were played with great delicacy and sweetness. Mons. Walther appears to best advantage in soft, pathetic compositions, and his touch seems to be light and delicate enough to dispense with the mute, which the great artists are discarding.

Madame Walther's charming stage presence, tuneful voice and delightfully clear enunciation, made her a favourite from the beginning. She opened with Tito Mattei's "For the Sake of the Past," and was very heartily encored. She sang with sweet and sprightly effect, "I Cannot Help Loving Thee," by Clayton Johns, with its lively lilt of melody, and a Scotch song, "My Laddie," in a capital manner. But her best work was perhaps in St. Quentin's "An Old Love Dream." Her fine singing was greatly assisted by the exquisitely contributed violin obligato of Mons. Walther, which was the most delicately dainty and tuneful of his evening's work. With the beautiful and sympathetic accompaniment of Signor Dinelli, this number was the most delightful one of the evening. The harmony, shading and tout ensemble being simply charming. By special request Madame Walther repeated (as an encore) "I cannot Help Loving Thee."

A STOLEN WATCH.

James McDonald was Charged With the Theft, but he was Discharged.

Henry McDonald was charged, before Magistrate Edmison, with stealing a watch, the property of Mr. Dalton, of Ashburnham.

Dalton, on going into the washroom at Hogan's Hotel, left the watch hanging on a nail in the sitting room and afterwards went upstairs and changed his clothes. When he came down his watch was missing, although the chain still hung on the nail. McDonald was seen loitering in the vicinity at the time and was afterwards arrested and charged with the theft.

The case was dismissed by the magistrate, the evidence submitted not being of a nature to connect McDonald with the crime.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Judgment Reserved in the Abusive Language Case. Which Was Heard Yesterday.

Judgment has been reserved by Magistrate Edmison in the case in which Messrs. Geo. Stevens, Mark Spencely, Jos. Spencely, Geo. Crouter and Peter Mape are charged with using insulting language to Mr. Jas. Bogue.

The case occupied all yesterday afternoon in the county police court, and a good deal of conflicting testimony was submitted on both sides.

It appears that the trouble centred around a truck, which Mr. Stevens swore he purchased from Mr. Bogue, and which Mr. Bogue states that he did not sell. Anyway Stevens use the truck for some time, and when Bogue went to take it away there was trouble—and the language complained of is then supposed to have been used.

The Crown Attorney says that the end is not yet.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for Mr. Bogue, Mr. E. B. Stone for Mr. Stevens, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for Mr. Mapes.

FALSE PRETENSES CASE.

John Barrett, a Canal Labourer, Gets Into Serious Trouble.

John Barrett has been arrested at Bowmanville on the request of Chief Rozel.

He is charged with obtaining money under false pretences from Gough Bros.

A week or so ago the prisoner purchased about twenty dollars worth of clothing from Gough Bros., and proffered in payment a time check on Brown, Love and Aylmer, Trent Canal contractors. Mr. Gough states that at the time the check was given he inquired if there was anything against it, as he knew the firm generally deducted the men's board from the checks before cashing them, but he was assured by Barrett that his board had been taken off before he was given the time check.

On this understanding Mr. Gough says he gave him the goods and also some five dollars or so in money.

When he presented the time check for payment at the office of Brown, Love & Aylmer, however, he was told that there was an unpaid board bill of $14 against it. Mr. Gough decided not to cash the check, and gave the matter into the hands of the police charging Barrett with obtaining goods under false pretences.

Barrett had, however, left town by this time and, hearing that he had gone to Lindsay, Chief Rozel asked Chief Bell about him, but that official stated that he wasn't there nor likely to be there, as he, himself, held a warrant for his arrest. He advised looking for the man in Orono.

Communicating with the constables in both Orono and Newtonville the chief got no satisfaction, and then asked Chief Douglas, of Port Hope, about the man. Chief Douglas replied that Barrett had been seen at an auction sale at Newcastle only the day before and named the Bowmanville constable as a man likely to effect an arrest. The last hint proved the true scent and Barrett is now in the Bowmanville lock up awaiting removal to Peterborough. The chief went down after him at noon.

ST. ANDREW'S Y.P.S.C.E.

After a short song service, the meeting opened with prayer. Miss Forsythe introduced the topic, Confessing Christ before Men; Why and How? She showed how practical the Christian life should be, and how we ought to have a clear idea of the stress the Lord puts upon confessing Him. St. Paul also speaks of it in these strong words: "If thou shall confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thy heart that God hath raised him from the dead thou shalt be saved."

It is of the highest importance that we understand precisely what is embraced in an act which seems to be as essential as believing. Why confess Him? 1. Because Christ asks us;—this ought to be reason enough for any true follower of Christ. If we love Him we should willingly do what He asks us. (2) By confessing Christ we identify ourselves with Him and declare that He is not only a Saviour, but that He is my Saviour. (3) We should confess Christ for the good of our fellowmen. How confess Him? (1) By acknowledging that we have accepted Christ and have openly united with His people, therefore confessing by our lives and conduct we should be loyal to Christ under all circumstances, for every duty disregarded or imperfectly discharged is an indication of a character not conformed to His will.

A very suitable duet, "Only a word for Jesus," was then sung by Misses Wedsell and VanEvery. Also a very appropriate solo by Mr. Maybee.

After the proposition of five new active members, which we are pleased to report, the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered Young's Point 8 5-16. The bid was refused.

Mr. Madden then offered the same factory the same price and secured it.

The board then adjourned.

Before the bidding began, the president stated that at the last meeting Mr. James Riddell of of the Bensfort factory, had given notice of motion that he intended moving for some action to be taken to arrange for bringing to Canada a few English cheesemakers, in order that Canadian dairymen might ascertain the secret of making such cheese as would compete with the English cheese in its own market, the latter realizing from 3 to 4 cents per pound more at present.

Before taking steps in the matter Mr. Riddell agreed that Mr. Drummond should first write to the Ottawa Experimental Farm about the matter. That it is only the specially made dairy cheese that can command this high price was proven by the following letter from the Commissioner which was received by President Drummond:

Department of Agriculture,
Ottawa, Oct. 19, 1897.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 14th inst., and I do not think that any instructor could be obtained from England which would enable our cheesemakers to manufacture a quality of cheese as fine as the finest English and Scotch cheddars, unless the patrons take the cost of care of the milk, and the curing rooms are so constructed that the cheese can be kept at a temperature not exceeding 65 degrees. So far as I have been able to learn, the method of manufacturing cheese in Canada is, so far as the method itself is concerned, superior to that followed in Great Britain. The finest cheese in Great Britain are made in private dairies, where from 30 to 100 cans are kept on the one farm. The milk is all handled in a very cleanly manner, and the cheese are cured at a temperature not above the point mentioned.

Yours truly,
J. W. ROBERTSON,
Commissioner.

WET WEATHER.

The dangers of exposure to cold and damp vividly portrayed by one who has experienced them.

Mr. John Conboy, 250 Sidney Street, St. John, N.B., talked to our reporter about his experience with kidney trouble, and his recent remarkable cure by Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Conboy's statement reads as follows:—

"For a number of years I have been troubled with kidney weakness, brought on by heavy lifting and exposure to wet and cold; also a heavy strain whereby I wrenched my back. I experienced great pain in the chest, extending through to the small of my back and around the loins.

"Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills my blood became vitiated, and my kidneys were greatly deranged in their action. I suffered also from nervousness and general debility, and I am thankful to say that by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, assisted by Laxa-Liver Pills, I am wonderfully improved. I also suffered from constipation and liver complaint, but found Laxa-Liver Pills an excellent remedy, aiding Doan's Kidney Pills in their splendid work.

"I am glad to testify to the wonderful curative powers of these great remedies, especially when they are used in combination, and feel assured that anyone trying them will not be disappointed in the result.

CURRIES AND R CE.

Directions to Make a Genuine East Indian Chicken Curry.

The hot weather sugests to the epicure "curries with their rice," East Indian chutneys that should accompany the curries, and mulligatawyn soups, as well as iced sherbets and creams.

Only those men and women who have lived in Injmy under the suns of the tropics understand thoroughly how to set a summer table, where the food is the most delicious of its kind, and is scientifically selected to meet the needs of the system in hot weather.

What is needed in summer is a delicate meat diet, but one substantial enough to make up for the wastes of the system caused by heat. To accomplish this end, there should be as little drain as possible on the digestive powers. In winter, when vigorous exercise is taken to keep the body warm, the digestive powers are capable of more wrk. In summer the digestion has not such stimulus and there is usually need of stimulants for digestion, such as mustard, curries and varieties of those "hot" or devilled dishes which people unacquainted with the science of the table frequently associate with winter food.

Curries are purely a summer dish, designed for sultry days. Lamb, veal, chicken and rabbit meat are all utilized. A teaspoonful of curry powder added to a pint of a dainty stew of any of these meats converts it into a curry. Persons who have lived in India and other parts of the tropics frequently use curry powder much as we use pepper, sprinkling it from an individual castor over eggs or services of meat. Curry powder is not used as much in this country as in England, where a great many peoples have acquired the taste from residence at one time or another in India.

It is a wholesome taste, and one that offers the stimulus of a change at a season when the appetite often fags. As far as possible the table should be different every season. By serving a variety of dishes in their season, without straining the purse to serve them out of season, the best, most varied and most wholesome table may be regularly maintained.

A bottle of the best English curry powder, which will be sufficient to give many curried dishes, costs but 25 cents. It is, therefore, cheaper to buy it in this way than to make it; but for those who are in the country, far from those city grocers who sell curry powder, a receipt may be of value.

Purchase at a trustworthy druggist's three ounces of coriander seed, three ounces of best tumeric, one ounce each of black pepper, mustard and ginger, half an ounce of cardamon seeds, and one-quarter of an ounce of cumin seeds. This receipt comes from India, and dates back to the days of that famous English gastronome, Dr. Kitchener.

It is still the rule most often used today. Sometimes a quarter of an ounce of cayenne pepper is added to it. Pound the seeds to a powder, and add the other ingredients. Mix them thoroughly, and keep them in a bottle closely corked from the air.

To make a genuine East India chicken curry, parboil a pair of tender chickens. Remove the bones and cut the flesh up into two-inch squares. Season and dredge the chicken lightly with flour. Fry a white onion cut fine and a half clove of garlic (the latter is not strictly necessary) in two large tablespoonfuls of butter. Remove the garlic, if used, and put in the pieces of chicken and fry them a fine brown. Add a tablespoonful of flour to the butter the chickens were fried in, and stir in slowly about three cupfuls of the water they were parboiled in. Let this sauce boil slowly a few minutes, then add the pieces of fried chicken, with a tablespoonful of grated cocoanut, and let the whole simmer a quarter of an hour. Then dish the chickens and stir into the broth a tablespoonful of the best English curry powder which has been wet to a paste with a little water. Taste the liquid to see if it is well-seasoned. Draw the pot containing it to the back of the fire, and add the yolks of two eggs, first beaten with a little of the hot broth. Do not let the liquid boil again, but turn it at once over the chickens, which should be surrounded by a border of rice.

The proper thing to serve with this curry is "sweet mango." It is excellent with no other accompaniment than rice. It is not strictly necessary to parboil the chicken, though East Indian cooks do it. Tender chickens can be fried in butter without previously parboiling them. They may then be simmered slowly in a little water or chicken stock, in place of the parboiled water. Season them as described, but, if you desire, omit the cocoanut. Veal or lamb curry may be prepared in the same way.

A famous English curry bears the name of Lord Clive. To make Lord Clive curry, stew until tender in a rich stock six sliced onions, a sliced green apple and a clove of garlic cut in half. Add a teaspoonful of curry powder, and season with salt and cayenne pepper. Warm up in this sauce any kind of delicate cooked meat cut into small pieces.

SOME TRIED RECIPES.

Cakes, Puddings and Desserts That Are Wholesome and Toothsome.

Coffee Cake.—Which keeps like fruit cake. Cream together one cupful sugar, half cupful of butter. Add two eggs and one cupful molasses, half cupful strong coffee, in which is dissolved one scant teaspoonful soda; two and one-half cupfuls flower, one of raising, one of currants, one quarter pound citron, one teaspoonful each cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Flavor with lemon. Bake in a moderate oven nearly one hour.

Layer Cake.—Cream together one cupful butter, two of sugar; add one cupful sweet milk, four eggs—beating yolks and whites separately, adding the stiffly beaten whites last. Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with three cupfuls flour. Bake in this in hot oven. When sufficiently cool spread with filling. For a lemon filling (delicious) take one grated sour apple, one cupful sugar, grated peel and juice of one lemon, one beaten egg. Let it cook until it thickens, stirring until done to avoid burning. Spread as for jelly cake. One-half of the cake recipe is sufficient for a three-layer cake. With the addition of a little flour, this receipe is excellent for patty pans.

Black Cake.—One pound flour, one of butter, two and a half each of raisins and currants, one and a half of citron, one of bark brown sugar, half pint of molasses, nine eggs, two tablespoonfuls each of cinnamon, mace and cloves, one wineglassful each of wine and brandy, four oranges, four lemons. Brown half the flour. Mix all the fruit together and put into cake the last thing. Pour the wine and brandy over the spices before adding. Bake two hours and leave in pans till cold. This is a famous old Hartford (Conn.) recipe.

Snow Pudding.—One good third boxful gelatine (Plymouth Rock preferred) dissolved in a little cold water, one cupful sugar, juice of one lemon. Strain and set away to cool. When nearly stiff, add whites of two eggs beaten to a froth. Beat all well together and put in earthen mold to cool. Take yolks of three eggs and white of one, beat and add one pint milk. Make a soft custard and flavor with vanilla. Turn the jelly into a glass dish and pour the custard round it. This is better made the day before using.

Tapioca Cream.—Soak two heaping spoonfuls tapioca over night. Scald one pint sweet milk and add tapioca, stirring all the time. Add yolks of two eggs, well beaten, with half cupful sugar. Cook a few minutes, stirring well. Then add whites of two eggs beaten to a froth. Flavor to taste.

Russian Cream.—Half boxful gelatine, cover with water and let stand fifteen minutes. One quart milk, four eggs, one cupful sugar. Beat yolks of eggs and add gelatine and sugar, with some of the cold milk. Remainder of milk should be boiling when this is stirred in. Let the custard cook as long as possible without curdling. When cool stir in whites of eggs beaten to stiff froth. Flavor with vanilla. This can be made the day before using.

Chocolate Cream.—One quart milk, one pint cream whipped light, half boxful gelatine soaked in one cupful of the milk, two eggs—yolks and whites beaten separately, one cupful powdered sugar, four tablespoonfuls grated chocolate, vanilla to taste. Scald milk and stir into it while still in saucepan the soaked gelatine and sugar. Heat up once, and when gelatine is quite dissolved, strain. Wet up chocolate with cold water before putting into the hot milk. Stir thoroughly and return to saucepan, and when smoking hot add it gradually to the beaten yolks. Set back on fire and boil very gently five minutes—not longer. Turn into a broad pan or dish to cool. Whip, when it begins to cool, gradually and thoroughly with the beaten whites. Lastly, beat in the whipped cream.

Lemon Whip.—To one pint cream add half pint sherry wine, juice of two lemons, rind of one shaved off, a little less than half pound sugar. Mix well all but cream; then add latter and beat 20 minutes with wire beater. Serve in glass cups.

Graham Pudding.—One half-cupful molasses, one-fourth cupful melted butter, one half-cupful sweet milk, one egg, one even teaspoonful soda, one-half cupful raisins, same of currants, a little salt, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Steam two and one-half hours. Sauce: Two cupfuls sugar, one of butter, one egg. Stir until very light. Set over water to melt.—Country Gentleman.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose assistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y.

Went down to Jones' t'other night; I jes' drop't in to see
What's become of all the boys—seems mighty strange to me.
Found the old man all alone an' kind o' restless like,
A-huntin on an old map for the Klondike.

"What's come o' Bill?" sez I to him. Sez he to me, sez he,
"He packed his kit jes' t'other day Alaska for to see;
He took a thunder'n sight o' grub along with brother Ike.
To hunt for yaller metal on the Klondike."

"What's come of John?" sez I to him. Sez he, to me, sez he,
"He's tryin' to ketch up with Bill—he'll beat, 'tween you an' me;
I fix him up a good grub stake, an', long with brother Mike,
He's gone for yaller metal on the Klondike."

"Where's Mrs. Jones?" sez I to him. Sez he, to me, sez he,
"She's packin' up a lot o' grub an' things for her an' me;
An' if the boys don't hurry up—that's Bill, Ike, John an' Mike We'll beat 'em to the diggin's on the Klondike."

Watch a Plant Grow

This is something that we read of in most Books on the microscope, and although it is not by any means true plant-growth, it is very curious and beautiful. Procure a little Collomia seed, which may be had from seedsmen; take one of the seeds, and, with a razor or very sharp knife, cut off a very tiny slice. Lay this slice on a slip of glass (an ordinary slide), cover it with a tiny glass cover, and the microscope being in a vertical position, lay it on the stage. If you wish to incline the microscope, you must use a square glass cover, and not a round one, and hold the cover to its place by means of a very fine rubber ring. Now bring the thin slice of seed into focus, and then apply a drop of water to the edge of the glass. The water will penetrate between the glasses and moisten the seed, which will at once throw out a very large number of spiral fibres, giving it the appearance of veritable germination. Beginners will find it easier to perform this experiment if one will apply the water while the other looks through the instrument. A single drop is enough.

The Thoughtful Inventor.

The inventor of the modern kitchen tables was interested in the housekeeper's comfort, for besides supplying the table with the usual two broad drawers, he put in underneath these one large drawer in the form of a half circle, the deepest part measuring about sixteen inches, thus giving a convenient receptacle for many larger articles that are always needed.

The Roman mother who with her mantle defended the body of her child from the ravenous birds of prey is a perfect type of motherhood in all times and among all people. To protect her offspring from harm is the overwhelming instinct of motherhood.

Modern mothers are coming to understand that the best protection they can give their children against the preying accidents of life is to transmit to them an abundance of natural health and hardihood But a mother cannot confer health and strength upon her offspring unless she has it in some measure herself.

Prospective mothers should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, which gives perfect health and strength to the special organs concerned in motherhood.

Taken early during the expectant time, it makes the coming of baby entirely safe and nearly painless. It insures cheerfulness and recuperative energy to the mother and constitutional vigor to the child.

It is the only perfect and positive specific for all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism.

Mrs F. E. Forgey, of Carna, Keyapaha Co., Neb., writes: "I write to you again concerning my daughter, Mrs D. Billings. She has taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' She thinks the medicine did her a world of good She was confined the 15th of February. Was sick but a short time and has a 10 pound daughter Got along nicely afterward. Looks good, complexion looks clear, and she says she never felt so well.

JOKES ON THE RURAL CHOIR.

Sometimes They Render Familiar Hymns in an Amusing Manner.

The rural choir often renders familiar hymns in an amusing fashion, such as the one in which this line occurs:

"And bow before Thy throne."

It was in a church where they had a line for the tenor and soprano to hold the notes, while the others came in on the alto and base, so that the line was given in this style:

And bow-wow-wow-wow-wow wow-wow-wow-wow,
And bow-wow-wow before Thy throne.

The effect of this upon the congregation was not particularly edifying.

A tune called after the patient man of Uz-Job was a favorite with choir and congregation in the old days. It was then appropriately set to long meter hymns, like the one beginning, "Stir up this stupid heart to pray." And this was the way it was sung by the village choir:

Stir up this stu—
Stir up this stu—
Stir up this stupid heart to pra

Another "Job" tune always had for its refrain the line, "And love thee better than before." Now hear the choir reduce that to its needs:

And love Thee bet—
And love Thee bet—
And love Thee better than before.

A quaint story, with a touch of pathos in it, is told of an old minister, a German theologist, who always lined out his hymns and accompanied them with remarks. On one occasion his eyes troubled him, and, looking at his people, he said:

Mine friends mine eyes are growing dim,
I can see not to read the hymn.

His deacons at once gave the pitch and the congregation, to the old minister's great surprise, sung the hymn. So he attempted a mild remonstrance:

I did not say to read the hymn
I said mine eyes are growing dim.

With much alacrity the congregation sung this second version, but it was too much for the minister, who, unaware that he had unconsciously fallen into rhyme, bawled in a furious voice:

You fools! Why will you sing that hymn?
I said mine eyes were growing dim.

A new soprano was having a trial in a church where she proved wholly inadequate to please the congregation. She sung as a solo that grand appeal, "Oh, had I the wings of a dove?" When she made an unusual and unsatisfactory effort in "I would fly away and be at rest," an old deacon rose in his pew.

"I wouldn't wait for wings, lassie," he said, "I would fly right now," and it may be inferred that her services were not engaged.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

Bought a Town and Moved It Six Miles.

Every now and then marvelous stories come out of the West. One of the most remarkable is told by a Missourian. It is a story of the days when the people of the Bullion State were driving out of it the Mormons. The latter built a town at Nauvoo, on the banks of the Mississippi. There they erected their temple and were making much progress, until the people of Illinois arose in anger, burned the temple, murdered Joe Smith, and drove the rest of the community to take final refuge in Utah. Afterward a colony of Russian colonists came along and bought the land. They had no use for the 350 buildings, and sold them to a Missourian for a trifle. The following winter this enterprising individual put rollers under the houses, slid them down the banks of the frozen river, and then slid, rolled and pushed them six miles further up the stream, where, alone and single-handed he founded the town of Fort Madison, Ia.—Oreconian.

TIMELY FRUIT NOTES.

HOW GROWERS SHOULD TREAT SHRUBS AND VINES JUST NOW.

Hints That, If Heeded, Will Make Considerable of a Difference in Next Year's Crops—Every Farmer Is Really Interested in This Subject.

Keep the raspberries pinched back.

August is the month in which to bud peach trees.

Use the suds from the washtubs as fertilizer in the orchard.

Always select trees with a smooth, healthy looking bark.

See that no suckers are growing from the roots of the fruit trees.

Cut out all of the old canes from among the raspberries now.

Proper thinning of the fruit gives it a better opportunity to develop.

August is one of the best months in which to set out strawberry plants.

Now is a good time to check growth by pinching back the terminal buds.

Late cultivation is often detrimental by not allowing time for the new wood to ripen.

Sort all fruit to be sent to market carefully, and in this way increase its value.

Prune out all useless shoots in young fruit trees before the growth is completed.

All wood that is more than two years old should be cut out of the gooseberries.

Use hardwood ashes liberally among the small fruits and in the garden.

When fruit is thinned the parent plant is exhausted far less than when all is allowed to remain.

One advantage in selecting a reasonably dry soil for an orchard is that it permits of deeper setting.

Coal ashes applied liberally around the fruit trees will help to keep away insect pests.

Before setting out strawberry plants, be sure that the soil is worked into a fine tilth.

Good growth now practically determines the value of bearing canes and vines next season.

Small and inferior berries are often the result of letting the vine get too thickly matted in the rows.

One objection to too low training in the orchard is that it interferes with the cultivation.

A good mulch properly applied keeps down weeds and renders the soil loose, moist and porous.

Every farm should have an orchard for home use proportioned to the necessities of the family.

The safest way to get rid of orange rust in raspberries is to dig out every affected plant and burn it.

If fruit trees are kept carefully trimmed from the beginning they may easily be given the desired form.

For family use, especially, plant the orchard with a view to having the fruit ripen at different times.

The orchard can be made to serve two purposes—the production of fruit and as a range and feeding ground for poultry.

Apples should be picked as soon as ripe. If there is delay the apples will fall off and more or less of the crop will be lost.

Propagating Small Fruits.

Take cuttings of currants in September after the new wood has ripened, as may be seen as having turned brown. Make them about six inches in length, from the new wood removing the leaves. Plant them so as only one bud is left above the surface, and they will take root in the autumn and be ready to make growth promptly in the spring. Some leaves or litter should be laid around them when cold weather comes on, to prevent them from heaving when the frost comes out of the ground.

Cuttings of the gooseberry are more difficult to root, but treated in the same way a portion of these made from our American varieties will root. But the better way to raise gooseberries is by layering. This can be done as early as the latter part of July. Draw the soil up about a bush and lay the branches partly down upon it and heap fine soil up over them, spatting it down well with the back of the spade to make it lie close to the wood. The leaves should be removed from the portions of the stems which are covered. Leave the plant earthed up in this way all winter, and in spring level off the soil and cut away the rooted branches and plant them out to make a set of strong roots, before final transplanting for fruiting. From the plant thus employed (called a stool plant) another set of shoots will grow, and at the proper time in summer it can be earthed up, and thus an annual crop of plants be produced.—Vick's Magazine.

Throat lined with Ulcers

A Young Lady Cured of Long Standing Catarrh and Catarrhal Sore Throat by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Miss Anna A. Howey, of Eden, Ont., says that she suffered from Catarrh for ten years used a number of remedies advertised, but was always disappointed in the result.

Last fall she suffered intense pain in her head and her throat was lined with ulcers. The doctors called it Catarrhal Sore Throat, but did not cure it. She saw that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure was being highly recommended, so procured a box from C. Thomson, druggist, Tilsonburg, Ont., and commenced its use. Soon the ulcers cleared away from her throat, the pain in her head ceased. She says that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure does not cause distress or sneezing when being used, and is the most effective catarrh remedy she ever tried.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, a Justice of the Peace, declares that he knows Miss Howey and her mother, and can vouch for the truthfulness of her statements.

"CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW."

This letter causes a great deal of amusement in the reading and makes the tea go off as merrily as though Mr. Depew himself were there to help it along.

A Tesla tea is the most remarkable feast of all. It is held under the trees at dusk and the table is lighted from small incandescents hung in the trees. Upon the table are wonderful dishes of which you do not know the name. The souvenir menu card reads:

"I never know what I am eating.
"TESLA."

This was once received by a lady who wrote to the "artificial daylight" wizard to know upon what food he fed and to get his favorite recipe.

There are fish dishes borrowed from Norway, with a queer sour sauce poured over the fish, which is boiled, freed from bones and minced. There is a hot dish of chopped peppers from Mexico, with a lightning sauce. There is a gamekeepers' dish from England, which you must guess the name of. It is a bird browned all over and covered with small chopped greens. Then there is a Holland dish, which looks like succotash, but which is really small, round noodles, with beans and corn, all boiled together and dressed with milk. You guess the names of the dishes as you partake, and if you want to know how to make them a servant hands you a written recipe.

This is a very pleasant form of summer entertainment and one that the women enjoy because it gives them a chance to pay back social obligations in a new and most interesting way.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

SUFFERING VERY GREAT

In the Fire-Swept District Near Ottawa.

THE CHIEF ENUMERATOR YOUNG

Tells of Great Hardships Being Endured in Cambridge Township—Mr. Bertram, His Wife and Children Starving and Half Naked.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Ex-Chief Young, who is the chief enumerator of the sufferers by fire in Russell and Prescott Counties, states that the suffering was intense. Mr. Young says that in the back portions of Cambridge Township the hardships that are being endured are pitiful. He tells the story of a family named Bertram. He says there is a wife, a little boy, a little girl and the father. The four have lived on buckwheat and potatoes ever since the fire. The father has a portion of a suit, the little girl has nothing but her undergarments, and the wife wears a shawl instead of a waist. None of the family have boots or shoes or any blankets to keep them warm at night. They have crawled into an old log barn and tried to patch up the holes with mud. At night the two children huddle between the parents, as they try to sleep upon the ground. Mr. Young says this is only one sample of the suffering that is being endured in the back part of the township. There is a very strong feeling throughout the burned district that hunting should be prohibited through there this year. The deer and other animals have no place to hide, and the unfortunate settlers fear that their food supply will be totally destroyed. Mr. Young returned to Casselman yesterday morning to continue the taking of the census.

Hon. Sydney Fisher was interviewed yesterday in regard to the report that tuberculosis had broken out on the Experimental Farm.

"Some days ago," said the Minister of Agriculture, "one of the animals was sick, and by mistake the wrong medicine was given it. The result was that the animal died. On examination it was discovered that the animal was suffering from tuberculosis.

"Professor Saunders had the whole herd tested, and has found that the tuberculosis existed to a considerable extent. He immediately took steps to have the animals that were affected with the disease separated from those that were not.

"In a very short time," concluded the Minister, "a full statement will be prepared and given to the public."

Following the report that the Canadian Pacific Railway intend placing steamers on the Stickeen River, so as to get a share of the Yukon trade, comes the information that the British Columbia Government intends giving a subsidy to a railway in connection with his route, from Telegraph Creek to Teslin Lake, a distance of over 100 miles.

The subsidy it is said, will be about $80,000 per mile. If this is done then the Dominion Government will no doubt follow suit, and in this way an all-Canadian route will soon be built into the Yukon.

SHOULD PROTECT CATHOLICS

From Unwarranted Cruelty and Protestants From Unprovoked Insult.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 27.—Rev. A. W. Richardson, whose marriage caused the pastoral instructions to be issued by Archbishop Cleary, has been interviewed, and he remarks that as a pastor of equal authority, but unequal assurance, to Mgr. Cleary," he thinks His Grace's personal references were in exceeding bad taste, not to say studiously cruel. The insinuations and accusations as to the major part of the community living in open adultery and public shame are termed outrageous; and could only be used "in the security of his own altar." Outside of it his person would be in danger. No one will fret over his threats, which he is entirely unable to inflict. Mr. Richardson thinks Roman Catholics should be protected from His Grace's unwarranted cruelty, and the Protestants from unprovoked insult.

ONE DAY IN TORONTO.

The Happenings at the Capital During the Past Twenty-four Hours.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—There is a rate war on among the marine insurance men in the city. The cutting of rates, which has already been reduced by competition about 30 per cent., is on imports. The competition is very keen just now, but the disposition all round is to meet the cut whatever it may be.

There is a large increase in the marine insurance business of late, and the war is the outcome of the efforts of one or two companies to secure the bulk of it.

The hotelkeepers of the Province are preparing for the approaching elections, and will insist on written promises from candidates.

The Police Commissioners have decided to draw up a by-law to regulate the hours of labor for livery drivers and the livery business in general.

Norman Daguerre, an employee in the Hobbs wood-working establishment, was yesterday very seriously injured while adjusting a belt.

The cause of the recent fire at the Central Prison is reported to have been owing to a spark from a hot journal in the broom factor. The twine and broom factory will both be rebuilt on the old site.

The differences between the wholesale grocers of Toronto and Montreal have not yet been settled, although negotiations have been going on for some time past for an amicable arrangement. The chief difficulty appears to be over the selling of sugar.

Charles Adams, Robert Snevin and James Garvin, three young vagabonds, were caught yesterday afternoon while in the middle of a crap game in a lane running west of Bay street, opposite Temperance street. Adams was fined $5 and costs or thirty days, and the other two $2 and costs or twenty days.

ECZEMA TEN YEARS

Suffered Untold Agonies. Limbs Swollen so Could Not Get About.

Ablest Physicians Signally Failed. Was Absolutely Disheartened. Had Lost All Hope.

Gave CUTICURA a Trial Which Resulted in Absolute and Perfect Cure.

For ten years I suffered untold agonies from that dread disease Eczema, my lower limbs most of the time being so swollen and broken out that I could hardly go about. I had to wear slippers so that I could move about at all. My brother, a physician of thirty years' practice and extensive experience, had tried in vain to effect a cure and signally failed. I tried other physicians of splendid ability with like results, and had reached that point where I became absolutely disheartened, and in fact had lost all hope, when a friend (after long and continued persuasion) succeeded in inducing me to at least give CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial. I shall never regret that I did so, and until my dying day I shall sing the praises of them. I used two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP and two boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), and it resulted in an absolute and permanent cure. I feel that I owe suffering humanity the debt of at least, in my feeble way, calling their attention to my case and absolute cure. I am now, I feel, perfectly cured, sound as a dollar, and the sweets of life are still mine, thank God, and to CUTICURA REMEDIES I attribute my almost miraculous cure. I refer all interested to the Postmaster of this place, any of the ministers, the prominent business men, and all of the citizens of our vicinity indiscriminately, and especially to my friend, John A. B. Shippey, attorney at law, who succeeded in persuading me to give CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial. With profound gratitude, I remain your most enthusiastic admirer, DAVID M. SAPP, Plymouth, Ill.

THE HINTERLAND FRONTIER.

Threatened Trouble Between England and France.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Journal says grave news has reached St. Louis from the Dahomey Hinterland to the effect that complications are imminent at Nikki and elsewhere in Borgu, of which territory Nikki is the capital and which, it is claimed in England, belongs to Great Britain by virtue of a treaty concluded with the King of Borgu prior to the treaties made with that monarch by representatives of France.

It is added that on receipt of the news referred to M. Lebon, the Minister for the Colonies, who is now looking after French interests in Senegambia, immediately despatched reinforcements to Dahomey.

Lagos, West Coast of Africa, Oct. 26.—A detachment of the West India regiment stationed here has started for the frontier of the Hinterland.

THE MASSEY DIAMONDS.

The Man Who Stole Them Believed to be in Custody in Buffalo.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—There is a strong probability that the police are hot upon the heels of the person concerned in the jewelry robbery at the residence of Walter E. H. Massey a week or so ago. News comes from Buffalo that Detective Burrows has been there and has been accompanied home by a woman who is believed to know considerable of the affair. A young man who gives the name of Henry Lepet is under arrest there, having been apprehended in the attempt to sell a diamond brooch in a jewelry store. In his pockets was found evidence that he comes from Toronto, and that he has raised money on other jewelry, which probably once belonged to Mr. Massey. Though the police are very reticent in the case, it is thought that suspicion has fallen on one who knew the household and premises well. The woman was questioned at considerable length yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Reburn and Crown Attorney Curry, and further developments may take place at any moment.

WILL LAST FOR AGES.

Pullman's Body Encased in a Mass of Concrete.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The casket containing the body of George M. Pullman now lies in a mass of concrete one and a half feet thick on the bottom and at the sides, and three feet on top, while bars of steel, placed above the casket, effectually protect it from vandal attacks. The work of putting in the concrete and placing of the steel bars was completed late this afternoon.

Mr. Pullman's family desired that something be done to render the grave impregnable to attack, for vandalism was feared, particularly in view of the ill-feeling engendered because of the great strike of 1894 and threats made against Mr. Pullman's life at that time.

The heavy lead-lined mahogany box containing the casket was wrapped in tar paper, upon which was laid an inch coating of asphaltum, which will prevent the ingress of air, and, except in the case of some extraordinary disturbance, will preserve the body and the enclosed casket for ages.

A MINER SHOT DEAD.

Riot in the Village of Broderick, Pa., By Partisans of Rival Landlords.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 27.—A riot took place in the mining village of Brodericks, this county, before dawn yesterday. A bad feeling had existed for some time between proprietors of two boarding houses, John Bolitch and George Hornick. Filled with liquor, the partizans of Bolitch attacked Hornick's house with stones, axes and clubs. They had nearly demolished the building when John Garvra, a boarder, fired from an upstairs window with a Winchester rifle directly into the crowd. Steve Muri, one of the attacking party, fell dead with a bullet in his heart. Charles Sicch was wounded in the side. The invaders fell back when the shooting began, and the arrival of a couple of constables put a stop to further hostilities.

Where Specialists Failed Dr. Chase's Cured Catarrh.

James Spence, Clachan, Ont., writes:—"I had been a sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years. It became chronic and I had given up hopes of ever being cured when advised by a friend to try Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I at once started and am pleased to state that three boxes effected a complete cure, and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from Catarrh."

Parmelee's Pills possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O Ont., writes: "I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one of that will sell well."

Damaged in a Pitch-in.

Buffalo, Oct. 26.—One north-bound Lake Shore freight train collided with the rear of another at Brockton early this morning, lifting the caboose of the first train and letting it fall on the engine of the second train. Engineer Isaac Miller of the second train was caught in the wreckage and his left thigh broken and his body scalded from escaping steam. He was released after two hours' work and brought to this city, where he lives. Daniel Slavin, the fireman, jumped and saved himself. The wreck is believed to have resulted from heavy fog obscuring the signals.

Terrible Accident at Chatham.

Chatham, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Robert Flater, a carpenter, aged 70 years, employed at the Mason Campbell Lumber Mill Co.'s works, met with a frightful accident at the factory this morning. Mr. Flater while on the second floor leaned over the elevator guard to watch for the lift, which, as it happened was descending swiftly from above. Before he could get away the huge cage was upon him, pinning him against the guard rail. That he was not at once crushed to death is considered miraculous. As no examination has yet been made it cannot be said whether or not the internal injuries will be fatal.

VILLENEUVE MURDER

Wife of the Deceased Committed for Trial.

DISCHARGE OF THE CHARTRANDS.

Mrs. Villeneuve Desired to Testify But Was Prevented by Her Lawyer, Who Claimed the Son's Evidence Was Compatible With His Mother's Innocence—Trial Nov. 30.

Chelmsford, Oct. 27.—(Special).—The preliminary investigation into the charge against Louise Villeneuve, Arthur Chartrand and Phileas Chartrand of murdering Felix Villeneuve, husband of the female prisoner, on his farm in Rayside Township on the 15th inst., was concluded at noon to-day before Police Magistrate Quibell, and resulted, as predicted in last night's despatch, in the full commitment of the woman to stand her trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction and the discharge of Arthur and Phileas Chartrand from custody. The defence offered no evidence, although the prisoner herself was very anxious to testify, and her counsel had some difficulty in restraining her. The evidence taken to-day was unimportant and developed no new features in the least. Hemas Richer and Joseph Dubrisac, neighboring farmers, living on adjoining homesteads, deposed to being called to the scene when the dying victim was first discovered, the latter adding that Mrs. Villeneuve explained to him that deceased had fallen off the building and that two logs had fallen on him. These logs, as pointed out by the prisoner, were about nine or ten feet long and five inches in diameter. Neither of these witnesses knew of any improper relations between Arthur Chartrand and the woman.

Alex. Matheson, the Provincial Constable, who has had the case in hand, gave evidence of his visit to the farm and the investigation there, after which Crown-Attorney Kehoe intimated that he would rest the case so far as the male prisoners were concerned, and as nothing had been adduced to implicate either of them in the slightest degree with the charge he would press it no further against them. The magistrate accordingly discharged them. Phileas Chartrand was then called as a Crown witness. He added nothing to the previous testimony. His brother, Delphise, was also examined with like result, after which the Crown announced that no further evidence would be offered, and asked for the commitment of the accused.

Mr. Fowler, counsel for the woman, contended that no case had been made out to warrant such a course. The boy's evidence was, he claimed, compatible with his mother's innocence, and the doctors showed that violence must have been offered which the prisoner would not be capable of.

Magistrate Quibell intimated that he intended to commit the accused. There was, he said, no doubt that a murder had been committed, and it was clear that the prisoner ought to know more about it than anybody else. He accordingly formally committed her, and bound over the witnesses in the usual form.

The Assizes at which she will stand her trial open at Sault Ste. Marie on Nov. 30, before Chancellor Boyd. The accused woman took her commitment with apparent stoicism, and, with the exception of attempting to testify in her own behalf, showed little concern in the proceedings. Notwithstanding her outward appearance of composure, there is no doubt she is laboring under keen excitement, so much so that during the night she was quite ill and medical attendance had to be given her.

THE CROW'S NEST.

The C. P. R. Issues $5,000,000 of Preferred Stock to Build the Pass Line.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—There was a good deal of interest to-day over the news from London to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway had provided for the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass line by a $5,000,000 issue of preferred stock, and that the drop of a little over one point in the common stock was brought about by the deal in question. The drop could only be explained by the fact that a good many holders of common stock were unloading in order to be free to purchase the preferred. The vice-president said it was not correct that an issue of £1,000,000 had been made, as stated on the street, but the facts were these: The Canadian Pacific had made arrangements in London that would secure them all the money they would require on the Crow's Nest Pass till the middle of next year, the same to be met by the issuing of preferred stock, as the money would be required. Mr. Shaughnessy admitted that the slight drop in London might be caused for the reason given above, but another C. P. R. official said it was on account of the war scare between England and France. "I would like," he said, "to see the newspapers suppressed for one year, and by that time the business interests of the country would be on a good footing."

A terrible collision took place this morning on the belt electric tramway which connects the city with Boat de l'Isle, 12 miles down the river. One car was going down and the other coming up, and they met with such terrible force that one of the motormen, named St. Pierre, was killed instantly, while the second was badly injured. Someone, of course, blundered.

Warburton to form a new administration. The new Government was sworn in this afternoon as follows: Premier, Hon. A. B. Warburton; Attorney-General, Hon. H. C. McDonald; Commissioner of Public Works, Hon. J. R. McLean; Commissioner of Crown Lands and Provincial Secretary-Treasurer, Hon. Angus MacMillan. Without portfolio, Hon. J. W. Richards, Bideford; Hon. Benjamin Rogers, Charlottetown; Peter McNutt, Malpeque, and Anthonia McLaughlin, St. Peter's. One seat remains in the new Cabinet yet to be filled.

BUFFALO FOR BANFF.

T. G. Blackstock, the Toronto Lawyer, Presents the Government With a Bull and Two Cows.

Ottawa, Oct. 27. — Thomas G. Blackstock, the well-known Toronto lawyer, has presented the Government with three buffalo—a bull and two cows—to be placed in the national park at Banff. Mr. Blackstock recently secured these animals, which are perfect specimens of their kind, in Texas at great expense, and had them shipped direct to Banff, and a despatch just received by Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, from the superintendent of the national park, announces their safe arrival.

These fine and pure-bred representatives of the bison family have been placed in a corral with a good log building on it where they will spend the winter, and in the spring they will be turned loose and given the freedom of the park.

A BAD BREAK.

The Soulanges Canal Damaged to the Extent of $100 000 Thirteen Hundred Feet Fell In.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The news was received here to-day that the side of the Soulanges Canal for a distance of 1300 feet and to a depth of 70 feet had fallen in, carrying with it three large piers and doing damage which may reach $100,000. The accident happened in the night time and there is, therefore, no loss of life, though Guardian Fay and his shanty were almost buried in the mud, and he only saved himself by hours of work. The accident happened at what is known as the Raynor section, just above the Coteau du Lac, and at a point where the contractors were at work building a bridge. The largest pier was 26 feet high and cost many thousands of dollars. Those who have viewed the wreck say it is evident that this pier was the starting point of the accident. Instead of standing 26 feet high in the air, it is now only 6, having sunk 20 feet. Other piers are completely demolished. The direct cause of the accident is attributed to the presence of many springs under the section destroyed. Constant dynamiting seems to have shaken the earth to such an extent that the foundations were easily washed away, and the whole ridge only needed a start such as that given by the sinking pier to fall away in the canal, hence the accident. The works are in charge of Mr. Thomas Munroe, chief engineer of the Soulanges Canal.

DR. BESSEY'S CASE.

Further Evidence Given Before Coroner Johnson as to Mrs. Thomas' Condition Before Death.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—The death of Jennie Thomas, at 187 Church-street, on May 30, was further investigated by Coroner Johnson at Millard's undertaking establishment, Yonge-street, last night. Dr. W. E. Bessey, the elderly Carlton-street practitioner, who is charged with murdering the woman by procuring an abortion, was present, attended by his counsel, Mr. Faulds. Messrs. Curry and Dewart appeared on behalf of the Crown.

Mr. J. E. Brown, Church-street, testified that he had been called to see Mrs. Thomas on May 8, and had attended her up till the time of her death. She had told him, after some hesitation, that she had been in trouble for two or three months, and that she had called in Dr. Bessey to help her out of her trouble. She also told witness that Dr. Bessey had performed an operation upon her about three days before, and that after four visits he had said she was all right, and that he would not need to attend her further.

Dr. Brown's examination of his patient showed deceased to be suffering from blood-poisoning of a description consistent with the story she had told him.

Dr. Dwyer, who made the post-mortem examination, was recalled, and said he had been called in by Dr. Brown for consultation regarding Mrs. Thomas' case. The woman was suffering from blood-poisoning in a virulent form. That was his diagnosis of the case, and was confirmed by the post-mortem examination.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carthy, mother of deceased, said Mrs. Thomas was a widow and had borne six children. Deceased had led witness to understand that she was suffering from inflammation of the bowels and pleurisy.

Charles Carthy, brother of deceased, was told by his sister that she was suffering from inflammation of the bowels. Three weeks before she was taken ill, witness had himself been sick, and had spoken to her of seeing Dr. Bessey, whereat deceased remarked that Dr. Bessey was no man to attend him, as he was a doctor that procured abortions.

As the Crown desire to call more witnesses, an adjournment was made until Friday night, at No. 1 Police Station.

A DIABOLICAL DEED.

Strong Suspicion That Dynamite Wrecked the Train.

THE OPINION OF PRESIDENT DEPEW.

The New York Central Railway Disaster Under Investigation Done for Revenge Not for Robbery No Sloughing of Roadbed Could Have Caused the Horror.

Coldspring, N. Y., Oct. 27. Suspicion that the terrible disaster on the New York Central was the work of a diabolical plot gained strength among the railroad men this morning. "If the embankment of the railroad was torn up by dynamite, the motive of those who did it was not robbery, but revenge," was the startling statement made by one official of the road. The suspicions of the railroad company having been aroused, a vigorous investigation is being made, and at least one man may be arrested to-day.

The suspicions of the railroad officials are being quietly followed up by Chief Detective Humphreys. Little remains of the debris of the wreck this morning beyond the smouldering embers of the cars, all of which had been raised and burned along the shore.

A Malignant Crime.

New York, Oct. 27.—The World this morning says: Only less startling than the direful news of the disaster on the New York Central road at Garrison was the statement made by Chauncey M. Depew last night, that the so-called accident was not accident at all, but the direct result of a malignant crime. It was no landslide, said Mr. Depew, after he and his experts had examined the locomotive, dragged by ponderous derricks from its bed of mud. It was no sloughing off of a bit of rotten roadbed that caused this terrible calamity.

It was the dire result of an explosion of dynamite, placed on the track solely to send a train to destruction and its inmates to sudden death.

"It is very singular," Mr. Depew said, "but I am informed by one of our detectives that Chief Humphreys has already received positive information tending to make good my assertion, backed by the physical evidence, that this break was made by dynamite. He is working hard on the information given and I am assured he is on the road to information which will throw a great deal of light on the subject. The road has been blown up. That is a certainty, and our detectives have clues to work on."

A Clean Cut.

New York, Oct. 27.—Mr. Depew says this morning that the way in which the roadbed at Garrison was cut away, as clean at the side as if by a knife, certainly suggests dynamite. "That the slide would have occurred naturally," he said, "suggests a convulsion of nature, but convulsions of nature are rare. It is accordingly impossible to say as yet just what the cause was, but if it is a possible thing, we shall find out."

Michael Clare Summoned.

Coldspring, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Michael Clare, the former section boss, has been subpoenaed to attend the coroner's inquest to-night. It was rumored this morning that Clare went away last night, but Coroner Wood found him at his home this morning and served a subpoena on him. The inquest will be held in the Town Hall at 7 o'clock this evening.

Bad Fires in Buffalo and St. Louis.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 27.—The Sturgis elevator at the foot of Indiana-street was, with its contents, totally destroyed by fire this morning. The elevator was owned by the Buffalo Elevating Company, and was one of the oldest in the city. In the building at the time of the fire was 79,000 bushels of wheat, 20,000 bushels of corn, and 100,000 bushels of oats. The grain was valued at $106,000 and insured for $65,000. The loss on the building and machinery is $100,000, with $75,000 insurance. The origin of the fire is ascribed to a spark from a passing tug igniting the dust from the grain.

Half a Million Gone in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27. — A lighted cigaret dropped by a thoughtless clerk is supposed to have caused a fire which, this afternoon, practically ruined the white stone building at the corner of Seventh and Chestnut-streets, occupied by the general offices of the Wabash Railway. The loss is $500,000.

FOR SOCIAL PURITY.

The International Conference on Social Questions Opens in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—The International Purity Conference in connection with the convention of the World's W.C.T.U. was opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in Jarvis-street Baptist Church. There was a crowded meeting, the audience being ladies chiefly, with a few men distributed throughout the church. The chair was occupied by Dr. Mary Wood-Allen of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The proceedings were more or less informal, but a number of interesting addresses were delivered.

Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. WHAT JOHN WOULD DO.

"Suppose Uncle Sam, the Czar and the Mikado should agree among themselves to settle the seal question—what would John Bull do about it?"—The Ledger, Philadelphia.

John Bull would doubtless look up the naval statistics and this is what he would find:

GREAT BRITAIN.

Ships of war, launched or building, all classes	551
Seamen and marines	93,750

RUSSIA, THE STATES AND JAPAN.

Russian warships, all classes	187
Seamen and marines	32,000
U. S. warships, all classes	726
Seamen and marines	15,425
Japanese warships, all classes	93
Seamen and marines	21,000
Total warships, launched or building, all classes, Russia, United States and Japan	886
Total crews	74,125

After John Bull had looked up the statistics as aforesaid, John would go home and laugh.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is reported that Miss Willard, the W.C.T.U. evangelist, said that Toronto is "the most reputable city of the British race." Very pretty. The Toronto people have evidently impressed Miss Willard with their own opinion of themselves.

The Toronto World is still chasing a shadow. It endorses the scheme of a Mr. Colmer to secure preferential trade, the point of the scheme being to take the duty off tea and possibly coffee and cocoa, and place a small tax on colonial food products. Great Britain will hardly change its settled policy of not taxing the food of the poor, and that is what the World-Colmer scheme of preferential trade means.

Something new has happened. Two Government officials have resigned—one in the Public Works Department, Ottawa, and another at St. John's, N.B. Under a new reign of economy and efficient administration, Government positions are not the "picnics" they used to be under the former job. Employees have to earn their salaries, which are no longer paid to mere departmental ornaments.

It looks as if the Lindsay Post was preparing for an election campaign in sympathy with the Tupper-Whitney-St. John-Mathieson-Meacham combination. The yarn it publishes about a duck shooting Annexation has a decided family resemblance to the political romances the said combination has been weaving throughout the Province. Stick to your Post! Don't desert the old party on the eve of an election.

The Ontario Legislature, says the Montreal Herald, will be called together for the despatch of business on the 30th November. The Legislature has until next June or July to run, but the indications of election preparations have presaged an earlier appeal than that. As a session had been promised by Mr. Hardy in connection with the timber question, it is not a surprise that the Legislature should be called together before Christmas. It will likely be a short session. It will be useful in placing clearly before the people the issues upon which they will have to make their choice. It will be a splendid joint meeting of the politicians, and we shall see what size the piggery issue will assume when advanced in the dignified surroundings of the Legislature.

The Most Prominent Are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

What a Touch Does.

A Parisian touch is given the regulation white pique Eton coat and skirt by wearing a white tulle vest and a black gauze scarf, which fastens underneath the jacket on either side of the front, crosses in the waist, and ties behind with long sash ends. The front of the jacket should be cut out in some odd shape to display the vest, and, with a stiff white linen collar and a plaid necktie, the effect is stunning.

An Occasional Poke Bonnet.

An occasional poke bonnet, made of colored tulle, wired and shirred into shape, tied demurely under the chin with tulle strings and trimmed with small roses, is seen at the fashionable garden parties; but it is the exceptional face that can resist the effect of suddenly added years which this old-time shape is almost sure to produce.

THE DUCHESS OF TECK

Unexpected Death of Queen Victoria's Cousin.

RESULT OF A SURGICAL OPERATION

The Fatal Ending Was Not Anticipated—Duke of Teck Prostrated With Grief—All England in Mourning—Her Majesty's Sorrow Expressed in The Court Circular.

London, Oct. 28.—The Court Circular, under date of Balmoral, says: "Her Majesty has received, with much sorrow, the very unexpected news of the death of her beloved cousin, to whom the Queen was warmly attached. The Duchess was so universally beloved for her kindness and goodness to all that she will be most deeply mourned by the whole country."

Flags at Half Mast.

London, Oct. 27. — Flags are half-masted over all the public buildings throughout Great Britain to-day as a mark of sympathy with the Royal family in the loss sustained by the death of the Duchess of Teck. The distress of Queen Victoria when she heard the news of the death of the Duchess of Teck was very great.

The Prince of Wales was at Newmarket when he was informed of the death of the Duchess, and immediately left for London.

Death Due to Hernia.

Richmond, Eng., Oct. 27.—The Duchess of Teck, cousin of Queen Victoria, sister of the Duke of Cambridge, and mother-in-law of the Duke of York, died at the White Lodge here at 3 o'clock this morning. She was born Nov. 27, 1833, and was married on June 12, 1866, to Prince Francis, Duke of Teck eldest son of Prince Alexander of Wurtemburg, who was born Aug. 27, 1837.

The Duke and Duchess of Teck had four children, Princess Victoria Mary, born on May 26, 1867, who was married July 6, 1893, to Prince George of England, Duke of York; Prince Adolphus, who was born Aug. 13, 1868, and who was married Dec. 12, 1894, to Lady Margaret Grosvenor, daughter of the Duke of Westminster; Prince Francis Joseph, born Jan. 9, 1870, and Prince Alexander, born April 14, 1874.

Enquiries made to-day at the White Lodge, the residence here of the Duke and Duchess of Teck, show that it was only when the Duchess returned from the north a few days ago that there were slight symptoms of a recurrence of the hernia, for which she was operated upon in July last, but it was not expected that any serious consequences would ensue. On Monday, however, the Duchess became really ill, though even then no serious symptoms were observed. But on Tuesday she became worse, and the London specialists who had previously operated upon her were summoned to Richmond. They held a consultation and decided yesterday that the life of Her Royal Highness could not be sustained without another operation. This was successfully performed, but the Duchess gradually sank, and died at 3 o'clock this morning. The Duke of Teck is prostrated with grief at the death of his wife.

The Duchess of York was the only other member of the family present at the death of the Duchess, as until late last night fatal consequences were not expected.

Later in the day an official statement was issued to the effect that the Duchess of Teck died of cardiac failure, two hours after the operation was performed.

The funeral has been provisionally fixed for Saturday, the arrangements being entrusted to His Royal Highness the Duke of York. The Duke of Teck is so overcome with grief that he is unable to see anyone. The population of Richmond, especially the poor people, to whom the Duchess had endeared herself by many kindnesses, is giving touching evidences of sorrow.

AFRICAN TREATIES.

France Claims Here Take Precedence Over Those of the British Niger Company.

Paris, Oct. 27.—It is understood that the fundamental basis of the difficulty between Great Britain and France in West Africa is that France declines to recognize the treaties concluded with native rulers by officers of the British Niger Company, until the text of such treaties has been officially communicated to France by the British Government. The French Government claims that many treaties made with African potentates, in behalf of France, take precedence over the treaties negotiated in behalf of the British Niger Company.

PROF. ANDREE'S FATE

Not Yet Decided. But it is Said Some Wrecked Seamen Have Brought News.

Christiania, Oct. 27. — Advices which have just reached here from Spitzbergen, the group of islands in the Arctic Ocean situated midway between Greenland and Nova Zembla, say that the crew of a wrecked ship has reached that part of the world, and that a rumor prevails that the seamen have brought news of Prof. Andree, the Swedish explorer, who left Danes Island, Spitzbergen, in a balloon, on July 11 last in an attempt to cross the north pole.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN POLITICS.

Baron Banffy Creates a Sensation in a Reply to Francis Kossuth.

Buda Pest, Oct 27. In the Lower House of the Hungarian Parliament to-day Baron Banffy, the Premier, replying to Herr Francis Kossuth, son of the celebrated Hungarian patriot, who urged the Government to "take advantage of Austrian chaos and try for Hungary's independence," declared that the Ministry had no intention of turning Austria's difficulties unreasonably to the advantage of the Hungarians. "The union of the two countries," he declared, "must be regarded as indissoluble. Should the Austrian constitutional system break down which God forbid—the Hungarian Government would be obliged to act independently regarding the joint questions of the customs and commercial treaty between Austria and Hungary, and of the charter and privileges of the Austro-Hungarian Bank."

This announcement caused a great sensation, as it is believed that Baron Banffy spoke with the consent of the Emperor-King, and that his statement points to the possibility of absolutist government in Austria.

Critical Situation in Austria.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—The present deadlock in the Reichsrath, owing to the German obstruction, has created a critical situation, and in some quarters a suspension of the Austrian Constitution is believed possible. At to-day's session of the Lower House, after an uproarious dispute between Dr. Kramarcz, the acting President, and the German Opposition, the Chamber adopted by a large majority the acting President's proposal to discuss the motions for the impeachment of the Ministry at the morning sittings, and to devote the evenings to the bill for the extension of the compromise with Hungary for a year, the delay in adopting which is causing much resentment in Hungary, and rendering the passing of the treaty by the Hungarian Parliament extremely doubtful.

A CONFERENCE POSSIBLE

Between the Employers' Federation and Amalgamated Society of Engineers.

Glasgow, Oct. 27.—It is now understood that the Employers' Federation and the delegates of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers at their meetings yesterday communicated with each other through the Board of Trade, and that a conference between representatives of the employers and delegates from the striking engineers has been practically arranged, the latter having agreed to withdraw their demand for eight hours per day, which has been the great stumbling block in the way of arriving at a settlement of the strike.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her best possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y.

THE TUPPER GOVERNMENT.

Responsible for Failure to Test the Cows at the Experimental Farm for Tuberculosis.

Ottawa, Oct. 27. — The outbreak of tuberculosis at the Experimental Farm is a serious one. The herd consists of 55 head of cattle, and a test now being made with tuberculine by A. E. James, V.S., shows that 26 animals are affected. Of these, however, one bull shows very slight traces of the disease. All the cattle on the farm have been submitted to the test, and the sound animals have been thoroughly isolated in order to prevent further infection. The majority of the animals affected are "grades," the most valuable animals so far having escaped. Asked as to what disposition would be made of the diseased animals, Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, stated he had not yet decided what to do. He said he would visit the farm this afternoon and make an investigation, and that a statement would be prepared for the public as soon as he had looked into the matter. In the meantime the sound and suspicious animals are separated, and no use is made of the products of the diseased animals.

The inquest into the death of the men killed in the C. P. R. collision at Stittsville, set for this evening, met and adjourned for ten days. The doctor attending Alex McCuaig, who is at his home in Carleton Place, suffering from a broken leg, and is wanted as a witness, has sent word that his patient will not be able to come to Ottawa till the end of next week.

An Order-in-Council has been passed amending the General Inspection Act, in regard to the classification of grain west of Lake Superior. "Extra Manitoba hard" shall now consist of wheat grown wholly in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, and shall weigh not less than 62 pounds per bushel, shall be plump, sound and well cleaned, and shall contain not less than 95 per cent. of hard, red fyfe wheat.

It now turns out that when the late Government purchased the cattle they never used the tuberculin test, to see that they were free of disease.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

PEACE OR WAR?

The Indian Tribesmen Declare Their Intention of Opposing the British Advance.

Simla, Oct. 27.—Replying to the proclamation of the British commander on the frontier, Sir William Lockhart, the Mazozais protest against the occupation of the Khyber Pass, Samana Range and Swat Valley by the British forces, and declare their intention of opposing the British advance. The Mazozai leaders are now at Khurmana, and are preparing to attack the Kurram Valley. A letter was received from these leaders yesterday evening asking whether the British intentions were peace or war.

The Malakand position has been greatly strengthened, and is now capable of stubborn defence. The British foragers have captured, in the Khanki Valley, 300 mules laden with supplies.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and large back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

Cheese Factory Burned.

Lucknow, Ont., Oct. 25. The cheese factory at Paramount was completely destroyed by fire last night. The building and about $4000 worth of cheese were completely destroyed. The stock was insured to the amount of $2 00 in the London Mutual, and the building to the amount of $1500 in the Waterloo Fire Insurance Co. Cause of fire supposed to have been from stove pipes.

Suit Over Massey Shares.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—The grandchildren of the late Hart A. Massey—A. L. Massey, C. A. Massey, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Chandler, Miss Bessie Massey—are suing Chester D. Massey, W. E. H. Massey and Mrs. Treble, to set aside a sale of 113 shares of the Massey Company's stock, and to have it declared that during his lifetime the late Hart A. Massey was guardian of the grandchildren.

Merrily Ring For Miss Amy Blewett and Mr. Sidney W. Middleton.

The handsome residence of Mr. M. Blewett, Smith, was, last evening, the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the season, when his daughter, Miss Amy Blewett, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney Middleton, of Selwyn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. McLeod, of the Gilmour Memorial church, in the drawing room, which was most elaborately and tastefully decorated with flowers. The wedding march was played by Miss McKee.

The bride, who was charmingly attired in cream Bengaline silk, with garniture of pearls and lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet, was attended in the capacity of bridesmaids by Miss Gertie Blewett, her sister, and Miss Middleton, of Smith, sister of the groom, who were attired in cream also. Miss Stella Davis, of Peterborough, was maid of honour The groomsmen were Mr. Bert Middleton, son of Mr. James Middleton, and Mr. J. Blewett, cousin of the bride. The wedding breakfast was partaken of by about sixty guests. The presents to the bride were unusually beautiful, among them being the father's gift—a splendid pianoforte, while the gift of the mother was a diamond brooch. Amidst the hearty congratulations and good wishes of the guests, and the unspoken, though no less warmly felt, good wishes of their wide circle of friends, the fortunate couple set out for Peterborough, where they took the train for an extended honeymoon tour, which will include Toronto and Buffalo. On their return Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton will take up residence in Smith, near Selwyn.

OCTOBER WEDDING.

The Nuptials of Miss Pearson and Mr. Walter Rossborough, in Smith.

Yesterday afternoon in the Wesley church, on the 16th line of Smith, the wedding took place of Miss Pearson, of Smith, and Mr. Walter Roseborough, also of Smith.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Harrison, pastor of the church, and the Smith band was in attendance.

A RUNAWAY.

Mr. D. H. Kerneghan's Mare Takes Fright and Bolts Down George Street.

There was a dangerous looking runaway last evening on George street when as Mr. D. H. Kerneghan came driving south one of the traces on his mare unsnapped from the collar and so frightened the animal as to cause her to bolt.

Mr. Kerneghan, being unable to control the horse, jumped from the rig just in front of Dr. Bell's residence, badly spraining his ankle.

The horse ran on down to Brock and turning the corner, ran over to Water street and up as far as the Goose pond, where it was caught.

The delivery waggon was not damaged to any extent nor was the horse injured, but Mr. Kerneghan will have to use crutches for a week or two, as his ankle promises to be troublesome.

POLICE NEWS.

Two Prisoners Brought to Town Yesterday for Trial.

Chief Rossel returned last night from Bowmanville with the prisoner John Barrett, who was arrested there by his request on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretences from the firm of Gough Bros., the particulars of which were presented in yesterday's issue of THE EXAMINER.

The prisoner elected to be tried by the magistrate, this morning, and was remanded until Monday.

Constable Jarvis, of Bowmanville, made the arrest and Chief Rossel found him a most obliging official.

On the return trip the prisoner began to tell the chief all about the case, but on being warned that what he said would be used in evidence against him, he became as mum as an oyster on the subject.

Constable Adams returned yesterday from Cobocouk with the prisoner Thos. Cooper, who is charged with the theft of a bicycle from his former employer, Mr. M. J. Coughlin. He has been remanded until Friday.

COUNTY COUNCIL'S SPECIAL SESSION.

THE WARDEN DELIVERED HIS ADDRESS TO-DAY.

A Committee of the Whole Council Discusses it and Reports Upon the Recommendations Made.

The county council went into special session this morning at 10 o'clock. Present,—the Warden, Mr. Wm. Anderson, in the chair, and Messrs. Burnham, Cassement, Middleton, Fitzgerald, Brown, Shaw, Eastland and Pearce.

After routine the warden delivered the following

ADDRESS:

To the Members of the County Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I regret to see for the first time the seat vacant at our Council Board, which for the past quarter of a century has been so ably filled by our very much esteemed colleague, Mr. John Moloney. I know that you all join with me in expressing the hope that he will soon recover from the severe attack of illness which prevents his presence here to-day, and that we shall have the pleasure of meeting him at our January session, his health fully restored.

I call this meeting in accordance with your desire expressed at the last meeting of the council, when you appointed a committee to consult with the town council, with a view to obtain their aid in the reconstruction of the Mud Lake bridge, which is now found to be water-logged and must be reconstructed. Your Committee have met the Committee of the Town Council, and the matter was laid before them and discussed subsequently (namely on Monday evening) At the request of the Mayor, Mr. Burnham, myself and the County Engineer met the town committee, when it was agreed to recommend the town council to submit a bylaw granting a sum of money (amount not stated) to aid in the reconstruction of the Mud Lake bridge, said bylaw to be voted on by the ratepayers at the same time as the vote is taken at the annual municipal elections. It was also arranged that Mr. Belcher, County Engineer, should prepare plans and specifications for the purpose and should ascertain from the several lumbermen in the locality the prices of the material required. You will have an opportunity of discussing this matter fully with a deputation of the town council who intend to be here this afternoon for this purpose.

At the last session in considering the matter of a bridge over the Ouse river in the township of Asphodel and also the rebuilding of a bridge over Deer river at Preston in the township of Belmont, it was resolved that tenders should be asked for the construction of these bridges on the County Engineer's plans and specifications, which were approved. This has been done. Tenders were received and part of the work of both these bridges is now under construction.

I received to late for submission at our last session a letter from the clerk of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham suggesting that the County of Peterborough, town of Peterborough and the township of South Monaghan, arrange with the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham for a conference in reference to the future maintenance of Benfort bridge. I understand that the Warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham the town of Peterborough and the township of South Monaghan will meet you here to-day to discuss the matter.

I have received a telegram from Mr. John Henderson, secretary-treasurer of the Relief Committee, asking for assistance to help those who have suffered from the late fires in the counties of Pescott and Russell, many of whom are now homeless and destitute. I am sure the matter will commend itself to your

I have received a letter from Mr. G. M. Dawson, of the Geological survey, of Ottawa, enclosing a copy of a resolution adopted by the British Association committee on Ethnological survey of Canada, suggesting that steps be taken for the preservation of the recently discovered serpent mound in the township of Otonabee, and recommending that for this purpose action be taken by the Ontario Government, the township and the county.

In reply to your memorial to the Dominion Government, asking that additional booms and piers be placed at the Wallace Point bridge, the Deputy Minister informed me that on inquiry into the matter the information obtained appears to indicate that this work is one which the Dominion Government is in no way bound to assume. It is for you to consider whether joint action should be taken by this county and the united counties of Northumberland and Durham in the matter of providing additional boom and piers.

There are other matters that will come before you, and I feel confident they will receive the careful consideration their nature and importance require.

W. ANDERSON,
Warden.

Oct. 28th, 1897.

The address was referred to the Committee of the whole council.

The report of the Committee on the Warden's address was adopted as below:

1. Your Committee recommend that Mr. John Burnham be chairman.

2. Your Committee join with the Warden in his regret at the serious illness of Mr. John Moloney, and in his hope that he may be speedily restored to his accustomed health.

3. Your Committee are pleased to learn that a deputation from the Town Council intend to meet this council to discuss the matter of building the Mud Lake bridge.

4. Your Committee are gratified to learn of the progress made in constructing the bridge over the Ouse River in Asphodel, and the Deer River in Belmont.

5. Your committee will be glad to meet a deputation of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, the Town of Peterborough, and the Township of South Monaghan, to discuss the question of the proper maintenance of the Benafort bridge. Your committee would recommend that the matter of erecting booms and piers at the Wallace Point bridge be referred to the Road and Bridge Committee, and that the same should be submitted to the consideration of the delegates to the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham who will meet the council this afternoon.

6. Your committee deplore the great loss and suffering caused by the forest fires in Prescott and Russell, and recommend that the question of relief be referred to the Finance Committee.

7. Your committee would recommend that a memorial be presented to the Ontario Government suggesting that proper steps be taken for the preservation of the lately discovered serpent mounds in the township of Otonabee,

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PETERBOROUGH WINS A GREAT VICTORY

AT RUGBY FOOTBALL BY DEFEATING TRINITY.

The University Team Was Unable to Make a Point Whilst the Local Team Ran up a Score of 32.

It was a great victory

Thirty-four to nothing.

Won by Peterborough from a crack University team of Toronto.

The interest in Rugby Football will without doubt take a big boom in town after the splendid showing made by the Peterboroughs against Trinity University yesterday afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds. The local team was in good shape and profiting by the experiences of the two previous matches, was more than a match for their opponents on every essential of the game. The Peterborough scrimmage was heavier, the wings faster and the back line division much superior to that of the University men and those present were much pleased to see the generalship which was dilplayed.

Trinity won the toss and decided to play with the sun, which gave them quite an advantage, as it was late in the afternoon when the game started. The teams were composed as follows:

THE TEAMS.

Trinity University.		Peterborough.
Walker	back	T Burnham
Parmenter	halves	L King
Bedford-Jones	halves	A T Lefevre
Griffith	halves	A Latellier
Lucas	quarter	Garnet Bell
Baldwin	scrimmage	Rutherford
White	scrimmage	Hal Burnham
Spencer	scrimmage	Stethom
Jones	wings	Bradburn
Strathy	wings	Rickey
McKenzie	wings	Bird
Carman	wings	Wilgar
Campbell	wings	Hollingshead
McDonald	wings	Picard
Rev McKenzie	wings	McClelland

Umpire—L Forbes.
Referee—S Adams.

Immediately after the starting of the match a free kick was given Peterborough on an offside play of Trinity, and the ball was punted well down the field, crossing the line at Trinity's 25 yard mark. Bell passed out well to Lefevre from the scrimmage, and King started off with the ball, but was sharply tackled before he could get away. Immediately afterwards the Peterborough halves made fumbles of balls, which were passed out by Bell, and considerable ground was lost. Rickey broke through the line, however, and recovered the advantage. Lefevre backed the line well and also made a good deal of ground. The ball was heeled out of the scrimmage to Bell, who passed to Lefevre, and the latter punted well down the field before the ball went over the side line. A penalty touch was awarded Peterborough on Trinity's off-side in the ensuing scrimmage, and Lefevre

PUNTED INTO TOUCH.

Rickey followed up so fast that he was on Trinity' full back before he could rid himself of the ball, and he was forced to rouge, thus giving Peterborough the first blood. Score, 1—0.

The ball was fumbled by Peterborough's back division on Trinity's kick off, and it was dribbled far down in Peterborough territory before it was held. Rickey, however, broke through and carried it out of dangerous ground before any harm was done and passed to King, who did not make much progress until he was brought down. The ball was heeled out of the scrimmage to Lefevre, who backing the line, got through and again kicked into Trinity's touch, the ball striking the fence and giving Peterborough one more point by the rouge. Score, 2—0.

Shortly afterwards, on Trinity's offside play, Peterborough was awarded a free kick and Burnham but was too far away. The ball was promptly returned by Walker and was caught by Lefevre, who made considerable ground before he was checked.

Just as half time was called Trinity had worked the ball down on Peterborough's twenty-five yard line, being the nearest to the Peterborough touch that it had been during the entire mateh.

At the opening of the second half the Peterboroughs had the advantage of playing with the sun in their backs. McClelland made a great dash after the ball when it was kicked off and succeeded in tackling Parmenter before he could return it. The play then became more interesting, much fine individual work being seen.

The ball was heeled out of the scrimmage and falling into Latellier's hands he made the first big run of the day and being well followed up by Rickey, he passed to the latter just as he was tackled himself and the line for the first touch down of the day. Being so close to the corner the ball was brought out and placed at an awkward angle for the try, but Hal. Burnham came very close to making it. Rickey's touch-down made the score 6—0 in favour of Peterborough.

Trinity gained some ground on their kick off, the ball not being returned, but Hollingshead broke through the line just as the ball was being heeled out to the visitors and made up the lost ground by a long kick down field.

Peterborough's fine work in the scrimmage now began to tell on the visitors and a great deal of ground was gained every time the ball was put in.

Bell, Lefevre and King figured in a pretty run across the field, but not much ground was gained, King being too closely followed to get away. King made a long punt when the ball went to him from the next scrimmage and followed up so fast that he got possession of the ball again and carried it over the line and made the touch-down between the goals. Score, 12—0.

Burnham then converted the try. Score, 12—0.

PICORD CAUGHT THE BALL

from Trinity's kick-off and made a fine dash up the field. From the scrimmage the ball was passed out to Trinity but before Parmenter could rid himself of the ball the Peterborough wings were on top of him, knocking the ball from his hands. Hollingshead got hold of it and went over for a try. Score, 16—0.

Burnham neatly kicked the goal. Score, 18—0.

Lefevre caught the ball from Trinity's kick-off and returned well. Rutherford following up fast, got the ball, and made a good run but was brought down heavily. Trinity was then awarded a free kick on Peterborough's "hand-out" from the scrimmage, but King caught the ball and returned. Rickey followed up fast and was on the Trinity halves before they could kick the ball. The ball went out to King from the scrimmage and he made one of down the field and got over for a try. Score 22—0. Burnham missed the try.

HIS BRILLIANT DASHES

From the next scrimmage the ball was passed back to Lefevre and he made one of the prettiest plays of the day. The Trinity wing med were all around him and he feinted to pass the ball to King who was instantly surrounded, but instead of passing he dashed through the visitors' line and made a great run down the field, passing to King when finally tackled. King again went over for a try, which Burnham converted, making the score 28—0.

Lefevre caught Trinity's kick off and returned well.

Latellier, King and Picard shortly afterwards made a pretty run together. Trinity then took a hand in the game and dribbled the ball far into Peterborough's territory. But a few scrimmages brought it back to the centre of the field again, when Hollingshead broke through and again went over the line for four points. As time was called and the Trinity boys trooped off the field, the goal was not tried for and the score stood 32—0.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Lakefield, played for the visitors, as they were short a man.

Wilgar and Bird from the Electric Works, strengthened the team considerably.

Parmenter, of Osgoode, was down with Trinity, but he got no chance to get in his fine work as the Peterborough wings were always on him before he could do anything when he got the ball.

Tom Burnham, who played full back for Peterborough, had nothing to do, and hardly had the ball in his hands all day.

"Gimbo" Jones, famed for his hair and his "chin," was very much in evidence during the game.

What is the matter with Peterborough's halves? It would be hard to beat them in the league. Their catching, passing, running and punting yesterday was beyond criticism.

Russell Carmen played a fast game on the wing for Trinity, but he had a hard man to mark in Rickey.

Garnie Bell did exceptionally well in his first match as quarter. He is quick and uses his head well.

Peterborough now has a great scrimmage, and they did'nt do a thing with the trio of Trinity scrimmagers yesterday.

It would be hard to say too much in praise of the manner in which the wings held up their end yesterday. They broke through the Trinity line at will, and although marked by a heavier lot of men, they were too fast to be held. Arthur McClelland, the lightest man on the field, was as slippery as an eel, and the way he charged into his man and went through him was something worth seeing. Holly was working Mr. McKenzie, and the reverend gentleman, as may be guessed, did not see much of the ball. Picard was out for his first match, and is a strong man for the wing. Bradburn had about the best man on the field to check but he kept him busy.

Rickey's play was greatly admired. He has the weight and is a fast runner, and his work was of the star order yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Mackenzie brought the boys from his Lakefield school down to see the match.

The next team brought here will be one of the leaders in the League, and then the Peterboroughs will have a chance of showing their merit.

On Thanksgiving Day the Queen's University team will probably be up, but the T. A. C.—Lornes combination will be here before then from Toronto.

"THE TEMPLE."

An Illustrated Address Delivered by Mr. D. Spence Last Evening.

Mr. D. Spence delivered a most interesting illustrated address on "The Temple" last evening in St. Andrew's Sunday school. There was a large attendance. Rev. J. G. Potter acted as chairman, and Rev. H. Symonds was also present.

Mr. Spence had two plans of the temple in frames and referred to them frequently. The speaker fully described the great edifice, its dimensions, the "Holy of Holies" and the other rooms in the temple.

At the conclusion of the address "Jerusalem the Golden" was sung after which Rev. Mr. Symonds made a few remarks. He enjoyed the lecture very much, and considered it full of good, practical common sense. He drew several lessons from the address, which the Christian could learn.

After the singing of another hymn, Rev. Mr. Potter thanked Mr. Spence for his kindness in giving the lecture. The meeting then closed with the benediction.

There is Still Danger.

Some Dealers are Selling Crude And Adulterated Dye Instead of the Diamond Dyes.

When the vast majority of merchants and dealers sell only the reliable Diamond Dyes, it is but right to note that some dealers still sell common and deceptive package dyes for the sake of extra profit. Of course the profit-loving dealer who sells a woman a package of inferior dye for her work is, without doubt, seeking his own selfish end—money-making. Dealers who handle and sell adulterated package dyes do not care a fig about the comfort and welfare of their customers; they take the hard-earned money of families, and in return give them dyes that only result in loss and ruin.

When the women of Canada learn a few more sad lessons that result from the use of worthless dyes, they will make it a point to insist upon getting from their dealers the fast and never-failing Diamond Dyes that are so easy to use and so true to colour.

The Astronomy of Life.

When an astronomer foretells the exact minute at which two planets will cross each other, we know there is no magic about it. The whole universe is governed by laws. A man who studies these laws of nature carefully and reduces them to a science, can count on events quite as much in time.

A doctor knows that certain remedies affect certain diseases.

When a disease seems to have no remedy, the doctors pronounce it incurable. All the time Nature may have the remedy right at hand, but it will only be discovered by the doctor who has studied longer and deeper than others into this or that disease.

Consumption seems to have long time without a remedy, until Dr. Pierce made his wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" 30 years ago. It has proved to be a marvellous and almost infallible specific for consumption and all forms of lung, bronchial and throat difficulties.

Its effects seem almost magical but its operation is based upon simple natural laws. It has the peculiar property of enabling the blood-making glands to manufacture healthy, rich blood and pour it abundantly into the circulation. This nourishing, vitalizing effect is rapidly manifested in the lungs and bronchial tubes where it stops the wasting process and builds up healthy tissue.

It is readily assimilated by stomachs which are too weak to digest cod liver oil, and it is far superior to malt-extracts as a permanent and scientific flesh-builder in all wasting diseases.

"Twenty-five years ago eight different doctors told me that I would live but a short time, that I had consumption and I must die," writes Geo. R. Coope, Esq., of Myers Valley, Pottawatomie Co., Kans. "I finally commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and am still on the land and among the living. I have faith to believe that it has lengthened my life for the last twenty-five years, and I have so much faith in all of your medicines that I want one of your 'Common Sense Medical Advisers.'"

Dr. Pierce's medicines are recognized as standard remedies throughout the world. His "Pleasant Pellets" cure constipation.

SAW MRS. LUETGERT.

Information That May Make Another Trial of the Prisoner Unnecessary.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—"Within twenty-four hours we have received information that may make another trial of Luetgert unnecessary," said Attorney Albert Phalen to-day. "I will not reveal the name of my informant, nor the location of the city in which he lives at present, but it is within two hundred miles of Chicago, and the man is an official of the place. He is positive—absolutely positive—that he has seen Mrs. Luetgert within a few days."

It is believed that the information came from Davenport, Iowa, 185 miles west of Chicago. Soon after Mrs. Luetgert's disappearance a report reached Chicago that she was seen in Davenport and also in Rock Island, Ill., across the river but investigation proved the report untru

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Ont. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

Agreed to a Conference.

London, Oct. 27.—The Federal Employers, at a meeting held at Manchester, are understood to have agreed to a conference with the representatives of the striking engineers on the lines suggested by T. C. Ritchie, president of the Board of Trade, provided the eight hours' demand is withdrawn and that this question is not raised at the conference.

The report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines for 1896 was issued yesterday. It is a volume of rather bulky dimensions, containing 281 pages of printed matter ,and is full of valuable information and statistics.

300 HANDS OUT OF WORK

Caused by a Disastrous Fire at Brantford.

VERITY PLOW WORKS DESTROYED

Main Portion of the Building in Ruins—Two Firemen Seriously Injured—Loss at Present Not Ascertained—Insurance $30,000.

Brantford, Oct. 27.—Shortly after 5 yesterday morning a fire broke out in the Verity Company's plow works. The fire originated in the paint or varnish room, and from the inflammable nature of the surroundings it spread rapidly. The firemen responded quickly and sent back different times for more hose, but by 6 o'clock the fire had got beyond control, and the establishment will probably prove a total loss. A portion of the roof fell, and one of the firemen, Thomas Allan, was struck by it. His injuries are serious. Two other firemen are said to have been hurt.

The fire was making rapid strides on the north side and the roof soon went in. Appearances were that everything would go. The firemen were working hard, adding stream after stream, until they had 12 streams of water throwing on the building and this soon made a decided and telling effect for the better. It was not long after this till they got the fire under control.

On account of the darkness at present it is difficult to see what damage is done. The two upper flats on the north side appear to be completely gutted. The lower part does not seem to have suffered so much, excepting by water.

The east wing, occupied for offices, is saved and all right. The wing occupied as a moulders' room seems scorched at the back; otherwise all right.

The firemen are still at work, though the fire is about out.

At present the loss cannot be ascertained. It is understood there is over $30,000 insurance, distributed among different companies, the names of which cannot be obtained.

The fire will throw about 300 men out of employment, there being a day and night gang at work, for some time past.

FIVE HUNDRED PEOPLE OUT.

Union Knitting Mills at Hudson, N.Y., Destroyed by Fire—Loss Serious.

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The most disastrous fire Hudson has had in years is raging in the Union mill on Diamond street. The fire started in the card room at about 11 o'clock this morning and spread to every part of the building notwithstanding the efforts of the entire fire department and the employees of the mill. Five hundred people are thrown out of work.

The burning of the Union Knitting Mills is a great loss to the city.

It is now estimated that the loss to the Union Knitting Company by the burning of their mill will amount to at least $130,000. The most unfortunate part is that the property was insured for only about $60,000, owing to the excessively high insurance rates in Hudson. Fortunately no one was injured.

Railway Earnings.

The earnings of both the railroad companies for the past week again show increases. The Canadian Pacific earnings for the week ending October 21 were $619,000, against $484,000 for the corresponding week last year, an increase of $133,000. Grand Trunk earnings for the week ending October 21 were $553,674, against $523,000 for the same period last year, an increase of $14,986.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. H. T. MULFORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 58, St. Henri, Que.

THE GOLD STANDARD.

Three Million Pounds Hoarded in India—The Silver Question.

London, Oct. 27.—The Times published this morning a long letter from Mr. Henry Dunning MacLeod, on the adoption of the gold standard for India. In the course of which the writer says: "It was estimated twenty years ago that sixty million pounds worth of gold would be required at that time to restore the Indian currency to a gold basis. But it is estimated that at least three hundred million pounds in gold is now hoarded out if the Indian mints are kept closed to silver, while the ratio of the sovereign to the rupee is adjusted to the present value of the rupee."

The Times, commenting upon Mr. MacLeod's letter, says: "The public is not in possession of the facts upon which the Indian Government's decision that it is possible to adopt the gold standard is based, but, if this is within the bounds of possibility, it ought to be carried into effect, for it would relieve business all over the world from the disquieting effect of bi-metallism agitation and intrigue."

Neighborly Relations With the U.S.

London, Oct. 27.—The Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance, United States Ambassador Hay and Mr. Gilbert Parker, the novelist, were guests at a banquet of prominent literary and newspaper people given last night at the White Friar's Club. Mr. Fielding, in the course of his remarks, dwelt upon the "neighborly relations that the people of Canada wish to maintain with the United States." Continuing, he said: "Col. Hay and I have been sitting side by side this evening and have eaten our fish in harmony, quite without reference to the question whether they were caught within the three-mile limit. I hope this fact may be taken as a happy augury of the relations between the Dominion and the United States."

Economy and strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month.

The Life-giving Pines.

The breath of the pines is the breath of life to the consumptive. Norway Pine Syrup contains the pine virtue, and cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness and all throat and lun troubles.

To Breathe Correctly.

As a matter of fact, not one person in a hundred breathes normally. A little knowledge of physiology and a few minutes on the subject, however, will enable anyone to comprehend the precise art of filling and emptying the lungs on scientific principles. The main thing is to be sure that the lower lobes of the lungs are well filled with air and that one breathes from the abdomen. After one has acquired this habit the chief thing is to breathe in as much sunshine as possible, and to believe in the efficacy of oxygen as a remedy for nearly all the ills that flesh is heir to.

The following are some excellent rules for improving the respiration, and bringing it up to a normal condition. Stand at an open window or recline on a couch with the waist and chest unconfined; hold the chest walls high and inhale in slow long breaths; exhale as slowly, three times only at first. Gradually the number of times may be increased and the time lengthened for the breathing exercises. Fifteen minutes, twice a day, at least, should be devoted to this exercise to accomplish the desired results. To inhale long, deep breaths while slowly raising the arms above the head, and to exhale as slowly while lowering them is one of the best breathing exercises ever invented. The practice of breathing very deeply while walking in the open air is recommended not only for the general health, but is one of the best cures for obesity, as the increased amount of oxygen greatly augments the consumption of waste material.

The Latest in Organdie.

Organdies in the plain tints of yellow, pink, and especially gray, are the latest things in thin gowns, and some of these gowns have a flowered taffeta silk lining which gives them a very novel appearance. Plain organdies ruffled from the hem to the waist, each ruffle edged with lace, are the latest novelty, and narrower frills trim the waist either crosswise or up and down. Gray Swiss muslin made over gray taffeta silk and finished with a yellow or pink satin sash and collar makes a charming dress. Silk mull and chiffon are both very popular for sashes and soft belts on thin gowns, and they are sometimes edged all around with lace.

Had to Stop and Rest Because of Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Eliza Cook, 109 Palmerston Ave., Toronto, says: "Seven years ago I had the grip, followed by inflammation of the lungs. I have been afflicted ever since with heart trouble. To walk anyway fast would make me gasp for breath, and many a time I have had to stop on the street to rest and regain my breath.

I had bad smothering spells at night, and my nerves were much unstrung. Anything annoying or worrying me produced extreme weakness, and would set my heart beating so fast that I thought I was dying. Sometimes I would become so nervous as to tremble like a leaf.

I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills early last February, and have been getting better ever since. My nerves are much stronger. I can walk without difficulty, and the palpitation, fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath and nervousness trouble me no more.

I gladly recommend these pills as the best medicine I know of for heart and nerve troubles on account of the great good they have done in my case." 221

QUAINT STE. PIERRE.

REMNANT OF FRANCE'S NORTH AMERICAN POSESSIONS.

A Mountain Town in Mid Atlantic—A Visit to a Curious Little Community—A Street Scene—Old Guns on Gallantry Head—On the Wharves.

St. Pierre is a mountain town in mid-Atlantic. The island on which it is built is about twelve miles in circumference, a sheer rock of porphyry that juts up from the bosom of the ocean, with no vestige of vegetation upon its face to tempt any one to land there, writes Albert Lee in Harper's Weekly. Yet upon this sterile rock is a thriving little French city, full of French mirth and life, and all the wealth of its inhabitants is pulled up out of the sea on hooks. The appearance of the place, with the gay tri-color of France floating from every pole, is thoroughly European. It looks totally unlike any other town in North America. A Frenchman has one way of building a house, and no matter where he goes, whether north or south, Miquelon or Madagascar, he builds his house in just that way. And when you see it you know that a Frenchman lives there, and you can almost smell the pot au feu. From the deck of the vessel the buildings of St. Pierre appeared to be of stone, but in reality they are constructed of wood or brick, covered with stucco. This sort of exterior gives an air of solidity to the place, and the whole town looks as though it had been planted on that rock to stay.

There are three entrances to the harbor, none of which is very safe, but the main ship channel lies between Galantry Head and L'Isle aux Chiens. This passage is so narrow that in some places the deck of an incoming ship is splashed with spray from the breakers on the surrounding rocks. Nevertheless, the local fishing-smacks bob in and out through it by day and by night, seemingly heedless of their peril, and it is a fact that, except in time of severe storms, few accidents are reported. The inner harbor is protected by a low jetty, and is called the Barachois. It is framed with stone quays and wharves, and is capable of sheltering several hundred schooners when the weather is so rough as to keep the fishermen within shelter.

At one of these stone quays we landed. We were greeted by a crowd of contented and healthy-looking French fisherfolk, the men dressed in blue trousers and gaudy shirts, the women in short dark frocks and neat white caps, almost everybody shod with wooden sabots or with rope-soled canvas shoes. A stout gendarme, with a long sword and endless gold braid, stood in the front rank, paternally watching to see that none of the small boys and girls fell into the water; but to our surprise, there was no douanier on hand to rifle our luggage offensively. It seems that so few strangers ever visit St. Pierre that it is found unnecessary to have a douanier meet the fortnightly arrivals of hand baggage; so we were allowed to step ashore unmolested, and our walk across the quay was not hindered or hampered by a swarm of men and boys clamoring to carry our satchels. The good people made way, and although they gazed upon us with some curiosity, this seemed really more like a cordial display of interest than an evidence of vulgar surprise at our appearance.

The Island of St. Pierre, although the smallest, is the most important of the Miquelon group, and is the only one possessing a harbor. The other islands are Grande Miquelon, Petite Miquelon (more commonly called Langlade), and half a dozen neighboring rocks that have been dignified with long names. These isolated and barren islets are all that is now left to France of her once vast North American possessions.

By the treaty of Utrecht, it was stipulated that the islands should not be fortified, and that no more than fifty soldiers should be kept there, these to be in the nature of police rather than as a garrison. There are half a dozen old muzzle-loading cannon, of the Nevers model of 1755, mounted on a rock that juts out into the harbor, but they are absolutely useless for anything but noise and pyrotechnics, and even so the cannoneer takes his life in his hands every time he lights the fuse. For the mere sake of this man's safety the French set up a modern gun on the Pointe aux Canons, a few years ago, that they might properly welcome their warships without precipitating a funeral. But the British heard of it, and soon a cruiser steamed over from Halifax, and a naval officer came ashore, with his hat in his hand, and gave the Governor the assurances of Her Majesty's most distinguished consideration, and politely called his attention to the prohibitive clause in the treaty. A few days later the gun was dismounted, and it is now doubtless resting in the cellars of the Gendarmerie.

The treaty of Utrecht not only ceded the Miquelon group to the French, but also gave them the right to cure and dry fish on the west coast of Newfoundland between Cape Bonavista and Cape

ST. PIERRE—OLD GUNS ON GALLANTRY HEAD.

Ray—a region which has ever since then been called the "French shore," and which has become more familiar to us of late through the disputes it has caused, and through the lengthy discussion recently held in the British Parliament as to whether lobster is a fish or not. The French claim that there right to catch, cure and dry fish on the Newfoundland coast necessarily includes the privilege of building huts and drying-places on this shore; and the Newfoundlanders, taking the opposite of the argument, display the earnestness of their convictions by consistently tearing down every French-built hut or shanty they come across. As a result there have been many serious encounters between the rival islanders; and to maintain even approximate peace, both the British and the French Governments are obliged to keep a fleet of warships in that neighborhood for nine months in the year. By international agreement the officers of these vessels are empowered to settle all disputes arising among the fishermen, and not infrequently, the professional assistance of the ships surgeons is called into service.

The principal industry of St. Pierre, however, is cod-fishing, and it is prosecuted upon an elaborate scale. Perhaps the dispute over the lobster's piscatorial identity has placed him somewhat in disrepute with the St. Pierrais, for at the present day the lobster fishery is not even considered important enough to receive mention in the official reports of the colonial government. On the other hand, these reports for 1893 show that the exports of cod to France and to foreign countries amounted in that year to 26,075,047 kilos, besides 561,149 kilos of cod-liver oil. The latter commodity is not the medicinal oil that we are familiar with, but a coarser kind used for tanning and is manufactured by allowing the livers to decompose in open vats until they reach a liquid state. Almost every fisherman's hut on the outskirts of St. Pierre and at the fishing settlements on the other side has two or three of these vats near by, and the foul stench that arises from the decaying cod livers, together with the thousands of flies that gather to the feast, would make the locality uninhabitable for any except those who have been brought up in the midst of such conditions.

Yet, to our surprise, we found St. Pierre a remarkably clean and sweet-scented place for a fishing town. We expected that the acres of drying places in and about the village would make the atmosphere rather unpleasant, but this is not in the least the case. There is no odor from the drying places, and these little vats that I have spoken of are excluded from the city limits by a governmental ordinance, and our only experience with the unsavory industry was when we visited the little settlement at L'Anse au Savoyard, situated about three miles from St. Pierre, at the end of the Route Iphigenie.

As fast as the cod are caught by the fishermen off the banks they are opened and cleaned and stowed away in salt. As soon as the schooner is loaded the men return to St. Pierre and sell their catch to the large exporters, or, if they are in the employ of one of these, they land the catch directly at a drying place. A drying place consists of several acres of land covered with flat stones exposed to the sunlight. The drying process is slow, and requires a great deal of handling, since the fish must be collected and stacked under tarpaulins as soon as fog or rain comes on, and then laid out in in the sun again. Like the family washing, as soon as the skies clear. The men who catch the fish, and the women and boys who work in the drying places, come over from France every spring in Government transports, and return to their homes again in the autumn in the same manner. The majority are from St. Malo, Dieppe, and Fecamp, but many come from the Basque country, in the South of France. It is said that Basque fishermen knew St. Pierre as early as 1504, and were the first to establish a fishing settlement there. But wars and treaties kept these Miquelon Islands seesawing for ownership between the French and the English for so many years that it was not until 1816 that the islands were finally turned over to France for good and all, with the same treaty stipulations that were made at Utrecht in 1713. During these two hundred years the British destroyed St. Pierre at least half a dozen times, and carried the French inhabitants off to Nova Scotia and Cape Breton as prisoners. And as many times the French king recovered the islands, and returned his subjects to their charred and ruined homes.

In order to encourage them to their greatest efforts, the Home Government offers bounties to the colonists on almost every conceivable industry. There is a bounty of one dollar on every dory built in the colony, and a whole schedule of bounties relating to the export of cod.

There are probably not more than 20 horses on the islands, the local beasts of burden being oxen and dogs. Wagons drawn by anywhere from one to six black dogs are common sights in the streets. The ox teams are used for the heavier work, and are in charge of Basque teamsters, who wear quaint hats and brilliant sashes, and use strange and terrible oaths as they prick their beasts with cruel steel-pointed goads. When the day's work is done the Basques and Normans and Bretons gather in the cafes—of which there must be half a hundred in the little town—and drink their absinthe or eau-de-vie or Madeira until they are officially notified that it is time for them to go to bed. This notification is given by a drummer, who passes through all the streets every night at ten o'clock, beating a loud tattoo, at the sound of which most of the cafes and cabarets are compelled to close. A few are allowed to serve their customers until eleven o'clock; but woe betide the inn-keeper whose place is found open by the gendarmes after that hour!

An early morning counterpart of this primitive drumming curfew is the town crier, who makes his rounds with a jangle, and announces the arrival of fishbodied schooners, or an auction sale of furs, poultry, eggs, or vegetables. As there is no grass growing on the island, the latter is brought over from Newfoundland in small boats. The thrifty Newfoundlanders also bring over eggs and vegetables and brewers' fox, of course, the St. Pierrese can raise none of these necessities themselves. And so the bugler serves the purpose of a daily newspaper, making the announcements that people in other communities find in the advertising columns of the press. The only public print at St. Pierre are The Feuille Officielle, which contains nothing but official announcements, and L'Egalite, a weekly journal whose space is largely taken up by the feuilleton.

For a small place, St. Pierre probably has more government than any other community on earth. There is a Governor sent over from France and he is assisted by a private council of his own selection, and by a general council elected by the colonists. There is an elaborate judiciary system; a department of maritime affairs; a marine court; departments of the interior, of finance, of religion, of public instruction, of fishing, of colonial posts; a board of health, a custom house; bureaus of pilotage, charities, general inspection of ships, a superintendent of roads, of docks, of houses, and countless other official institutions.

Cheap Doctors.

Mrs. Greene—Dr. Jalap is such a nice man! And he is so reasonable in his charges, too! He only charged $2 to-day. He said that there really was nothing the matter with me, and that all I wanted was good food and all the rest I could get.

Mrs. Browne—Do you call that cheap? Why, Dr. Stickem, the last time I called on him, said I had a complication of diseases—just think of that, a complication of diseases!—and he only charged me $3.50 for all that. Talk of cheapness!—Boston Transcript.

The Distribution of Plants.

Plants were on the earth long before man. They were distributed by water, winds and other natural agencies. Many seeds are provided with covering suitable for protection against moisture and of the proper character to enable them to float and be deposited long distances from their original home. When plant life had so far developed as to produce blossoms and when animals and insects come the process of distribution was greatly accelerated.

Seeds contain embryonic plants and are largely responsible for propagation of species. Honey locusts and many others spread from roots. Canada thistles spread from underground stems which are not roots. The tiger lily spreads from buds. Ferns are propagated by spores. Some cucumbers when ripening burst open and throw out seeds several feet. The same is true of our wild violets.

The vast number of seeds produced by many of our plants account in a measure for the difficulty in eradicating them. A single seed of chess has been known to produce 600 seeds; a Canada thistle 19,000; a single mullein stalk 600,000 or enough to seed 126 acres counting one seed to the square yard; pympson 151,651; lamb's-quarter 310,658; pigweed 966,902; tumbleweed 1,646,400 or enough to seed 346 acres, one seed to the square yard; another specimen produced 2,339,700 or enough to seed 508 acres, one seed to the square yard.

Foreign weeds appear to be more vigorous and troublesome than our own. The Russian thistle is an example. This is also true in other countries; a foreign thistle has developed wonderfully in the Argentine Republic. Watercress, which will hardly grow in the United States, flourishes luxuriantly in England, so much so that it stops water courses. Horticulturists can well take a lesson from these facts. Undoubtedly many varieties of fruits from outside localities will do well here. Such has proven true in the past and will continue. Many trials will have to be made, however, as out of a large number only a few will prove profitable.—Prof. J. T. Burrill, Illinois.

Value of Bran and Gluten.

It is not possible to fix hard and fast values, relative or otherwise, for cattle foods. Foods of the same class may be compared on the basis of the relative quantities of digestible dry matter in 100 pounds, but this is not true of unlike foods. Gluten meal is a much more nitrogenous food than wheat bran, and so takes a different place in the ration. Besides, the term gluten meal is applied to materials varying all the way from 20 to 36 per cent. or more of protein. According to results so far reached, Buffalo gluten feed, which usually contains about 25 per cent of protein, is considerably more digestible than wheat bran, the proportion of digestible dry matter in the two being as 75 to 54. It is probably possible to purchase the manurial ingredients of a ton of wheat bran for about $8.50. Those of a ton of Buffalo gluten feed would cost, on the same basis, not more than $9.25. If gluten meal containing more nitrogen were purchased, the manurial value would be larger. The value of the manurial residue from these foods depends, in part, upon the class of animals to which they are fed.—Country Gentleman.

A Novelty in Gloves.

A genuine novelty in gloves is a novelty indeed, but here is one. They consist of white, black or cream suede, fastening with four buttons on the suede portion and scalloped edges. But to the kid are attached armlets, beautifully embroidered in silk cord net, the designs being applique butterflies in the kid, ornamentally outlined with the cord. The net is worked as a scallop at the top and drawn into the size of the arm with a satin ribbon. The black display cream embroidery and they are most ornamental. The junction of the net and the kid is defined with a silk cable, repeated on the back of the hand, and an additional button to fasten the wrist is introduced on the knee.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Doctor—Are you wealthy enough, madam, to spend the summer in the upper lake regions?

Madam—We have a very small income, sir.

Doctor—On closer examination I find that yours is not a case of hay fever, but only a bad cold in the head.

MESSAGES OF HEALTH

FROM SOME WHO HAVE BEEN CURED BY THE USE OF

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

THE GREATEST BLOOD BUILDER AND NERVE RESTORER IN EXISTENCE.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the Weak Strong.

EXCRUCIATING PAINS

From the Patriot, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Blackmore are well known residents of Hamilton, P. E. I., and both are very warm in their praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they believe this medicine saved the life of their daughter after other means had failed. Mr. Blackmore gave the facts as follows:—"Early in in the summer of 1896 my daughter Rachael began to complain of severe pains in her head and down her spine. These would last for several days, causing great agony and would then relax for a week or so. They were accompanied by fits of vomiting and dizziness. These symptoms were no sooner noticed than I procured medical aid, but the case was so peculiar as to baffle doctor's skill. The pains which were at first severe had become almost unbearable, and the dizziness was so constant that if she attempted to cross the room unaided she would fall prostrate on the floor. Her appetite had forsaken her entirely. The only nourishment she took for two months was a little beef tea and a small quantity of lactated food. I had heard of the cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and resolved as a last resource to give them a trial, and was very grateful to find that almost from the outset they helped her. She kept on using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for three months and her recovery was very rapid, so rapid indeed that at the end of that period she was able to engage in light housework and to walk a mile or two at a time. Never in her life did she enjoy better health than at present, and I am ever thankful to the discoverer of this most effective medicine, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills CURE when other medicines fail.

THE RESULT OF LA GRIPPE.

Form the Cookshire, Que., Chronicle.

Mr. Newell Waldron, is a well known farmer living near East Clifton, Que. As his friends and neighbors know, he passed through a very trying illness as the result of a seyere attack of la grippe, and when a correspondent of the Chronicle called upon him, he had no hesitation in giving the particulars of his illness and cure. Mr.

Waldron said, "I believe I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am glad to have a chance to say a good word in favour of that reliable medicine. During the winter of 1895, when lagrippe was so prevalent, I had a severe attack of it, and it left me so weak that I was unable to do work of any kind. I consulted a doctor, but as he did not appear to help me, began using different advertised medicines, but the result was the same. I got no benefit, but on the contrary was growing weaker. At times I was subject to sinking spells, which verged upon total unconsciousness. I was failing day by day and was becoming hopeless. A neighbor who called to see me urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I sent for a few boxes. After using them for a couple of weeks, I began to feel better, and after the first symptoms of relief, I began to gain steadily. I am now as well as any man, and can do as good a day's work as ever I did. I know that my cure is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am always glad to recommend them."

Mrs. J. Curcie, Dominionville, Ont., writes:—"I cannot find words enough to thank you for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I suffered many years with weakness and pains throughout my entire system; but thanks to your pills, I am once more restored to health."

These Pills are a tonic not a laxative medicine.

You Can Be Cured.

If you are ill it is not you alone who suffer, but those who depend upon you, those to whom you are dear—whether you are a man or woman

The worst diseases in the world are slight ailments at first. If you are feeling weak, nervous or "out of sorts"—if you are at all unwell, take the proper remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—AND GET WELL.

HELPLESS FOR MONTHS.

Form the Trenton, Ont., Courier.

The editor of the Courier having obtained some relief from rheumatism by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and having observed their effect on a young man to whom he had recommended their use, in the interest that everyone should take in the public weal, interviewed Mr. Wm. H. Pickering on the subject. Mr. Pickering told his story as follows, and the editor can vouch for its entire truthfulness. "It would be impossible," he said, "for me to speak too extravagantly of the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the fall of 1894 I contracted a severe cold, which developed into quinsy. Following this paralysis set in and I continued to grow worse until at last I could not stir off my chair without assistance. I lost the entire use of my limbs, and it looked as though I was doomed to spend the rest of my days a helpless wreck. Mr. Young, of the Courier, who had observed the excellent results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in other cases advised me to give them a trial, and I acted on his advice. I had finished my third box when the hoped for relief began to make itself felt, and from that time the progress towards a complete cure was both steady and satisfactory. I am now in possession of my full health and strength, and I feel that this result is entirely due to the excellence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I shall always have a warm word to say in their favour."

A WORD OF CAUTION.

A few unscrupulous tradesmen—their cupidity excited by the great reputation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—make up or buy in the market ready made, some cheap pills, colored pink, which will sell as "Pink Pills" and offer as substitute for Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Such pills are a fraud. The receipt for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is know only to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. All substitutes are therefore useless. To be sure of having none but the genuine, pills, purchasers should not ask for Pink Pills but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and see that they are put up in a package, the wrapper around which is printed with red ink on white paper and bears the full trademark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People". Inside the wrapper are Dr. Williams' directions for use. Pay no attention to any dealer who claims to have "the same thing under another name" or something else "just as good." In case of doubt it is better to write (enclosing price 50 cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes) to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. Walter Boyington, Croton, Ont., says:—"I was run down in health until I was a mere wreck. I occasionally spit blood, had distressing pains in the lungs and stomach, had no appetite, and could scarcely move about. The doctor said my trouble was consumption. As I was constantly growing worse instead of improving, my father advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I began their use and at end of the first week I had gained one and a half pounds in weight. The doctor heard I was taking the pills and said I must discontinue them. I did so for a week and found that I had lost the weight I had gained and I felt sure then that the pills had been helping me, and I again began using them. After taking them for a second week I had gained two pounds and could eat better than I had been doing. The result was that I continued the use of the pills until I had taken thirteen boxes, when I was restored to my former health and strength and while taking them my weight increased twenty-three pounds. I am now enjoying better health than I had done for years and have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to thank for it."

TWO THOUSAND CHARGES

Against a Canadian Held by the Chicago Police,

HE WAS IN THE BICYCLE TRADE

His Operations Said to Cover Every State in the Union—One Firm is Out $9,000—Suspicious Disappearance of His Wife.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Alexander C. McCaulay, a Canadian, who formerly resided in Trenton, is in the hands of the police, charged with wholesale swindling, and it is possible that a further charge of kidnapping will be laid against him. McCaulay was arrested on Friday last, and if only a few of the charges against him are proved it is evident that heretofore McCaulay has been one of the most successful swindlers in the country.

McCaulay is already under indictment by the Federal Grand Jury for using the mails for swindling purposes, and his operations are said to cover every State in the Union and part of Canada. The detectives hold over 2,000 complaints against McCaulay from various persons who contributed from $10 to $40 for a bicycle and failed to secure the wheel. A Pittsburg firm is reported to have lost over $9,000 through McCaulay, who ordered 250 bicycles and failed to meet the bills. A detective recovered thirty of the machines. The Duquesne Bicycle Company, of Peoria, Ill., has charged McCaulay with swindling the firm out of 100 wheels, and it is said by the police that he will be prosecuted on the charge.

Since McCaulay's arrest another matter has come to light in which he may be implicated. The Central police of Chicago have been requested by Mrs. Emil Hahn of St. Louis to find some trace of Gussie Hahn, who married A. T. McCaulay in 1893, and from whom nothing has been heard since that time. The police believe the McCaulay referred to in the letter is the same person who was arrested on the charge of swindling. The letter written by Mrs. Hahn was pathetic, and McCaulay, the alleged swindler, may have a more serious charge to face when his case is called before Justice Foster, October 29. Mrs. Hahn related that Gussie was kidnapped by McCaulay, who forced he girl to marry him at the St. Anne's Catholic Church, near the Hahn home. The couple then left St. Louis. Detectives have been detailed to search for the missing girl.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Provincial Workers from all Over Ontario Meet at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—About 700 delegates are in attendance at the 32nd annual meeting of the Sabbath School Association, which oepned in the Centennary church yesterday. The committee has found difficulty in providing quarters for all the delegates.

The General Executive Board met in the church in the morning. Many matters were discussed and reports were presented. Miss Munro, the secretary, presented a report of the work done during the year. Mr. Alfred Day, the general secretary, had a voluminous report of his work. Since the convention last year he had travelled 11,500 miles on Sunday school work. This was in connection with 59 conventions and 13 Sunday school anniversaries, 156 addresses having been delivered by him at various places.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. R. J. Score, Toronto, showed receipts from Sunday schools amounting to $4,555.77; the disbursements to $4,500.36.

President Maclaren occupied the chair. He made a few opening remarks. He was pleased that "Mr. Deficit" was not present, and that the association was free from debt. Reference was made to the death of Mr. Reynolds, a Sunday school worker.

Mr. J. A. Patterson introduced a number of resolutions to govern the convention.

The President appointed the Nominating Committee as follows: Messrs. H. P. Moore, Acton, convener; R. S. Wallace, Hamilton; the Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, Guelph; R. W. Clarke, Millbrook; R. J. Score, Toronto; Mrs. Stanton, Toronto; the Rev. C. L. Thompson, Newburg; W. L. Thorn, Arthur; D. A. McDermid, F. B. Holtby, Mitchell; George Rutherford, Hamilton; John Jameson, Penetanguishene; Frank Reid, Norfolk; J. J. Woodhouse, Toronto; Dr. Tilley, Bowmanville; A. Day, general secretary, Toronto.

The greater part of the afternoon session was spent in receiving reports from the various districts, counties, towns and cities.

The Rev. W. W. Weeks, Toronto, delivered an earnest and interesting address on "The Seven Steps of Progression in a Sunday School Teacher's Efficiency."

In the evening the church was crowded to the doors, a large number of people, in addition to the delegates, being present. On the platform were several clergymen. A large choir assisted in the musical portion of the service. The Rev. W. H. Wade led in prayer, after which Mayor Colquhoun delivered a warm welcome to the delegates.

An earnest address was delivered by Mr. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture; and Mr. George H. Archibald, secretary of the Quebec Sunday School Association of Quebec, delivered an address on "Principles of Teaching." He gave the teachers a great deal of valuable information.

The singing was led by the choir.

The meeting was one of the largest ever held in the church, and the speakers were attentively listened to.

Where Specialists Failed Dr. Chase's Cured Catarrh.

James Spence, Clashan, Ont., writes:—"I had been a sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years. It became chronic and I had given up hopes of ever being cured when advised by a friend to try Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I at once started and am pleased to state that three boxes effected a complete cure, and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from Catarrh."

The Wabash Railway Trains

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicoction of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as I was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my dear children and I thank Doan's Pills are orth their weight in gold."

IT SAVED HER LIFE.

A Glorious Victory Won by Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. Neil McKay, of North Hill, P.Q., who for a long season was dangerously ill, declares that her life was saved by Paine's Celery Compound. She gives the following testimony, which is vouched for by a well-known resident of the place:—

"I consider it is my duty to add my testimonial to those you have already received for Paine's Celery Compound. My case was a very peculiar one. After doctoring for a long time with different physicians, who did not understand my case, I gave them up. My strength was all gone, and it was with great difficulty I managed to move around. I had a pain continually low down in my left side. Up to a few years ago I was a fleshy woman and weighed 185 pounds, but from a continued drain on my system, I wasted away to a mere shadow. I have taken seven bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and find myself a new woman. I have no pain now and my strength is returning, and I am becoming fleshy again. To Paine's Celery Compound I owe my recovery, and I cannot speak too highly of it, as it saved my life. I write this with great pleasure, and highly recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sufferers."

Mr. J. A. Pennoyer, postmaster, says: "I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Neil McKay and can vouch for the truth of her statements."

A SECOND FRANKLIN

Was Dr. Alexander Milton Ross, Who Died In Detroit.

STARTED AS A PRINTER'S DEVIL

He Made His Way Up Until Decorated by the Crowned Heads of Europe—A Friend of Garibaldi, William Cullen Bryant, John Brown and the Negro Slave.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Alexander Milton Ross, who died at Detroit yesterday, was born in Belleville on December 13, 1832, his parents being Rossshire Highlanders, who came to Canada in 1758. When a boy he was turned out to hew his own way, and went to New York. There he obtained work as a printer's devil on The Evening Post and attracted the attention of William Cullen Bryant, the editor, who rendered him every assistance and remained his firm friend in after life. The struggling boy became a compositor, worked at his trade during the day and studied medicine at night. It was during this time that he became acquainted with Garibaldi, who was making candles for his living, and then commenced a friendship which lasted until the patriot's death in 1882 It was through Dr. Ross' efforts that Garibaldi was granted a pension by the Italian Government. In 1859 Alexander Ross received his degree as M. D., and shortly afterwards was appointed surgeon to General William Walker, who commanded the ill-fated Nicaragua expedition. Joaquin Miller was one of the expedition. It was during this expedition that Dr. Ross was influenced by the luxuriant bird and animal life of the country and inspired with that enthusiasm for natural history which afterwards made him famous.

On his return to the United States he took up the cause of abolition, became the friend and associate of John Brown, and helped to organize the famous Underground Railway, by which slaves were brought from Dixie Land to Canada. During the war he acted as President Lincoln's Canadian correspondent, his duties being to warn the Union Government of the designs hatched in Canada by the Southern agents, who infested the country.

After the close of the Civil War, he went to Mexico with President Juarez, but the capture and death of Emperor Maximilian set him free to work on his own behalf and he returned home to Canada.

But the love of travel was upon him. He became naturalist, and as such traversed the whole of the Canadian wilds. He traveled through Labrador, the vast forest regions between Ottawa and Hudson's Bay and the wilderness of the Northwest Territories, and collected and classified beasts, birds, fishes and flora. The result of his work was to put the natural history of North America on a basis as complete as that of any continent in the world. He contributed to the natural history museums of the world and collections made by him are to be found in Paris, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Rome, Athens, Dresden, Lisbon, Teheran and Cairo. As a result of his labors, honors were showered upon him. He was made a member of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, knighted by the Emperor of Russia and decorated by the Kings of Italy, Saxony, Greece, Portugal, Bavaria, the Shah of Persia, Khedive of Egypt and the French Academy. He was also elected a member of scientific societies in every country in Europe.

As to his works, they were numerous, including treatises on every branch of natural history.

Dr. Ross was a life-long vegetarian and went so far as to hold the opinion that men could be fed on esculents extracted from grass.

As a physician he was an opponent of vaccination and a noted yellow fever expert. For many years he resided in Montreal and then came to Toronto, where he lived on Simcoe-street. He was a familiar and striking figure on the streets, enormously stout and of vast breadth. He leaves a widow and one son, Dr. Ross of Chicago. His remains will be interred here.

NORTHWEST LEGISLATURE.

Important Matters Referred to in the Speech From the Throne—Other Winnipeg News

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The third session of the third Legislature of the Northwest Territories opened at Regina to-day. There was only a small attendance of members. Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh in his speech from the throne made reference to the many expressions of loyalty throughout the west to her Majesty during the Jubilee. He was happy to be able to congratulate them upon the many evidences of prosperity to be seen all over the Territories as a result of a bountiful harvest, and the sound condition and good prospects of all our important industries. The wonderful discoveries of mineral wealth in heretofore unexplored parts of the Territories and the almost absolute certainty of establishing ready means of access to the new gold fields from the settled portions of the country promise most beneficial results in the way of opening up new markets for our staple products, while the building of the Crow's Nest Railway will enable stock raisers and agriculturists to avail themselves of the constant and increasing demand for food supplies of all kinds from the rich mining regions of the neighboring Province of British Columbia. Continuing, his Honor said: "Since the last meeting of the Legislature important changes in the constitution of the Territories have been made by the act passed at the last session of the Federal Parliament. In accordance with the provisions of that act I have chosen an Executive Council and can now congratulate the Territories upon having obtained a completely responsible system of government. In consequence of this change a reorganization of the offices of the Government and the creation of public departments for the carrying on of the public service will be found necessary, and measures having those ends in view will be submitted for your consideration." After the transaction of formal business the House adjourned till to-morrow. Dr. Patrick, the new member for Yorkton, will move the address in reply to the speech from the throne, and Mr. Macdonald will second.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE

Ever at a Sunday School Convention in Ontario at Hamilton Yesterday—Interesting Speeches.

Hamilton, Oct. 29.—The number of delegates in attendance at the Sunday School Convention yesterday was the largest in the history of the organization, and still more are coming by every train, so that another official bulletin of attendance will break this record-breaking day.

To-day's sessions began at 9 a.m., Dr. Beavis leading the devotional exercises. The General Executive Committee then handed its report to Chairman John A. Paterson. The document referred to the extinction of the debt, regretted that more counties had not contributed to the fund, recommended an increase of $100 to Corresponding Secretary Jessie A. Munro, and placed the estimates for the coming year at $4000.

Prof. Hammill of Chicago, a great name in international lesson work, next spoke cleverly on the Lesson in the Bible, and the Bible in the Lesson. He counselled the pure study of the Bible text, allowing no "non-conditions" to intervene. The Bible was best, because it was a unit, had an impressiveness of its own, and possessed home grown associations.

The next to talk to the big crowd was Rev. Dr. Parker of Toronto. He handled "The Bible attitude to the temperance problems of the day." He was thankful that in the Bible they had a fixed rule and standard of judging an evil to body, brain, blood, soul, home and society. He saw in the sacred injunctions, "Abstain from wine wherein is excess," "Look not upon wine when it is red in the cup" (red meaning fermented), and in "Be ye sober" (sober meaning in the Greek text, drink not), a distinct law that the Bible enforced total abstinence. Dr. Parker said alcohol was not known until the middle ages, the strong drink of the ancients being a mixture of wine and stupifying drugs. He who counselled mild suasion was a "back number." "They must clip the tiger's claws, and crack his head with the temperance club, and this was to be done by mental, moral, legislative and prison suasion."

The collection at the end of the services was $34.

Killed by a Savage Sow.

Chatham, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—While being taken into St. Joseph's Hospital at 2 o'clock this afternoon a young lad named John Patterson, 11 years of age, expired. He was the victim of an attack by a savage sow on the farm of Mr. William Cameron, Harwich. The sow had young ones, and the lad was feeding the animals when the old one savagely ran at him, knocked him down and bit and tore his body in several places. Doctors did all they could to save the luckless boy's life, but in vain.

BREAD CONSUMPTION

Dr. P. H. Bryce, Secretary of the Ontario Board of Health,

GIVES SOME STARTLING DETAILS

Of the Inroads Made by the Disease, Before the American Public Health Association at Philadelphia, Place of the State in Dealing With This Scourge of Human Life.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—Some of the assertions made by Dr. P. H. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health of Ontario, in his paper on "The Place of the State in Dealing with Tuberculosis," before the American Public Health Association in session here yesterday, were so startling as to awaken profound interest in the conference. After dealing with the fact that it is only recently that tuberculosis has begun to be understood. Dr. Bryce went on to prove by statistics that over 11 per cent. of all deaths are consequent upon the ravages of this dread disease, which in every age and in every clime cuts down men, women and children with fell swoop.

The deaths from tuberculosis in Ontario in successive census years have been: In 1871, 1042, or 11.2 per cent. of all deaths; in 1881, 2397, or 10.8 per cent., and in 1891, 2463, or 11.4 per cent.

Taking the city of Toronto the deaths from tuberculosis during the past seven years have been: 1890, 387; 1891, 430; 1892, 477; 1893, 512; 1894, 442; 1895, 450; and 1896, 442.

In the United States in 1890 no less than 101,993 deaths occurred from tuberculosis. This was 12 per cent. of all the deaths for the year.

Accepting Guerard's figures for New York City as illustrative we find that of every 1000 deaths from all causes between the ages of 15 and 60, or during the productive years of human life, there died from tuberculosis 373.9, on an average, for the six cities of Berlin, Vienna, Prague, Paris, Brussels and New York. Under similar conditions this percentage of 37 per cent. of all deaths will be generally found to exist in the large cities of temperate climates.

Applying the common calculation, as given by Guerard, where he states the estimated loss to the city of New York, due to the annual deaths of 6072 persons from tuberculosis as $6,072,000, the economic loss to Ontario in 1895 was $2,472,000. It is now a fact established by numbers of observations and statistics that from 50 to 75 per cent. of all cases of tuberculosis, in the early stages, treated in special sanatoria, may be restored to comparative health, while some 35 per cent. will permanently recover.

Hence it may be a . . that were the assumed 5000 consumptives existing to-day in Ontario placed in sanatoria at least 50 per cent. of them would be preserved to produce wealth for the state. In other words the annual loss of $2,472,000 would be saved. The lessening of such number of infective centres of disease means an immediate reduction in the number of new cases, and of the number demanding treatment. Many other results of an economic character, such as the cost of sickness, loss of time through nursing, might be added, but these suffice to indicate the nature of the problem.

It seems to me, therefore, that the question of how far the state will take up the public work of dealing with tuberculosis is decided by the dictum of one of the most advanced American writers on economic problems, viz.: "That it is the duty of the state to do whatever cannot be done so well by the individual," and by the principles which we see daily being put into practice in every state, province or city on the continent.

The Newfoundland Elections.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 28.—The general election of members of the Legislative Assembly is taking place to-day. All of the 30 constituencies are being contested. As large stretches of coast are comprised in one of the districts the full results will not be known before next week. The general feeling is, however, that the contest between the Government supporters and the Opposition is likely to be very close. In the retiring House of Assembly the Government had 22 seats as against 14 held by the Opposition.

Body of Canadian Found on Board.

Kirkfield, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The body of one of the two sons of Chief Constable McKay of French River, who, it will be remembered, were accidentally drowned in the French River last fall, was found last week about four miles from the spot where the accident is supposed to have occurred. The remains were brought to Bobcaygeon on Tuesday and buried in the family plot in the cemetery of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Severe Headaches

Resulting from Catarrh Cause Great Suffering

The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. E. GREY, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

AT SEMPAGHA PASS

The Tribesmen Are Preparing for Another Stand.

THEY HAVE ALREADY OPENED FIRE.

Charged With Blundering Withdrawal of the Royal Irish Regiment—A New Indian Leak—A Grave Scandal at Athens The Duchess of Teck's Funeral.

Simla, Oct. 28.—An official despatch from Gundaki says that during a reconnaisance this afternoon to the foot of the Sempagha Pass by the Devonshire Regiment and a detachment of Goorkhas the insurgent tribesmen opened fire upon the British force at long range. Colonel Sage was wounded. The enemy have been moving towards the summit of the pass all the afternoon.

DID THE IRISHMEN SULK?

A Sensational Despatch from Bombay Printed in London Chronicle.

London, Oct. 29.—The Daily Chronicle prints this morning a sensational telegram from Bombay, which says:

"There is much speculation here as to the reasons for the withdrawal of the 2nd Battalion Royal Irish Regiment from Samana to Rawalpindi. It is asserted on one hand that the men sulked at the critical moment and refused to march further. On the other hand, Col. Lawrence says that two companies were at the front with the other troops on the day in question, while the remaining companies were retired by order of a staff officer.

"This latter statement is contradicted from headquarters by the assertion that the order was to advance and not to retire. When the entire battalion was withdrawn to Rawalpindi, General Sir Yeatman Biggs gave as a reason that it was saturated with malaria. A medical examination was demanded, and this developed the fact that 85 per cent. of the men were quite healthy."

Commenting upon this despatch The Daily Chronicle says: "Evidently someone has blundered, and the case is one that demands inquiry. It is a singular fact that, while there are numerous Scotch battalions on the Northwestern Indian frontier, there are only one or two Irish battalions."

NEW BALLOON STORY.

Andree's Airship said to Have Been Sighted September 23.

Christiania, Oct. 28.—Despatches received here from the island of Vardoe, in the Arctic Ocean, off Finmark, which, with Vardoehuus, is the most northern part of Europe, say the public there is fully convinced of the truth of the report that a whaling ship sighted Prof. Andree's balloon, floating, on Sept. 23, near Prince Charles Promontory, Spitzbergen. The news has caused considerable depression among the friends of Prof. Andree. Brakmo, the Arctic explorer, proposes to sail for Prince Charles Promontory, in order to investigate the truth of the story told by the crew of the whaler.

Captain Svedrup of Dr. Nansen's exploring ship the Fram does not believe the report of the sighting of the balloon to be correct.

A SCANDAL AT ATHENS.

The Torpedoes Provided for the War Were Useless.

Athens, Oct. 28.—A profound sensation has been caused here by a naval scandal of formidable dimensions. It has just been ascertained that the cartridges fitted to the torpedoes during the war between Greece and Turkey were unprovided with percussion caps and fulminating mercury. Hence, if the torpedoes had been used, they would have been ineffective.

The committee of investigation which was appointed to enquire into the matter has already decided that two officers, named Rastopoulo and Anastasi, must be tried by court-martial on the charge of culpable negligence.

The anti-dynastic newspapers are making violent attacks on Prince George of Greece, who was the commander of the torpedo flotilla. The Prince, who was a great favorite with the masses previous to the war, is deeply affected by these attacks.

THE MAHDI AND FRANCE

Will Co-operate in Maintaining the Integrity of the Ottoman Empire.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Eclair publishes a remarkable article to-day to the effect that three French missions are now on their way to Khartoum, by forced marches as a result of an understanding with the Mahdi, reached in 1896, by which France recognizes the Soudan as an independent state under the suzerainty of the Sultan of Turkey, in return for certain concessions. In conclusion, The Eclair says: "France is acting in these regions by the express desire of the Mahdi, and in conformity of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, with the principle of the maintenance incessantly proclaimed by M. Hanotaux, the French Minister for Foreign Affairs."

To Settle the Dispute.

Paris, Oct. 28. — The British and French commissioners appointed to discuss the territorial disputes in West Africa between France and Great Britain will begin their sessions to-morrow, the French Minister for Foreign Affairs, M. Hanotaux, and the British Ambassador to France, Sir Edmund Monson, having decided upon the general lines of the discussion.

THE EVIDENCE IS ADMISSIBLE

Depositions Taken at Inquests May be Used in Murder Trials.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The Crown has obtained judgment in its favor in the appeal case of Regina vs. Williams, argued before Chief Justice Armour and Justices Street and Falconbridge a few weeks ago.

The point at issue was whether the depositions taken at an inquest could be used as evidence in any subsequent proceedings. The specific case at issue was one in which a man named Williams was tried for manslaughter at Napanee and acquitted.

Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright appealed for a new trial on the ground that following a similar precedent in the Hendershott case Williams' testimony, given at the inquest of the victim, had been excluded by Mr. Justice Robertson.

In granting the appeal Chief Justice Armour draws attention to the section of the Canada Evidence Act which provides that no person shall be excused from answering any question upon the ground that the answer to such question may tend to criminate him or may tend to establish his liability to a civil proceeding at the instance of the Crown or of any other person; provided, however, that no evidence so given shall be used or receivable in evidence against such person in any criminal proceeding thereafter instituted against him other than a prosecution for perjury in giving such evidence.

The Most Prominent Are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

As to Hose.

It seems very queer to think of wearing white silk stockings for other than evening wear. That is what we are coming to, and whoever else objects, the hundreds certainly will not. Clocks, too, are again in favor, and very pretty some of the are, pretty enough to please anybody. The designs are much more elaborate than those we used to wear, and they are to be had in white and colors on black and also in combinations of colors. Ribbed effects in black, alternated with colors and in some cases combined with embroidery, are also to be had.

In fact all the new hosiery is lovely. Scotch plaids in lisle and silk mixtures being especially attractive. Then there are some with wide silk stripes. Plain boot patterns with artistically combined colors for the uppers are also very desirable. Another of the new patterns shows medallions filled with flowers embroidered all over the stocking.

Self-Deception in Dress.

Dress remains one of the topics most interesting to women. Sometimes a woman will deny this most vehemently, and point out that she dresses most plainly and according to some system following physical-culture rules. Yet, though she may forswear tight fits and belts of all kinds, and use the shoulders to support her skirts instead of the waist, she will still give fully as much time and attention to making herself comfortable as her unreformed sister gives to making herself lovely in dainty, fluffy gowns. Each in her way loves to discuss the lines of the waist, whether it be short or long, the shape of the skirts, and the color and texture of the goods. So, notwithstanding the protests of reformers, dress continues to be an interesting topic with all sorts and conditions of women.

THE SOULANGES CANAL.

A Strong Deputation of Over 100 Makes Complaint Regarding Employment on It

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—A deputation numbering nearly 100 and headed by Dr. Bourbonnais, M.P., Mr. A. G. Bourbonnais, M.P.P., and Dr. Isaline, M.P.P., had an interview with the Premier in the Railway Committee room this morning. They complained of the manner in which patronage was distributed in the Counties of Vaudreuil and Soulanges, their principal grievance being in connection with the Soulanges Canal. They alleged that Mr. Schreiber, the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, only gave employment to Conservatives, and that, moreover, men brought from Ontario and the Maritime Provinces were employed instead of those resident in the counties referred to. No fault was found with the Government, either in regard to this matter or respecting expropriation claims already decided upon by the Exchequer Court, but it was alleged that the Government officials had not fairly done their duty. The Premier thanked the delegation for laying their complaints so plainly before him, and after asking for full particulars of various cases he promised that the matter would receive the fullest investigation.

The militia clothing contracts were awarded this afternoon. M. H. Borsett of Montreal gets the biggest share of the work. Marsollais and Mundy of Montreal get about $10,000. The contract for caps and gauntlets goes to Z. Pacquet of Quebec and Tunstead & Co. of Hamilton.

Real Estate Deal in Winnipeg.

The Bank of Hamilton yesterday bought the Richardson property at the corner of Main and Owen-streets, Winnipeg, for $33,000, where the bank's agency in that city will be located. There is a boom on in Winnipeg just now or this same property was offered for sale not long ago for $30,000. The deal was arranged yesterday afternoon between the president, Mr. John Stuart, and Mr. W. G. McWilliams, in this city.

Very Much Like a Fake.

A youth of about 19, named Walter Belleau, who sells newspapers and lives at 92 George-street called on Manager Gamble at the Dominion Bank yesterday morning and delivered a lengthy letter, which said that if the bank would agree to deposit $2000 in a New York bank to the credit of the writer, the unsigned notes stolen from the Dominion Bank branch at Napanee would be returned to the bank.

Belleau was closely questioned by Mr. Gamble regarding the sender of the communication. The lad said he was accosted by a man at Jarvis and King-streets Wednesday night and asked if he wished to earn a dollar. The lad of course said "yes," whereat the stranger accompanied him to 92 George-street, where he dictated the letter to him and told him to deliver it when the bank opened in the morning.

The bank has not yet decided what action to take in the matter.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubled for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. FUR SEAL CONFERENCE

Three of the Powers Interested Have Now United.

RUSSIA, JAPAN AND THE STATES

An Agreement Said to Have Been Arrived At—Pelagic Sealing on the High Seas Will No Longer be Permitted.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—In reliable quarters it is stated that the conference between Russia, Japan, and the United States, now proceeding here in reference to sealing in the Behring Sea and the North Pacific, has advanced to an important stage, and that a proposition has been reduced to writing, which, if accepted, will bring about a complete change in the sealing question. The proposition is said to be acceptable to the United States. It is understood to be acceptable similarly to the Russian delegates now here, but in view of the restrictions placed upon them by their credentials, it has been thought desirable to cable to St. Petersburg for final instructions. The Japanese delegates are understood to have felt at first that the proposition would not be in their interest, but on fuller conference Mr. Fujita determined to cable the substance of the proposition to his Government, accompanying it with a recommendation of its acceptance. Little doubt is entertained that Russia will accept the proposition, and in view of Mr. Fujita's recommendation, it is believed that Japan also will join in it. The greatest secrecy is preserved in all official quarters as to the nature of the proposition. It is not officially admitted that any proposition has been made. From equally reliable sources it is understood that the proposition has a far-reaching scope, and provides for the material limitation, or entire suspension, of pelagic sealing, or sealing on the high seas. Such a desealing on the highseas. Such a decisive step, if agreed to by Russia, Japan, and the United States, would, it is understood, not involve any concerted move to menace the claims of Great Britain and Canada to the right of pelagic sealing in the high seas, but would rather be a proposition expressive of the conclusions of the three most interested powers that in the interests of humanity and the preservation of the seal herds of their respective governments, all nations, including Great Britain and her colony, Canada, should unite with Russia, the United States, and Japan in such effective prevention of pelagic sealing on the high seas as will put an end to it, thereby securing the preservation of the seals.

M'INTYRE ESCAPES.

While the Gaoler Slept the Firebug Got Away. But was Caught.

Windsor, N. S., Oct. 29.—Surprise and indignation filled the town yesterday morning when it was known that John McIntyre, the firebug, had escaped. He had been confined in the blockhouse in charge of a constable during the examination, and despite the protests of the citizens and militia was left without handcuffs. Goalkeeper Fuller was asleep, when McIntyre got away through the window at five in the morning. The guard at the blockhouse was out at the time. An alarm was raised immediately, and soldiers went out all over the country. The bridges were all guarded. Stipendiary Magistrate Christie, with a posse of constables, left at six o'clock for Chester road. Citiens turned out armed.

Mayor Smith said: "We deserve to be the laughing-stock of the Dominion for allowing a notorious firebug to escape. It is disgraceful. The news came to me like a shock. I could hardly realize it. Imagine a prisoner sleeping between two guards, and under the watch of a special officer, escaping. The prisoner should have been shackled."

Mayor Smith sent out Constable Dimock, accompanied by your correspondent, with a pair of horses, in chase. They got on a trail from one, Ezra Swinnerhammer, who had seen McIntyre pass. They came to the main road near Dill's Crossing, and they rode across a field. McIntyre saw Dimock in the distance. After they passed he made for Dill's cutting, and while endeavoring to cross the railway was spied by four trolley men, who went in pursuit of the fugitive. He was overtaken by Sectionmen Burgess and Black, and arrested and placed on a trolley. Dimock and the reporter ran alongside of the trolley for a mile to the crossing, where Captain Dimock and mounted guard met, and handcuffed him.

The Veterans.

Already there is some trouble among the veterans of 1866 concerning the receiving of the medals which have recently been granted by the Government. It seems that there is now no record on hand of those who actually took part in the defence of the country from the Fenians, except the pay rolls, and these do not give all the information. The Government is sending to the various commanding officers who served at this time and requesting that all possible information may be furnished.

Opera House To-night.

To-night Warren Conlan and his excellent company open a return engagement of two nights at Bradburn's Opera House presenting Sheridan Knowles' classic success, "Virginuis," to-morrow night "Othello," and for Saturday matinee "The Merchant of Venice" will be given. Remember this is the same company that made such a hit last week, the house being crowded each night. It is not often the people of Peterborough have the opportunity of witnessing Shakesperean productions at popular prices, but when the opportunity presents itself, as is the case to-night, the capacity of the house should be tested to its utmost. The prices to-night are 15, 25 and 35 cents, with a few select seats at 50 cents.

—Mr. W. E. Green, agent for the R. S. Williams Company (Limited), met with a painful accident while assisting in the unloading of a piano at the residence of Mr. A. Fife, Asphodel, on Saturday. It appears that one of the men lifted too heavy on one corner of the instrument and overbalanced it and it fell off the wagon, a distance of about four feet, striking Mr. Green behind the left ear, inflicting a severe cut, and also bruising his left hand. The piano sustained no injury by the mishap, and this, the agent thinks, speaks volumes for the construction and durability of the piano.—Norwood Register.

HENRY GEORGE.

Henry George is dead. He was a great and good man. His aim and object was the freedom of the people—a freedom which he thought could be attained only by the liberation of the land from private control. Private control of the opportunities of making a living, of which the land is chief, he considered inconsistent with the greatest happiness of the greatest number. His theory was named the Single Tax because he taught that since taxes must be raised for public purposes and as premiums should be paid for the use of public privileges, such as the franchise in land, it was best to make these premiums for the use of land pay all the taxes. This single, yet sufficient source of revenue, would liberate all the products of labour from taxation, or, in other words, give the toiler the full reward of his toil and would prevent the holding of land in private hands for speculative purposes only. Without discussing the pros and cons of this great question, which has been the leading feature of recent economic history, we can all without exception pause to place a flower upon the bier of a man at once pure and true. His desire for the good of the producer led him to sacrifice all his worldly goods for the propagation of his ideas, and had it not been for the recent gift of a large sum of money from an ardent admirer, he would have died as poor as the poorest of those for whom he worked so long. His death has has taken place in the midst of the battle, the contest for the mayoralty of Greater New York, and has produced a profound sensation throughout the world. In private life he was adored, both for the nobility of his character and the gentleness of his nature. But if he was gentle he was brave, and his speeches remind one of the inexorable decrees of fate, delivered, as they were, in simple, dignified and direct language, which no foe could misunderstand or ignore. Whatever may be the outcome of his famous theory, first placed before the public in scientific form in his "Progress and Poverty," and in his lectures in Great Britain and America, there is no doubt that the world is better for his having lived. The expressions of regret at his death heard on every side, indicate how the simple, direct and honest devotion of his life to the work of benefitting his fellows, has touched a responsive chord in the popular heart.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HEAR THE PRESIDENT.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS IN ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL HOUSE.

The Origin of the Order and the Character of its Work—The Two Basic Thoughts—Practical Work.

Mrs. Tilley, of London, Ont., Dominion President of the King's Daughters, spoke to the local members of the Order in St. John's church school house last evening. There were a large number present from St. John's congregation and quite a few from the other churches of the town.

The President has a most pleasing presence and is no effort for her to speak fluently.

In opening the meeting Rev. J. C. Davidson, the rector, drew attention to the peculiar appropriateness of the evening for such a meeting, it being St. Simon's and St. Jude's Day, the epistle and gospel bringing out the idea of Christian work in concert. After welcoming those present he introduced the speaker of the evening, who opened her address with an interesting account of the origin of the King's Daughters. It came from a felt need. She, who is at present Vice-President of the Order, was journeying and when just a few days from land one of the passengers, a young man, had died, and she heard that during his short illness the cry for his mother was continually on his lips, and the thought instantly struck her "Oh, why was I not in a position in the absence of his mother, to minister to him in the Maker's name."

ACROSS THE OCEAN

This was one of the thoughts which brought the Order into existence, but a stronger, deeper spirit was also moving—the spirit of the living God. Through His spirit moving in their hearts the women met in New York and organized the King's daughters.

There were two basic thoughts in the Society—the development of religious life and the stimulation of Christian activity. All are welcomed into the Order who feel that they owe all to God and wish to serve Him. Those of all ages are welcome too, from the tiny little ones to the aged, who are just waiting for the Master's call.

A beautiful thought for us to remember in our work is that He left it as a legacy to us to do what He could not remain on earth to finish.

Each member must hold herself responsible to the King. The responsibility is between the individual soul and its Maker.

It is a mistake to think that the Order exists for anything else but to EXALT THE LORD.

It is a religious Order and not founded for philanthropic and charitable objects, although these are taken up as being in line with the work.

Mission work in Japan was at first carried on under the greatest difficulties, as the natives did not understand how it was possible for Christians to worship the one God and yet have so many different ways of doing it. The Missions of the different churches conflicted. The difficulty, however, was solved through the medium of the King's Daughters, with whom all met on the same footing.

Mrs. Tilley then passed on to speak of the Order's practical work amongst the poor, the idea being to help the needy to help themselves in order that aid might be extended without pampering them. Great care had to be exercised in giving help in such a way that the receiver need not be deprived of self respect. As an instance, the speaker mentioned a poor woman who tried ineffectively to make her living by taking in washing. Help was extended by presenting her with a mangle. With its assistance she was able to support herself nicely. Another woman could not be persuaded to accept help, although in great need, but she was persuaded to let her hens receive charity. The members of the Order fed the hens and the hens

FED THE OLD LADY.

A capital scheme had been formulated in Kingston by the formation of a food and fuel club. A number of young ladies constituted themselves the bankers for the poor of the city, and during the summer, when there was plenty of work called on them weekly and received such contributions as they could afford to give. In the winter this was given back with interest in the shape of household necessaries.

When speaking along the line of temperance, Mrs. Tilley argued that the whole matter was in the hands of the young women. In speaking to them directly on the subject, she urged them to think of the matter when they offered wine in their homes to young men. Where a young man might be quite able to withstand temptation when out in the world, the offer, when coming from one of whom he thought a great deal, in her home, might be his undoing. She pressed the young women to take a stand for Christ on the question of temperance.

The great scope made attainable through the flower mission was then dwelt upon, after which the international character of the order was referred to by the speaker.

The meeting was closed by the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. Davidson.

MISS JEAN CAMERON DESCRIBES THE LAKES.

IN AN INTERESTING LETTER TO A SCOTCH PAPER.

The Beautiful Scenery Dilated Upon With a Fluency Which Makes the Article Most Readable.

The following reference to a well known young lady of Peterborough in the Young Folks column, of the Edinburgh Scotcsman, of Oct. 16th, will prove interesting reading to many who did not know that the town possessed so clever a young writer:

In response to an invitation from me made some time ago, our old and esteemed clubmate, Jean Cameron, of Peterborough, Ontario, sends me a most charming description of the lakes in the vicinity of her Canadian home. Jean has already afforded us more than one evidence of her cleverness, and the contribution just to hand from her will serve to raise this young writer still higher in our estimation. I invite all of you, my young friends, to read Jean's delightful epistle. This is what it contains:

"The lakes of Killarney are famed in song and story, the lochs of bonnie Scotland are of wide-world renown, but there still remain the rural lakes of Canada, which, to my mind, are quite picturesque and romantic enough to satisfy the heart of any artist, and to become, through time, fitting rivals to those across the broad Atlantic. Not far from the charming town of Peterborough is found a chain of these delightful lakes, which for many years have been both with people residing near them and with many who are at a distance from them. One could not wish for, or imagine, a prettier trip than to take one of the lake steamers, and go for a cruise among the islands of Stony Lake. Leaving Lakefield a small village not far from Peterborough, the steamer glides smoothly away through the blue depths; and once more settled on deck it is impossible for one to resist the beauty of the surrounding scene. Above is the blue dome of heaven, with perhaps a few fleecy clouds, floating lazily along; beneath is the sparkling water, dancing in the bright morning sunshine, and rippling softly as the fresh breeze blows lightly over it. On either side the banks are verdure-clad, their thick soft foliage forming a capital retreat for the many birds which frequent the lake shores. Here and there appears an opening, and a tiny farm house comes into view, nestling amongst the trees, and having a background of fields of ripening grain, stretching away as far as the eye can reach. Again the shore becomes marshy, and tall weeds border it for some distance, waving gently to and fro to the music of some happy songster deftly hidden from view. Here you find the dainty water lilies, yellow and white, which, floating on their green leaves, make as pretty a picture as one could wish for. All the time the steamer puffs cheerfully on, its monotonous noise broken from time to time by the ringing call of a passing boatman or the weird cry of a loon, as it floats along the water, and then dives quickly out of sight. Occasionally one may see a crane

SWOOP GRACEFULLY DOWN,

skim over the surface, scarcely touching it, and finally light gently on a log or some low, projecting branch, with an air which says, "I am monarch of all I survey." All this proves most interesting, and one cannot fail to be happy as he gazes on the wonderful panorama, Nature's own handiwork. Leaving Clear Lake, we enter Stoney, so-called from the immense quantities of rock found everywhere round here; and then commences perhaps the most interesting part of the trip. For it is on the many little islands which dot this charming lake that the campers pitch their tents or build their cottages. To wind in and out amongst these masses of trees and rock, dropping a passenger here or picking one up there, is a source of continual pleasure; and the life of fun and enjoyment which the cottagers lead and which is obvious from their happy, free-from-care appearance, never fails to leave a favourable impression of Stony Lake. The islands, one and all, are most picturesque, and with its cottage built snugly amid a bower of trees or near some giant rock, each forms an ideal retreat for warm summer days. Hammocks are slung in shady nooks, and rustic seats—some carved from moss-covered stumps and others the work of Nature—are found in every available space. But perhaps the most striking feature is the immense rocks which tower from the water's edge to a

SOMETIMES DANGEROUS HEIGHT, presenting a most formidable appearance and forming an imposing barricade. Sometimes they are covered with velvety green moss, or overgrown with tiny vines whose clinging tendrils fasten themselves firmly to the hard rock; and, again, you may see nothing but the barren rugged stone, upon which the sun beats most unmercifully down. The cottages themselves are built of wood, and as a rule are one-storied. And very pretty they look with their broad, cool verandahs, shaded by gaily striped awnings and decorated by innumerable little Union Jacks. At night a great number of them are hung with Chinese lanterns, and I need scarcely say that the effect is charming. What with the moon shining brightly upon the dark waters, the myriads of tiny lights sparkling through the trees, and the balmy evening air, it seems like a peep into fairyland. And then there is no end to the means of enjoying yourself. One day there may be a fishing excursion, or a trip to some pretty spot up the lake. The latter is a never ending delight, as the place abounds in delightful little lakes and streams, the most noted of which are Fairy Lake, White Lake and Eel Creek. The first is a spot of considerable interest, not merely on account of its extreme picturesqueness, but for the fact that it has no visible inlet or outlet. As for White Lake, it is a bed of lilies, and is an admirable spot for the disciples of Isaac Walton, as the waters

TEEM WITH BASS.

Both sheets of water have a charming rural fascination about their shores, which make them great attractions for picnicers. Eel Creek is simply magnificent. There are four falls, and the wild rustic beauty of the place is beyond description. Imagine a cool, dark stream flowing silently down between two wildernesses of ferns and flowers—for so the banks appear to be—with an overhanging arch formed by projecting branches of knotted old trees, through which one gets a glimpse of pale blue sky, while before you winds the deep silent water. As for the the fifth fall, it is a minature Niagara. To see the white torrent of water foaming and dashing against the hard, grey rocks, scattering the spray in all directions, is a grand and fascinating sight; and to hear the thunderous roar of the waters as they enter the creek is something not easily forgotten. Such a scene leaves a lasting impression. Then there is the picnic party, or berry picking, a friendly visit to a neighbour, in all of which, of course, there is the additional enjoyment of being on the water. And if all else fails, to get a rod and hook and go to some marshy spot to fish for frogs is not at all a bad way of putting in some spare time. Frogs' legs, you know, are delicious. In the evening there may be a dance or flotilla, both of which are splendid fun; but the time never drags, and one is quite content to retire at eleven or half-past, and be lulled to sleep by the doleful chant of the whip-poor-will."

We thank you, Jean, most cordially for this very pretty picture of those famous Canadian lakes. It was indeed kind of you to provide us with such a long description of them. We only wish others of our friends who are acquainted with beautiful spots would chat to us about them as you have done. A good many clubmates in various parts have not contributed to the entertainment here for long, long months. This is a fitting opportunity for them to come forward and help to brighten our weekly gatherings with interesting talks about famous places they have visited, grand objects they have seen, fun and sport they have had, and pursuits from which they derive pleasure.

"Speaking of myself I have had sever pains in the small of my back, in both sides and between my shoulders for over seven years and I was also troubled with urinary difficulties, dizziness, pain in the head, etc, so much so that I could get but little sleep, and frequently got up as tired as when I went to bed, and feeling totally unfit for work.

"I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have cured me of all my kidney troubles. They have taken away the tired feeling, built up my system, and made me feel like a new man.

"My son James, now 13 years of age, was attacked four years ago by malaria, which left him with severe pain in the back and weakness of the kidneys. He has been troubled in that way ever since, and until he took Doan's Kidney Pills could get no relief, but they have cured him entirely.

"It is no wonder that I speak highly of these remarkable pills, for they are undoubtedly the best kidney cure in the world, seeing that they cured both myself and son in such a short time." 291

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose assistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 90 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y.

G. T. R. TRAIN BREAKS IN TWO

And the Rear Part Smashes Twenty Grain Laden Cars in the Collision.

Iroquois, Ont., Oct. 27.—A big smash-up occurred at this station, which is on the Grand Trunk main line, this morning. A heavy east-bound freight train broke in two a short distance west of here. The engine and part of the train attached speeded into the station and began taking on water, intending to run back afterwards and bring in the remainder of the train.

To the surprise of all, the rear half suddenly appeared, coming towards the station at high speed. Before the forward part could get out of the way it crashed into it. The collision was terrific, and twenty grain-laden cars were badly wrecked. Their contents were scattered in all directions. It seems as if every third car was telescoped into the one in front of it, and but few were derailed.

The rear brakeman says he did not know that the train had broken in two, a thick fog making it impossible to see two car lengths ahead. He had a narrow escape from death. A large wrecking crew has arrived and will have the line clear this afternoon.

$50,000 A YEAR

And the Home Goes to the Widow of Late George M. Pullman Daughters a Million Each Sons Little.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The will of George M. Pullman was filed for probate this afternoon. To his widow he left the homestead on Prairie-avenue. Sufficient funds are also set aside to provide her an income of $50,000 yearly during her life; $1,000,000 each is left in trust for his two daughters, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden of Chicago, and Mrs. Carolan of San Francisco. An income of but $30,000 yearly is provided for his two sons, George M., jr., and Sanger W. Mrs. Lowden is also given the summer residence known as Castle Rest, on an island in the St. Lawrence River. About $150,000, in sums of $10,000 and $20,000 is left to various charitable institutions in Chicago. A sum of $200,000 is given for the erection of a manual training school in Pullman, which is also endowed with $1,200,000. Five old employes are given $5000 each.

Two sisters and two brothers of the dead millionaire are given $50,000 each and another brother gets $25,000.

If the estate shall be more than sufficient to satisfy all the devises, trusts and legacies named, the executors are directed to divide the excess into two equal shares and add the same respectively to the two portions set aside for the daughters, Mrs. Lowden and Mrs. Carolan.

A THREE-POUND GOLD NUGGET

Found in the Cassiar Range—Placer Mine Richer Than Klondike.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Charles Law passed through the city east to-day, having in possession a three-pound gold nugget from the Cassiar range, east of Teslin Lake. This country, lately prospected by Mr. Law, is rich in placers and quartz, and is likely to outshine the Klondike. The region is much easier of access, being situated on the head waters draining out of the Yukon. Mr. Law believes he has discovered mountain quartz, from which all the gold on the Yukon and other streams originally came. He has a specimen from a solid ridge of quartz forty miles long, which contains more gold than quartz. The place is north of Caribou, the Klondike of 15 years ago, and in the same range of mountains.

Moreover, Mr. Girdlestone told Mr. Tarte that he would come from England at his own cost to give evidence before a committee of the House next session if his presence would be useful in promoting the plan of the department. Mr. Tarte and Mr. Coste were in town today, and it is expected that work will soon begin.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

PROF. CLARK'S STEPSON.

Colin Campbell, Accidentally Kills Playmate, George Lightfoot, With an Old Revolver.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—A sad accident, that resulted in instantaneous death, happened yesterday afternoon at the residence of Prof. William Clark of Trinity College, 193 Crawford-street, when his 10-year-old stepson, Colin Campbell, accidentally shot and killed his playmate, George Lightfoot, the 14-year-old son of R. J. Lightfoot, grocer, corner Lisgar and Queen-streets, whose home is at 85 Beaconsfield-avenue.

It is the same old story of two boys playing with a revolver, not knowing that it was loaded, and one of them is sent into eternity by its discharge.

Coroner Lynd and Inspector Armstrong were notified, and the coroner thought an inquest was unnecessary.

This is the second son of Mr. Lightfoot's that has been killed by an accident, as about two or three years ago a son of his fell from a third-storey window in Murray's building on Queen-street and was killed.

The Estate in a Valise.

Picton, Oct. 28. Mrs. Adams is asking the courts to take the control of her late father's estate, out of the hands of her brother, Adelbert Wycott. Wycott, it is alleged, carries the estate, $2000 in cash, about in a valise and also drinks. During a bout at Kingston he cut his throat and now lies at the point of death. The money is in the Bank of Montreal.

Seal Conference is Secret.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—The International Seal Conference met again at the State Department to-day, with all the members present. The proceedings are secret in the sense that no one but the delegates are allowed in the meeting room, save certain persons who are called upon to give expert testimony as to the conditions of seal life and the state of the market for skins. It is expected that the conference will be in session some time.

The Boundary Line.

When a young girl steps from girlhood into womanhood, she enters a new and strange country. A land of promise and hope, yet full of hidden dangers. Whether she will find happiness or misery depends largely upon the health and condition of the delicate, special organism which is the source and centre of her womanhood.

The lives of young women are often wrecked because of a mistaken sense of modesty, which leads them to neglect the earlier symptoms of feminine weakness.

These troubles unless corrected, develop into serious chronic difficulties which become a dragging burden, ruining life's best opportunities and blighting all possibility of happy wifehood and motherhood.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints needs the health-giving power of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It heals and strengthens the womanly organs; stops weakening drains; gives vitality to the nerve-centres, and restores perfect organic soundness and constitutional energy. It is the only medicine devised for this purpose by a skilful and experienced specialist in diseases of the feminine organism.

Mrs. W. B. Dugan, of Arlington, Mo., writes: "I have used your 'Favorite Prescription' and am never tired of sounding its praise. When my lady friends complain, I say 'Why don't you take Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription?' I told an anxious mother, whose daughter (18 years old) had not been right for five months, about the medicine, and after the young lady had taken two-thirds of a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' she was all right. She had been treated by two of our best doctors."

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" sent, paper-bound, on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Or, a handsome cloth-bound copy for 50 stamps. Address, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FEARFUL EXPLOSION.

Boiler in a Presbytery Blew the Cure and Two Girls Through Ceilings.

Quebec, Oct. 26. At St. Come de Kennebec, County Bonnce, on Thursday last a boiler exploded in the cellar of the Presbytery in that parish, causing great damage. Two servant girls above were thrown through the ceiling of the second flat, and Rev. Mr. Breton, cure of the parish, who was on the third floor, was, by the force of the explosion, thrown through the third ceiling, all three falling down with the debris into the cellar, where they were badly hurt and burned by the boiling water. The walls of the Presbytery were also badly damaged.

HE ESCAPED THE CAT.

Free, However, at Barrie, Get 12 Years in the Penitentiary

Barrie, Oct. 28.—At the Assizes, now in progress, George Free, whose horrible assault on a little girl at Bond Head, as was reported several months ago, pleaded guilty, and was given 12 years in the penitentiary. Free expected to get the lash, for he laughed when being taken back to the jail, saying that he was very glad the judge did not add the "cat."

Important to Liquor Dealers.

Burk's Falls, Oct. 28.—The Ambrose-Winslow Brewing Company of Port Hope sued an hotelkeeper at the village of Novar for about $40 for liquors sold and delivered. The action was brought in the Division Court, at the sittings here yesterday, and when it was called the judge ruled he had no jurisdiction to hear any actions for liquor, they being taken out of his power by section 23 of chapter 91, R. S. O., 1887, the "Unorganized Territory Act."

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Parliament Likely to Meet Early in the Year—The Seal Conference.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—The date of the meeting of Parliament has not yet been fixed, but the Government is talking over the program for the next session. An insolvency bill will likely be among the new measures introduced. The feeling is prevalent among business men in England that a Dominion insolvency bill would be of material benefit to those trading with Canada in the old country instead of, as at present, there being a different law for the different provinces of the Dominion. The question will, therefore, be once more tackled by the Dominion Parliament.

If at all possible, Parliament will meet about the middle of January, certainly not later than Feb. 1.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will likely go to Washington with Sir Louis Davies, when the latter goes to attend the conference of experts in regard to seal life in Behring Sea. The date of the conference has not yet been fixed.

Ferdinand Carriere, of Rimouski, Quebec, who was accused of threatening to shoot the Premier, and of firing a revolver on the streets here a week ago, has been sent to the asylum as a dangerous lunatic. Carriere appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, and on the certificate of Dr. Church, jail physician, he was sent to jail.

There is an impression here that the translation of Sir Oliver Mowat to Toronto will take place about November 15. This is somewhat earlier than was expected, but Sir Oliver wants to open the Legislature, which has been called for the 30th, and, besides, it is conceded that it will be inconvenient to change Lieutenant-Governors while the Legislature is meeting. It is likely that Sir Oliver will reside with his son, Sheriff Mowat, until Government House is at his disposal. He is at present engaged in completing the arrears of work in the Department of Justice, in order that Mr. David Mills may take charge with a comparatively clean slate.

MR. TARTE VINDICATED.

Mr Girdlestone Supports the Minister of Works' Harbor Plans.

Montreal, Oct. 28.—Mr. Tarte is undoubtedly coming out on top in the discussion on the harbor improvements. A couple of shipping companies, who, of course, do not want any improvements which will bring competitors, and some papers, like the Witness, raised such a cry for the plan known as No. 19 that people were led to believe that the interests involved were unanimous in favor of that plan, and that Mr. Tarte was alone in opposing it, but at the conference it was evident that these very interests were hopelessly divided in opinion, and that Mr. Tarte was the only man present with a clear idea of what Montreal needs if it is to be a national port. Yesterday the Witness had the audacity to say that Mr. Girdlestone of Bristol, Eng., who it admits is "one of the most experienced dock managers in the world," approved of this plan No. 19, but that his opinion had no influence on Mr. Tarte. The truth is that Mr. Girdlestone had an iterview with the Premier and the Minister of Public Works the day previously, examined the plan prepared by Mr. Coste, the chief engineer of the department, and asked the Government to accept it. Moreover, Mr. Girdlestone told Mr. Tarte that he would come from England at his own cost to give evidence before a committee of the House next session if his presence would be useful in promoting the plan of the department. Mr. Tarte and Mr. Coste were in town yesterday, and it is expected that work will soon begin.

BETTING ON RACE TRACKS.

Divisional Court Holds that the Leasing of the Privileges is Legal.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—An important judgment has been handed down at Osgoode Hall by the Divisional Court in regard to the leasing of betting privileges on race-courses in Canada. The case in point was an appeal brought by J. M. Fitch against a decision of the Wentworth Division Court granting the Stratford Turf Association $101 balance due by Fitch in connection with the lease of the betting privileges for the race meeting on August 25th and 26th, 1896. Fitch based his appeal on the ground that the cause of the action arose out of a gambling transaction, and was consequently illegal. The Divisional Court held, with the lower court, that the case came under the section of the criminal code, the object of which is to reserve race courses of incorporated associations as places where betting may be made during the actual progress of a race meeting, without subjecting the betters to penalties, and the appeal was dismissed with costs.

A BRIDGE SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

BENSFORT AND MUD LAKE BRIDGES UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Deputation from Northumberland and Durham and South Monaghan Received—The Mud Lake Bridge Matter Presented—Mr. J. E. Belcher Submits Plans and Specifications for a New Bridge.

The County Council went into session in the afternoon to receive two deputations,

THE BENSFORT BRIDGE.

Mr. Casement moved, seconded by Mr. Middleton, that the deputation from Northumberland and Durham and South Monaghan in reference to the Bensfort Bridge, who were pesent, be heard. The deputation consisted of Mr. Preston, Warden of the counties of Northumberland and Durham, Mr. J. H. Devitt, and Robert Fisher, representing respectively Cartwright and South Monaghan in the County Council, Mr. W. H. Hutchinson, Reeve of South Monaghan, and Messrs. John Buckham and W. W. Dawson, councillors. Mayor Yelland and Councillor Davis were present on the part of the town.

Mr. Preston, Warden of Northumberland and Durham, in addressing the council, corrected a wrong impression—that the deputation from his county was asking for favours. They were in the same position regarding the Bensfort bridge as Peterborough county. He referred also to the bill introduced last session to make this bridge a boundary bridge. He had opposed the bill which was withdrawn. He believed that sooner or later legislation would be passed fixing definitely the responsibility for the maintenance of the bridge. He had been in favour of an amicable settlement being arrived at among all parties to its construction, namely South Monaghan, Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham counties and the Ontario and Dominion Governments. He and the county he represented were prepared to consider the matter with the council of Peterborough county. Mr. Devitt, of Cartright, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Reeve Hutchinson, of South Monaghan, also spoke briefly on the subject.

Mayor Yelland said that the feeling of the town council was that when they gave the bonus for the construction of the bridge they did not expect to be called upon to assist in its maintenance. He was surprised that South Monaghan, which derived the greatest benefit from the construction of the bridge, should now ask help to maintain the bridge, which could so far have cost very little beyond the salary of a caretaker. He did not think the town council was prepared to do anything towards the maintenance of the bridge in question.

Mr. A. L. Davis was sorry that he was compelled to endorse what the mayor had said in reference to the attitude of the council. But he was sure that any representation that might be made would be conveyed to the council and be dealt with in the most liberal spirit.

Mr. Casement asked what was meant by maintenance.

In reply Mr. Preston stated that he believed the payment of a caretaker was about the chief item of expense.

Mr. Burnham understood the practical object of the deputation was to ask the county to assume the bridge. In view of the large number of bridges we had to keep up we had refused to recognize this bridge which had been built largely for South Monaghan. For these reasons he was opposed to this county assuming any more bridges. The county had invested in bridges in the county $100,000 of capital and the policy that had been adopted in the county would largely increase this sum. The maintenance of the Bensfort would not be a large item—not over, on an average, $100 per year. He opposed this county taking part in the maintenance upon principle. If the legislature proposed legislation making this a boundary bridge, he would oppose such a proposition.

Mr. Pearce said it was expressly understood that Peterborough should not charge itself with any responsibility in respect of the maintenance of the bridge and he could not support a grant for this purpose.

This concluded the conference and after Mr. Preston had thanked the council for their courteous reception, the deputation withdrew.

THE MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

This matter was brought before the council by the adoption of a resolution moved by Mr. Burnham and Mr. Middleton, requesting Mr. J. E. Belcher, county engineer, to produce the plans and specifications of the proposed new structure.

Mr. Belcher submitted his plans and specifications for the rebuilding of the Mud Lake bridge which it was proposed to reconstruct on the same general plan as the old one. There had been built in 1896 some 700 feet of new bridge, which was perfect and could be used in the rebuilding of the bridge, reducing the total length of the new construction to about 3,000 feet; the total length from shore to shore was nearly 4,000 feet, with a swing bridge at the southern end. His plans also involved the construction of three anchor piers with a base of fifty feet east of which the bridge will be secured by anchor chains and, besides, 60 or 70 ordinary anchors. The anchor piers permit certain sections of the bridge to swing free at one end to permit the passage of ice in the spring. The cost of the new bridge would be about $10,000, that is, using the old material in constructing the anchor and bridge piers. After an experience of thirty years in conjunction with Mr. Kelly, caretaker, Mr. Belcher said that no better plan had been devised for a bridge in such a position. There were only two bridges like the floating bridge. The first had been built over the Scugog, but that was in shallow water and had since been replaced by filling, but this way of meeting the difficulty was not practicable with Mud Lake, which had at the site of the bridge an average depth of water of 22 feet for 4,000 feet, and an average combined depth of mud and water of about 33 feet for the same distance. The plan proposed provided for six turning-out places, each 8x30 feet.

Mr. Yelland, who was asked for an expression of opinion, said some of the members of the council were opposed to giving a cent towards the bridge, while some of the ratepayers were willing to pay something out of their own pockets rather than have the bridge go out of use. He suggested that the council submit what they thought a fair proposition and he would lay it before the members of town council. He believed Ennismore, which was largely interested, should contribute liberally.

Mr. Davis said the feeling of the committee of the whole of the town council was that the floating bridge was to the advantage of the town, but it was also felt that a bylaw to give a large bonus like, say, $5,000, would not pass. The council wished to know what the county proposed and what Ennismore proposed to do in the matter.

Mr. Fitzgerald, as representing Ennismore, felt that it would not be in the interest of either the town or county to abandon the bridge. He had crossed that bridge 22 times this summer, and it had saved him about 400 miles in travel, which he would have had to cover supposing the bridge had not been there. He thought Ennismore, the town, and the Ontario and Dominion Governments should all contribute to the re-building. The bridge saved most of the people of Ennismore an extra drive of 16 miles to reach town, and was a great advanage to Harvey.

Mr. Middleton, another representative of Ennismore, thought the town of Peterborough should give something, but it would not be fair to ask the town to give too much. He thought that a definite proposition should be made for the contribution of definite sums by Peterborough and Ennismore, the county to pay the balance. He still believed the policy that had to a certain extent been pursued in the past, was the wisest one—rebuilding the bridge in sections. He was not sure that rebuilding the bridge at present was the wisest course to follow.

The matter on motion of Mr. Shaw was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.

The council adjourned.

SECOND DAY—FRIDAY.

The council went into session at 9 o'clock a.m.

After routine,

Mr. Shaw, chairman, presented the report of the Committee on SCHOOLS,

which was adopted, as follows:—

MUD LAKE BRIDGE RECONSTRUCTION.

Mr. Pearce, chairman, pro tem., presented the report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges, as follows:—

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your committee recommend that inasmuch as the Mud Lake bridge requires to be rebuilt, and whereas heretofore the town of Peterborough has not contributed anything towards the maintenance of said bridge, although very materially interested in the same, this county agrees to re-erect said bridge upon the condition that the town of Peterborough shall contribute three-tenths of the cost of the re-erection of such bridge and of the future maintenance thereof and that the township of Ennismore shall contribute one-tenth of such cost, and your committee further recommend that if these municipalities refuse to make the above contribution, in such event that this county shall take steps to abandon the bridge, and that a copy of this clause of the report be forwarded to the mayor of the town of Peterborough and the reeve of the township of Ennismore.

2. Your committee recommend that the matter of placing additional piers and booms in the River Otonabee at the Wallace Point bridge be referred to the January session of this council, and that in the meantime the warden shall take legal advice as to the liability of the county with respect to the same, and also as to the liability of the county to keep lights burning on this bridge during the season of navigation.

3. Your committee beg to acknowledge the receipt of the communication of the county treasurer of Victoria, with respect to the repairs made on Pigeon Creek bridge, and your committee would recommend that in future, before the costs of extensive repairs are incurred the county of Victoria should be requested to appoint a commissioner to co-operate in the matter.

4. Your committee recommend that no action be taken with respect to the request from the united counties of Northumberland and Durham that this council contribute towards the maintenance of the Benefort bridge.

5. Your committee recommend that the county engineer ask Mr. William Connell for an account of the iron some time ago deposited with him for safe keeping.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. B. PEARCE, Chairman, Pro tem.

County County Chamber, Peterborough, October 29th, 1877.

2. Your Committee recommend that the gaoler be empowered to procure whatever paint he requires for County purposes.

3. Your committee recommend that the gaoler be paid $25, the cost of erecting the green house in connection with the Court House property.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

County Council Chambers, Peterborough, October 29th, 1897.

JAS. MIDDLETON, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Bylaws confirmatory of the several reports were passed.

Mr. Middleton brought up the matter of the expenditure of the appropriation towards the repair of the boundary between North Monaghan and Cavan. He said that Cavan wished to expend the money on the southern part of the boundary, whereas it was the understanding of the council that the appropriation be spent on the northern part of the boundary. It was the general feeling of the council that the joint county appropriation should be spent on the north part of the boundary, and in case of Cavan refusing, that this county's share of the appropriation, was to be withheld.

Council adjourned.

A SMILE ON HIS FACE

Told That Henry George Had Passed Away in Triumph.

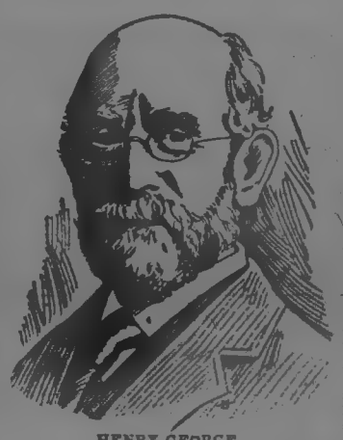
THE FAMOUS SINGLE TAXER IS DE AD

Terribly Sudden End of the Great Author of "Progress and Poverty" in the Midst of a Fierce Election Campaign for Greater New York Mayoralty—His Career.

New York, Oct. 30.—The apostle of single tax, Henry George, died about 5 o'clock yesterday morning at Union Square Hotel, his election headquarters. He had addressed several meetings, in the course of his Mayoralty-of-Greater-New York campaign, the night before, and had retired late. About 3 o'clock in the morning Mrs. George was awakened by the convulsive movements of her husband. He was moaning faintly. Jumping up, she found him in a dying condition. She immediately rung the bell, and Night Clerk E. A. Warner responded. He sent for a doctor to West 59th-street. It was over 20 minutes before the doctor arrived. Henry George, jr., who occupied a room on the second floor, was hastily called. He hurried to the bedside of his dying father. He, Mrs. George and the doctor did all they could to save Mr. George, but despite their efforts he passed away at 5 o'clock. He was found dead with a smile on his face.

Has Not Been Strong.

Mr. George has not been strong for the past three years, and his son, Henry George, jr., has been his companion in almost every enterprise in which he has engaged, going with him on his tours of the West as a special newspaper correspondent in the last Presidential campaign, and keeping close at his side in his movements in the campaign. Within the past day or two close friends of Mr. George have noted with apprehension marked changes in his appearance and manner. His great, clear eyes grew dull. Little wrinkles came at the corners, and his eyes sank in hollow caverns. His voice, usually resonant and pleasant, was higher pitched and feebler.



HENRY GEORGE.

His Career.

Henry George was born on Sept. 2, 1839. He received a common school education and then went into a counting room. He was also a sailor, and learned the printer's trade.

In 1858 he reached California, where he worked at the printer's case until 1866, when he became a reporter and afterwards an editor, working at different times on The San Francisco Times and Post. He returned to New York in 1880, and went to England and Ireland the following year, where he was twice arrested as a suspect, but afterwards released when his identity was established.

Mr. George is best known to the world at large through his writings upon economic questions, notably his work entitled "Progress and Poverty," published in 1879. His other works are: "Our Land and Land Policy," 1871; "Irish Land Question," 1881; "Social Problems," 1883; "Property in Land," a controversy with the Duke of Argyle, 1884; "The Condition of Labor," an open letter to Pope Leo XIII., 1891; and "A Perplexed Philosopher" (Herbert Spencer), 1892.

His Former Campaign.

In 1886 Mr. George was nominated by the United Labor Party for mayor of New York, polling 68,000 votes against 90,000 for Abraham S. Hewitt, the Democratic nominee, and 60,000 for Theodore Roosevelt, now Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Republican.

After his nomination for mayor by the Jeffersonian Democrats, Mr. George made an extremely active canvass, speaking several times every evening, and working from early to late at his headquarters. He gave to the campaign its most sensational incidents in his attack upon Richard Croker and Thomas C. Platt, whom he threatened to prosecute for various crimes, should he be elected mayor.

His candidacy gave to the coming election its most uncertain element, for, according to expert politicians, it was practically impossible to estimate how much of Bryan's vote of last year would go to George, instead of Van Wyck.

His Last Speeches.

Last night Mr. George spoke in the Borough of Queens, and later in the Borough of Manhattan at the Central Opera House. He was greeted by large and enthusiastic crowds everywhere. In one of his speeches last night, Mr. George said: "I have labored for years to make myself known, and now at last these things are all written down. I believe that all the needed reforms are summed up in the philosophy—the right of every man to eat, to drink, to speak as he sees fit, so long as he does not trench on the rights of any other man." Later, in the same speech, he repeated his threats against Mr. Croker, in a ringing voice, that greatly affected his hearers, saying: "Let him go to the penitentiary. He shall go there."

Mrs. George accompanied her husband on most of his speech-making trips, and she was with him last night.

Cause of Death.

Dr. G. E. Kelly, Henry George's physician, in the death certificate gives the medical history of the seizure as follows:

Chief cause—Apoplexy, cerebral.
Contributory cause—Asphyxia.
Duration of disease—One half hour.

Tracy's Organ Speaks.

The Commercial Advertiser (Tracy) says: "The personal aspect of this stroke of fate will be lost to sight quickly in the swift and uncertain revolution it makes in public affairs. It deprives a great and menacing body of opinion and action of more than a leader of its very soul, of all that held it together, of all that made it formidable. As a direct influence in the campaign, Henry George's party disappears with Henry George, though its elements remain as a dubious menace. No other leader can be found to hold the party together, though some of it may follow an anti-Croker Democrat. But the seething mass of discontent, the restless seekers after a vague social revolution, who made a large part of it, are left leaderless and purposeless. Much of the vote he promised to poll will be silenced or divided. The campaign is flung upon an absolutely new basis four days before election."

The Son's Nomination.

The Henry George Campaign Committee was in session over three hours yesterday afternoon. The representatives of the various organizations supporting George made speeches as to what course to pursue. Some favored endorsing Low. Charles Stewart Smith and Joseph Larocque of the Citizens' Union were present for the purpose of urging the endorsement of Low.

At this juncture, however, a telegram came from Allan W. Thurman, urging the nomination of Henry George, jr. This suggestion was adopted unanimously and enthusiastically.

Thomas L. Johnson was appointed a committee to see whether the son would accept. Henry George, jr., was seen almost immediately, and he accepted.

He Set Type in Frisco.

Henry George, jr., was born in Sacramento, California, in 1862. He was educated in the Public schools of San Francisco. He was taken from school and put to work in a printing office, and helped to set type for "Progress and Poverty." He came east with his father in 1880.

SEMPAGHA IS SEIZED

By the Conquering British After Seven Hours' Fighting.

THE ARTILLERY WAS EFFECTIVE.

The Main Force, With Six Batteries, Moved Straight on the Pass—The Enemy Could Not Face the Fire—How the Battle Was Won—The Last Stronghold.

Simla, Oct. 29.—General Gaselee, in command of the second brigade, led the advance upon the enemy's position, which was of the strongest description, in the capture of Sempagha Pass at 11.15 o'clock this morning. The British forces were commanded by Gen. Sir William Lockhart. The casualties among the British officers, already reported, are Captain DeBatts of the Artillery, who succumbed to wounds received during the engagement, and Major Handford Flood of the West Surrey Regiment, who is among the wounded. The British force will halt to-night in the Mustura Valley, and will attack Arhanga to-morrow.

How it was Done.

According to despatches from Gundaki Sir William Lockhart explained his plan of attack to his officers last evening, and the advance from Gundaki commenced in the darkness, about 5 o'clock in the morning. The main force, with six batteries, moved straight on the pass. Detachments were sent to operate against the villages on the flanks.

When day dawned all the troops were in position at the foot of the pass. The enemy's position was very strong, and the approaches to it were greatly exposed, but until now the resistance had been trifling, the tribesmen having been easily expelled from the villages of Nazens and Kundimishti.

The Battle Opened.

Three batteries opened the attack on the pass between 7 and 8 o'clock, the artillery thoroughly searching the enemy's shelter, while a portion of the force turned the enemy's position on the right. All six batteries then shelled the defence. The enemy could not face the fire, and General Gaselee, who led the infantry spiritedly, had a comparatively easy task.

The pass was found to be a series of steep rises, affording much dead ground to an attacking party. The troops, under cover of a mountain battery, captured height after height, and finally the 4th Goorkhas and the West Surrey men arrived at the summit together at 9.30 a.m.

The enemy now opened a well-directed fire at the troops on the summit, but were effectually cleared from the surrounding heights in about three hours. The total casualties did not exceed 20.

On to Arhanga Pass.

With the expected capture of Arhanga Pass to-morrow, which is within 13 miles of the Afghan frontier at Safed-Koh, the work of the column will be practically completed, for the main body of the Afridis, having the Peshawur column on the east and Sir William Lockhart's force on the south, will be compelled to sue for peace or to seek the inhospitable retirement of the Safed-Kohrange.

600 Dervishes Killed.

Cairo, Egpyt, Oct. 29.—Despatches from Berber, the southernmost point reached by the Anglo-Egyptian expedition on the Nile, say that, according to the report of spies, the Dervish commander at Metemneh, the Dervish position between Berber and Khartoum, has announced in the mosque that he lost 600 men during the bombardment of Metemneh by the British gunboats on Oct. 20, when the British shelled the town and retired, after inspecting it with a view of ascertaining its strength and defensive works. The spies report also that the Dervish commander has asked the Khalifa to send him reinforcements.

THE LIBERAL WON.

Barnsley Division of Yorkshire Elects Mr. Joseph Walton With Emphasis.

London, Oct. 29.—The election held yesterday in the Barnsley division of the west riding of Yorkshire for a member of Parliament to succeed Earl Compton, has resulted in a Liberal victory. The polling was as follows:

Mr. Joseph Walton (Liberal), 6714;
Mr. James Blyth (Conservative), 3454;
Mr. Peter Curran (Independent Labor party), 1091.

At the last election Earl Compton, who was a Liberal, defeated Captain Ronald Greville, Conservative, by 2167 votes.

The Canada Seized.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—The Department of Customs yesterday received word that the Constance had seized and brought into Quebec the schooner Canada, Capt. May, with over $4000 worth of contraband whisky aboard. The department are not sure that this is the full cargo which the Canada had when she sailed from St. Pierre, Miquelon.

The Pullman Will.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—There is to be no contest of the Pullman will, both sons of the deceased palace car magnate declare. An authoritative denial of the same rumor was also made by Mrs. Pullman.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Stratford Beacon thoughtfully remarks:—Five to twenty cents a day is the average wages paid to miners in the Hazelton, Pa., coal district, and that in store goods. Who says that slavery has been banished from the much boasted Land of the Free?

THE Mail and Empire must have an unusually warm admiration for Sir Charles Tupper. It cannot write his name in a sufficiently impressive manner without repeating it thrice. This is either very silly or very deep, and it doesn't seem to be very deep either.

SINCE Mr. Moody published his book of hymns 20 years ago over 20,000 volumes have been sold. On all these Mr. Moody has received a royalty of 20 per cent. In all he has received in this way about $1,250,000. Mr. Moody must be ranked as one of the most successful author's of the age. No doubt he could render a good account of his stewardship of this great sum.

THEY are great economists, these Conservatives, says the Kingston Whig. They have have had a trial in Quebec, and the deficit of the Flynn Government for the last year was $679,124.30. They have been tried in the Federal offices, and the deficits beat anything on record. Is there any desire to try them in Ontario? Not much.

"AT the risk of being called again more pretty names," says the Guelph Herald, "we shall again remark that we do not believe the merits of an education system can be demonstrated at a fall fair, the same as if it were a big pumpkin, a crazy quilt, or a yearling colt." Just so; almost as unfair a standard of judgment as the Opposition leaders which our educational system has produced. An educational system gives instruction, but it cannot give brains and capacity for statesmanship.

IT is told of Henry George that when he was last in Canada he informed an admirer with whom he was talking, that his first book, "Progress and Poverty," was read over page by page to his wife, who was innocent of any knowledge of economics or politics. Where his wife could not understand what he wrote, he re-wrote and re-wrote it until every sentence was plain to her. In this way he sought to make his message clear to the comprehension of all the people. Thus at the outset of his career was shown the unusual character of the man. Of the success of his efforts, the great distribution of the book is evidence. "Progress and Poverty" is one of the half-dozen books of the century which have the largest sale.

GUELPH'S DIRTY BIRD.

(Hamilton Times.)

Mr. Ross said at Aberfoyle that the standing of Ontario Schools at the World's Fair was the highest in all competitions. There was really no competition at the World's Fair, it being wisely decided that the excellence of an educational system cannot be demonstrated in the same manner that the quality of turnips or apples or crazy quilts is determined.—Guelph Herald.

That is intended to meet all objections. It is a double-barreled defence. There was no competition, or if there was it could not prove excellence—that is, of course, if the awards went to Ontario. The "dirty bird" of the Herald wants to make sure its own nest does not remain clean anyway. The Mail at the time the awards were made said:

"We * * * congratulate the department and the teachers and pupils of this Province on their brilliant achievements and wonderful success in capturing so many awards when in competition with so many older and wealthier nations. * * * The judges laid particular stress upon the regulations made by the Education Department of Ontario, which makes the school system so perfect in its uniformity."

Ontario received 15 awards for systems of training alone. Sir Richard Webster declared Ontario's system to be "the finest practical system of public education, from the kindergarten to the university, that the world affords to-day." Gen. Eaton, formerly U. S. Commissioner of Education, said "it was second to none in the world." When the Guelph Herald and Hamilton Spectators affect to regard our system as inferior to that of Quebec—which is now undergoing reforms to bring it more into line with ours—they stamp their criticisms as insincere.

OUR MINERAL WEALTH.

The annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines contains a good deal of information. The report compares the transactions in mineral lands in 1884 with those of last year, showing an increase in the number of locations sold and leased of 218, in the areas of lands sold and leased of 13,635 acres, and in the receipts from sales and rentals of $22,644. The total collections on account of lands sold and leased last year was $35,581 (not including $5,006 of rent money paid on lands previously leased), and during the last few weeks of the year there was paid in a further sum on lands applied for of $28,436. The largest receipts were in the months of November and December; and as evidences of the continued briskness of operations it may be stated that the receipts on account of mining lands in the first three months of the present year, exclusive of a special deposit of $20,000, have been $72,287. These figures relate to transactions in Crown lands only. There have been large investments in patented lands, but no attempt has been made to procure a list of them.

The following table presents for the five years 1892-96 the quantities of ore of nickel and copper raised and smelted:

Year.	Ore raised. Tons.	Ore smelted, Tons.
1892	72,349	61,924
1893	64,048	63,944
1894	112,037	87,916
1895	75,439	86,546
1896	109,097	73,505

In the matter of petroleum the statistics do not show marked change from those of former years, but prices for crude have been well maintained. The productive area of the once famous region of Bothwell, which has been re-opened, is not large. The borings on Pelee Island only serve to show that oil bearing rock exists there; its area and richness remain to be proven. The gas fields of Essex and Welland maintain their output, more especially the former; but the bulk of the natural gas is taken for consumption by the cities of Detroit and Buffalo. On this point it is to be hoped the representations now being made at Ottawa will cause a change before the issuance of another report.

The total value of all the mineral production of 1896 is placed at $5,235,000. The wages paid were $1,521,000.

The statistics of gold mining in the province are given in the following table:

Mines worked, number	9	8
Men above ground	85	103
Men under ground	40	86
Ore treated, tons	3,710	13,393

A FAVOURABLE PROPOSAL.

Senator Sanford's Offer to Young Farmers Who Wish to Establish Themselves.

The following from the Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg, refers to the practical philanthropy of Hon. Senator Sanford, the head of the great clothing company, of which Oak Hall is the local representative:

The Hon. W. E. Sanford returned to the city from his ranch at Westbourne yesterday and goes east to-day. The Senator is extremely pleased with the appearance of his property at Westbourne. The yield of the portions of the ranch cultivated was twenty-eight bushels of wheat to the acre, a magnificent sample, and the yield generally throughout the district is very satisfactory, establishing the fact that the Portage Plains, which unquestionably is the finest wheat belt in the province, is continued on west to the other side of the river, covering a large portion of the valuable property, 80,000 acres which he hold. The crops so far have established the fact that there is no district that is producing more freely. He says the proposition advertised some months ago that to any married man, who had energy and experience and some capital, he was prepared to give a quarter section of land on most favourable terms, to be paid for from the produce of the farm, and to give assistance necessary to enable him to work the place successfully, still holds good. He is hoping that the future will see a very much more active demand for land, and intends to make vigorous efforts to dispose of land to the right kind of people; that is, farmers' sons from the east who are anxious to start for themselves, or small tenant farmers from Europe, who have been accustomed to doing their own work. The railway goes directly through the property and two railway stations are established upon it. It offers postal and telegraph facilities, besides churches, schools and every facility necessary for the comfort of the family. It would be well if parties desiring to establish themselves in this country to discuss or correspond with Mr. R. T. Riley, of Winnipeg, who has charge of the estate.

"My daughter had been ailing for nearly two years with nervous prostration, indigestion and other complaints which girls in their teens are subject to. For days at a time she was confined to her bed, and could retain nothing on her stomach. Our family physician finally declared she was in a decline. We despaired of her recovery. She gradually grew worse. I had found so little benefit from remedies I was skeptical about trying South American Nervine. I, however, procured a bottle, and relief came like magic; the pain left her in a day, and after taking five bottles she was completely cured, and as well and hearty as ever she had been." Mrs. Geo. AFTER MANY YEARS

Of Illness That Was Developing Consumption

Paine's Celery Compound Gives New Life and Health to a Young Lady.

Another Proof of the Life-Giving Virtues of the Great Medicine.

Too many women have an apparent disregard of the principles that pertain to good health and true womanhood. The pains, aches and tired feelings of to-day are treated lightly, and often viewed with an utter indifference. When weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, debility, constipation, headaches and prostration are doing their terrible work in the destruction of nerve power and breaking up the physical system, many women only apply themselves to harder work and plunge more deeply into society pleasures so as to drown all thoughts of trouble.

Such reasoning and action is vain and foolish; the end comes quickly and surely. Frail nature cannot cope with the strong hand of disease; the victims are soon broken down and laid on sick beds. The wise woman acts promptly when the first symptoms of disease are manifest; she makes use of Paine's Celery Compound; the medicine that strengthens the nervous system, cleanses the blood, and puts the whole digestive organism in perfect condition.

A prompt and early use of Paine's Celery Compound means a speedy restoration to good health; but it must not be forgotten that, even though the case is a desperate one, Paine's Celery Compound is always an unfailing cure.

If failure has resulted from the use of other medicines; if you are not progressing under the treatment of your doctor; then we urge you to make of Paine's Celery Compound, that has so successfully met the cases of thousands in the past.

The following letter from Miss Blake, Hughson street, Hamilton, Ont., saved at the eleventh hour by Paine's Celery Compound, fully proves that the great medicine is truly a life-giver:

"For years I suffered greatly, and was under the care of doctors who finally told me I was going into consumption. I was becoming worse through the use of medicines and I gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sleep or rest, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, and my system run down and little life left in me, I commenced to use Paine's Celery compound. After taking one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven or eight bottles, and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and am as well as I wish to be. Many thanks for your great medicine."

THE GREAT STRIKE.

The Engineering Trouble in England Looks as Far Off from Settlement as Ever.

London, Oct. 29. — The Employers' Federation, in replying to the proposals made on behalf of the Government by Mr. C. T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, looking to the ending of the strike in the engineering trades, maintains that the basis for a settlement proposed by the Board of Trade leaves the relations between the employers and workmen the same as they were before the stoppage of work, and that, therefore, there would be a likelihood of further troubles. The fear is expressed that, despite the first proviso of the Board of Trade's proposals, which, while disavowing any intention on the part of the Employers' Federation of interfering with the legitimate action of the trades unions, declares that the employers will admit no right of interference with their business. The employers will be exposed to arbitrary restrictions, and irritating interference in their working arrangements, which restrictions the leaders of the unions have threatened to increase in the future. These restrictions, it is added, have so increased the cost of production that important engineering work has been placed in foreign hands, and British competitors have been underbidden even for machinery plant for use in Great Britain.

The Federation says it is willing to take part in a conference to discuss the removal of these restrictions, and to extend to all engineering works the equitable arrangement existing in many of them heretofore.

What the Strikers Say.

The reply of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers to the Board of Trade's proposals expresses the wish that before a conference shall be held a definition be taken of what is meant by interference with the employers' business. It adds that the engineers only wish to secure just terms for labor. Subject to other safeguards, the men are willing to enter into a discussion of the preliminaries of a conference.

Both replies avoid the kernel of the dispute, and each side seeks to cast upon the other the odium for a rejection of mediation. It remains with the Board of Trade to say whether it can proceed on the above basis with its efforts to end the struggle.

The consensus of opinion is that there is little hope of a conference being held, this belief being based on the attitude of both sides as displayed in their replies.

PRESIDENT HAL DONLY.

The Popular Newspaper Man Elected Head Officer of the Ontario Sunday School Association.

Hamilton, Oct. 29.—Miss Parkins of London had been announced to lead the primary conference to-day, and the interest was so keen that the big Ontario Sunday School Convention opened half an hour earlier than usual. The best method of teaching reverence in classes followed.

The Business Committee's report, which was passed, submitted the following nominations for officers for 1897-8:

President—A. J. Donly, Simcoe.

Vice-Presidents—D W Beadle, Toronto; Hon. James Young, Galt; William Johnson, Belleville; Hon. S H Blake, Toronto; George Rutherford, Hamilton; William Bowman, London; J K Macdonald, Toronto; W N Hossie Brantford; James A McCrea, Guelph; R J Score, Toronto; H P Moore, Acton; J A Paterson, Toronto; J J Maclaren, Q.C., Toronto, and the presidents of the county and city associations.

Minute Secretaries—Rev. J C Tibb, Streetsville; Dr. W E Tilley, Bowmanville.

The big congregation now rose and sang "All the Way My Saviour Leads Me," and then followed a few minutes of silent consecration and the benediction.

All the officers nominated this morning were elected. A large number of the delegates left for home to-night, but the majority go to-morrow.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but believing in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. If you are in need of my services, address with stamp, WM. E. GILFORD, ... Supplies, Box 66, St. Henri, Que.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

Arrival Home of the Minister of Railways, Hon. Mr. Blair.

CONFERENCE WITH THE GRAND TRUNK

At Which All Arrangements for the Entrance of the Intercolonial into Montreal Will be Completed—The Minister's Tour of Inspection—The Offices of the I.C.R.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, will arrive in the city to-morrow morning from his tour of inspection of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island systems, and a conference will be held with the Grand Trunk head officials, when all arrangements will be completed for the entrance of the Intercolonial into Montreal over the Drummond County Railway. It is reported that the agents of the Intercolonial are negotiating for the purchase of the building at the corner of Little St. Antoine-street and St. James, formerly occupied by The Witness newspaper, for the offices in this city.

Mr. Thomas Munro, Chief Engineer for the Government in the construction of the Soulanges Canal, who was in the city to-day, stated that the landslide on Section 8 would not make any difference in the time set for the completion of the work.

The French-Canadian Liberal Clubs, some 20 in number, are making arrangements for the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of the late Honore Mercier on Sunday, the anniversary of his death. They will meet at the Monument Nationale, the home of the French-Canadian National Society, the St. Jean Baptiste Association, and march to the cemetery, where each club will lay a wreath on the grave and afterwards sing a libera together.

Of all the members of the Quebec Legislative Assembly there now remains but one who has sat continuously since Confederation, Hon. F. G. Marchand, the present Premier of this province. The coming session of the Legislature will be the thirtieth that he has taken part in, and it is proposed that so exceptional an event in our political history should be marked by a celebration or manifestation of some appropriate kind when the House meets.

ETHEL POTTER'S LOVER

Was Her Uncle and After a Quarrel With His Wife She Committed Suicide.

Windsor, Oct. 29.—The inquest on the death of Ethel Potter, whose body was found in the river near Sandwich on Monday, was held in Windsor last night before Coroner Beaume. Charles Potter, an uncle of Ethel, was called, and his testimony caused a sensation. Heretofore he had said he had not seen Ethel for three weeks previous to her disappearance. Last night, however, on the witness stand, he said that he had been with her at 8.30 on Sunday night, Oct. 10, the date of her disappearance. He said he had fallen in love with Ethel and that the girl had accepted his affection. His wife had been very angry at this state of affairs, and they had separated, she intending to secure a divorce. On the night in question, he and Ethel had gone out for a stroll, and at the corner of Park and Peterboro-streets, Detroit, they had suddenly met Mrs. Potter. A quarrel ensued. Mrs. Potter made all kind of threats against the two, and finally took him home with her, while Ethel went in another direction. That was the last seen of her. He said that she had often threatened suicide, and had once taken iodine, but took too much. The jury reached a verdict at 2.40 this morning that Miss Potter drowned herself.

GIRL GRADUATES AWARDED DIPLOMAS

From the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses.

THE EXERCISES HELD LAST NIGHT.

The Class this Year is Composed of Miss Clarke, Miss Fahrner, Miss Bryson, and Miss Burnham—Many Complimentary Things said of them by the Members of the Medical Staff.

The annual ceremony attendant on the graduation of the young ladies, who have completed their course of instruction at the Training School for Nurses in connection with the Nicholls Hospital, took place last evening in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Mr. Richard Hall, President of the Board of Trustees, occupied the chair, and on the platform with him were Dr. Eastwood, Dr. Greer, Dr. Caldwell and Dr. Brown of the Hospital staff, and sixteen nurses, some of whom are still studying at the Hospital, and others who took their degrees in previous years. The graduating class, composed of Miss Clark, Miss Farbner, Miss Bryson and Miss Burnham were also seated on the platform with the Lady Superintendent, Miss Bolster and the Head Nurse, Miss Dixon.

The attendance was very large, indeed. The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers for the occasion by Mr. James Head and his assistant at the hospital, Mr. Vicars.

When the nurses, all attired in their uniforms, had filed in and taken their seats, expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present at the graduating ceremonies, which were the sixth that had been held in connection with the Training School.

MR. RICHARD HALL

Although last year had been a healthy one in Peterborough, still 269 patients had been treated, as compared with 309 the year before. There were 15 typhoid cases this year and 45 last. Fifteen deaths as compared with 23, and 65 surgical operations as compared with 73. All of which evidenced that the facilities afforded by the hospital were being appreciated. Amongst those present he recognized many who were living monuments to the attention which was bestowed on patients in the institution and who could, if they would speak their minds, give ample testimony to the efficiency of the attendance given. The Hospital had been founded in order to give the proper medical attendance and nursing to those who could not afford to have it at their homes, and the free patients received as much care as those who occupied private wards and paid for the privilege of having a room to themselves. From time to time he received letters from former patients expressing their thanks for the treatment received, and only the other day one of these unsolicited testimonials came from South Africa. The physicians deserved the greatest praise for giving their attention without charge at the sacrifice of much valuable time. At present there were fifteen on the staff, three having been recently added.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Hall called upon Miss Mary Grant for a piano solo with the taste and technique which always characterizes her playing. The selection was a rendition or "Auld Lang Syne" with variations of a nature to require an amount of difficult fingering, the brilliant execution of which reflected great credit on the young artist.

WHICH WAS EXECUTED

Dr. Eastwood was then asked to make a few remarks, in the course of which he stated that from his intimate knowledge of the graduates gathered at the sick bed he felt that it was not flattery to say that in going out into the world they would prove an adornment to their chosen calling. A physician having one of these young ladies in attendance on one of his patients could rest assured that he had a valuable assistant. Should any complication suddenly arise he would know that before his arrival every precaution had been taken. A mother or a sister as a nurse could not be compared, as where the former might allow their feelings to overcome prudence, the professional nurse could be depended upon to be thoroughly sympathetic with the patient and yet be sufficiently firm to allow no transgressions of the doctor's orders. Her fears for her patient are not carried on her face as with a relative and her brightness will carry him over many a rough place.

Peterborough had two hospitals which would be a credit to any town and the duty of the citizens was to loyally uphold them. For the trustees of the Hospital had nothing but praise. They had been most generous in providing all modern appliances and making the hospital most effective. He closed by most warmly congratulating the young ladies on the successful manner in which they had passed their examinations.

Mr. E. Maybee then gave a most pleasing rendering of the vocal solo "Tell her I love her so," which was greatly appreciated by the audience. Mr. Maybee is the possessor of a very clear tenor voice of many pleasing qualities.

Dr. Greer was called upon to present the bandaging contest prize to Miss Farhner, and as he handed her a beautiful little hypodermic syringe, he took occasion to offer his congratulation, explaining that the avocation of the trained nurse was one of the most arduous and self-sacrificing of the callings of the present day. It was to the interest of those who needed her service that she be cultured, refined, possessed of good health, endurance and patience, and having these qualities she should receive a course of instruction in some good training school. He could say that the young ladies just graduating more than fulfilled these requirements.

To Miss Bolster and Miss Dickson much of the efficiency of the present class was due. The hospital was now thoroughly equipped with surgical instruments, and the nurses had the advantage of theoretical instruction from the physicians by means of lectures, as well as the practical knowledge gained in the wards. A three years' course was now a necessity, the term having been lengthened a year. At the conclusion of the course every nurse had to pass a rigid examination, so that there was no royal road to nursing. The graduates of the present year had passed most satisfactory examinations and could now take their place amongst the noble army of women who had made their calling the glory of the age. In future years there would be seen these girls standing forth in strong relief from amongst the ranks of their sisters as ones whose service and patience at the sick bed made their names revered. This would not be too much to expect from them. There were different branches in the work of nurses and he hoped that amongst the four would be found some who would be persuaded to give their time and attention to domesticity.

In handing Miss Farhner the prize that to win it was a distinction of which she might well be proud.

In resuming her seat Miss Farhner was presented with a magnificent boquet of chrysanthemums.

Miss Alma McCallum then delighted the audience with the recitation of a simple little Scotch poem, which, however, she invested with special merit by the manner in which it was given and the excellence with which the inflections of the dialect were expressed.

The diplomas were presented to the young ladies by Dr. Caldwell, who in doing so stated that he was sure he expressed the sentiments of the whole staff in saying that by their hearty co-operation and willing assistance they thoroughly deserved this recognition.

The duties which they were entering upon, he explained, were arduous and would tax their power and endurance to the uttermost. It was a profession that would bring them into contact with much of the dark side of life, but if they performed their duties cheerfully it was within their power to turn the darkness into sunshine in many a sick room. They were on the eve of leaving the institution in which they had been trained and enter on a new field of labour, with different surroundings, where the responsibility would have to be borne by themselves.

Be thorough, said he, be diligent, be trustworthy and respect the confidences which will be reposed in you. Act with prudence and good judgment, that you may gain the respect of your patient and the whole family. Be true in every respect to the interests of the family of which you have been made one.

In concluding,

the young ladies that, wherever their lot might be cast in future, they would carry the sincere and hearty good wishes of the medical staff of the Nicholls Hospital. He was sure the training, which they had received, would fit them for any station in life—even that of domesticity, at which Dr. Greer had hinted.

The graduates then repeated the solemn obligation, after Dr. Caldwell, and received their diplomas, the lady superintendant pinning on their medals.

Messrs. Head and Vicars then stepped on the platform fairly laden down with flowers for the young ladies.

Miss B. Roxburgh, of Norwood, sang a pretty little French song entitled "The Butterfly," in a most charming manner, her beautifully clear, high notes being especially commented upon. Miss McCallum followed with another recitation "The Dream of Wheels," which had so much originality of idea in it as to give ground to the belief that the author and reciter were one and the same person. Mr. Butcher's well rendered flute solo called for an instant encore, which, however was not granted. The accompaniments, during the evening, were taken in hand by Mr John Crane.

Miss Clarke, one of the graduating class, then read the following

VALEDICTORY OF THE YEAR:

MR. CHAIRMAN,—The course of training necessary to qualify as professional nurses having expired to us, the senior Class in the Nicholls Hospital, it is our duty to say goodbye to those with whom we have been associated during the past two years, and to express our gratitude to all to whom we feel ourselves indebted.

The two years now closing have been eventful years to us. They brought our introduction to a new sphere of usefulness in life, have taken us through the various stages of instruction and experience, and they leave us, we trust, fitted in greater or less degree to minister to those upon whom may be visited "the ills that flesh is heir to." They have brought us our share of the joys and sorrows of life, and have awakened within us a warm appreciation of the patience and fortitude that will often be exercised under great affliction and suffering, and of that keen sense of gratitude which is innate in the human heart and which responds so readily—even in those from whom, often, it is least expected—to our efforts to comfort and alleviate their distress.

Indeed, the gratitude generally evinced toward the hospital nurse is her chief reward, encouraging her to persevere in efforts which are often arduous, and awakening within her her tenderest sympathy.

Grateful, however, as we may feel for the many evidences of appreciation which our patients may bestow upon us, our greatest gratitude must always be due to those under whose instruction and guidance we have acquired the skill to render our ministrations valuable to the suffering.

To the Doctors first, whose unwearying patience and readiness to instruct, we feel that we owe more than we can adequately express, but we hope that in our career as professional nurses we may be able to show our gratitude in a cheerful and faithful attention to their directions, and give practical evidence that their instruction has been for their benefit as well as our own.

To our Lady Superintendents we are also indebted. In this respect, however, we feel that we have laboured under some disadvantages, because of the numerous changes that have occurred during our term. Enlisting under Mrs. O'Donovan it was a great disappointment to us to lose a Superintendent of such experience and ability. Her early instructions to us were valuable and impressive, and we shall always bear the kindest remembrances of her.

To her successor, Miss Jessie Bolster (now Mrs. Carmichael,) we also owe much. We wish her every happiness in her new sphere and will always remember her with much affection.

Our thanks are also due to the present lady superintendent, and in acknowledging our indebtedness to her desire to express our gratitude to Miss Dickson, who, notwithstanding her onerous duties as Head Nurse, has always shown the greatest readiness to assist us with her advice.

And now we must say our adieu. We do so with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure—of regret that pleasant associations formed will now be severed—of pleasure, in the prospect of continuing a work that has enlisted our fullest sympathies. To all we offer a hearty "goodbye."

The adieus of the members of this class will be spoken to each other. Our friendship has been warm and sincere and we hope to be able in the future frequently to exchange reminiscences of our hospital experience, always to sympathise with each other in sorrow, and to rejoice over many successes gained through our efforts to alleviate the sufferings of our fellow creatures.

Nicholls Hospital, October 29th, 1897.

The exercises came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, after which the many friends of the young ladies crowded around to add their congratulations to those so ably expressed by the speakers of the evening.

HE HAD NO MONEY,

And so was Committed for Trial—The Bicycle Case.

Thomas Cooper, the young man who was arrested back of Coboconk, on a charge of stealing a bicycle from W. J. Coughlin, was brought before Magistrate Dumble this morning and committed for trial.

It turned out that the man had ridden out to Lakefield after taking the wheel, and gone from there to Young's Point on the Majestic. He then wheeled back to Lakefield and left the bicycle at the Craig House, saying that the wheel belonged to Coughlin and that he would leave it there. This was the last seen or heard of Cooper until his arrest, when he disclosed the whereabouts of the wheel.

For the prisoner Mr. F. D. Kerr argued that the taking of the wheel was nothing more than a trespass, committed during a drunken spree.

The magistrate also seemed inclined to take this view of the case, but on learning that the prisoner had not the wherewithal to pay the costs, amounting to twenty-five or thirty dollars, he committed him for trial, remarking that it was not reasonable to suppose the county could be put to the expense of paying for the results of these drunken frolics.

A CASE OF INSANITY.

Her Husband is Afraid She Will do Herself Bodily Harm.

The wife of Daniel Kennedy, of the South End, was this morning committed to gaol on a charge of insanity to await the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Kennedy gave evidence in the Court this morning to the effect that his wife had been acting strangely for some time. She thought that she was the possessor of a great deal of money which everyone was trying to steal from her. Another hallucination which evidenced itself lately was the idea that if she came down stairs she would be killed, and a day or so ago she tried to throw herself from the second story window. He was afraid she would do herself bodily harm.

Mrs. Kennedy will be examined by the Judge and two physicians next week, until when she is committed to gaol.

PETERBOROUGH COOKING SCHOOL.

Miss Burnham's Lecture Last Night Largely Attended.

At last night's meeting to listen to Miss Burnham's lecture on cooking, there was a large and enthusiastic attendance. Miss Burnham, who was introduced by Mr. G. H. Williamson, gave an interesting chat on foods — their elementary composition and classification effects on the system, food values, etc. Emphasis was placed upon the proper preparation of food. She then demonstrated her theories by the preparation of cream of cheese soup and salmon croquettes. She proved herself an excellent intructor and as good a practical cook. She explained most carefully and intelligently each step in the processes she illustrated, a running fire of instructive talk accompanying her manipulations.

A large number of ladies signified their intention of joining her classes, which are of three kinds—invalid cooking, economic cooking and superior cooking. The charges for the first and last classes are $4 00 for a course of twelve lessons, and for the other $1.50 for a dozen lessons.
